AUG. HORNUNG, a well known manufacturer of boots and shoes at 820 No lan St., San Antonio, Texas, will not soon forget his experience with an attack of the cramps which he relates as follows: "I was taken with a violent cramp in the stomach which I believe would have caused my death, had it not been for the prompt use of Chamlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The first dose did me so much good that I followed it up in 20 minutes with the second dose, and before the doctor could get to where I was, I did not need him. This Remedy shall always be one of the main stays of my family." For sale by OSBURN & DELANO.

THE CRY OF MILLIONS!

OH, MY BACK!

STOP IT NOW, SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies and have sought aid from different physicians without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a very violent attack that almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was bent over. When I sat down it was almost impossible for me to get up alone, or to put on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my hotel. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days, I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

The overland train from the south did not arrive here until 9 o'clock this morning, caused by delay in the Siskiyous.

Remember that Saturday is the last day for railroad subscriptions. If you want the railroad subscribe at once.

A little child of J. Mulligan was buried in the new I. O. O. F. cemetery near Springfield last Saturday.

The dance given by the band Saturday evening was a pleasant affair. The attendance was not as large as it should have been.

Chas. Vanderburg and family started on the local this morning for their former home at Litchfield, Hillsdale county, Michigan.

Mrs. Moyer, who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. S. Yerrington in this city, returned this morning to her home in Michigan.

H. W. Holden is down from the Myrtle Creek mines. He reports that he is getting along with the work on the ditch in a satisfactory manner.

Prineville Review: Andy Lytle has sold his farm nine miles north of Prineville to a Mr. Harris, of Antelope. He will hereafter reside in Eugene.

Corvallis has an ice factory that supplies the local demand. Albany has two, Eugene one, and Salem one or two. So the valley will be able to keep cool.

The West: Florence has been asked to assist Eugene in raising the railroad subsidy. With the spirit which has so many times characterized us as a live, energetic people, the matter was taken in hand and nearly $5,000 raised the first day. It is quite probable $10,000 can be raised inside of a week.

Prineville Review: Hon. J. F. Amis, nominee for district judge on the peoples' ticket, addressed a large audience at the court house Wednesday evening on political issues, and on Thursday evening Geo. W. Barnes and Roscoe Knox held a joint discussion.

Amis and Knox were formerly residents of Lane county.

Precinct nominees may file acceptances with the county clerk at any time prior to 15 days before the election, and but ten individual names are required to be attached to acceptances for such offices, in case the nomination is not made by a convention of legal voters within the meaning of the law. There is nothing in the law to prevent following the old practice of writing the name of a candidate on the tickets in case the ticket does not show it. The acceptance to be filed by the nominee or candidate merely insures the printing of the names on the tickets furnished the electors by the clerk.

Astoria Town Talk: "All aboard!" Such were the sounds that reached the ears of a Town Talk reporter when watching for the departure of the train on the Bay Railway this morning. On glancing towards the cars we beheld the youthful countenance of a boy about 15 years of age and conductor of that train, which leaves this city hourly for the terminus of the road. Harry says he has a mother living in this city, but his father is in California. Astoria can truthfully say she has the youngest railway conductor in the United States if not in the world.

About two years ago the British ship Abercorn was lost on the beach north of Grays harbor. The vessel had a cargo of steel rails which were purchased by Messrs. Cannon & Mohr, of Spokane, and were to have been used in constructing a portage around the dalles of the Columbia. Last summer efforts were made to land the rails but with small success. Captain Pease has gone down to the beach and will superintend the removal of the iron. About 2000 tons are still in the wreck. Some 900 feet of the wharf which was built out to the wreck is still standing, and the portion washed away will be restored as soon as possible. Captain Pease is confident that all the lost iron can be recovered.

Hon. Robert Veatch, the candidate for congress in this district, is known far and wide as one of the ablest champions of the people's right that has ever held a seat in the Oregon legislature. No one could have been selected who could better represent the farmers and working men generally, or who has their confidence to a greater extent.—Lakeview Examiner.

A movement is on foot to start a new daily paper in Portland. Parties are now in the east seeing what arrangements can be made. This is not the first time the measure been agitated. What will be the final outcome of the present enterprise it is difficult to determine, but with Portland's growing importance it is only a question of time when another daily will be added to the list.

The school law requires that "teachers and directors shall not allow children to attend school from a house where there is any contagious disease." Remember this, says the Klickitat Star, when you catch the measles, and don't come to pay your subscription until a little while after you are able to sit up and drink hot gruel. An editor never realizes how little he cares for $2.50 until a man with the measles comes to pay up.

Jail birds always imagine they are badly treated by sheriffs. During J. M. Sloan's tenure of office, we received at least, a dozen communications complaining of every conceivable thing, by criminals under his charge. Publishing a reputable paper, and knowing a little about the disposition of men confined by force, we promptly deposited their complaints in the waste-basket. Sheriff Noland is a humane man, but does not furnish his charges with "razors, knives, scissors and guns." If the Register man thinks he can run a jail he is mistaken, and he is making no votes by his unscrupulous conduct.

Union Pacific spotters have created a sensation at Huntington, in this state, by unearthing a system of robbery carried on by employes and others at that place. A large amount of property belonging to or in its charge, has been systematically purloined for some time past and the detectives employed to ferret out the guilty parties have succeeded in causing the arrest of two parties and others implicated will also be apprehended. A similar condition of affairs is said to exist at Baker City and officers are now there investigating the matter.

Columbia's Moving Mountain.

A traveling mountain is found at the Cascades of the Columbia river. It is a tripple-peaked mass of dark brown basalt, six or eight miles in length where it fronts the river, and rises to a height of almost 2,000 feet above the water. That it is in motion, says Goldthwait's Geographical Magazine, is the last thought that would be likely to suggest itself to the mind of any one passing it, yet it is a well established fact that this entire mountain is moving slowly but steadily down to the river as if it had a deliberate purpose some time in the future to dam the Columbia and form a great lake from the Cascades to The Dalles. The Indians tradition indicate immense movements of the mountains in that region long before white men to Oregon, and the early settlers—immigrants many of them from New England—gave the above described mountainous ridge the name of "traveling or "sliding" mountain." In its forward and downward movement the forests along the base of the ridge have become submerged in the river. Large tree stumps can be seen standing deep in the water on this shore. The railway engineers and the brakeman find that the line of railway which skirts the foot of the mountain is being continually forced out of place. At certain points the permanant way and rails have been pushed eight or ten feet out of the line in a few years. Geologists attribute this strange phenomenon to the fact that the basalt which constitutes the bulk of the mountain, rests on a substratum of conglomerate of soft sandstone which the deep, swift current of the mighty river is constantly wearing away, or that this softer subrock is of itself yielding at great depths to the enormous weight of the harder mineral above.

The Democratic Campaign Opens.

ASHLAND, Or., May 7.—Hon. R. M. Veatch, the democratic candidate for congressional representative, opened his campaign in Ashland this evening in a speech at the city hall. Mr. Veatch confined his argument to an arraignment of the republican party for maintaining a war tariff tax upon the people after having removed it from the railroads, the express companies, the telegraph companies, the banks and the income of the millionaires. He argued that the tariff is a tax to the extent of the duty, and that a protective tariff throws the laborer out of employment, reduces his wages and makes his living higher. He says the farmers owned 66 per cent of the wealth of the whole United States in 1860 and only 20 per cent now. Mr. Veatch was followed by Col. R. A. Miller, the democratic nominee for presidential elector, who eulogized Mr. Veatch as a champion of the people.

Zis Is Ze Diffronce.

Call a girl a chick, and she smiles; call a woman a hen, and she howls. Call a young woman a witch, and she is pleased; call an old woman a witch, and she is indignant. Call a girl a kitten, and she rather likes it; call a woman a cat and she will hate you. Call a girl a little goose, and she will say "sir!" call her a little duck, and her face will be wreathed in smiles. Zat is ze diffronce between ze duck and ze goose.

MARRIED.—In Junction City, Oregon, May 8, 1892, by J. J. Butler, city recorder, Wm. Driskill and Mrs. E. A. Zumwalt, all of Lane county, Oregon.

Which Shall It Be?

Eugene must take a decided stand on the railroad subsidy question if she wishes to preserve her prosperity. A fair review of the situation will show but little building in progress or contemplated, many vacant residences for rent and no public work by the city of any importance. The mechanics and laboring men who contribute greatly toward the prosperity of a city must have employment or they will be compelled to go elsewhere. That will throw more real estate on the market, and empty more houses thus farther depressing values from which it will take several years to recover.

Take the other side of the picture. The hour a railroad to Florence is assured men will become more confident in their business arrangements. Improvements that are now held back from cautionary motives will be commenced; vacant houses will be filled; new residents inspired by the future of a town whose location and railroad facilities would render it second to none in Oregon, except Portland, would locate and help in the onward march of progress. Our warehouses would be filled with produce from all portions of the county drawn hither by the certainty of cheap freights and better prices. Which will you choose? Remain inert and the choice will be made for you in a very short time.

"Yes" and "No."

Roseburg Review: The only argument the republicans can use against Hon. Robert Veatch is that he voted "no." This is simply a good reason why Mr. Veatch should be elected, as few men in public life now-adays have learned to speak that little word. Senator Veatch said no when the untaxed Bull Run bond bill came up in the senate; he said "no" when it was proposed by the Portland ring to tax the people $100,000 for the Chicago show, and further than that, citizens of Douglas county, he was the only man in that county who said "no" when Al Reed's pet fish bill passed. There was one time, however, when Mr. Veatch said "yes," and said it very plainly, and that was when Senator Weatherford's bill making railroad corporations liable for the death and injury of their employes was under consideration. Simon and other corporation senators killed the measure, but the record shows that Mr. Veatch could say "yes" when a meritorious bill came up.

A vote for the democratic nominee for congress, will be a vote cast for an honest man.

We Know Him.

Sunday Welcome, Ind.

Binger Hermann is as sly an old fox as ever ranged the devious ways of politics. He knows how to work the wires, and has an eye single to Hermann's interest.

The telegraph reports that he does this much and that much and is careful to put him forward as the great working member of the Pacific delegation. His idea is to puff himself—entirely selfish. But not a word is said as to what he does not do, nor how much better he could do that which is credited to him; if he was a man of ability.

He is not, and we, here at his home know it. He is a poor middle weight, very mediocre.

He cannot compare, and ought not to be mentioned in the same sentence with R. M. Veatch, his opponent, who is to Hermann as Hyperion to a Satyr. If we want a first-class man, leave Hermann at home and send Veatch there.

But few of the states that will contribute their electoral votes to the democratic candidate for president are in favor of Cleveland. A number of republican states, however, enthuse over him with spread eagle speeches to fire the public heart, pictures on the walls to apostrophize, and other common expedients to stifle any expression in favor of any other candidate. Oregon is an example of one of the states that will vote for the republican candidate yet wishes to dictate the nomination against the wishes of states whose electoral votes are essential to success, and reasonably certain if they are allowed their choice.

There is a feeling of deep unrest among the workingmen all over the world. Our own favored country is not exempt from it. They realize that favored classes exist, and are trying to work out the problem that will give true equality to men. The precautions taken in many parts of the civilized world to restrain May day meetings, the day generally recognized as devoted to the discussion of the labor question, prove that the constituted authorities recognize the danger. Anarchy stares them in the face. Its adherents propose to tear down and commence anew the building of society and government.

A lecturer in San Francisco has figured out the end of the earth in its present form in about seven more years, then its restoration as a perfect Eden, and the disappearance of death and decomposition. All of these things he attempts to prove by natural laws compared with scriptural prophecies. He accomplishes the feat to his own satisfaction at least.

How to Vote.

The following is substantially the form in which the tickets which will be printed for the coming election. It will be seen that the names of all candidates of all the parties are to be printed upon the ticket. The voter in preparing his ticket will cancel, cross or mark out the names of each candidate for whom he does not want to vote. Example: In preparing the ticket, if he desires to vote for Veatch for congress he will cancel, cross or mark out the names of Hermann, Rork and Rigdon, and leave the name of Veatch untouched.

Under the names of the candidates for each office a blank space will be left for the voter to insert any name that does not appear on the ticket, if he cannot find one satisfactory among the nominees.

Official Ballot, for —— Precinct, Lane Co., Or., June 6, 1892.

CANCEL, CROSS OR MARK OUT NAMES OF CANDIDATES NOT VOTED FOR.

W T Rigdon, Prohibition, Jefferson.
R M Veatch, Democrat, Cottage Grove.

FOR SUPREME JUDGE. VOTE FOR ONE.

A S Bennett, Dem, The Dalles.
F A Moore, Rep, St Helens.

FOR ATTORNEY-GENERAL VOTE FOR ONE.

Geo E Chamberlain, Dem, Albany.

And so on throughout the district, county and precinct nominations. The voter can vote for only the number to be elected for each office and must scratch out all other names for that office. If they are not erased or marked out the vote on that office will not be counted. Where more than one is to be elected the voter will vote for the number required, erasing all others. For instance, he is entitled to vote for three representatives in the legislature. The explanation on the head of each office "vote for one" or "three" as the case may be, will inform the voter.

Veatch vs Rork.

Portland Dispatch: M. V. Rork has filed his acceptance of the nomination for congress in the First congressional district on the people's ticket. We do not look upon his candidacy with any degree of seriousness, nor do we think that the people of that district are prepared to throw away their votes upon a man who cannot and ought not to be elected. He can only serve the purpose of the republicans, or Representative Binger Hermann, as his vote will be four-fifths from the vote which ought to go to Mr. Veatch. This man has been nothing but a political adventurer in our state and we are not even now informed as to his habitation or residence. He has wandered from place to place in pursuit of political notoriety ever since his arrival in Oregon, and has had no other occupation but politics so far as we know. The farmers of that district have a man presented for their suffrage on the democratic ticket who has been a resident of the state for many years, and while he has been honored by the people of his county, he has not made poltics his business, but has been actively engaged in farming and other legitimate enterprises. He is a man known to be the unflinching friend of the producers and laborers of the state. He represents everything that is desirable in the independent movement, and hence we consider that every vote that Mr. Rork is endeavoring to secure, rightfully and justly belongs to Mr. Veatch, whether it be democrat or republican. Certainly no democratic farmer need throw his vote away on Mr. Rork and thus indirectly aid in the election of Mr. Hermann. Mr. Veatch is a man whose integrity, ability and devotion to the public good was never questioned. It is the duty of every democrat to give his loyal support to Mr. Veatch. Republican farmers have just cause for not supporting their nominee. He does not represent their principles nor their interest. Let every every democrat stand by Robert M. Veatch, the people's candidate.

"One touch of nature" moved Bismarck to arrange a wink signal-service with the late Empress Augusta's butler, when he wanted cognac substituted for the thin potations usual at dinners, exactly as it moves Deacon John Doe to wink at the rector of a soda water fountain when he wants "something insinuating."

Please explain how, if protection is necessary to sheep-raising, free-trade Great Britain maintains on her high priced lands a larger proportion of sheep to population than this country can show, with its boundless extent of cheap lands and after nearly seventy years of protection?

Sugar trust agents in Philadelphia say that a rebate of 40 cents per barrel will be allowed to dealers sustaining retail prices. This is a move to stop the opposition refining movement.
