The resources of this vast country are only partially developed. Whatever property the farmer has been blessed with has been obtained in spite of the burdens placed on him by protective tariff laws where-by he is compelled to sell in a free unrestricted market and buy in a market closed to competition.

The high tax organs are woefully inconsistent in their statements of the operations of the McKinley tariff bill. The Oregonian comment-ing on the pearl button industry, the duty on which was increased from 25 per cent to 200 to 300 per cent, says that "the American industry has revived under the stimulus of the additional duty ima "stimulus." Now swallow this statement, in connection with the above, taken from the same article: "Another feature of the case is that consumers, owing to the increased supply furnished by active competition, get the product cheaper than ever before." The pearl button manufacturers clamored for 300 per cent protection, yet sell cheaper than when only 25 per cent duty.

The industry revives of the increased tax on tin plate is an annual tax of from $10,000,000 of a bad quality of plate. The experience of tin is that of woolens. High taxes on woolens encourage shoddy and high taxes on tin-plates encourage thin plates.

Mr. Stevenson's prediction that Cleveland will carry Illinois this year is based upon the fact that the principle which the democratic nominee for president represents was indorsed in the Sucker state two years ago by a majority of over 30,000. The same issue is at stake this year, and tariff reform is more popular in every voting precinct in the country than it was in 1890.

When he redown and rendered insensible from the force of the concussion. When he recovered consciousness he crawled to Mr. Stewart's place, arrived at 4 a. m., and has since been removed to Helix. His condition is serious, though he will probably recover. The outrage was committed by some dastardly miscreants for the purpose of robbery, the doctor's watch and money being taken from his person. The robbers probably supposed him dead, else they might of wound up their work by killing him. There is as yet no clue to the perpetrators, who deserve the gallows if captured.

To be Tested.

Portland Telegram: County Judge More-land has purchased at sheriff's sale several large mortgages on which the owners have declined to pay taxes. The county now holds these mortgages by virtue of the sale, and Judge Moreland will apply the legal test to the question as to whether or not the holders must pay any taxes on them. The question to settle is whether the mortgage tax law is worth anything. The supreme court will have to adjudicate the matter. Should the county win, it will be of great advantage to those who are com-pelled to bear the burder of taxation.
