MARRIED.—At Cottage Grove, April 26, 1893, by Rev. James Hamner, A. H. Beck and Miss Laura Hewitt.

McKenzie River Stock Farm.
(Capital $100,000.)—The home of
FAVORITUS WILKES!
The handsomest stallion that ever lived. Favoritus Wilkes 15240, service for season of 1893, has been imported from Kentucky one of the best bred stallions Kentucky ever produced, and he is now located in Oregon, where his services can be had by all who wish to breed to him.
J. M. BOWES and S. C. REEVES, Proprietors.

OF INTEREST.
To the breeder, to the farmer, to the banker and to all thinking men of our state: We have imported from Kentucky one of the best bred stallions Kentucky ever produced, and he is now located in Oregon, where his services can be had by all who wish to breed to him.

HANDSOMEST STALLION THAT EVER LIVED!
We have had a power and speed combined, which all breeders should love for, as well as the best bred stallion in America. We have the best color, a blooded bay. We have the best of bone and feet and substance of any stallion in the state. His weight 1500 pounds in full flesh, stands 15 1/2 hands high, his coat is large and handsome and of the best disposition and are natural trotter and are very speedy. This stallion will be limited to only a few mares at $50 for the season with usual return privileges, or $75 to insure season full; this small fee not being one half what the stallion's fees are worth. We put the fee for this season so very low so as to be in reach of all who wish to breed and raise a horse superior to any they ever raised in Oregon. Remember this stallion will cost you but few dollars. This is a stallion to breed to in another year and his book is rapidly filling, so if you have an idea you wish to breed this season send to and book your mare at once.
FAVORITUS 15240.

WE OFFER $250.00 CASH PRIZE!
For the best breeding colt, to be shown at the state fair at Salem in 1893, bred by this stallion. We offer $250 for the fastest yearling trotter bred by this stallion. We offer $50 for the fastest two-year-old bred by this stallion, to be trotted at the same state fair in 1893. We offer to the breeder of the fastest two-year-old colt $100 each premium, and $25 to the driver of this colt. We offer cash $150 for the best 2-year-old trotting in 2:30 or better, at Salem fair in 1893, and $100 for the best 2-year-old colt in 2:30, also $50 to the driver and developer of this colt, bred by FAVORITUS 15240.

J. M. BOWES & CO.,
Springfield, -- Lane County, -- Oregon.

The incorporators of the proposed railroad between Salem and Independence are: J. A. Nelson, J. M. Van Dyke, H. D. Cooper, J. M. Miller, and Phil Metchum. The capital stock is $100,000. The road will start at Independence and end at the big bridge to Polk county. No mares are to be accepted, but simply subscriptions to the capital stock, payable in four installments, as the road is completed. The projectors seem to mean business, and the money for stock will begin at once. It will be standard gauge, 50 pound rail.

THE NAIL CATTLE.—The attorneys of Eugene have been in a great commotion this week. It appears that one Penneck attached Fress Nail's cattle in Long Tom precinct, for a debt owed by Snodgrass Bros. Then D. M. French, of The Dalles, came in and claimed that the cattle belonged to a stock company in eastern Oregon, and that they had purchased them of Snodgrass Bros, indebted and bankrupt, and started a replevin suit against Sheriff Noland. Now we understand that the sheriff has merely withdrawn dominion over them, as the Penneck claim has been settled, and the 400 is not yet.

MARRIED.—At Cottage Grove, April 26, 1893, by Rev. James Hamner, A. H. Beck and Miss Laura Hewitt.

FRIDAY, APRIL 21.
R. W. Mitchell is a candidate for collector of customs at Portland.
C. E. Wolcott, an Albany attorney, spent last night in Eugene.
Dr. L. W. Brown came down from the Myrtle creek mines this morning.
McMinnville Telephone-Register: "Rev. C. A. Nutley and family removed to Eugene this week."
Notwithstanding the cry of secrecy of money real estate transactions are fairly active.
Miss Mabel Simmons has been engaged to teach the Gate creek school the coming summer.

Persons who have driving horses are beginning to get them out of pasture and in condition for the summer.
The farmers are busy plowing and sowing grain. In considerable of the ground it is yet to wet work.
The attachment case of Chas. Hempe vs. Duncan Scott has been dismissed the defendant paying the claim.
The lawyers are having some fun over a three handed fight for a bunch of cattle held in Long Tom precinct.
A Salem boy broke up the nest of a Mongolian pheasant and took the eggs. He was suspended from school therefor.
Hon. Chas. Wilkinson spent last night in Eugene. He says he only has three or four more days work in Portland.
J. D. Spencer, a well-known tobacco drummer was found dead in his bed at San Francisco yesterday. He was to have been married in the evening.

The steamer Messenger on her down trip yesterday afternoon ran on a bar about three miles this side of Harrisburg. They got off in about an hour, and was uninjured.
G. A. Holden, proprietor of the Cinderella company that played here last night, is one of the most genial managers on the road.
Northwest Pacific Farmer: There is one thing for which the city of Eugene should be proud, and that is the many wide awake horticulturists with which it is surrounded.
Hempner Gazette: Yesterday Mrs. J. W. Matlock returned from a visit to Pullman, Washington, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Taylor. The latter had been severely ill for a time, but now is in excellent health.

The road leading into town from the northwest has been greatly improved and made passable. Still it is only a temporary improvement and is very rough. It will be thoroughly improved this summer so no more complaint will be made.
Salem Journal: The other day a Portland printer sued Dr. Powell Reeves for $200. The fact that suit was brought was gleefully noticed in some alleged newspapers. Yesterday the doctor filed his answer which shows a complete defense and that the other fellow owes him a claim of $225. These same papers, to do the doctor or any other citizen justice, should always give the defendant's side of the case as well as the other.

Winter holds on with a vengeance in Northern Washington, and the following from the Waverly Index will read like an item from blizzard swept Dakota: "About four inches of heavy, wet snow once more enveloped Waverly and vicinity Thursday morning. The ice is still serviceable for mid-April skaters at the rink. Farmers coming to town give the most jubilant reports of their prospects. Under the snow, green grass and healthy grain shoots are found to be growing, the pesky squirrel enervated from his hole but to chill, starve and die. Oh, what will the harvest be? It may be depended upon, all conditions give assurance of that. Just 22 weeks of snow but we bide our time."

Arrested and Bound Over.
Duncan Scott was placed under arrest last yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Noland on a warrant sworn out by Chas. Hempe, charging him with attempting to obtain property under false pretenses committed on April 25, 1893, by unlawfully and feloniously attempting to obtain from Jas. E. Noland one bay mare, by then and there falsely and fraudulently representing that said Sidney Horn was the owner of said mare, when in truth and in fact he, the said Duncan Scott, was the owner thereof, and said false pretense was then and there made by him, the said Duncan Scott, with intent to defraud Chas. Hempe, said mare being then and there in possession of said Jas. E. Noland, sheriff, under and by virtue of a writ of attachment issued out of the Eugene justice court, in an action wherein Chas. Hempe was plaintiff and Duncan Scott was defendant.

He was given a preliminary hearing this morning before Justice G. W. Kinsey who held him to answer the action of the grand jury in the sum of $500 bonds.
At the time of going to press Scott had not yet given bonds and was in the custody of the sheriff.

Theatrical.
A fair sized audience greeted Kness & Holden's company in their reproduction of "Cinderella" at Rhinehart's opera house last night.
The play is in the hands of a good company, although they were in ill luck last night. It takes an immense amount of scenery to present the piece and when the stage was arranged it was so small that the actors were placed at a great disadvantage. This seems to be the main reason that so few large companies play here, the stage is hardly large enough for a good spectacular piece. Miss Ida Aubrey makes a typical Cinderella and Jean Weiner played the part of the valet Dandini well. Jessie Le Seurs with a Spanish song and Maurice Stewart with some of the latest specialty songs were repeatedly applauded.
As for little Irene in her songs and serpentine skirt dance, she made a great hit. This was the first exhibition of the serpentine dance here and was duly appreciated.
The specialty performing of Leando and Marie, Mrs. A. H. Zella, a nervous man, Ada Showers, on the slack wire and Willie and Lillie Cole on the double trapeze were all creditable. The company will play a four days engagement at the Marquand Grand in Portland next week.

Returned Home.—Mayor Friendly, a delegate elected by the Eugene board of trade to call on Major Handbury, at Portland, and impress upon him the importance of having the snag boat sent up this way for the purpose of clearing out the river channel, returned home last evening. He met the officer in charge of the office, Mr. Handbury being in California. That gentleman informed the mayor that the snag boat would probably be sent here next week to accomplish the work. Mr. Friendly also met Receiver E. W. Hadley and General Superintendent R. E. Mulcahy, who had come down to Portland especially to meet him. They said they intended running the steamer Messer regularly to Eugene and would ship all southern Oregon freight offered to this point and have the same forwarded by rail to their respective destinations; and if the trade warranted it, they would build a new boat especially adapted to the upper river, during the summer.

Gone to Portland.—Today's Register says: W. C. Moran and wife went to Portland on the early train this morning with their little daughter to have one of her eyes treated by a specialist. A couple of weeks ago the child bruised the eye slightly and then a cold settled in it. The eye was swollen shut for about ten days. Yesterday Mrs. Paine and T. W. Harris, made an examination of the eye and decided that there is a trouble there that may possibly result in some permanent injury, and advised that a specialist be consulted at once. While the chances are strongly in favor of a complete recovery, the best of attention will be secured for the little one, and nothing serious may result if it can be prevented.

FOR EMBELLMENT.—Albany Democrat: Tuesday afternoon Detective Sam Simmons arrested in St. Louis, Mo., John H. Haskins, formerly manager of the Benton county Flouring Mill company's agency in this city, who left the employ of that company and this country last July, and who is charged with embezzling about $2500 from his employers at different times while acting as their manager in this city. He always bore a good reputation until now.

BUYING AT HOME.—Oregonian, April 27: A most striking case of patriotism unrecognized is that of a paper which urges its readers to patronize home merchants as the way to build up the town. A look at the advertising columns of that paper shows that it is patronized by one solitary merchant of the town. Such public spirit as this on the part of the editor is absolutely heroic.

$10,000 SAVED.—The extreme economists who oppose any appropriation for the world's fair will doubtless be pleased to learn that, as it was decided not to erect any buildings, $10,000 was set aside by the commission and will be returned to the treasury of the state.

GAVE BONDS.—After we went to press yesterday afternoon Duncan Scott gave bonds in the sum of $500 to appear before the grand jury. The sureties are Sidney Horn and Henry Howe.

On to Chicago.
The rich will ride in a palace car. All gilt with mahogany frame. The man without money must go afoot. But he'll get there just the same.

Oregonian: J. Yerxes and Mr. Pond, who have fine residences at Woodstock, have traded their property for farms. The former bought a farm near Eugene and the latter near Salem.
