What is considered in Washington as one of the most significant moves in the entire Hawaiian discussion was the earnest speech made by Senator Dolph the other day in favor of the United States assuming control of the Islands. Senator Dolph is one of the most influential members of the Committee on Foreign Relations, and his action in these matters carries great weight. The speech was full of statistics, giving everything of any value concerning the commercial was full of statistics, giving everything of any value concerning the commercial advantages of Hawaii, and will be a text for the discussion that will ensue after the arrival of the Commissioners. It is replete with such information as both House and Senate will need to act intelligently upon the great question.

The report of the Siletz Indian Commission, with the draft of a bill for the adoption of the agreement which has been reached with those Indians for the cession of a portion of their lands, has been received in the Senate, and upon the request of Senator Dolph, immediately sent to the printer, so that it may be considered at an early date. The Senator says he is going to make every effort to push the bill through, although it is so late in the session that he may find it difficult. The bill provides that the land shall be thrown open upon the proclamation of the President, but Mr. Dolph is of the opinion that his will be stricken out and the lands opened so soon as the agreement is ratified by Congress. He considers the agreement reached with the Indians very satisfactory.

Laud — Compound, in tins, 13½c; pure, in tins, 15½@17½c; Oregon, 11½@18c; in any one storm, however hard it may be. The greater part of this soil, it should be remembered, was the same in both cases. In theone case the upper part of the soil had been turned over, by which the direct connection between the air and the water on earth was brooken and the moisture could not escape so rapidly as in the other case. The experiments were continued over a period of sixty-four days, and the results shown at the end of that time were very nearly the same. This amount of water aver in the soil properly represents Chicago, is continuing its war against funeral processions using Washington boulevard as a thoroughfare contrary to shown at the end of that time were very nearly the same. This amount of water saved in the soil properly represents more than the corresponding amount of rainfall for the reason that part of the water of every rain storm is returned immediately to the mir. Estimating that 301.49 pounds of water are required for one pound of dry matter in corn, the saving of water in this experiment would in a dry season increase the yield of dry matter per acre 1,277 pounds, or about 14 per cent. of a good crop.
