Bertha, the ten year old daughter of Judge Bryson, died at Corvallis of diphtheria, on the 12th, and a son was not expected to live.

Thos. Wyatt, at one time a resident of Eugene, being a son of E. F. Wyatt, now resides at Delmar, Cal. He expects to visit Eugene soon.

The third anniversary of the Epworth League was celebrated at the M. E. Church last evening. The meeting was largely attended and the programme rendered was an excellent one.

A. S. McClure left on the local this morning to attend the grand lodge J. O. O. F. which meets at Astoria Wednesday. J. J. Walton is also a delegate and will leave on the overland in the morning.

The Pendleton E. O. gets very precise as follows, as the valley league is a "no go" for the present appearance: "The Willamette Valley League is now in full bloom. The league is composed of Salem, Albany, Eugene and McMinnville."

THE CRY OF MILLIONS!

OH, MY BACK!
STOP IT NOW!
SOON IT WILL BE TOO LATE.

I have been troubled many years with disease of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies without relief. About the 15th of April I was suffering from a violent attack and almost prostrated me in such a manner that I was sent over to get up alone, or to rest on my clothes, when kind Providence sent Dr. Henley, with the OREGON KIDNEY TEA, to my relief. I immediately commenced using the tea. It had an almost miraculous effect, and to the astonishment of all the guests at the hotel, in a few days I am happy to state, that I was a new man. I will recommend the tea to all afflicted as I have been.

A large number of people in town today, talking railroads and politics.

The following are the candidates for the vacancy made by the death of Collector of customs R. P. Earhart: James Lotan, Wm. Kappus, Gov. Moody, P. S. Malcolm and W. J. Snodgrass.

The murderer of Randall Smith has been indicted for murder in the first degree by the Crook county grand jury. The case will not be tried until the October term of court in that county.

Turner Oliver, a former student of the state university, is a candidate on the democratic ticket for clerk of Union county. His many friends of Eugene hope he will be elected, as he is a competent man.

Junction City Times: Miss Ura Sparks, who has been preaching here for a week or so, left Tuesday for Goshen. She will assist in the revival now in progress at that place. A purse was made for her before she left.

C. F. Hurlburt has accepted a position with Frank Bros., of Portland, under Matt Hendrick's agricultural implement agency in this county. "Curry" is a ruster and we predict he will make a good salesman.

Rev. M. V. Rork, candidate for congress, has been canvassing in Lane county, and has introduced at least one innovation. After his speech he takes up a collection, probably from old habits. Candidates usually have to put up money instead of taking it in.

The famous trotting horse, Canton, for which an offer of $20,000 was refused, away ran in Walla Walla Wednesday with the owner, Mr. Previt, who was driving the horse to a cart. Mr. Previt was thrown out and the horse started on a grand tour of his own, tearing through a bar wire fence twice, and breaking four wires each time. Strange to say, the animal escaped with a few scratches. Mr. Previt was also uninjured.

Junction Times: Wm. Andrews and Harry Arnold, charged with stealing horses, escaped from the county jail Wednesday afternoon. Sheriff Nolan promptly offered a reward of $50 for their apprehension. They were captured at Harrisburg and Deputy Sheriff Day brought them up on yesterday's local. Nolan gets his man every time although Lane county's jail won't hold such.

Springfield Items.

Messenger, May 13.

Four Eugene boys passed through Springfield Monday on a boat, enroute to the McKenzie on a fishing excursion. The boat, however, was on a wagon.

J. M. Wood, deputy head consul of the Woodmen of the World, was in town Monday, accompanied by W. R. Hollenbeck, of Eugene. Mr. Wood was here with a view to organizing a camp. An organization has been perfected at Eugene.

A letter from J. C. Templeton, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Cottage Grove, informs us that the new church was dedicated last Sunday. It cost $3300 and the balance of $1000 due on the structure was raised in 20 minutes.

Harshberger & Beebe, the Isabel saw mill men, were Wednesday completing arrangements for opening a yard with E. Maude as manager. They have just lived 5000 ties to the Woodburn-Springfield railroad.

Monday morning a newcomer enroute to the McKenzie country stopped in Springfield and while in the postoffice faint and fell on the floor. Dr. Van Valzah happened to be in the office at the time and with the aid of restoratives brought him back to life.

How CAUSED.—Many will be curious to know the cause of Hon. R. P. Earhart's death. The best authorities say his death was due to Bright's disease, with dropsical complications. For the past two years Mr. Earhart has been falling in health, but for twelve months the disease has been making rapid and steady inroads on the citadel of life. Mr. Earhart made trips to various places under advice of his physician, in the hope of benefiting his declining health; but from these travels no perceptible relief was obtained. For the past six months his decline has been rapid, despite the best and most skillful medical attendance. He had been confined to his home for the last three months. Though it has been evident for some time that the end was not far off, Mr. Earhart kept up his spirits and hope, and up to within a few days of his death he continued to attend to his official duties. When unable longer to leave his room and bed, he continued to sign all official papers and to look over the accounts that were sent up to him. Tuesday he sank into a comatose condition from which he never rallied.

QUITE A WEDDING.—Dr. J. W. Mahon, of Long Tom precinct, and Jennie L. Conner, of San Francisco, were married in the court house at Roseburg, by Rev. Swick, last Saturday, in the presence of 1,500 people who were attending a Sunday school convention in that city at the time. The couple had not met each other until the morning of the marriage, the entire courtship being conducted by U. S. mail. The happy couple returned to Lane county yesterday. The Doctor is now all smiles. His former wife procured a divorce from him at the last term of court in this county.

SUPPLEMENTARY ARTICLES.—The Springfield Electric Light Co. has filed supplementary articles of incorporation increasing the capital stock from $10,000 to $50,000.

The county candidates have finished their canvass in the Florence district and commence Wednesday at Coburg.

The man who never scratched his ticket before will have to scratch from top to bottom at the June election.

The war ships are now in Portland harbor and will probably remain there for several days for the benefit of sight seers. It is a novel sight, that of ocean war ships in a harbor 110 miles from the sea.

The time for the railroad subsidy to be raised expires today. Considerable credit must be accorded several members of the soliciting committee for the earnestness with which they have prosecuted the work.

Although the land department has ruled that in a contest between persons entering public lands may be settled by joint entry and division or conveyance after the issuing of the patent, it is about to be made a law. The bill is now pending in the house.

The staid old Maine prohibitionists at their recent convention declared in favor of the government operating the electric light plants of the country, believing that if the government owns the earth it ought to control the electricity contained in the orb.

In 1873 when silver was demonetized by the treachery of John Sherman it was equal in value to gold. It is to the credit of the metal to find that it has depreciated only about 15 per cent in twenty years, when nine-tenths of the product is valuable only as a circulating medium.

The great discovery made by Capt. Gray when he sailed into the Columbia one hundred years ago was fittingly celebrated at Astoria this week. While the discovery did not give the United States undisputed possession emigration followed and fixed the status of the new country.

A new danger confronts the candidate near the tail of a long ticket. A St. Paul journal says that in that state the voter gets tired before he reaches the end of the ticket and leaves it unvoted, so there is a difference of several thousand between the head and foot. We believe the Oregon voter will persevere to the end.

The city council show a knowledge of their business by commencing early on street improvements. The survey of Eighth street has been made and the contract will soon be let. Clean gravel will be used, and it should be seen that the proper size is used and that free from dirt.

A New Jersey pottery firm is making a large number of specimens of fine work for exhibition at the world's fair. One piece already completed is an elegant vase, 40 inches high and 52 inches in circumference, valued at $1000. It is thought to be one of the most perfect and beautiful specimens of the potters' art ever produced in this country.

Jay Gould has just been down in New Mexico, it was said for his health, but it transpires that a local line, partly in operation, projected from Galveston to Albuquerque, had attracted his attention. So he goes down there for his health, quietly pockets the railroad and goes home again. Mr. Gould looks closely after health, as far as gobbling up valuable railroad franchises are concerned.

Portland Telegram: A Maine congressman, who is a candidate for re-election, is reported to be "in a scrape" because he was caught drinking cider in a "grocery." This is ambiguous; because it is not explained what made it a "scrape." Was it drinking the cider, or was it because the whisky had given out, or was it because he hadn't called the boys all in? And then, is there any positive proof that it was cider? Give the man a chance to explain.

Dalles Chronicle: Messrs. Killen, Starr & Thomas are entitled to think as they please, but unless there is one code of morals for a lawyer, and another for the common herd, they will never convince a man who possesses a scintilla of sound moral sense that it is right for a lawyer to take a fee for practically forging a will, and then knowing that the will was of no account, accepting a thousand dollar fee from another to break it. To a person who is not a lawyer the action of Judge Moore looks like a damnably low piece of business, and something is needed to justify it other than the mere perfunctory opinion of a law firm, that Judge Moore is all right.

A dispatch from Mason City, Iowa, says: The National Cordage Company has now for the first time given its price on sisal twine, which is from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents per pound higher than last season. The dealers who are compelled to buy sisal twine now must of necessity sell at not less than 12 cents per pound. Those who were fortunate enough to place their contracts before the National Cordage Company gained complete control can make a shade lower price. Only about one-fifth of that will be needed is now in the hands of dealers. Jobbers are completely out and will be compelled to pay cordage prices. This means an extra expenditure of thousands of dollars to the farmers of the country.

The Laborers Reward.

The Roslyn coal miners who recently lost their lives in an explosion, to the number of 43, worked for a corporation and in an industry that is protected by tariff laws 10 to 20 per cent. Yet the mines were a constant scene of strikes against decrease of wages and lawlessness, in more than one instance resulting in the loss of life. Several hundred negroes were imported to take the place of white miners and that caused considerable trouble. For several months past some of the miners had averaged less than $7 apiece in wages and their families are left destitute.

And yet these protected mine owners are in a combine that forced the price of coal to ruinously high rates to manufacturers and families in San Francisco, their principal market, within a recent period. Thousands of other laborers in unprotected industries have enjoyed comparative prosperity, while the workmen of the protected pet of the government have been kept at the gate of poverty and at their death charity has to provide for the destitute families.

The final struggle by which the farmer's binding twine was made free to him, as his grain is to all the buyers—open to competition, from every land in the world's market—recalls that in the senate, when that body was democratic in Hayes' time, when quinine was put on the free list. Mr. Morrill, of Vermont, confronted by Beck of Kentucky, and Maxey of Texas, prolonged the fight to the last. The thousands of sick, the poor, the distressed who need the universal remedy, quinine, were nothing to the rich, calculating and cold hearted old man, who stood there in the interests of the two firms of millionaires of Philadelphia, who had a monopoly of the quinine business. It was not for love of them that Mr. Morrill, the author of the tariff that has ground the life out of thousands of his countrymen, made the fight to deny the sick and the afflicted medicine at a price other than the Philadelphia monopolists might see fit to fix. Mr. Morrill is enormously rich from a service of thirty-five years in congress on a $3000 (for a time) and a $5000 salary.
