Judge Pipes' Record.

The Register gives us a further opportunity to bring the record made by Judge Pipes before the public. It says:

"The Guard states that during Judge Pipes' administration there have been 22 cases appealed to the supreme court from Lane county and but three of them have been reversed. The records show that only four cases have been appealed from this county and three of them have been acted upon by the supreme court. But this does not reflect any great credit upon the judge, for the cases are mostly jury cases and but few of them are appealed on any decision of the judge."

The statement above accredited to us was made in the DAILY GUARD of Monday and was corrected in the issue of Tuesday by substituting the Second judicial district, over which Judge Pipes presides, for Lane county.

The Register was published the Wednesday after. We deliver the DAILY GUARD each day to that publication by carrier. We cannot however believe that it is so unworthy of the honorable profession of journalism as to publish the above if it had read the correction made the day before. However a careful reading of the article shows that the author realized he was treading on dangerous ground.

The position of judge is one that should be removed so far as possible by the nature of our institutions from political influence. The lives and property of our people depend on the faithful administration of our laws. No one doing business knows when he will be forced into court and it is but natural that the judge whose record shows his ability and integrity should have the advantage of it when a choice must be made by the people.

The record of only three cases reversed out of twenty-two is a phenomenal one. Lawyers do not appeal cases without they suppose they can make a fair showing before the supreme court. In a majority of the districts at least 50 per cent of the appeals are reversed. Judge Bean, the predecessor of Judge Pipes, was careful, painstaking, and has a judicial mind that renders him held in high esteem among the legal profession of the state, but during his term of office in the Second judicial district over fifty per cent of the appeals were reversed.

The simple statement of appeals however does not show the extent of the work of Judge Pipes. In Lane county during the past two years not less than 500 cases have been placed on the docket and a large number of those have been contested. Douglas and Benton each probably equal Lane while Coos and Curry have a smaller number. We repeat that the record made by Judge Pipes is a phenomenal one and entitles him to re-election.

Don't wait for your neighbor to subscribe to the railroad subsidy, but set the good example yourself.

The reduction on the manufactured woollens of all kinds proposed in the cheap clothing bill passed by the house would have scarcely one-third the taxes imposed on clothing by the McKinley bill. The result of this reduction would be cheaper clothing and better clothing for the money, with larger sales and better profits for dealers, and greater satisfaction to all concerned in the clothing trade, merchants as well as consumers.

Judge Bennett, the democratic candidate for supreme judge, was in Salem the other day appearing before the tribunal, of which he should be elected a member, in four cases. Judge Bennett has a splendid reputation as a pure and able jurist, and, unlike his opponent, has a large and extensive practice. We made the assertion soon after the nomination of Judge Moore that he had never appeared before the supreme court, and no denial has yet been made.

A railroad from Eugene to Florence would mean the taking down of many signs to let. It would mean new buildings, work for mechanics, laboring men, and a general living of business and every industry. The farmer would receive the benefits of cheap freights. Thousands of dollars would be spent in construction. The taxpayers' burdens would be lightened as the taxes paid by the company would be a considerable sum, probably equal to the interest on the subsidy asked for.

It is a wise political policy for the democratic national party to keep the silver question in the rear until after the presidential election. Then we opine a free coinage bill will be passed by the house by a majority that will astonish some of the natives. The democratic party is in favor of bi-metalism, and when the opportunity offers will restore silver to the position that it held before being degraded by John Sherman's treacherous act in 1873. At the present time we are electing a president, and cannot afford a blunder like that of four years ago which lost its author and his party the presidency.

Enough has been written and spoken on the point that good roads are desirable. What is now needed is for some one to propose a feasible plan for obtaining them. The statesmen who aspire to office should consider this subject.

General Weaver is engaged for sixteen speeches in this state. He will speak once in each of sixteen counties. Mrs. Lease, the woman orator of Kansas, who took J. J. Ingalls' scalp, is now in Washington, but will be here with General Weaver.

Only a short time remains in which to raise the railroad subsidy. Work, and efficient work too, must be done.

THURSDAY MAY 5.

John Holloway's clubs. Get the latest novels at Holloway's circulating library.

For stone jars, jugs, milk crocks, and flower pots of every description AX Billy.

Send to or call on E. J. Frasier for one of his circulars descriptive of his latest and greatest bargain.

The county clerk issued a marriage license last evening to J. R. Krause and Miss Mary L. Kinsey.

W. Holloway's clubs are a success. He has already a large membership and they are here to stay permanently.

It will be several days yet before the delinquent tax roll is completed. It will make 120 pages in the tax roll book.

Several subscriptions to the railroad fund this morning. If you intend subscribing do so at once as it is not long until the 15th.

Just arrived direct from the factory, a carload of the celebrated Millbury wagnons. Call and examine them at M. Svarverud & Co's.

W. Holloway is the only jeweler that carries a full line of watches of all grades and makes. He has twice the stock of any other, and can better please you.

AX Billy allows no one to undersell him but will give more value for the same money than any other grocer in Eugene. Spot cash, our motto. Non union, our prices.

As a family medicine, the Oregon Blood Purifier has no equal. It has proved itself a certain and efficacious remedy for all diseases caused by an impure state of the blood.

A reward of $3000 has been offered by the Southern Pacific railroad company for the apprehension of the villains who wrecked the overland train at Myrtle Creek last week.

The Salem council has passed the ordinance for the grading of Chemeketa street over the mayor's veto; also, to discharge all fire department hands, re-employ two, put both engines in one house and consolidate the office of city surveyor and street commissioner.

Corvallis Times: The Oregon Pacific now supports a fare collector on the passenger trains. Whether this new move has been brought about by the increased travel and the inability of the conductor to do all the collecting, or whether their own guilty conscience has aroused a suspicion of others, we are not advised.

Holloway leads, others follow. Lawn mowers, $4.00 at F. L. Chambers'.

Carpets!! Carpets! at D. Linn & Son's. D. Linn & Son, for furniture, carpets and undertaking.

Tobacco stems for tree wash, cheap, at Hayes' cigar store.

By going to Holloway's you can get all the latest novels to read.

Fresh garden seed of all kinds in bulk. Hand wheel hoes, etc., at F. L. Chambers'.

Frank Brown is fitting up his confectionery store and restaurant in grand style.

Several Eugene people are already talking about going to the McKenzie springs.

The high wheel Victoria lawn mower is the highest running mower made. Call and examine at F. L. Chambers'.

Our $50 lot in the heart of Florence are the best bargains now in Lane county. Don't wait for prices to advance but buy now.

Geo. M. Miller & Co.

We think it would be a good idea to have the Russell letter kept in the Register until after election, from remarks we have heard made on the streets since its first publication.

The boy's band played several selections on the summit of Skinner's butte last evening, attracting the attention of many of our citizens. This band is improving rapidly and will soon favor our citizens with open-air concerts.

The Toledo Post says: Collector of Customs R. A. Bessell came near passing in his checks on Monday. He made a mistake in the bottle and took a dose of zinc instead of salts. He is about O. K. and in the future will see that all bottles in his medicine chest are properly labeled.

Nearly two dozen immigrants arrived from the East on the local train this afternoon. In fact immigration has been steadily pouring in for the last few days but nothing to what we expect when the building of the St. Lawrence & Eastern Ry. is assured.

Amos and Jasper Wilkins, of Coburg, left with 250 head of cattle for Eastern Oregon this morning, where they will keep them this summer, driving them back here in the fall. They will keep them at the Big Prairie until they can cross the mountains which will be several weeks yet.
