Electric Light Fad.

Friday's Portland Dispatch: The Portland General Electric Light Co. have struck a bonanza at last. They have adopted a jigaree similar to a gas meter and it measures out the electric light at so many cents per volt, and there is not a man known who knows what a volt is. The electro meter is a bigger liar than the gas meter, if reports are true. As an incident the electric light bill for the police station last month under the meter system was $140, while for the month preceding, without the meter it was only $28. It would be a good question for a Hume's jury to decide who is loser in the two months cited.

McMinnville Register: Geo. F. Bullock departed for Eugene last week. Mr. Bullock is energetic and Eugene has gained a good citizen.

Stricken Down with Heart Disease.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

GENTLEMEN: I feel it my duty, as well as a pleasure, to publish, unsolicited, to the world the benefit received from DR. MILES' NERVE AND LIVER PILLS. I was stricken down with Heart Disease and its complications, a typical feeling from 90 to 120 beats per minute, a continual bounding sensation in the whole body, smothering spells, pain in the region of the heart and below over the left breast, pain in the arms, shortness of breath, sleeplessness, weakness and general debility. The slightest exertion would throb violently, the throbbing of my heart could be heard across a large room and would shake my whole body. I was so nervous that I could not hold my hand steady. I have been under the treatment of eminent physicians, and have taken gallons of Patent Medicines without the least benefit. A friend recommended your remedies. She was cured by Dr. Miles' remedies. I have taken three bottles of your New Heart Cure and two bottles of Nervine. My pulse is normal, I have no more violent throbbing of the heart, I AM A WELL MAN. I sincerely recommend every one with symptoms of Heart Disease to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Remedies and be cured.

From it is learned the fact that in 1840 there were in Oregon—26 American settler; 26 married women; 13 lay Protestant ministers; 13 Methodists, ordained; 1 Presbyterian, ordained; 5 Congregational, ordained; 32 American women, and 52 children.

The State Horticultural Society will hold its next meeting in Eugene, April 11 and 12. Norris Humphrey, Dr. Sharples, Prof. Condon and D. E. Loveridge are among the Eugene people who will take part in the discussion on horticulture. Mrs. Prof. Collier will take part in the discussion under the floral department. As soon as agreed upon we will publish the programme.

The question now arises in the minds of many whether the electric belt is a benefit or injury to the man who wears it. The general verdict is that it is perfectly harmless and innocent. A strip of canvass with a couple of pieces of tin plate tacked on the inside of it and circled around one's waist couldn't be considered injurious, but it might be slightly annoying. The fake has about played out.

The Ashland Tidings says: G. W. Pickett of Eugene, a prominent mining man, who was at one time one of the owners of the famous Treadwell mine of Alaska, has been examining some mining property in Josephine and Jackson counties, and was in Ashland several days this week, having assays made of ore from some mine in Josephine. Mr. Pickett visited the Ashland mine and gives a flattering opinion of its value and prospects.

Oregon City Courier: Soon the state will begin to squander $10,000 on another abortive fish-ladder. When our solons passed the bill making the appropriation, they failed to elucidate why, say 30 years ago, the Molalla, Santiam and McKenzie rivers had abundance of salmon. Then the fish coming from the ocean did not need a ladder to climb the Willamette Falls and the question naturally arises, why is the ladder needed now. The kind of a ladder that is needed is a quietus on the canneries at the mouth of the Columbia. A fish ladder here can not make fish. The $10,000 would be far wiser expended if the state bought fresh salmon to that amount and distributed them among the fish eaters of the upper Willamette valley.

The Truth.

The following from the editorial columns of the Corvallis Times is the truth, but still we will publish the matter sent gratis:

"The press of the state is in frequent receipt of letters from heads of departments of the Oregon world's fair commission requesting the publication gratis of a column or so of matter in regard to their requirements and needs in making up the exhibit. 'We exhort you to extend all possible aid and encouragement to us through the columns of your valuable paper, for without the hearty co-operation of the press of the state, the commission can do nothing,' is the P. S. to one of these letters recently received by the Times. Every paper, always ready and willing to do everything possible to develop and upbuild the state, and realizing that 'without the hearty co-operation of the press the commission can do nothing,' cheerfully gives ample space and all necessary information is carried gratuitously to every household. Let it be noted that hotels are not asked for free board for the commission, the merchant is not asked to supply each of them with a free suit of clothes, the farmer is not asked for a free sack of potatoes, nor the miller for a free sack of flour, neither do the commission clerks perform their duties from motives of pure patriotism and love of labor. None but the newspapers are called upon for gratuitous services. Then when there is a job of printing with profits to accrue, the foreign printer is invited to the feast, and the old world wags on."

After More "Crow."

The Salem Statesman is preparing a very nice dish of crow which it will proceed to masticate just after the republicans of the First congressional district have again re-nominated Binger Hermann by acclamation in 1894, says the Roseburg Review. It performed this act last year with very good grace and evidently is anxious to do it again. But, how it does howl now! Here is a paragraph taken from a recent issue of that paper:

Had the First Oregon district been favored with a representative in congress as zealous for the interests of the great Willamette valley as the present member has been for those of the Coquille, on which he owns a store and part of a townsite, the Willamette river would have been long ago so improved as admit of the running of boats through the whole season. Now that the dry season is coming on, and the business of the upper river boats is large, the fact of this injustice and neglect will be forced upon us all. The thing for the Willamette valley to do is to demand a representative in congress committed to work for this improvement and one honest and able enough to carry out his promises.

Regular Machines.

A notice was posted up by United States government officials engaged on works at Tuscaloosa, Ala., prohibiting talking or smoking, and informing the men that if they leave their work to obey a call of nature they will be charged with five minutes, and at the end of the month, if the time amounts to one hour, they will be docked two hours. If any time is lost because of rain, which often happens, the time is made up by working the following noon hour, or, if necessary, the noon hours of the following days.

Silas W. Lamoreaux, of Wisconsin, appointed commissioner of the general land office, takes the place of Lewis A. Gruff. The commissioner attends to the survey, management and sale of the public domain, and the issuing of titles therefor. The salary is $4000. He is aided by an assistant commissioner and chief clerk. The new assistant is to be Edward A. Bowers, of Washington, D. C., and his salary is $3000.

The section from one of the big California redwood trees, which the United States government will exhibit in its building at the world's fair, has arrived at the fair grounds. Eleven freight cars were required to convey it across the continent. It measured 30 feet long by 23 feet in diameter. The section is hollowed out, and when placed on end, divided into two stories, and lighted, as will be, it will form a rustic house large enough for a family to live in.

One of the principal roads leading to Eugene is in a very bad condition. We refer to the diagonal road though the Blair farm. The travel over it is very heavy and but little improvement has been made for several years past. Most of the road tax of Eugene has been expended several miles from the town, and roads near by have been neglected. Heretofore the gravel has been dumped on the level ground without regard to grades or other conditions with the result that the winter roads partake of the nature of canals. This road, and others too, for that matter, should be graded before the gravel is applied. Too much money has been thrown away. Now is the time for a change in the manner of working roads. We believe that recommendations by the county court would have a good effect.

Native Sons of Oregon.

An organization of the native sons of Oregon was formed several years ago, but for some reason, probably carelessness, it was allowed to die away or rather go to slumber from which it has not awakened. The original purpose was to band together the children born of pioneers in this state and on the same plan as the "Native Sons of the Golden West," for social and beneficial interest, but all sons born in Oregon were entitled to membership.

An effort is now being made to revive the organization and put it on a permanent basis. Hon. F. C. Baker, state printer, who has been in California for several weeks, took occasion to visit some of the parlors of the Native Sons and found them to be in a healthy and flourishing condition and he is therefore fired with a desire to revive the society in this state. Mr. C. N. Waite is also taking an active and prominent part in the same direction. Judge W. H. Adams was president of the native sons and F. C. Baker secretary, and a request is made that all who are interested communicate with the secretary with a view to reorganizing.

The native sons were not wholly ignored in the late political campaigns. Those elected to office were Hon. G. W. McBride, secretary of state; Hon. R. S. Bean, supreme judge, and F. C. Baker, state printer. W. L. Boise was made chairman of the republican state central committee; D. R. Murphy was chairman of the democratic state central committee and C. N. Waite secretary of the latter committee.

It would not be a bad idea to get the native sons together for mutual benefit; such an organization would be an ornament to the state.

The women of Oregon will prepare a creditable exhibit for the world's fair.

The Boston Herald says that Maryland office-seekers are nearest Washington, but they don't haunt the city owing it is said, to the advice of Senator Gorman that they had better wait until the rush is over. The senator evidently understands the art of office seeking under a Cleveland regime.

Gloucester, N. J., is the seat of one of the gambling race tracks that the legislature has just sanctioned. But excellent field as it is for missionary work a Protestant church there is deep in a quarrel growing out of its dismissal of its minister for buying a second-hand organ from a Catholic church.

Mr. Albert Tozier, secretary of the Oregon Press association, has prepared a rather unique exhibit which will contribute not a little to the interest of Oregon's educational exhibit at the world's fair. His work consists of a bound volume of the newspapers of Oregon, and contains one copy each of the more than 200 publications of the state.

The popular idea that water is purified by freezing has been again disproved by recent careful experiments, which show that the average amount of impurity retained by the ice is 34.3 per cent of organic matter, and 21.2 per cent of inorganic matter. As organic matter is the more objectionable of the two, the case is worse than was formerly supposed.

The Alaska Treadwell mine mined and worked 120,000 tons of ore at a total cost of $1.32 per ton. The mining was 65 cents; milling and concentration 33 cents, and chlorination of 2703 tons of sulphurets 19 cents per ton, or $8.42 per ton of sulphurets. General mine expenses were 8 cents and expenses in San Francisco 2 cents per ton. Bullion freight and insurance amounted to 5 cents per ton.

A clipping from a paper was handed into the office today which contains the following: "When General Joseph Lane was in congress there was a United States district judge to be appointed for this district. General Lane offered the appointment to his son-in-law, Colonel L. F. Mosher, of Roseburg. The colonel refused the appointment for fear of his being a relative of Lane's might injure the general politically. General Lane then asked him to recommend someone and he recommended Matthew P. Deady, who got the appointment."

Mr. Hancher, of Council Grove, Kansas, is in the city the guest of his old friend and neighbor N. J. Moffit. He thinks strongly of locating in Oregon.

An Eastern Star Chapter will be organized in this city next Tuesday evening, March 30th. Quite a delegation will be here from Corvallis and also Col. Robt. Miller, of Jacksonville, is expected to be present.

Robt. Clow visited Salem Wednesday and other down the river towns. On his return he will know definitely whether he will start a bank at this place or not.

T. W. Blew left Sunday for Colton and other Washington cities. He will also visit Eastern Oregon before he returns. During his absence Mrs. Blew will visit friends at Empire City.

Mrs. T. W. Washburn returned home Sunday night, accompanied by her daughter Mrs. Worlman. Her health is still very poor and she realized but little benefit from the Portland treatment.

Jacob Mitchell, of Eugene, was here last Friday instructing the K. P. lodge of this city in the new work. He has a thorough knowledge of the unwritten work and has the happy knack of imparting it to others.

It happened seven weeks ago, and in order to get the particulars we promised to suppress names. A lady who doesn't live ten miles from this place buried $200 in gold in the ground under the soap tub. She wanted to add to her savings but when she removed the earth found that her gold had disappeared. She has no idea who stole the money or when.

Leader, March 25.

Messrs. Thos. Bone, John Reggi and and J. B. Morgan, prospectors and mining experts of Eastern Oregon, left this city Tuesday for the Bohemia mines. They will visit the Annie and Los Angeles mines and be ready for a strike when spring opens.

The Annie mine has run 550 feet of levels since May, all in pay ore, the whole output of which was run through that 5-stamp mill, giving handsome returns. Does not this compare favorably with anything having been done in California, Colorado, Montana or Idaho.

Four companies with outfits left Cottage Grove for prospecting in Bohemia, Monday. They will go as far as they can, and wait for the snow to melt before they try prospecting. The snow is very deep in places and will require several weeks of warm weather to melt it.

O. E. Brady and Judge Davis, San Francisco capitalists, and successors of J. A. Musick, in the Los Angeles mine in Bohemia, are expected to arrive in this city about the first of April, to make further developments and arrangements to put in a larger mill to begin operations on a larger and more practical scale this summer. Their ledge is enormously rich and will justify them in making thorough arrangements for a successful run this summer independent of expense.

HOW IS THIS.—The Coos Bay Sun has the following: Robert Agers, who has been endeavoring to find a brother whom he has not seen or heard of for 20 years has finally succeeded in locating him at Eugene, Oregon. With Mr. Agers finding his brother fulfills a statement made by John Slater, the great spiritualist medium of San Francisco. Some months ago Mr. Agers attended one of Mr. Slater's meetings in that city and being allowed to ask one question he begged to know where his brother was, whereupon Mr. Slater replied that he was living near Portland. Mr. Agers never though, enought of what was told him to make inquiry, but when he returned to the bay, he received a letter from the east stating that his brother was in Albany, and having found where his brother is since has demonstrated that John Slater told the truth.

OUR EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT.—Oregon's educational exhibit, which was shipped to Chicago by City Superintendent Pratt, of Portland, on Saturday, consisted of 20 cases of drawings, maps, written work, photos, etc. The car was sealed and a shipping receipt for the exhibit taken by Professor Pratt, who will shortly leave for Chicago to attend the arrangement of the exhibit. In the lot was two cases from the State University.

MILITARY ROAD LANDS.

Will Be Utilized Now the Litigation Has Been Finally Decided in Favor of the Company.

The following appeared in the DAILY GUARD of September 12, 1891: "A contract has been placed on file in the county clerk's office of this county for record which provides for the sale of the Oregon military road lands, by their present owners to Peter Muser and associates of Muscatine, Iowa. The contract provides that after the suit now in the U. S. courts is settled, perfecting the titles of the lands by the government, that within thirty days after said decision of the court and the execution of the deeds, that Muser and his associates will pay to the present owners the sum of $550,000, and at the expiration of one year $250,000, and in two years $250,000, and the balance, $250,000, at the end of three years, making a total of $1,100,000. The notes are to draw 6 per cent interest. This land is located in Lane, Klamath, Lake, Harney and Malheur counties and comprises 850,000 acres. The people will welcome the change of ownership in this immense tract of land as the purchasers intend settling it with people from the Eastern states."

The litigation above mentioned was finally decided in the early part of this month adversely to the government and dispatches from Muscatine now indicate that Mr. Muser and his associates intend fulfilling their contract. The following statement is made:

"The Iowa & Oregon Land Company, with a capital stock of $2,000,000, was organized here today by 12 of the principal lumbermen of the Mississippi valley. The object of the company will be to handle 850,000 acres of Oregon land which is richly timbered. The farming and grazing lands are to be leased and lumber mills erected on the timber land."

A Sale of Washington Relics.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Another of the numerous sales of Washington relics that held here in the past few years began today. An autographic of Washington, written before his death and the last letter he ever wrote, was sold to the Historical Society of Pennsylvania for $850. Washington's secretary and bookcase sold for $200, card tables for $200 apiece, and a dining table for $885. A French spinet with bell and drum attachment that belonged to Nellie Custis, brought $1400. Mrs. Washington's music-book, most of the words and music of which were written by her, sold for $190.

An Oregon Man Killed.

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—Last Friday E. J. Winslow, a horse trainer of Umatilla, Or., was struck on a bridge near Gault by a passenger train. He was taken to the county hospital where he died. A few days ago a tramp was arrested here on suspicion of having knocked Winslow senseless for the purpose of robbery, and then having placed the body on the bridge.

Daily Guard, March 27.

DIED.—At the family residence, about 7 miles west of Eugene, last evening, of Bright's disease, Joseph Schlomberg, aged about 42 years. Mr. Schlomberg was an excellent citizen, and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his demise. The deceased has been a resident of Lane county for nearly nine years. The funeral services will be conducted at the late residence of deceased tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. McInturff, and the interment will take place immediately thereafter in the Oak Hill cemetery.

Condor Globe: T. C. Keizur left last week for his gold mines near Cottage Grove, where he expects to become a millionaire this summer. His many friends hope "Old Cul" will strike it rich—and Cul unanimously joins them in this hope. We understand he has some valuable mines down there.
