The Washoe Indians in Nevada are endeavoring to secure a reservation for the tribe like the Pinites have, and they propose to send a delegation to Washington to secure that object.

A wild mining excitement has broken out at Lordsburg, a little town about midway between Los Angeles and San Bernardino. Assays of the rock give $1,500 to the ton in silver. It is stated that Timothy Hopkins will build dormitories at College Terrace to accommodate the expected influx of new students at the Stanford University next year, which has been estimated at as many as 1,000.

A commission appointed from Washington to examine into the truth of the reports of great mineral wealth in the Garry Mountains in the Navajo reservation in New Mexico, with a view to opening up that section if the reports are found to be reliable. W. S. Mack, for the past year Warden of the Idaho penitentiary, has been removed and Frank S. James of Welles, Washington county, installed as his successor. The new warden will assume his duties at once. Mack's term of wardenship has been fraught with a thousand scandals. Among other things the practice of allowing gladiators in the prison yard created a big rumble last fall. Mack was appointed from Boise and other prominent persons. Soon after he became warden it was alleged by John Mitchell, who filed affidavits to that effect, that he had swindled creditors in Spokane and Seattle. Other allegations of crookedness were made. Those of the Prison Commission who asked for his removal were Governor Wiley and Attorney-General Roberts.

The Springer free-wool bill was denounced in the House as a conspiracy between the cotton raisers of the South and the wool manufacturers of the North to enrich themselves at the expense of the prosperity of the nation. This charge was made by Representative J. D. Taylor of Ohio.

Immigrant Inspector Stitch has received information from the Washington Treasury department that it has been decided that Canadians cannot under the alien-labor law be allowed to serve as sailors on American vessels in the lakes. It is feared this will cripple the lake trade, as hundreds of Canadians are so employed.

Attorney-General Miller expressed gratification at the decision of Justice Brewer, favoring the government in its suit against the Union Pacific and the Western Union Telegraph Company. He said there are a number of cases against other Pacific roads dependent on the same principles. The case will likely be appealed to the Supreme Court.

General Warner, Chairman of the National Silver Committee, is going to call a national silver convention, to be held probably at St. Louis or some other central point within the next two months. He conferred with a number of leading silver men in Washington, and they approve of the silver convention plan.

The Committee on Rules has decided to report favorably to the House a resolution to investigate the census bureau. This action is based upon a resolution introduced in the House some weeks ago by Mr. Alderson of West Virginia. Senator Mitchell has been for some time endeavoring to secure an order from the department authorizing the United States Indian agent at the Klamath reservation in Oregon to lease for grazing purposes the surplus lands of that reservation. The Supreme Court has handed down an opinion constraining the timber and stone act of 1878, which applied to Oregon, Washington, Nevada and California. The courts in Oregon and Washington have been deciding one way and the Land Department another. In the case of the United States vs. N. E. Budd and James Montgomery Judge Allyn of the Tenth circuit, decided in Montana, affirmed by District Judge Hanford and now by the Supreme Court of the United States. It was charged in the bill that the land in question, 100 acres in Cowllits county, Wash., was not purchasable under the timber act, and that there was fraudulent conveyance of the land by Budd to Montgomery. The court held that neither charge is sustained, but that the timber act included the land and authorized its sale.

Lockwood, a pension attorney, formerly chief clerk of the Interior Department, testified he borrowed money from a bank to loan Raum, the banker returning to him the loan direct, because Raum refused to promote certain warden's pension office. He said Raum, Jr., got a part of the borrowed money. Thomas Farnest, formerly chief of the pension office, said that his objection to the pension claims from Indians were advanced. These cases always came up as completed, though many of them had been in the office a long time. A remark of witness about the bad character of some women in the pension office was stricken out.

Enloe has submitted to the House the report of the Commission on the Merchant Marine, recommending the repeal of the mail subsidy act. It dissents from the policy of subsidies on the ground that it is a robbery, and says that if the principle of subsidy is right it should apply to all, and that the common planter has as much right as the ship owner. The minority argues in favor of the retention of the law, based upon figures showing the impetus given to shipping under the new regime. Comment is made upon the refusal of the majority to hear testimony or investigate the workings of the act. It is maintained, had the government pursued in the past the subsidy policy, it would now hold the supremacy of the high seas in merchant marine instead of paying (principally to England) during the last thirty years the enormous tribute of over $3,000,000,000 for transporting goods.

Secretary Noble has approved the instructions of the Commissioner of the general land office to the Registers and Receivers of the land offices at Fargo, N. D., and Watertown, S. D., in anticipation of the President's proclamation opening to settlement and entry the unallotted lands in the limits of Sisseton and Wahpeton Indian reservations. Special attention is given to sections 2 and 30 of the act of Congress approved March 3, 1891, in regard to religious societies purchasing land now occupied by them. These societies must make proof after six weeks' advertisement of its proper occupancy of such land on May 3, 1891, and pay for them at the rate of $2.50 per acre. No other applicant will be allowed to make entry of these lands. In addition to the usual affidavits required of the bona fide applicants must be one stating that the applicant did not enter upon and occupy any portion of the lands described and declared open to entry by the President's proclamation.
