The other Chinamen in the gang brought their two erring brethren here this morning intending to take them to Portland to be tried by the Chinese tribunal at that place. Deputy Sheriff Croner came across them at the depot, and the lighted China-man bleeding badly, arrested the perpetra-tor, and sent for Dr. Paine, the S. P. R. R. surgeon to attend Lang. Dr. Paine dressed the wound and the injured man was taken to one of the China washhouses. The other Chinaman was tried before Justice Kinsey for the crime, but the evidence being conflicting, he was discharged. GETTING EVEN .-- It is said that Pry Wil son, who was subpoensed as a witness in the Church murder case, having some cat tle business which demanded his attention at Penelleton, concluded it was of more importance to him than the fact of a man be-ng on trial for his life and consequently truck out in the direction of the former place. Sheriff Cresap, hearing of this, armed himself with a bench warrant and started in hot pursuit. When he overtook Mr. Wilson, his team was so exhausted that place. Sheriff Cresap, bearing of this, armed himself with a bench warrant and started in hot pursuit. When he overtook Mr. Wilson, his team was so exhausted that it could not travel and they were compelled to return in Mr. Wilson's team. Arriving at Canyon, Pry was hauled up before the mill of justice and fined $25 and costs. Whereupon Pry turned around and charged $25 for the use of his team.—John Day Sentinel.

to take her home this morning, she agreeing to pay a fine of $5. It was a echnical error that she was fined more than that amount in the first place, as Justice Hunnicut thought that $50 was the lowest fine, having got hold of the circuit court section of the statute instead of the justice's. It was a mistake about the constable coming without commitment papers, as he had a regular set

The Dupé.—[The following is a 13-year old girl's conception of a dude, as expressed in one of the compositions written in the city schools, competing for a prize:] Behold the dude! All he needs to make his conception of a man is vanity. His pants are not like anything worn yesterday. He lives somehow—I don't know. Do you? Still he is here and he appears as if he wanted to marry. Why should a decent, honest, sensible girl go before the minister and affirm that her life will be devoted henceforth and forever to the care of the puppies! The best man in the world is none too good for any of you girls. Some of these days some of you girls will be coming noue too good for any of you girls. Some of these days some of you girls will be coming before your parson to have your hands tied in matrimony. Be careful that your feet are not tied to a dude. Ask your mother what kind of qualities you should look for in your best man. Beware of the gallant who declares he loves you better than himself, and yets counts on you darning his socks, while he is off wasting his time and money in dissipation. Girls are too precious to be wasted by transforming them into sorrow-laden wives. Be careful of the dude.—Tillamook Headlight.

A Road to Bohemia Mines.

Daily Guard, Dec. 5. Daily Guard, Dec. 5.

Dr. J. M. Taylor one of the owners of the Bohemia mine Annie, was in town today, interviewing members of the Board of Trade and citizens of the town for the purpose of securing their aid and co-operation in building a wagon road into the mines. It will require about 12 miles of road to reach the mines from the terminus of the present wagon road. A trail has been present wagon road. A trail has been built over a considerable part of the road which would be of material bene-fit when building was commenced. It is probable that the office of the comis probable that the office of the company will be moved to Eugene if a reasonable amount of aid is extended by our citizens. The company intend to put in a new mill next summer and work the mine to the full extent of its resources. A large amount of supplies have been taken in, and development work is now being prosecuted and will be continued during the winter. It is probable that the recent storm has left several feet of snow on the mountains, but this will not interfere with work, as the men are prepared for it.

First Assistant Postmaster General.

Needs a Cannery.—Jacksonville Times:
There could be no more conclusive argument why a cannery should be established here before another year goes around than that established by the fact that a large amount of our own fruit was shipped to the Eugene cannery the past season for preservation there. The further fact that it also afforded a local market for nearly 250 tons of the fruits of the surrounding country is sufficient guaranty that a properly managed institution of this kind here could not fail to afford a good market or our surplus, besides proving profitable from a financial point of view from the very start. from the very start.

COOOAN DISCHARGED.—The man Joe Coggan, arrested in Albany last Monday, as being suspicioned with the supposed murder of John Ewing, at Cottage Grove, last summer, was discharged from custody Dec. 4th. Although Coggan has plainly shown by his remarks that he knows something about the disappearance of Ewing, and of his probably being foully dealt with, still without being able to prove beyond doubt the death of Ewing, and having no other evidence beyond his own remarks, it would be unable to convict him, hance his discharge.

A Lave Town.—A correspondent in the Prinsville News: For the benefit of those not acquainted in these parts, I take great pleasure in describing our town and post-office. Crook is surrounded by low hills, sage brush and a rail fence, and is situated 31½ miles southeast of Prinsville and about six miles south of Salt creek. It is on the county road that leads from Prinsville to any part of the state or Atlantic ocean. The town is not laid off in lots, yet there is one lot (a cow lot), but not for sale.
