

Eugene City Guard.

SATURDAY MARCH 19, 1892
County Democratic Convention.

A Democratic Convention for Lane county is called to meet in Eugene on Saturday, the 19th day of April, 1892, at 10 o'clock, a. m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for county offices, to elect 13 delegates to the state convention, and to transact such other business as may come before the convention.

Primary meetings are recommended to be held at the usual places of voting in the several precincts on Saturday, April 2, 1892, at 1 o'clock, p. m.

The several precincts are entitled to delegates as follows:

Table listing precincts and their respective delegates: N. Eugene, Cottage Grove, Springfield, Pleasant Hill, Willamette, Spencer, Irving, Fall Creek, McKenzie, Florence, Chester, Glenora, Jasper, Lane, Mapleton, Hermann.

All voters without regard to former political affiliations, who favor the Democratic policy of an honest, economical government, equal and just taxation and equality of all citizens before the law, are cordially invited to join in taking part in the convention.

JOHN WHITEAKER, Chairman. E. R. SKIFFORTH, Secretary.

The South has received Senator Hill with great enthusiasm.

The city council did right when it prohibited ringing the fire bell for other purposes than fire alarms.

The carefully prepared letter written by Cleveland in response to a question as to his candidacy leaves not a doubt that "Barkis is willin'."

Portland Telegram: There is no question that Mr. Hermann as a bill-introducer has been a shining success. He will introduce a bill for anybody over 21 years old or any locality inhabited by a voter.

The result of the indictments returned into the present circuit court leads one to conclude that the grand jury system is not only a failure but a very expensive one. Modern civilization has outgrown this relic of a semi-civilized age.

The Roseburg Review says: "Hon. Robt. Veatch, the man who stood at Gov. Penoyer's right hand and fought for the people and against 'the ring,' will be the democratic nominee for congress in the first district. He will have the support of the people generally without regard to party affiliations."

A Portland wholesale importing firm quotes ruling and practical comparative prices of tin under the McKinley tariff, and before, and completely upsets the political prices of the protectionists, who claim that increasing the tariff tax 1.1 cents a pound made it cheaper. It quotes prices showing it is that much dearer than before the additional tax was imposed.

Andrew Carnegie is on the Pacific coast relating the beauties of the McKinley tariff. He has a fortune of $35,000,000 and an income of $2,000,000 annually, accumulated by means of tariff legislation. His workmen frequently strike against reduction of wages but the wily Andrew knows that no McKinley tariff protects labor, and bides his time until they are forced to accede to his terms.

Democrats who say it must be Cleveland or nobody, and democrats who say it must be Hill or nobody, are unwittingly but necessarily obstructionists, says the Albany Democrat. Their teachings exalt the man above the party by assuming that its success depends on the individual and not on the strength and force of the party's principles. If this were true, principles would mean only an empty form and creeds would be summed up in one phrase—man-worship.

The farmers of Oregon who produce wool, vegetables, grain, butter, cheese, eggs, etc., have the chance to look upon the blessings of McKinleyism as they see their brethren of other states who raise cane and maple sugar draw cash bounties from the federal treasury. No mortal soul has yet explained why the treasury should pay a man for tapping a maple tree, and boiling the sap, cash out of the proceeds of the taxes that are paid by other producers on many of the articles in daily use.

Welcome: The McKinley bill is doing first rate work for the democratic party in Portland. A short time since the Willamette Steam Mill Lumbering and Manufacturing Co., reduced the wages of common laborers from $2.50 to $2.25 per day. Now they have reduced from $2.25 to $2, and an employe said to a reporter, "I have been a republican all my life, but I am through with the party now. If we are not getting down to 'pauper labor' then I do not understand myself. I know a great tailoring establishment here that makes a great pretense of loyalty to unionism, yet all the garments purchased from it are made by Chinamen. And we white laborers are fast being reduced to the level of Chinamen. If these are the benefits promised us by the McKinley bill, then for one, I have had enough of the party that fathers it."

Blue River Items.

March 15, 1892. Quite a rain shower last night. Jo Andrews returned from Eugene Saturday. A party of miners went to the mines yesterday. Mr. Mullen and family have returned to their McKenzie ranch. From all reports Mr. Kenfrew is getting considerable lumber on hand. F. Mengoz and Butler are stopping on Blue River ready to go in to the mines.

Miss Hariwig passed yesterday on her way to Mr. Powers, where she will stop for awhile. Mr. Mulford who has been absent from home for some time returned on today's stage.

Messrs. Robe and Ward are stopping at the Davis House. They will start to the mines tomorrow morning.

Miners are rushing in and the Davis House has been crowded for two weeks; it seems to be headquarters. Dayton Mulford, of the Foley Springs, passed here last Saturday enroute for Eugene, where he will purchase a light spring wagon.

L. Peller and J. Wing were down to the Davis House last Saturday, after a supply of provisions. They are making good progress in their tunnel, being in about 75 feet at present with a fair prospect.

SUNSET.

Fern Ridge Items.

Sunshine and showers. Have you paid your taxes? School commenced last Monday with Mr. Rayburn yielding the rod.

Wild oats are plentiful, consequently farmers will have to cultivate before sowing wheat.

Mrs. Cora Hill's horse ran away with her last week doing considerable damage to cart and horse. Fortunately Mrs. Hill escaped without a bruise.

Mr. Peter Harpole sold 40 head of fat hogs the other day, receiving 5 cents per pound gross for them. He has 40 more he aims to fatten for the market.

The festive office seeker will have to walk mighty straight this year. The prevailing fine weather will enable the farmers to all get through seeding in time to devote their attention to the coming election; then look out for the best man. We hear some talk around here of a third party among the alliance and grangers.

Mr. Hill, of Spencer Creek, last fall dehorned about 150 head of cattle in this neighborhood without an accident. We would advise all farmers to try it; it is worth 50 per cent to a farmer when it comes to wintering a band of cattle. They can be fed in half the space and are no more trouble than a band of sheep. Mr. Hill uses a saw and is an expert hand, dehorning the 150 head in a day and a half, and charging the very small sum of 40 cents a head.

Richardson is not to be left in the way of improvements. The German have erected a number of dwellings on the Ridge. Mr. Sam Mahon and Mr. Joe Hill and families are occupying handsome houses built last fall. Mr. Briggs, of Albany, is going to erect a fine residence for J. R. Hill this summer. Mr. Frank Atkins is going to complete his beautiful cottage soon. Uncle Hinson Smith is not to be left so he will come to the front with a new house this fall. Last and maybe least, Mr. Dave Hill is going to build a milk house. All this to plenty of new fencing and it will be seen that we are not behind.

Pleasant Hill Items.

March 16, 1892. A Chautauqua Society was formed here last evening, of which more anon. J. T. Callison, who had an arm broken about two weeks ago is slowly improving.

J. M. Bristow received quite a bad fall yesterday, but just how serious is not known.

Miss Ida Evenson, who has been visiting for some time at this place will return to Eugene on Thursday.

John Dick has secured a very good piece of land about 12 miles above Florence, on the North Fork.

A number of young people met at the residence of W. E. Bristow on last Friday evening and had a very pleasant time.

At our annual school meeting the same old stand-bys, Uncle Steve Rigdon and J. T. Callison, were reelected director and clerk.

W. D. Mulkey has rented his cosy home to Mr. and Mrs. Wiley, who recently arrived from Washington. Dennis will move his family to Junction where he is engaged in the carpenter business.

Uncle Sam Handsaker will start to Florence next Monday. He sent today via Yaquina, a lot of provisions, and in order to make people believe that he is "on the work," some farming implements also.

Your Trent (?) correspondent should not be too severe on the young man who is so anxious to receive an office at the hands of the dear people. "Old men for council, and young men to till the soil and tend the flocks and herds." Two men on horseback, no doubt the ones that stole E. P. Redford's horses, forced the Middle Fork opposite Butte Disappointment on the Military road, Monday evening. When passing along they visited the barns of E. L. Parks, J. K. McKenzie and Halvor Wheeler, helping themselves, ad libitum, to such articles as they wished. Deputy Sheriff Smith is on their track and it is to be hoped they will be caught.

O. K.

Brother F. W. Mays of the Fomeroy Independent wields a vigorous pencil. Here is the heading of the leading editorial in his issue of March 10. "The buzzards of damnation are packing and the carrion crows of hell are spewing out their filth in order to once more deceive the people." Then he writes a column article in which he invokes all the powers of earth and heaven to arise in their majesty and might and hurl the boodlers into the bottomless pit.

Salem Journal: A fifteen-year-old boy named Miller, living between Stayton and Amusville, last Saturday took his gun and went out hunting. He has not been seen since, and his people have serious apprehensions that an accident has befallen him. A searching party has been out.

Mayor McCaughey and Hon. T. G. Hendrick went out hunting this morning for blue jays. It is unlawful to kill "hoopsters" now, therefore the gentlemen will not bother his lordship.

It will be remembered that some since we announced that the Peninsular Store Company, of Chicago, had awarded Miss Henrietta Laner, a prize range, for forming the most words out of the word "Peninsular." It arrived last night and is a daisy.

The University of Wisconsin has established a special department of politics and economics. Our congressman and senators ought each to spend a couple of years there at government expense, with special advantages to the ones who could pass the best civil service examination on entering. The gain would be cheap at that.

The following from the Corvallis Times is applicable to Eugene: "The city council passed a number of ordinances last night and they become a law. Of course our people have no way of finding out what they are, only by a violation, as they are never published."

OFFICE—Over Marlow's store, Eugene Oregon

Tuesday morning a force of men went with a flat car to lay the rails in front of the Dane grocery in South Salem on the electric road. The rails had been left out to accommodate the grocery delivery wagon. As the men began work Mrs. Dane warned them off, threatening to shoot. No attention was paid to her demands, until she re-appeared on the scene with a building revolver, and half of the crew scattered, leaving the other boys to hold the fort. Mrs. Dane was finally satisfied, and the work went on.

For Congress.—OSKOOK CITY, March 16.—The People's party state convention took a preliminary vote on the congressional nomination in the first district which resulted: Rork forty-three, Polk thirty-seven, Hayes sixteen. Rork received sixty-five votes and S. H. Holt thirty. The nomination was made unanimous.
