

Eugene City Guard.

SAURDAY, JULY 23, 1892.

Democratic National Ticket.

For President, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.

For Vice President, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

The next elections of any national importance will be held in Vermont on September 6 and Maine on September 12.

The sheriff of Clackamas county, whose accounts were claimed to have been crooked, has come out on top, the examination showing that there is a small amount due him from the county.

The building trades unions of Philadelphia have adopted a resolution offered by General Secretary Maguire, of the Carpenters and Joiners of America, to the effect that carpenters will not work on any building where structural iron is furnished by Carnegie.

Carnegie took an armed force of Pinkerton men to Homestead to coerce his locked out workmen to submission. Now his representatives have the unlimited gall to secure the arrest of the leaders of the workmen on charge of murder committed in the riot provoked by the Pinkertons.

Gladstone's speech at Edinburgh took the people by storm. One declaration was especially significant. "In all the great political controversies during the last fifty years," he said, "whether they affected the franchise, or commerce, or religion, or education, or the question of slavery, the leisure classes, the educated classes, the titled and wealthy classes, have always been in the wrong, the people have always been in the right."

The Cleveland Plaindealer says that it should not be forgotten that $25,000 of the corruption fund used in the McKinley campaign of last year in this state came from Andrew Carnegie. This man had no interest whatever in the result in Ohio except that the defeat of McKinley would threaten the system which protects him in putting a fictitious value upon his products.

Whilst junketing in California last spring, Mr. Andrew Carnegie, whose name is now so familiar to the American public, said in an interview: "In the latter part of the '70s I made money at the rate of $2,000,000 a year. I am now worth in value of my possessions between $30,000,000 and $35,000,000. Besides my American manufactures I own a syndicate of newspapers published in small English towns." But how did he make the money? The whole philosophy is in a nutshell. Says Mr. Carnegie: "It isn't the man who does the work that makes the money. It's the man who gets the other men to do it."

The statement is openly made that John W. Foster, who was recently appointed secretary of state, was not only in the pay of Balanoda's minister, but that he was also the paid attorney of Spain, Mexico and other governments. His pay was said to aggregate $60,000 per annum. An exposure of this gross violation of international law should be demanded. It is absurd to contend that a man who has been the paid attorney of foreign governments is a fit person to represent the United States in questions involving the interests of his former clients and patrons.

When Frick was under examination by the congressional committee, says the St. Louis Republic, he produced a table of the wages paid by the Carnegie Steel Company. The table is incomplete, however. It does not state the wages paid to Mr. Frick or Mr. Carnegie.

Andrew Carnegie protected by 100 per cent duty hires Pinkerton men to shoot his locked out workmen. Andrew Carnegie in a hypocritical role says in his book "Triumph of Democracy." Far be it from me to retard the march of the world toward the free and unrestricted exchange of commodities. When democracy obtains sway throughout the earth the nations will become friends and brothers, instead of being as now the prey of the monarchical and aristocratic ruling classes and always warring with each other; standing armies and warships will be of the past, and men will then begin to destroy custom houses as relics of a barbarous monarchical age, not altogether from the low plane of economic gain or loss, but strongly impelled thereto from the higher standpoint of the Brotherhood of Man; all restrictions upon the products of other lands will then seem unworthy of any member of the race.

The explorer, Stanley, compromised his dignity when he appeared at the Hustings contending for a seat in the British parliament.

The Italian laborers on the Reading railroad in Pennsylvania are on a strike. Protected American labor is having a hard time nowadays. A large number of the Carnegie strikers are Hungarians and Poles.

The Cornwall sawmill at Whatcom, Wash., is now filling what might be termed a dandy order. It is a cargo for England. The smallest stick is 18x18 inches and 50 feet long; the largest sticks are 30x30 inches and 100 feet long.

The democrats will go into the next senatorial campaign in Oregon with 7 holdover senators, republicans 6, peoples party 1, elected on citizens ticket Multnomah county 1. The latter is republican in politics.

The constable that captured Wilson, the murderer of Mamie Walsh, was bitten in a finger by the desperado, and is now seriously ill from blood poisoning. Another reason why the mad dog should be summarily disposed of.

The exhibit to be made at the world's fair by Krupp, the famous German gun maker, will represent an expenditure of $1,500,000. The largest cannon ever made, weighing 122 tons, will be in the exhibit, as will be also several hundred tons of war material.

Judge T. A. McBride, the newly elected circuit judge, is holding an adjourned term of court at Hillsboro. He is teaching some of the witnesses a wholesome lesson. One man came to the stand the worse for liquor, whereupon the judge fined him $10 and ten days in the county jail.

Grover Cleveland: The party and its representatives, which ask to be entrusted at the hands of the people with the keeping of all that concerns their welfare and safety, should only ask it with a full appreciation of the sacredness of the trust, and with a firm resolve to administer it faithfully and well.

Mrs. Senator Plumb refused to accept $5000 carried in the general deficiency bill for her benefit, and the item was struck out. Mrs. Senator Plumb should be voted a gold medal. She belongs to a class of people that is mighty near extinct, and suitable action should be taken to preserve her fame and laud her unselfishness.

Prohibition tariff plank: Tariff should be levied only as a defense against foreign governments which levy a tariff upon or bar out our products from their markets revenue being incidental. The residue of means necessary to an economical administration of the government should be raised by levying a burden on what the people possess, instead of upon what they consume.

Men who have prominent positions in the public affairs of the nation during the past generation are passing away. The decease of Cyrus W. Field, whose fame was established by cable communication between the old world and the new, was announced a few days since; and now comes the report that George Wm. Curtis, the editor of one of the leading monthly periodicals for many years past, is passing away with cancer of the stomach. They have accomplished much to qualify the succeeding generation to carry on their work of intelligent progress in the business and art centers of the world.

The people must fight the force bill. It is just as true now as it was when first uttered by Jefferson in the early days of the republic: "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." The force bill is destructive of the elective franchise. The high protection party is pledged to the passage of this measure, pronounced by Senator Teller, of Colorado, to be the most infamous that ever crossed the threshold of the senate. Under its provisions American elections would be a greater farce than were the plebiscites of the last Napoleon.

When Frick was under examination by the congressional committee, says the St. Louis Republic, he produced a table of the wages paid by the Carnegie Steel Company. The table is incomplete, however. It does not state the wages paid to Mr. Frick or Mr. Carnegie. According to an estimate of the income of prominent plutocrats published about a year ago Mr. Carnegie's wages amount to about $15,000 a day, and on this same basis Mr. Frick's wages probably amount to about $1000 a day. These interesting facts should be brought out as well as the wages paid to rollers, heaters, shearers, gaugers, helpers, etc.

Tobacco stems for tree wash cheap at Auten's cigar store. Just the thing for spraying hops to destroy the lice.

W. Holloway's clubs are a success. He has already a large membership and they are here to stay permanently.

Reports from Wasco and Sherman counties are that not more than one-fourth as much wheat will be threshed in those counties this season as there was last.

Hear Bob Johnson in his Corvallis Times: "Vice and virtue are marching up the avenue now arm in arm. We have eight saloons and eight churches."

Prineville News: Billy Bradford and Wm. Milliron returned from their trip to the valley Monday. They came over the McKenzie road, this being Mr. Milliron's thirty-fourth trip over that road.

Prineville Review: George Milliron came across the mountains last week with a band of cattle. He brought with him a number of Hereford bulls which he has turned on the range with his herd.

The codlin moth are making their appearance in some apple orchards in this vicinity. Every precaution should be taken to prevent their multiplying, for a moth destroyed now might save your orchard next year. Examine the growing fruit and see that your trees are free from this pest.

Holloway leads, other follow. Carpets!! Carpets at D. Linn & Son's. The circus ad appears in today's paper.

Collector of Customs at Portland Boss Lotan took charge of the office yesterday. A baking powder firm has a number of men painting advertising signs in town today.

A substance supposed to be a portion of an aerolite is on exhibition at Horn & Paine's store which was found on the farm of Mr. Bond near Irving.

In another column of today's GUARD will be found the quarterly statement of the First National Bank of this city. The bank, as the statement shows, is in a highly prosperous condition.

The room formerly occupied by the Home Bakery in the Young building will be painted, papered and rebuilt throughout. It will be occupied by one of the prominent bakery and restaurant men of this city. Roy Lakin will do the work.

Miss Mary E. Yerington, who has been visiting in Eugene for some time returning to Michigan on last night's overland via Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo., where she will make short visits. She goes to resume her duties as principal of the grammar department of Yerington's Business College at St. Louis, Mich.

Certain young ladies have avowed their intention to organize a hammer brigade to drive down the nails in Athens sidewalks unless the proper officials attend to the matter. The sidewalks in many parts of the city are really in a dangerous condition, and a serious accident is liable to occur at any time.

Great Enthusiasm. NEW YORK, July 20.—Madison Square garden was packed tonight with people intent on witnessing the ceremonies attendant upon the notification of Messrs. Cleveland and Stevenson of their nominations. The vast amphitheater was decorated much like the national convention hall, and between 15,000 and 20,000 people assembled. While awaiting the arrival of the guests the audience passed their time in cheering for Cleveland, Stevenson and Governor Flower and singing campaign songs. At 8:20 the notification committee entered, headed by Perry Belmont, who walked arm and arm with Stevenson. The crowd recognized the vice-presidential candidate, and the building shook with cheers. A moment later Governor Flower received a flattering well-went up. "Here comes Cleveland!" This was the signal for a demonstration such as Cleveland had not witnessed since 1888. When silence was finally restored, Chairman Wilson, of the notification committee, stepped to the front of the stage and addressed Mr. Cleveland.

During Wilson's address Mrs. Cleveland stepped to enter the hall unobserved, but the audience caught sight of her, and a fairly wild with enthusiasm. In the very midst of Wilson's speech, three cheers were given for Mrs. Cleveland, and when a voice from the gallery proposed three cheers for Rath the enthusiasm reached such a height that the chairman was obliged momentarily to suspend. Cleveland's visage darkened with displeasure, but even his frown was powerless to check the enthusiasm of American chivalry, and it was fully a minute before the enthusiasm exhausted itself.

A helping hand to lift up weak, tired, overtaxed women—that's what you'll find in Dr. Frew's Favorite Prescription. It gives you just the help that you need. It's a medicine that's made especially to build up women's strength and to cure women's ailments—an invigorating, restorative tonic, soothing cordial, and bracing nerve; purely vegetable, non-alcoholic, and perfectly harmless. It regulates and promotes all the proper functions of womanhood, improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, melancholy and nervousness, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and strength.

What's the use of "trying this" and "trying that," when here is a remedy that's guaranteed? In all the derangements, irregularities, and weaknesses peculiar to the sex, periodical pains, internal inflammation and ulceration, weak back, leucorrhoea and every kindred ailment, if the "Favorite Prescription" fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

EUGENE, Thursday, August 4th. NOW IMMENSURABLY AUGMENTED BY THE CULMINATING MASTERPIECE OF GLORIOUS SPECTACULAR MAGNIFICENCE.

SOLOMON, HIS TEMPLE AND QUEEN OF SHEBA. Designed, painted and constructed by John Rettig, Esq., creator of the world famed spectacle of "The Fall of Babylon," "Rome Under Nero," "Montezuma," and "The Bonapartes of Egypt."

Minutely accurate in biblical reproduction, faithful in scenic delineation, correct in costumes and appointments, and enchanting in Grand Spectacular Effects. The City of David, Convocation of the Populace, the Walls and Towers of Jerusalem, Palace and Court of King Solomon's Temple, Sacred Ark of the Covenant, Solomon's 700 Wives, the Judgment of Solomon, Arrival of the Queen of Sheba, Procession of War Chariots, Ravishing and Enchanting Ballets, Grand Processional Parades. A marked and enviable distinction between this transmissibly impressive and eminently moral, historical and mind-elevating Spectacle and the various spectacular productions that have from time to time invited public attention, is the entire absence in this sensual, libidinous and lascivious presentations.

Another inviting addition is the ever-acceptable, world popular and always well-timed Holiday Fantomes, HUMPTY-DUMPTY, His Fortunes, Misfortunes, Mishaps.

Prolific in absurd catastrophes, brimming with comical situations, offering in sparkling humor, and pre-eminently the Greatest Laugh-Producer of the Mifnic World, 1000 people, horses, ponies and led animals participating.
