The managers of the Portland exposition have fixed the date of the opening of the fair on the Wednesday following the close of the state fair. That is, the state fair will open on Monday, Sept. 13th, and close on the 17th, and the Portland exposition will open on the 21st and hold for a month and a day. This will prevent any clash in date of the two fairs this year.
Junction City Times, Feb. 12: In our statement last week concerning the four new brick business houses, we unintentionally omitted the name of Thomas Milhorn. G. M. Jackson will build a brick; following next will be the Bank of Commerce; F. W. A. Crain and J. M. Beebe will build together, and Thomas Milhorn will bank the south with a twenty-five foot business house. We had the number and space down correct, but misstated the enterprising proprietors.
Benton Leader: The carriage factory has started up, and is now busy filling an order for forty carts from an Eugene firm. There is also an order for more goods from Eugene, and a Portland firm have closed a contract for a large number of buggy and hack beds. New machinery is being placed in position and two carloads of material are on the way. The blacksmithing department is completed and the boss painter is expected to arrive from the East soon.

Attempted Burglary.
Some unknown person or persons attempted to burglarize the safe in W. A. Burns & Son's flouring mill at Springfield Saturday night. A small hole was drilled partly through the door between the handle and combination knob. It is not known whether they were frightened away or gave it up as a bad job. A brass screw driver and an oil can were left behind which had been taken from Mr. Wheeler's tool room in the safe. The would be burglars probably had a key to the premises, as the doors were all safely locked that evening, and no doors or windows seem to have been broken to gain admission. Circumstances are such as to cause strong suspicion that local talent is responsible for the attempted crime.

Mystery Probably Solved.
Duncan Scott Telegraphs that he Saw E. R. Luckey, Feb. 4th.
Daily Guard, Feb. 11.
Sheriff Nolan yesterday afternoon telegraphed Duncan Scott, who wrote the letter to George Nelson about having seen E. R. Luckey at Sacramento, Cal., asking for further information. This morning the sheriff received a dispatch from Mr. Scott as follows: "Saw Luckey at Sacramento, February 4th. Think I can locate his present whereabouts." Sheriff Nolan immediately telegraphed Mr. Scott to use all endeavors to locate him. It will be remembered that Luckey left here on the 1st day of February for Portland. If he left Portland Tuesday evening, the 2d, he would have been in Sacramento on the date mentioned. All the conductors on the railroad between Ashland and Portland, being well acquainted with Mr. Luckey are positive he did not go on the train unless he was disguised.
Nothing of a compromising nature has appeared against Mr. Luckey in any of his business transactions hence he must have become deranged, or else went away merely till the storm was over.

Possibly a Clue.
Daily Guard, Feb. 12.
A letter was received by Geo. Nelson this morning from Duncan Scott, in which the statement is made that the writer saw a gentleman wearing long black whiskers at the Sacramento depot getting on a passenger train, and that the party spoke to him calling his name. Scott says he is positive the gentleman was a Luckey but as he had but slight acquaintance with E. R., could not say whether or not it was him. Scott was quite ill at the time with the grippe and thought nothing further of the occurrence until he saw the telegraphic account of the mysterious disappearance. Mr. Nelson has written to find out the date and fuller particulars if obtainable.
It may be that a clue has been found to Luckey's whereabouts. Outside of this information his disappearance is as complete as if the earth had opened and swallowed him.

Correction.
EDITOR DAILY GUARD: Permit me to correct an error which appeared in the DAILY GUARD of Wednesday and which was repeated in the Journal of today, referring to my business transactions with Mr. E. R. Luckey the morning he left town. The paper says he drew $500, paid me $274, and gave me a check for $374, and then drew from the bank, the Eugene National, between $400 and $500, which sum he took with him; hence after paying Mr. Kohn the $100, in Portland, he had over $300 when he was missing.
GEORGE B. DORRIS.

Oregon Will be Remembered.
WASCOVOS, Feb. 11.—Stone from the committee on war claims, has reported a bill to reimburse California, Oregon and Nevada for moneys expended in the suppression of the Rebellion. California is, under the bill, entitled to $2,451,369. Oregon to $224,526, and Nevada to $404,000.
WHAT DOES EUGENE SAY?—A correspondent of the Albany Herald is agitating the formation of an amateur baseball league in the valley. It is the desire of the correspondent to have the new league embrace the cities of Salem, Albany, Eugene and McMinnville, or Corvallis. The correspondent is of the impression that such an organization as he proposes would meet the requirements of the occasion and be generously patronized throughout the circuit. He proposes a scheme of organization, which, if adopted, would no doubt succeed beyond expectation. He asks that in in each city clubs be organized on a guarantee basis—100 clubs at $25 each. This would give each club $2500 to secure it against loss.
STORE ROBBER.—Roney Bros. store, at Goshen, was entered Feb. 13th by burglars. A small hole was cut in the door and unlocked from the inside. A money drawer was broken into, a county warrant for $15 taken, and a dollar or two in change. No clue to the robbers has been discovered.
BORN.—In Eugene, Feb. 12, to Mrs. Grant Knight, a boy.

Points From Election Law.
Notices of election shall be posted within thirty days after January term of court.
In case judges of election are absent, voters may choose judges. If clerks appointed are not present, the judges select clerks. Polls will be open at 8 a. m. and close 6 p. m., though judges may adjourn at 1 o'clock for one hour. It is the duty of judges and clerks to challenge suspected illegal voters.
The place where a married man's family reside, and the place where a single man sleeps shall be considered his residence.
In incorporated cities no one is allowed to loiter within fifty feet of the polls, except peace officers and challengers, and only ten persons may approach to vote at one time. Judges of election have power of Justice of Peace and may inflict a fine of $50 or imprisonment for 25 days, for any violation of election law, or disorder at polls. They may appoint special constable in absence of regularly appointed peace officers.
Within an hour after polls close, counting shall begin. Only white ballots, furnished according to law, shall be counted.
Certificates of nomination, signed by chairman and secretary of convention, are necessary, and for state officers must be filed with secretary of state not less than 45 days before election, and for district, county and precinct officers certificates must be filed with county clerk thirty days before election. Candidates must file acceptance of nomination for state offices with secretary of state thirty days before election, and for county nominations fifteen days before election. If at all, in writing, with county clerk.
The County Clerk shall cause ballots to be printed, as prescribed by law, entitled "Official Ballot," and no others shall be used, circulated or cast. There shall be four ballots printed for every vote cast at preceding election, on white paper, and a like number of ballots on colored paper for samples, and not to be voted or counted if void. When a vacancy occurs, by death or withdrawal, after tickets are printed, notices shall be posted at polling places, and in all cases blank lines are left on ballots so voters can vote for whom they please, whether or not the names of any party.
Not less than five days before election, the Sheriff shall deliver ballots to election precincts, prepare election booths and appoint deputies to take charge of election in each precinct.
Three booths, where voters can make out their tickets in secrecy, shall be prepared, though in a position where judges can see that only one man is allowed in a booth at one time. Those who cannot read or write can have the assistance of two of the judges. The names on the tickets not voted for, must be scratched out with an indelible pencil, which is left on the table in the booth, and the tickets are folded so that the judge cannot see how voter voted.
The Clerk of election hands out the tickets to be voted, tearing off one stub on which he writes a voter. The voter retires to a booth and prepares his ticket, and on presenting it, the remaining stub is torn off before the ticket is delivered to the judge.
For all violations of the law, any disorderly conduct, obstructing polls, illegal voting intimidation, etc., the law provides rigorous fines and penalties.

Reed Gets His Liberty.
Portland Telegram, Feb. 12th.
Charles F. Reed, through his attorney, C. F. Lord, has filed application for a writ of habeas corpus, which was made returnable at 2 o'clock p. m., before Judge Deady. Reed in his application claims to be unlawfully imprisoned by the United States marshal; that his imprisonment is in violation of the constitution of the United States, and without due process of law; that he is not guilty of any crime or misdemeanor whatever.
Charges were preferred against Reed, for engaging in timber land speculation, and entering into a conspiracy to fraud the government. It is claimed Reed was engaged in these questionable transactions in 1890 and 1891. The particular offense charged, for which he was arrested, was committed on the 14th of January, 1891. He was turned over by the state authorities at Eugene to the United States marshal on the 4th of November and on that date committed to the county jail. Since that time he has been in prison.
Upon the statement made by United States District Attorney Mays that the government had really no case against the prisoner, according to the charge made against him, Judge Deady allowed the application and ordered that Reed be discharged.

A Social Item.
Harvey Times.
There is another wedding to Chronicle—that of Lane Betty to a cow puncher, who recently came in here from Dead Dog, by the name of Broncho Jim. The wedding took place near Paddy Joe's tepee and the bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among which were a pair of sheepskin boots and two coyote scalps. She was attired in a bewitching pair of ruffled overalls, the back drapery gracefully looped up with a bright blue rope. The happy couple have rented a haystack near the slaughter house, where they will reside until the springtime comes.—Genie Annie.
PROFESSOR OF MILITARY TACTICS.—Lieutenant E. C. Brooks, son of Quincy A. Brooks, one of Oregon's cowboys who graduated from West Point about six years ago, and who was gazetted to the Eighth cavalry, is now professor of military science and tactics at Delaware college, Newark, Del. He was assigned to his duty last November on account of his record. He would have preferred Oregon to Delaware, but went where duty called, and is doing his best to teach the young ideas of Delaware, how to shoot, etc.
Mr. Brooks was formerly a student in the State University here.
DIED.—At Kirby, Josephine county, Oregon, Thursday, Feb. 11, Mrs. W. F. Shelley of quick consumption. Deceased was a daughter of the late Z. Cambree and a sister of Mrs. W. P. Fisher of this city. She was sick but a few weeks. Mrs. Shelley has many friends in this vicinity who will mourn her loss. The funeral took place from Wm. Fisher's residence to Oak Hill cemetery, at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning, Feb. 13th.

DYNAMO ARRIVED.—The Edison arc dynamo, purchased by the Electric Light company arrived Feb. 12th, and was taken to the station this morning. It will be placed in position at once, and in a short time our streets will be lighted again.
The incandescent dynamo also arrived and has been taken to the station.

Reed in his application claims to be unlawfully imprisoned by the United States marshal; that his imprisonment is in violation of the constitution of the United States, and without due process of law; that he is not guilty of any crime or misdemeanor whatever.
Charges were preferred against Reed, for engaging in timber land speculation, and entering into a conspiracy to fraud the government. It is claimed Reed was engaged in these questionable transactions in 1890 and 1891. The particular offense charged, for which he was arrested, was committed on the 14th of January, 1891. He was turned over by the state authorities at Eugene to the United States marshal on the 4th of November and on that date committed to the county jail. Since that time he has been in prison.
Upon the statement made by United States District Attorney Mays that the government had really no case against the prisoner, according to the charge made against him, Judge Deady allowed the application and ordered that Reed be discharged.

Speeches were made by S. H. Friendly, T. G. Hendricks and H. C. Humphrey, representing the creditors, and all stated that they would do fairly and liberally with the company; and that they wanted the institution to continue to run; that they had two propositions for the plant and machinery from outside towns, but that they would not be considered.
The stockholders manifested a determination that the cannery should remain here and become one of the permanent institutions of Lane county, although the first year of its inception had been a disastrous one.
It is certainly the duty of every property owner in Eugene and vicinity to help place the institution on its feet again.
The meeting adjourned until Monday evening, February 22, 1892 at 7:30 p. m.
