Last Thursday morning the infant son of Frank Miller's pulled a cup of boiling water over on himself, scalding the right side of his face, throat and arm from the shoulder to the elbow into a blister. Antidotes were admin-istered immediately and the little felow is doing nicely, and will heal up with out leaving any marks. There must have been something wrong with the Coburg people that at-tended the ratification at Eugene Sat-urday evening owing to the lateness of the hour and the unusual quietness that accompanied them as they left. They certainly must have been too frunk to make any noise or else were sanctimoniously inclined and didn't want to desecrate the breaking of a Sabbath morn. Any information regarding this will be cheerfully answered by Wm. Naylor or John Holt, s each one was seen with a bottle in his hand the next morning.

About 12:15 a shot was heard in the house, and it was learned that Albright house, and it was learned that Albright had been shot. The ball entering the lungs near the right shoulder, passed directly through, to the back, near the shoulder. Albright, it is reported had been drinking heavily. Who did it? Albright refused to make a statement and at 10 o'clock no arrests had been made. The complex is that a wormen made. The opinion is that a woman is in the affair, and it is possible it is a case of justifiable homicide, judging from Albright's position taken affair. The wounded man will probably not live. He was bleeding considerably internally, and the chances were entirely against his recovery.

That Double Headed Snake.

EDITOR EUGENE GUARD: In your last issue of the weekly GUARD, No-vember 12, I noticed the article headed A Double Headed Snake." to correct a common but erroneous idea that there are snakes in our country with a head on each end. Your notice does not state where the heads were situated. Double headed animals are not unfrequently observed of nearly all genera and species, but the heads are invariably on one and the same end. They are simply a deformity. As to its cating flies "for a few days," I will say that the common food of snakes is not flies nor have I ever known a snake to eat flies. Would be glad to hear further from Mr. Sweet regarding

Why?

The Southern Pacific railroad company gave the people of Albany a round trip rate of $3 to the Portland ratification meeting tonight. Those who went from Eugene have the doubtful satisfaction of paying $6.65 which in proportion is a third more than the people of Albany paid. If the railroad company had given a liberal excursion rate at least a hun-dred would have gone from Eugene instead of the small number that felt willing to pay the excessive fare, when they went simply as excursionists. Schooner Danielson Affoat.

Col. B. F. Alley informs us that the reports telegraphed concerning the grounding of the schooner Danielson at the mouth of the Siuslaw last Friday were highly colored. The schooner sailed safely across the bar but when inside the wind failed and she drifted on the sand spit, a few feet outside the channel. An anchor was thrown out on the cars, but our price now is only on the cars, but our price now is only $150 to $250 each. For sale by GEO, M. MILLER & Co.

pathy Guard, Nov. 17. Langean Featival.—Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Peters gave a lantern festival to the Junior Endeavor Society of the Congregational church at their residence on High street last evening. About 30 were present and enjoyed the entertainment highly. The rooms were hung with Chinese lanterns and a stereopticon afforded amusement, but the host and bostess soon found out that when pictures of political leaders were cast on the canvass a decided difference of opinion ensued. The coming citizens were about equally divided on political lines. LANTERN FESTIVAL .- Mr. and Mrs. I. K

PROTECTING A BRIDGE.—The county court has been informed that some party is taking out rock from the east side of the river a short distance above the Springfield bridge. This might cause an eddy into which drift would be drawn with a chance of injuring the east pier. Commissioner Parker will investigate the subject. As the bridge cost the county nearly $40,000, and about as much more was expended on bridges at that place that were washed away by floods, it is good policy to protect it. The Springfield bridge is the best bridge in Oregon, being wholly of steel, except flooring, and built on stone piers. The span is 400 feet long.
