to foreast such a theory. Republicans Uneasy. A Poet Wanted .

This is not a poetic age. Men's thoughts are too intent on the rushing, grasping genius of the times. The Spokane Chronicle says: There is now no great American poet. Many writers of verse there are, but not one of merit equal to Lonfellow, Bryant, Poe, Holmes, Lowell or Whittier. Is this true or do we imagine it?

We hope that some man of genius will leave his railroad bonds or commissions, and show the young men and young women of America that when Byrant, Lowell, Holmes and Whittier died, al poetic genius did not die in this land. Who will do it?

The Ax Illustration.

Here is a simple illustration of the oppression of the tariff tax, says the Telegram. There is no tool in more common use among the farmers and mechanics than the ax or hatchet. Two months ago the manufacturers of these tools formed a "trust," and the combine now has complete control of the market. An advance has been made of $1.75 to $2-22 per dozen.

Now let us see what part the protective duty plays in ax manufac-turing. Under the McKinley law the duty is 45 per cent.
