The Odd Fellows of Portland intend erecting a temple to cost $250,000.

Attorney Woodcock returned from Roseburg on this morning's train.

M. Levinger will leave for California on the overland tomorrow evening.

B. H. Miller, a GUARD, compositor, is confined to his room with catarrhal fever.

Prof. S. E. McClure, S. A. Hulin and Will Hollenbeck went to Cottage Grove this afternoon.

Mrs. J. H. Beckley arrived from Portland on this afternoon's local for a visit with friends in this city.

O. P. Coshow, formerly a student in the State University, has been elected recorder of Brownsville.

In the prize fight at Coney Island last night Joe. Goddard knocked out Peter Maher in the third round.

Mrs. F. J. Crouch came up on the overland last night, and will spend several weeks among old friends.

A private letter from Spokane Falls, Wash, says Hon. B. C. Van Houten is seriously ill with typhoid fever.

Miss Carrie Friendly, who has been confined to her residence with sickness for the past two weeks, is reported improving.

The official count of the vote of New York state is as follows: Cleveland 653,900, Harrison 608,230, Bidwell 23,107, King, Socialist 5037, Weaver 6335. Cleveland over Harrison 45,670. Cleveland's vote in 1888 was 635,757, Harrison 648,759, Fish 30,231.

Wesley N. Matlock, son of W. F. Matlock, of Pendleton, was married at Fresno, California, Thursday, to Miss Carrie Anderson, a daughter of the president of Santa Rosa college. The young gentleman spent several days visiting in Eugene while on his way to the Golden State a few weeks since.

Ezekiel Bailey arrived on the local this afternoon from Idaho for a visit with his brother John, who lives three miles west of this city. Mr. Bailey was one of the early pioneers of this county, arriving across the plains in 1852, and moved away about 15 years ago. His residence was in Siuslaw precinct.

The people of Chicago eat thirty carloads of potatoes every day. N. M. McDaniel states that a carload is upward of 400 bushels. This would figure Chicagoan's spud rations at 12,000 bushels a day or over. Fifteen car loads of apples also are required to supply the city for twenty-four hours; and they probably eat more meat in one day there than Eugene people eat in two years!

Walla Walla completed her third of a century anniversary last week. The village had first been called Walla Walla then Steptoeville afterwards Wallatpu, when on November 17, 1859, the county commissioners, in answer to a petition and a protest, the former asking that a town be laid out as Wallatpu, the latter to be known as Walla Walla, adopted the latter, designating it as the county seat and describing its boundaries.

While William Tucker of Douglas county was away from home and his wife was milking the cows, the small children in some way set fire to the house, and it was entirely consumed with all its contents. The baby was tied in a rocking chair and was badly burned about the head and face. The family were left quite destitute, as their winter supplies were in the house, and nothing was saved except what they had on, and the chair in which the baby was tied.

CORRECT.—Albany Herald: County divisions are again coming to the front preparatory to a presentation to the legislature. Probably if the question of county seat could be eliminated there would be very little of the division matter heard of. A boom for some aspiring city is the substance of things sought for. Lane county parties are talking it, and lately comes an echo from Curry county to divide upon the line of Rogue river.

HORSES AND MULES.—Thursday's Salem Journal: The State Board of Equalization are working today on this division of property. As returned by the counties the average value of horses and mules range from $16.31 per head in Grant county to $56.47 in Multnomah and $45.60 in Marion, $48.63 in Yamhill, $38.71 in Douglas and $35.20 in Clackamas. The tax rolls are all in except Benton county.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT.—Thursday's Democrat: Last night, between Grant's Pass and Merlin, a rail was taken up from the S. P. track for the purpose of wrecking the overland, but fortunately was discovered by the track walker in time to prevent a wreck. It was evidently the work of tramps who have a spite against the road or some of the employes.

SET FOR TUESDAY.—The $11,000 damage case before the Douglas county circuit court, in which one Sanderson sues Dr. L. W. Brown for malpractice has been set for next Thursday. The case will be hotly contested. The plaintiff will be represented by Attorneys Hamilton and Peebles, and the defendant by Attorney Woodcock, W. R. Willis and Lane & Bond.

MARRIED.—In Eugene, Oregon, Dec. 3, 1892, by Rev. H. L. Bates, L. A. Ross and Elizabeth W. Goodchild, all of Lane county, Oregon.

MARRIED.—At Sexton, Oregon, December 4, 1892, by Alex. G. Knowles, J. John Lester and Martha Cook, all of Lane county, Oregon.

The Marine Cadets.

A large number of the parents and interested friends attended the opera house last Saturday night to witness the entertainment given by the Marine Cadets. No one who witnessed the performance of the boys can fail to perceive the great benefits arising from the training they are receiving. Mr. G. A. Sachs, the instructor, explained the movements before their execution and it was really surprising to note the efficiency some of the little fellows have already attained. The boy who wears the feather for excellence among the cadets is Michael Vogt but a number of the others are not far behind. The exercises gone through prove conclusively that the promotion of health and strength by the natural development of the whole body is the prime object of these organizations and it is a pleasure to see the success with which such efforts are crowned. Besides the programme published before, an exhibition of boxing was given by the Portland Turn Vereins which seemed to please the audience. The performance of Messrs. Frischkorn and Buckman, both on the horizontal bar and in Greco-Roman wrestling, showed how the training under this method develops strength. These gentlemen were repeatedly applauded by the audience.

Those having children under Mr. Sach's instruction may rest assured that they are in a position where they may derive greater improvement than if they were about the streets smoking cigarettes and learning everything that they should not learn. The class of girls go through the same training, and the benefits to them will be no less as the proper bodily development of girls is sometimes more badly neglected than that of the boys. The generosity of Mr. Sachs in giving his time to this matter without any remuneration is certainly almost equal to his patience, and both should be even better appreciated by those interested in the culture of the youth.

Whale on the Beach.

Florence West: Considerable excitement was noticeable among the small boys and the over curious men folks—one of the latter of whom we were which—when it was given out Tuesday night that a whale had "come ashore." About one mile to the south of the mouth of the river, on the ocean beach there did "come ashore" a large whale. The dimensions of this monstrous fish which the breakers have cast up are: Length, seventy-two and a half feet; tail, from tip to tip, nine feet and three inches; fins, nine feet and eight inches in length; one side of the jaw bone, fifteen feet and nine inches. The crew of the schooner Danielson first made the find and have since removed blubber sufficient to make, when tried out, about one hundred barrels of oil. The blubber will be taken to San Francisco by the schooner Danielson. It is hardly worth while making much of a "blow" on the matter as at best it is nothing but a second hard whale, it having undergone the carving of man's knife at a previous date, when the whalebone and best of the oil were removed. Capt. Gruggles is of the opinion that the obituary of his whaleship was celebrated some two years ago and that the salt water has preserved it—or partially preserved it—until the present time.

Jail Accepted.

Daily Guard, Dec 12.

The county commissioners' court accepted the Lane county jail today from the contractors and discharged the bondsmen. It is built on modern plans, well ventilated, lighted and heated, and is as proof against the escape of prisoners as iron, steel, brick and cement can make a structure. The work has been closely looked after by Judge Fisk and J. R. Ream, who was appointed superintendent, and these gentlemen deserve credit for the excellence of the building. The entire cost is about $11,250. The court is considering the question of inclosing it with an iron fence eight feet high. If this is done $750 will be added to the cost.

An Efficient Guard Wanted.

Klamath County Star: Brigadier-General Compson, in his late report to Adjutant-General R. W. Mitchell, Oregon National Guard, argues that an efficient national guard should be maintained in the northwestern part of the nation. Proximity to England and the possibility of being involved in war with that power are the premises. He estimates that about $136,000 would place the troops on a respectable war footing. He recommends that the military tax be increased to two-fifths of a mill, and an appropriation of $10,000 be made to fall in with the pressing needs of the militia.

The Postmaster.

It is estimated that over 6000 women in the United States act as postmasters. The largest number for any one state, 483, is in Pennsylvania, and 460 in Virginia. North Carolina stands third with 322. Only five other states have over 200 each—Ohio, New York, Georgia, Texas and Kentucky. Alaska has only one and Oklahoma and Rhode Island have 10 each.

REDEEMING LAND.—R. A. Shepard and T. R. Osburn, two hustling contractors at Brooks, have just finished a contract for digging about 500 rods of ditch in Lake Labish for several parties. They are now ready to proceed across the land of W. M. Miller for an outlet to Pudding river. The ditch just finished is about 8 feet wide from two to six feet deep, with a good fall, and will redeem fully five thousand acres of land. The people of that neighborhood know what a good investment really is, and spend their money liberally to make fine property out of what has been a a bed of water in the past. This kind of work is adding greatly to the wealth of the community and it should be encouraged at all times.

A GOOD CLAIM.—Salem Statesman: Last July Thomas J. Arthur made the discovery that twenty acres in the heart of M. L. Jones' big farm near Brooks was vacant—that is, although Mr. Jones had been in peaceful possession of it for years the land office records at Oregon City showed the land to be vacant and the title to it was still vested in the government. And forthwith after making his discovery Arthur proceeded to homestead the tract, which is very valuable, having been in cultivation many years and being a part of what Mr. Jones had always supposed was his farm.

THE RATE CASE.—Salem Journal: The Railroad commission, by the State of Oregon, against the Southern Pacific railway, to enforce the rates fixed by the commission, is on trial today before the supreme court. Mr. Commissioner Colvig and Attorney-General Chamberlain appear orally for the state, and Col. W. D. Fenton for the company. General Manager Koehler is in attendance, and it is altogether the most important case that has come before the court in years, and will take some time to hear and decide.

WORKMEN ELECTION.—At the election of the A. O. U. W. Lodge in this city, the following officers were chosen: G Bettman, Master Workman; H. S. Chilson, Foreman; B. J. Hawthorne, Recorder; Chas Lauer, Receiver; F. W. Osburn, Financier; O. F. Johnson Overseer; J. D. Meyers, Guide; J. T. Witter, Inside Watchman; V. McFarland, O. W.; Drs. T W Shelton and T W Harris, Medical Examiners. A public installation will be given the 27th of January next.

DIED.—In Coyote precinct, Lane county, Oregon, Dec. 10, 1892, Mrs. James Hayes, aged 48 years. She leaves a husband and five children. The lady was a sister of Mrs. S. Jenkins. The funeral will probably take place tomorrow.

DIED.—At her home in Portland today, at noon, Mrs. Carrie H. Roach, aged 46 years. Deceased was formerly a resident of this place for many years. She was a sister of Mrs. A. G. Howry, H. C. and Norge Humphrey, of this county.

OUR YOUNGEST LEGISLATOR.

A Brief Biographical Sketch of Hon. C. K. Wilkinson.

Portland Telegram, Dec. 10.

Hon. C. K. Wilkinson, member-elect of the state legislature from Lane county, and the youngest member of that body, is in the city. Mr. Wilkinson is but a few months past 21 years of age, and at the time of his nomination, had just attained his majority.

He was born at Mineral Point, Iowa county, Wisconsin, in May, 1871, and came to this state in 1885, settling with his parents in Eugene, where he has resided for the past seven years. Shortly after his arrival he entered the Oregon state university, but being compelled to make his own way he did not complete the course.

EVIDENCE OF POPULARITY.

During his residence in Eugene, Mr. Wilkinson has made many warm friends, as is evidenced by the fact that he was elected on the democratic ticket in a county which is republican by about 400 majority. In the nominating convention held in April, an agreement had been reached between the delegates that Eugene should have one of the three candidates for the legislature from Lane county, and the outside precincts the remaining two.

Mr. Wilkinson's friends urged upon the convention his nomination, but on account of his youth, some opposition was encountered from many of the old-time and old-line democrats in the convention, who placed Judge J. J. Walton in nomination for the position. On the first ballot the vote stood, for Wilkinson 42, for Walton 41. Judge Walton then withdrew in favor of Mr. Wilkinson, who received the unanimous vote of the convention.

AN AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN.

The campaign which followed was one of the most aggressive ever known in the history of Lane county. Each of the candidates for the legislature on the democratic and republican, as well as the populist, tickets made a vigorous canvass. Joint discussions were held in nearly every precinct between the candidates of the three parties, and strenuous personal efforts were put forth by the friends of each for his success.

Of the three candidates elected to the legislature two were republicans, by majorities of about 350, while Mr. Wilkinson received nearly 100 more votes than any other candidate on either ticket. He is the youngest man ever elected to the legislature of Oregon.

AN INTERVIEW WITH HIM.

Mr. Wilkinson was called on by a Telegram reported, and asked to say something regarding the measures to come before the next session of the legislature. He said:

"I hardly know what will be the leading measures to come before the legislature and therefore, cannot express an opinion.

"Many bills for the improvement of our roads will doubtless be introduced. Our present system of roadmaking is universally admitted to be defective, and these bills will, I think, be thoroughly considered by the legislature, for the people are awake upon the question and we must have better roads.

"Our present assessment and taxation laws are radically wrong, and I am hopeful that they may at least be improved."

Mr. Wilkinson is a firm believer in pure democratic principles, and is strenuously opposed to our system of choosing United States senators. He believes the people are the real law makers of this country, and they should themselves decide who shall represent them in the United States senate. He will remain in the city several days.

Junction City Items.

Times, Dec. 10.

C. S. Hurlburt has purchased C. E. Bires' stock of goods at Smithfield and will operate it in connection with his store in this city. The elder Hurlburt will have charge of the Smithfield store.

Two families arrived here this week from Fort Worth, Texas, and expect to locate here. Their names are Graham and Webber and they have secured temporary quarters in the dwelling of Mrs. Smith.

At the last regular communication of Oasis Lodge, No. 41, I. O. O. F., the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: W O Gibbs, N G; J H Day, V G; J M Smith, Secy; J W Starr, Treas; C J Ehrman, J W Starr and F M Starr, trustees.

FIRE AT JEFFERSON.—Journal, Dec. 10: M. G. Hoover of Buena Vista came to town this morning and reports a fire at Jefferson, which destroyed a number of business places. The fire started at 4 a. m. and was first noticed in Munker's furniture store, which was destroyed with contents. Gearni's grocery store, a boot and shoe shop, the Jefferson Review office and A. B. Huddleston's store sheds were destroyed. The Huddleston hardware store was saved, although the stock was damaged by most of it having been removed to the street. There was no fire in the furniture store since noon Friday. The flames were first seen coming out of the rear of this store, and the supposition is it was set on fire. It was insured for $1400. Citizens formed a bucket brigade and did all in their power to check the flames, finally succeeding.

GOOD SHOWING FOR OREGON.—The report of Postmaster-General Wanamaker shows that the lowest per cent. of expenses for postoffices of any state in the union is for Oregon, being 33 per cent. of the gross receipts. The highest is for the District of Columbia, which is 76 per cent. The average is about 50 per cent. This includes the free delivery system, but not the mail routes. This is certainly a good showing for the Oregon postmasters—indicating also that they are doing more work for the money than those of any other state in the union.—Ex.

DIED.—J. M. Howe received a telegram last Saturday from Woolsen T. Slater, of La Grande, announcing the death of the latter's six-year old son from scarlet fever.

BORN.—In Eugene, Saturday morning, Dec. 10, to the wife of Chas. Horn, a 10 pound daughter.

Canyon City Defaulter Caught.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 8.—E. A. Brackett was arrested today by Detective Cody upon a requisition from the governor of Oregon. In 1887, Brackett was clerk of the school district at Canyon City, Grant county, and taking about $1100 of the districts funds, fled. An indictment was found by the grand jury, but it was only a few weeks ago that Brackett was traced, and then he was serving 250 days as "trusty" in the city prison for carrying concealed weapons. Since his release he had been working for a local coal and wood dealer. Sheriff Combs and Deputy Brown will take him back immediately.

The Coos Bay Desperadoes.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Dec. 8.—This afternoon the case of the Peterson brothers came up in the justice court. After all the testimony was in, Justice Jennings held them both over without bonds until the next circuit court, which convenes in May next. The two brothers were taken to Empire City this evening by City Marshal Dunham and delivered to Sheriff Weider, as there was some excitement among the people here, and fears of lynching prompted him to take the prisoners out of the city as soon as possible. Erick Peterson, the man who had the rifle in his possession when arrested, is supposed to have killed Mickelbank.

Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—The senate in executive session confirmed the nominations of John H. Gear, of Iowa, to be assistant secretary of treasury; D. F. Thompson, of Oregon, minister to Turkey, Wm. Potter, of Pennsylvania, minister to Italy; Wm. Stone of Iowa, Commissioner of General Land Office.

Summer Lake News.

A Lake county correspondent under date of Dec. 8, writes:

Mr. J. H. Clayton has sold his store and moved to Portland—Fine weather and stock in good condition—We have tri-weekly mail which is quite a convenience.—Races at Paisely on the 8th. A number of Summer Lake people will attend.

Daily Guard, Dec. 8.

SHOULDER DISLOCATED.—While driving a team this afternoon near this city Ben Mulkey, who lives below Irving, had his left shoulder dislocated by the horses suddenly starting. Dr. J. W. Harris was called and reduced the dislocation.

BORN.—To the wife of Max Friendly at Corvallis Sunday, December 11th, a girl.
