THE MYSTERY UNSOLVED.

No Tidings from E. R. Luckey Received Yet.

Dally Guard, Feb. 8. Since Saturday few developments have come to light as to the sudden disappear-suce of E. R. Luckey. It now seems that which sum he paid Geo. B. Dorris $375. Instead of giving his wife $300 before leaving, his wife received no money from him, to that place he dropped into the wholesale man $100 which he owed; after chatting a while with Mr. Kohn he went to the commission house and talked with those gentlemen for an hour or more about business matters, when he went to the Hotel Perkins. From the best advices he left that place about 7:30 o'clock After that he was seen at Fourth and "L" streets in East Portland, going eastward by Newt Blair, who passed the time of day with him. This was about 8 o'clock p. m. Although the entire city has been scoured by tives and friends, nothing since has been heard of him. No trains leave Portland to be the lightest running, best scouring after 7:30 p.m., hence he could not have and chilled plow in the market. Try one. left that night on a train. The detectives of Portland are of the opinion that he has been murdered, and his budy secreted.

Some people still advance the idea that he "skipped." This seems very remote indeed. He took no money with him, when he could easily have secured thousand of dollars from friends, for he had the confidence of every body. His property was en-tirely unincumbered, and is worth several thousand deliars more than the attach-ments now made. Besides, nothing whatever of a criminal nature has appeared against him The article in esterday's Oregonian on Mr. Luckey's disappearance was certainly ill advised and should have not been pub lished. The facts are opposite to the assertions therein contained

AN INCENDIARY FIRE. F. M. Wilkins' Barn Partially De-

THE FIRE BELL NUISANCE.

Should be Used Only for a Fire Alarm. Necessity of a Code of Ward Signals.

Considerable complaint has been made about the indiscriminate ringing of the fire bell for meetings that are held in the city hall. It has become a nuisance and should be regulated The bell was purchased and intended for fire purposes only. The constant ringing renders people heedless of the warning when a fire occurs. At present the bell is used to call meetings of the Council, Hook & Ladder, Engine and Hose companys, Board of fire delegates, and 8 o'clock curfew for the boys to retire from the streets. Last summer the authorities were secommodating enough to allow the clerks to ring it for closing hour. If it is absolutely he only drew out of the Eugene National necessary to have a call for these meet-Bank the morning he left here, $500, or ings the court house bell could be again placed in service.
