

Eugene City Guard.

SATURDAY, JULY 30, 1892.

Democratic National Ticket.

For President, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York.

For Vice President, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

Election by the House.

Considerable inquiry having been made regarding the election of president by the house...

After the canvass of the votes of the electoral college, if it should become evident that no one has received a majority of all the votes cast...

In case the congressional delegation is mixed—composed of democrats and republicans—the majority of the delegation rules.

One ray of light has broken in upon the gloom of the high tax party, caused by the labor situation in the iron industries.

The McKinley press is overjoyed at the voluntary increase of 3 1/2 per cent in the wages of operatives in the cotton print works of Fall River.

In the meantime the senate proceeds to ballot for a vice president from the two highest names in the electoral college.

Pennsylvania has been granted more protection, so called, for her industries than any other section of the union.

The average price of tin in 1888, and for five years previous, was $4.45 per box. The average price under the McKinley law is $5.68.

Mr. Cleveland once more displays his good taste in dissenting, for himself and wife, from the use of Mrs. Cleveland's name as a designation of political clubs.

It is said that Wasson, the Polk county farmer, who lost his orchard by an application of kerosene is alone to blame for it.

In 1842 England changed from a high protection policy to free trade. The 1200 articles taxed at that time have been reduced to 19 and these are kept on that list only for revenue.

Many farmers are now busy in the fields with binders.

The nomination of Geo. Shiras jr of Pennsylvania, as associate justice of the supreme court has been confirmed by the senate.

Cleveland is the youngest of the presidential candidates. He is 56 years old.

The tariff of 1890 was an increase of 10 to 50 per cent. The only wages that have been increased since that time are those of the Pinkerton men.

Congressman Babbitt, of Wisconsin, has bet Congressman Page of Rhode Island a short horned bull against a carload of Rhode Island clams that Cleveland will carry Illinois and Wisconsin.

The lockout of the Homestead laborers has settled down to a matter of endurance between employer and employes.

A Portland man solved the great problem how to beat a faro bank the other day. He waited until the proprietor closed the game then grabbed the money sack containing about $1000 and did some good sprinting.

McKinley long ago warned his disciples that there was nothing in the claim that the tariff affected wages and since some have abandoned that absurd contention, but others yet hold to the opinion that the manufacturers maintain expensive lobbies at Washington for no other purpose than to force wages up and prices down.

One ray of light has broken in upon the gloom of the high tax party, caused by the labor situation in the iron industries.

The McKinley press is overjoyed at the voluntary increase of 3 1/2 per cent in the wages of operatives in the cotton print works of Fall River.

It is not much of an increase, but even small favors are thankfully received by the high tax party.

But the McKinley tariff itself upsets all the deductions drawn from the action at Fall River.

Schedule 1, the cotton goods tariff of the McKinley law, made uniform reductions in the taxes on cotton print goods, and Senator Aldrich in defending the bill dwelt on the fact.

Not only has this increase in wages accompanied reduction of duty, but our export trade in cotton goods increased materially, especially with those South American countries with which we do not have sham reciprocity treaties.

The fact that teaching in the public schools is rapidly rising to the dignity of a profession, if it has not already reached that position, is shown by the large number of students who are seeking professional training in our State Normal Schools.

The Salem Statesman says: Last night a camp of Macombes was organized in Salem and it was only a few days ago that a lodge of the Woodmen of the World was instituted.

There is trouble in Salem on a proposed attempt of the townspeople to recover from the county $3761.77, an amount representing a 2-mill tax collected from them on account of roads, none of which has been spent in the city.

THE TOWN COW.—Roseburg Plaindealer: The question as to whether Roseburg shall be a cow pasture or not is again being agitated. During the past month the city council has required many of the property owners to repair the sidewalks, and in some instances construct new ones. The town cow is given credit for doing much of the damage to the sidewalks, and therefore those who do not own cows are bitterly opposed to their running at large.
