FRIDAY, JULY 15.

J. J. Colen returned to Eugene on this afternoon's local.

Mrs. Anna Hoselton, of Springfield, is dangerously ill, the effect of a fall.

C. H. Page, the lighthouse contractor of Heeta Head, is in town.

Deputy Postmaster Eakin has returned from the Siuslaw country.

L. Gilstrap, of Springfield, has gone to Eastern Washington on a visit.

Mrs. H. D. Norton left on the overland last night on a three months visit to relative in California.

Prof. J. P. Holland, of Springfield, has been elected principal of the school at Cottage Grove. Mr. Holland is an able educator.

Essie G. Robertson has been appointed by the president postmaster at Independence, and U. S. Grant at Dallas.

It is reported that some Eugene parties were successful in the Louisiana lottery drawing that took place on the 12th.

An exchange says one strawberry does not make a festival; but one oyster has been known to make a church fair stew.

The family of J. B. Stowell returned yesterday from a four days camping trip to Windbury creek, above Jasper.

During their stay they picked ninety-five gallons of blackberries.

McMinnville Register: Chas. Kline and family leave Saturday for Folsom Springs.

Mrs. Kline will remain there until the Kline accompanied by two other gentlemen will go into the mountains on a prospecting tour.

A camping party will be held at Lowell, commencing August 11 and holding until August 21, under the management of Rev. J. M. Sweeney. He will be assisted by Rev. I. D. Driver and other able ministers.

Coos Bay News: Gus Risdon who has been foreman in this office for nearly two years past, left for the city on the 14th. He will return in a few days and will be accompanied by his family.

James Egan, a blind tombstone man was given a hearing before a justice of the peace at Portland, yesterday on a charge of adultery with Mrs. Isabella Johnson and was discharged, no evidence being adduced to substantiate the charge.

The gravelling of 8th and 9th streets is being well done. The gravel is fine and carefully selected. While it will be hard to put over for a time, the winter rains will settle and cement it, making first-class streets. But little dust in summer or mud in winter.

Springfield Messenger: Levi and John

Cleusant living two miles north of town and who have been quite sick for some time are now improving. As soon as able to travel they will be accompanied by their nephew, E. M. Carpenter, to Hot Springs, Arkansas, to try the healing properties of those famous springs.

Springfield Messenger: The electric light dynamo now lying at the depot waiting to be put to use in the Springfield Electric Light Works is pronounced to be one of the finest in the state. This magnificent plant is capable of furnishing lights for not only Springfield and Eugene but for Cottage Grove, Junction, and Harrisburg. We shall gladly welcome the day when work begins on the power house.

The 27th quarterly session of the State Horticultural Society, which has just closed its interesting sors at Hood River, was largely attended. One of the important features of the session was selecting

A Bold Robber.

Albany Democrat, July 14.

A very cool affair occurred last evening near Tangent, one not often duplicated. Mr. John Luper and family had been to a religious service in the town, immediately afterwards starting for home in two wagons, a son driving one and going ahead some distance.

When about half a mile from Tangent a man, with a mask, presented a revolver at the head of the young man, and demanding his money, which only happened to be about 50 cents, which was handed over; but not satisfying the robber. Leveling his revolver at young Luper's head he examined his pockets and, getting nothing for his pains, retired, ordering him to proceed on his journey. Mr. Luper then came up and was "stood up" in like manner, the robber getting only about $3. After going home Mr. Luper and son returned to Tangent and notified the citizens. The man was seen on the platform, his clothes an light hair easily discernible. Not knowing that he might be arrested by anyone and held for the officer a constable was hunted up, but by that time the bold robber had disappeared. He was a young man, blonde complexion, about 5 feet 7 inches, and smooth faced.

Junction Items.

Times, July 16.

Dr. M. F. Shaw has located here for the practice of his profession.

Henry Day, the good looking deputy sheriff, was here Monday.

Frances, the five year old daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Wallace, of Monroe, died Thursday.

Fred Hieok, our night operator, has secured a month's lay-off and will visit his mother at Stockton, California.

From there he will visit Frisco and the coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos Harpole have the sympathy of their friends in the loss of their little girl whose death occurred

Tuesday. Brain fever was the cause of her death.

W. S. Lee has made the discovery that the roof of his drug store, although only about two years old, is rotten and will have to be replaced. This is a very short life for an iron roof but such is the case nevertheless. Mr. Lee has ordered the material for a new roof.

As per advertisement in W. W. Starr opened the sealed bids received for the
