At Cost.

Alliance Herald: A correspondent from Ukiah relates the following story of a Umatilla county merchant and a broom peddler. After driving over the country and failing to find sale for his stock, the peddler went to the merchant and said: "Let me sell you my brooms." "No; I do not care to buy," said the merchant. "I will sell you my brooms," said the peddler, "and take one-half cash and the other half in goods, provided you let me have the goods at cost." "I will do it," replied the merchant. After counting the brooms and giving half cash, the storekeeper said: "Now what kind of goods do you want?" "Well," said the peddler, "I will take it out in brooms, as I know the cost of them." And the traveling salesman loaded on the brooms and departed, much to the chagrin of the merchant who thought, as did the Dutchman, "Der more longer a man lives der more he finds owet."

FRIDAY, JAN. 6.

F. R. Strong has returned here from Colfax, Wash.

Senator Alley and Representative Wilkinson went to Salem this morning.

Chas. Baker writes from San Francisco that his address is 1722 Derisadero street.

J. M. Hickethier has returned from a visit of several months to Colfax, Wash.

Senator Veatch, of Cottage Grove, is in town today. He will go to Salem tomorrow.

The Salem Statesman refers to Judge Kelsay as the great constitutional lawyer of Benton county.

Archie Rice left on last night's overland train for San Jose, Cal., where he will visit for two or three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Wills, of Portland, stopped off yesterday on their way to California to visit with their cousin, J. E. Young.

Lane county furnished 24 prisoners to the state penitentiary during the past two years. Multnomah leads the list with 309.

Flour is sold in Portland at 90 cents a sack; in Eugene at 75 cents. Quite a difference, which runs through nearly the entire list of groceries.

Rev. T. L. Jones, presiding elder of the Grants Pass M. E. church circuit, preached at the Methodist church last evening. He leaves for his home tonight.

Mrs. Jennie Peck, who has been a resident of this city for about two years went to the Good Samaritan Hospital, at Portland, yesterday for treatment of face troubles.

An investigation has been ordered into the insane asylum scandal. The Woodburn Independent intimates that there is considerable more than smoke in the affair.

Note the price list of the Eugene flouring mill. They make a first class article, live here, employ labor and spend large sums of money in Eugene and should have the preference. Patronize home industry of every kind and a lively prosperous town will be the result.

Two irrigation propositions have been presented to the citizens of Pasco, in Washington, for their consideration. One proposes that water shall be pumped from the Columbia river to irrigate the adjacent country, while the other will take it from the Palouse. If both are accepted that region will rapidly lose its arid appearance.

Henry Watterson, the celebrated journalist, for years editor of the Louisville Courier Journal, will deliver a series of fifty lectures west of Omaha in May and June. His lecture on "Money and Moral" is spoken of very complimentary by the press. It is possible that the gentleman might be obtained here if enough interest were manifested to raise a subscription for that purpose.

Some persons who were on Mount Hood last fall reported a place near the summit where the heat was too intense to be borne. Now the Dalles Chronicle says the eastern crest of the mountain is black and barren of snow over a large part of the highest altitudes, an appearance never before noted at this time of year. It is thought this must be due to the internal heat noticed by the mountain climbers last season.

A mass meeting was held at Junction in favor of the division of Lane county, and the formation of Mitchell county, last Saturday. It was largely attended and a committee was appointed to formulate a bill. We learn that some of the people of Junction are afraid if the plan should be successful, that Monroe would be chosen as the county seat, hence they are not very enthusiastic for the division.

The executive committee of the people's party met in Oregon City Thursday. Mr. Galvani resigned as chairman and Mr. Spaugh, of Lane county, was elected. Resolutions were passed, among which was one favoring the establishment of a jute mill, a stove foundry and a coffin manufacturing establishment at the penitentiary, to be run by the state by convict labor and the products sold to the people at cost. A resolution opposing any interference with or change of the Australian ballot law was passed, one favoring the abolishment of the gold clause in notes and contracts and others of more or less importance.

Condon Globe: New counties up here in the Inland Empire are getting as thick as "fleas on a dog's back." It is said a bill is already drawn for Hood county, with Hood River as county seat; the new territory to include Cascade Locks. The Mitchell people want a slicing of counties to be done by the legislature. They want a slice cut off from the west part of Grant and some off the northern part of Crook, to form Mitchell county, with Mitchell as county seat. Antelope has also put a ball in motion and has a petition signed by about 200 names, asking the legislature to cut off a strip from the northern part of Crook and all that portion of Wasco lying east of Deschutes, and create the county of Antelope, with Antelope as county seat. Of the three proposed changes, the Mitchell people need it the worst, as at present they are obliged to travel about 100 miles over the roughest country in Oregon, in going to their present county seat, Canyon City.

EDITOR HARRIS MARRIED.—At 12: 10 a. m., on the first day of the new year, the young editor of the Amity Pogpun turned over a new leaf by being joined in wedlock to Miss Lillie Miller, one of the accomplished young ladies of that thriving burg. The ceremony took place at the residence of L. L. Martin, Rev. Sicafoose officiating. The groom displayed good newspaper instinct in trying to keep the item from the public until the issue of his paper, but it leaked out.

W. S. LADD DEAD.

The Richest Oregonian Dies at Portland Today.

PORTLAND, Jan. 6, 3 P. M.—W. S. Ladd, the wealthiest resident of Oregon, died at his residence in this city, today from paralysis. He was estimated to be worth from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000.

[William Sargent Ladd was born at Holland, Vermont, October 10, 1826. His father was a physican. At the age of 19 he taught school in Loudon, New Hampshire; afterwards he was a freight agent at Tilton, the same state. He came to San Francisco in 1851, soon after coming to Portland, Oregon. He started a small store in Portland, selling out a few articles he brought with him, but his affairs reached at one time so low an ebb that he was glad to save paying his $6 road tax by digging out stumps in front of his store. He was married in 1854 to Miss Caroline Elliott of New Hampshire. In 1859, with Henry Tilton he started the first bank in that city. It was started on a small scale but in 1861 its capital was increased from $50,000 to $150,000. When in 1880 the partnership was dissolved the capital had reached the sum of $2,500,000. He owned a number of farms in the state and was a great breeder of fine cattle. He leaves a wife and four children. It has been his custom for a number of years to set aside one-tenth of his net income for charitable purposes. At the time of his death he was reputed to be worth between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000.]

REPEATED.—"The World's Fair Exercises," by pupils of the Eugene public schools, was repeated at Rhinehart's theatre this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The repetition was for the benefit of the public school children, free of charge, and none others, except a few by special invitation, were admitted. The theatre was crowded to suffocation by the children, who were highly entertained.

The two schools marched to the theater and by their neat, orderly manner elicited the admiration of all of our citizens. Frazer's Juvenile Band furnished excellent music on the occasion.

A Plea For Good County Roads.

LANSING, Mich., Jan. 4.—Governor Rich delivered his inaugural message to the legislature today. He makes a plea for good roads; criticizes the Miner law; favors two boards of election inspectors to facilitate the count of votes; asks that legitimate campaign expenses be defined, suggests effective quarantine against cholera and gradual abolishment of grade crossings. Among the recommendations of retiring Governor Winan's message is an increase in the capacity of the state university to accommodate all who desire to come; establishment of a public road system; placing building and loan associations under state supervision; abolishment of free railroad passes to legislators.

A Successor to Villard.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Jan. 5.—When Henry Villard was in St. Paul last month he was closeted with Governor Merriam for parts of several days, and when he returned to New York he was followed in a few days by the latter. During the absence of Merriam a story was current to the effect that Villard was to retire from the Northern Pacific road, and would be succeeded by Merriam. It was the general belief that the "smelling" committee of the railroad company would advise retirement of Villard as a matter of policy, his expensive management having been exposed to that committee. When Governor Merriam returned he said he knew nothing of the Villard story, but there has been a steady belief that he would shortly be connected with the Northern Pacific, and a paper prints the story, claiming that it has positive information that he will be president of the road within two months. Merriam still insists that he knows nothing of it, and the local officers of the company profess to be ignorant of the whole affair or of any prospective change.

Minister Lincoln to Resign.

CHICAGO, Jan. 5.—It is understood that the resignation of Minister to England Robert T. Lincoln will be one of the first to be placed at the disposal of President Cleveland after his inauguration. It developed today that during his recent vacation in this country the son of old Abe made arrangements to resume his law practice by the opening of the world's fair, and it is stated by friends that he expects a democrat in his place so as to enable him to get back in America by the end of April. This will probably be the first diplomatic plum at the disposal of the president.

FOR THE FUN OF IT.—Bill Nye and O. P. Burbank, humorists will be in Eugene if we want them. They are great men in their way, a very funny way though. These men make people pick their teeth with crowbars, talk to Indian cigar men, get frightened at an old maid, etectra, anything for the humor of the business. Everybody knows about them, and if they come will fill the opera house.

FEE REDUCED.—It now costs eight cents to register a letter or package, the postoffice department's new order to this effect having gone into observance on January 1.

MARRIED.—In Junction City, Oregon, January 4, 1893, by J. J. Butler, J. P., G. W. Milliorn and Miss Clem Mays, all of Lane county.

SOME GOOD SUGGESTIONS.

The Lane County Commissioners' Court Asks the Legislature to Amend a Few Laws.

Daily Guard Jan. 6.

The Lane county commissioners' court, this morning passed the following resolutions which are self-explanatory:

WHEREAS, Under Section 2795 of the Code requiring the sheriff of each county of the state, upon receiving the tax roll from the county clerk, to give notice in each precinct of the county that he or his deputy will be in such precinct at a time specified for at least one day, for the purpose of collecting taxes, and

WHEREAS, Said notices and visits of the sheriff incur large and needless expense as well as to consume time unnecessarily and

WHEREAS, Said visits of the sheriff are attended with great danger to himself and probable loss to the respective counties of the state; therefore be it

RESOLVED, That it is the sense of the county court of Lane county, Oregon, that said section 2795 should be repealed at the forth-coming session of the legislature.

WHEREAS, The provisions of the Code, Secs. 2815 to 2819 inclusive requiring the sheriffs of the respective counties of this state to levy warrant for the collection of delinquent taxes, the same as on execution and the parts of said sections relating to sale and returns on said warrants is needless and expensive; therefore be it

Resolved, By the county court of Lane county, Oregon, that said sections of the code be amended by the approaching legislative assembly so that no levy or personal notice or service of the warrant for the collection of taxes shall in any case be required and that publication of notice of sale as now required by statute shall be sufficient notice and all the pre-requisite necessary to a legal sale of all real property, for the collection of delinquent taxes.

WHEREAS, It appears that in the several counties of this state that large numbers of tracts of land are returned to the county courts as unsold for want of bidders at tax sales, and

WHEREAS, The several counties incur large expense for levy and advertisement of such lands; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a law should be enacted empowering the county judge of each county in this state to bid the amount of taxes and costs on each parcel of land so offered for sale for and on behalf of the county in which said land is situated.

Springfield Items.

Messenger, Jan. 6.

The opera house is rapidly nearing completion.

There was a farewell party at the home of A. L. Dies Tuesday evening. Mr. Dies and family expect to leave for Nebraska this week where they will make their future home.

The band welcomed the new year by giving a concert Sunday afternoon. About twenty Eugenites were over to hear the boys play.

Robert Orr and James Laxton returned from the mountains Saturday bringing with them the quarters of thirty-three deer. The law allowed the killing of does up to January 1.

The dray team belonging to Long & Young, took a spin Wednesday, down Second street over the race bridge and up Main street to the railroad track, distributing stove legs, lids, pipes, a sewing machine and other household utensils along the way.

Rev. Dimmitt and family started for Shasta county, California yesterday where they will live in the future. They have many friends in Springfield who regret seeing them leave.

Mrs. Wm. Laird arrived from Garfield, Wn., on the Friday night overland train, in response to a telegram announcing the serious illness of her father, Mr. John Stoops, who lies in a critical condition at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Bringle.

MOHAWK COUNTY.—Springfield Messenger: "Since it is becoming the order of the day for every aspiring town in the county to get up a division scheme of its own we see no reason why Springfield should not be fixing up a division bill to be presented to the legislature. We bound; our county by including all Lane county territory lying east of the Willamette river and not included within the other proposed new counties. Of course Springfield will be the county seat. For the sake of euphony and to show we have no ill feeling toward the other proposed counties we will also take our name from the M list and be known as Mohawk county. We will donate our woodshed for a courthouse and guarantee the tax levy shall never exceed twenty mills. All county offices will be salaried. Let us get up our petition at once and put them in circulation."

Daily Guard, Jan. 7.

CUTTING ACCIDENT.—This morning while Charlie Croner, J., was leaving the GUARD office hurriedly to stop his truck team, which was starting to run, he slipped and fell striking his face against the door pane breaking the glass and cutting his face severely. Two very deep cuts were made in his nose, necessitating seven stitches to be made by Dr. Payton, the attending surgeon.

AFTER A HUSBAND.—Albany Democrat: Most men are not worth hunting for. Mrs. Snell, of Corvallis, seems to consider hers an exception, for she was in this city today hunting for him, he having left their home in Corvallis without previous notification. As Mrs. Snell entered the Rose House this morning, Mr. Snell disappeared through the rear door, and left for the north by tie path.
