

Eugene City Guard.

SATURDAY, OCT. 1, 1892.

Democratic National Ticket.

For President, GROVER CLEVELAND, of New York. For Vice President, A. E. STEVENSON, of Illinois.

Ex-President Cleveland's letter of acceptance is forcible and vigorous and sustains his reputation as a writer of state papers.

In 1888 Cleveland carried eighteen states, and neither of them has since gone republican. Of the twenty states carried by Harrison at that election, eleven have since gone democratic.

Herman Celman, the South American millionaire, owns a $1,000,000 yacht, the Southern Cross, is only 28 years of age, and has an income of $500,000 a year. He is the only son of ex-President Celman, of the Argentine Republic.

The captain of the wrecked whaleback steamer Wetmore was fortunate in escaping from the vessel after a terrible experience of several days. It was a foolhardy venture on his part with no possible chance of benefit to himself or the owners.

It is almost incredible that a live tree can be cut down and converted into a printed paper within the space of twenty-two hours, yet that is the record made by the Philadelphia Record. It took sixty-seven cords of poplar wood, making 34,000 pounds of blank paper, to make one edition of 150,000 copies of a twelve-page paper.

Every line in a newspaper costs something. If it is for an individual it should be paid for. If the grocer was asked to contribute groceries to one abundantly able to pay for them, he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising if the beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent, and must rent to live.

The opinion entertained of the Washington correspondent of the Oregonian by the editor of the East Oregonian, is shared by the public generally. That paper says: "There is a fellow in Washington who is in the habit of sending daily to the Portland Oregonian reports of the performances of the democratic national committee; the inmost secrets of the party, and the thoughts of Mr. Cleveland. He knows more about what is going on in democratic councils than the democrats themselves. He actually is a bigger ass than the proverbial animal which has done duty in derisive cartoons of comic papers for ages gone by."

Louisville-Courier-Journal: In his first message to congress the president said that "the power to take the whole direction and control of the elections of members of the house of representatives is clearly given to the general government," and that both the president and congress would be "highly blamable if all the powers granted are not wisely but firmly used." Mr. Harrison returned to the charge in his second message and did all he could to urge the passage of the bill, which had already passed the house, through the senate. Having made this record he cannot do much now to break the force of his official declarations and actions. Everybody of intelligence knows that he is thoroughly committed to the force bill and that its passage, next to his wish for re-election, is the most earnest desire of his heart.

Henry A. Meyer, the Brooklyn grocer whom the republicans of that city made their candidate for mayor last fall, has come out for Cleveland and tariff reform. Mr. Meyer, before he was a candidate for mayor, had never been very prominent in politics, but he was a republican in the natural course of things. As he says himself, his experiences in that canvass set him to thinking on political questions, and as he is a person of sound common sense and an honest mind he has come to a reasonable conclusion. We expect to see our republican contemporaries eating all the fine things they said about Mr. Meyer a short time ago, and arguing that he is a person of no account. But the fact will not disappear that he ran several thousand votes ahead of the magnetic J. Sloat Fassett.

ATKINSON ON WEAVER.

He says the general is a Prevaricator.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 27.—Chairman Atkinson, chairman of the democratic executive committee, has issued a reply to the published statement of General Weaver and Mrs. Lease. He says they do great injustice, not only to the democrats, but to all the people of the state. At Albany no effort was made to prevent Weaver from speaking, but when a prominent negro of that place took the stand to refute what Weaver had said, Weaver was so indignant that a negro should attempt to answer him that he left the platform. The only foundation to the egg story is that a small boy in an open air meeting at Macon, threw an egg and was promptly arrested for it. Weaver's claim of persecution, says Atkinson, is nothing more than an overstrained effort to pose as a martyr. His statements deliberately misrepresent the people of Georgia, and were cunningly devised for campaign purposes. He canceled his engagements in Georgia because he saw he had been imposed upon by his own party managers who had led him to believe there was a chance for the people's party in the state.

Corbett as a Lawyer.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 28.—The attempt on the part of H. R. Jacobs to prevent James J. Corbett's giving an exhibition in this city failed in its object. A temporary injunction had been obtained on the ground that Corbett had made a contract with Jacobs to make his first Syracuse appearance at the latter's theatre. Manager Brady was equal to the emergency and employed counsel at once. A motion to dissolve the injunction was argued before Judge A. J. Northup this morning. Corbett pleaded his own case several times during the two hours' argument. An agreement was finally reached whereby Corbett was allowed to go on with his show, he giving Jacobs a guarantee in case the action goes against him.

CORBETT RECEIVES A SNAIL.

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 28.—"Gentleman Jim" Corbett was refused quarters at one of the principal hotels here, not because of Corbett's personnel, but because of the distasteful crowds the man attracts.

Grover Believes in Pensions.

New York, Sept. 28.—A special from Buzzard's Bay says Captain F. D. Allen, of Frankfort, Ind., called on Grover Cleveland yesterday. He had a long talk with the ex-president and expressed satisfaction with his letter of acceptance bearing one small point; he did not like the word "actually" in the paragraph relating to pensioning soldiers. He went further and requested Cleveland to explain more fully his position toward the soldiers and to aid in bringing out the soldier vote for the democratic ticket all over the land. Cleveland told him he believed in pensioning every soldier who received so much as a scratch in the war, and went over the ground in detail with the Indiana committee man. Captain Allen came away highly elated with his call and gratified with his reception, confident that his presentation of the soldiers' case would result in a great increase to the party in general and to Grover Cleveland in particular.

Political Troubles.

JACKSON, Mich., Sept. 28.—A fatal shooting affray took place here today, resulting in Victor Hamilton being killed by J. K. Almon, editor of the Durand Democrat. The cause of the trouble was a political quarrel between the two.

To See the Central Committee.

St. Paul, Sept. 28.—The political sensation of the hour is the charge made at a political meeting at Minneapolis last night by Ignatius Donnelly, the people's party candidate for governor, that the republican party of Minnesota was plotting his murder. He says he has traced the matter to the republican state central committee, and proposed to bring a suit against that body for $50,000 to $100,000 for inciting murder.

Last night L. J. Abbott was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Day on the charge of being an absconding debtor, as he was about to leave for California. He owed M. Starverud the sum of $83, who swore to the warrant. Abbott says he will pay the bill.

Deputy Sheriff Smith overtook the absconding debtor, S. H. Hower, about ten miles this side of Oakland, yesterday, and attached his team and horses and brought him here to answer the charge, this morning. He paid a bill he owed to Scott & Allen for meat, but has not yet settled the other bills.

The sheepsman near Goldendale are greatly annoyed by forest fires at the present time, the origin of which is charged to the carelessness of campers. Dan O'Connor's camp was burned out a week ago, consuming the clothing of the men, blankets and bedding, pack saddles, and all the grub except a sack of flour on which he and seven herders subsisted for several days.

The New Comet.

GENEVA, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Professor Brooks, director of the Smith observatory, has reserved the new comet after an interval of cloudy weather. He finds it three times brighter than it appeared at first. It is now in the constellation Gemini, right ascension 7 hours, 16 minutes; declination north 27 deg. 31 min. The comet is moving eastward, approaching both the earth and sun, and will increase in brightness for several days.

In 2104.

SHELBYVILLE, Sept. 28.—According to custom every presidential year, the democrats of central and eastern Indiana held a big barbecue here today. All trains brought large delegations. Tables were spread for 10,000 people at the fair grounds and covered two acres. Twelve hogs, 10 calves, 15 sheep and 4000 loaves of bread were provided. General Adlai E. Stevenson arrived at 11:30. He was received at the depot by marching clubs, and conducted to the Ray house. The reception will probably be the most enthusiastic he has received in Indiana.

Republican Meeting.

New York, Sept. 28.—The first republican mass meeting of the present presidential campaign in this city was held tonight at Cooper Union. The hall was packed and many could not get in. The hall was profusely decorated with American flags, and on both sides of the speaker's stand were the German and Irish flags. The audience went wild when Thomas C. Platt, Warner Miller and Channey M. Dewey came in together. The meeting was addressed by Platt, Whitelaw Reid, ex-Senator Miller and Channey Dewey.
