Prevented from Leaving.

NEW YORK, May 12.—The Sun's St. Louis correspondent says: The new consul general at Austria, Max Judd, was detained yesterday just as he was about to leave for his post at Vienna by notice he had been sent by Moses Fray for $2500 for commission on the sale of his house. Judd was angry and said if he held the Fray case, he would sue his muscles, because Fray had had ample opportunity to see him and had refrained from doing so in order to embarrass him.

Jury Discharged.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The jury in the case of Wesley C. Rippey, charged with assault on John W. Mackay, was discharged this evening, being unable to reach a verdict. It stood six for conviction and five for acquittal.

Deacon White, having dropped all the chips he had gathered on the New York board, can now go back to Chicago and retrieve. Then he can square up with his New York creditors, and write them, as he wrote his Chicago creditors when he paid them up, that "God has been good to me."

The action of Major Handbury in sending the snag boat to this part of the river will receive the hearty commendation of the public generally in this part of the state.

An editorial brother in Wisconsin, after many years of experience, has arrived at this sage conclusion: "The longer we run a newspaper, and write about people and events the more we realize how utterly impossible it is to scratch every man on the spot where he itches the most."

The fact that the Red House of Sacramento has gone out of business under a cloud, and that the failure is directly attributable to stopping the system of advertising which had first established that house, should prove a solemn warning to all who attempt to reach the public without adopting the broad highway which leads to the most intimate acquaintance with all classes—the weekly press of the rural districts.

The general laws of Oregon assert that no point received a majority of the votes for the state capitol in 1862. It has been proven beyond a doubt that Eugene had a majority of the vote but was eulcered out of the prize.

Corvallis Times: The biennial session of the legislature of 1883 paid out for clerk hire a trifle more than $5000. The duties performed by the clerks of that session were as voluminous and arduous as those of any subsequent legislative session, and the work was thoroughly, efficiently and faithfully performed.

An exchange says: Heaven help the man who imagines he can dodge enemies by trying to please everybody. If an individual ever succeeded we should be glad of it—not that one should be going through the world trying to find beams to bump his poor head against, disputing every man's opinion, fighting, elbowing and crowding all who differ with him. That again is another extreme. Other people have a right to their opinions, so have you. Don't fall into the error of supposing that they will respect you more for turning your coat every day to match the colors. It costs the vasculating ten times the trouble to wind and shuffle and twist that it does honest, manly independence to stand its ground.

Speaking of an income tax on large properties the St. Louis Republic says: It is plainly evident that Secretary Carlisle can count on the nearly solid support of his party in congress in favor of a measure that will put into the treasury all the gold that any financier or capitalist can desire to see there. An income tax of 10 per cent, or even 5 per cent, on all abnormal incomes, payable in gold, would render it certain not only that our prodigal expenditures for pensions will be met, but there will be at all times in the treasury plenty of gold to pay the face value of silver certificates issued on silver bullion lying idle in the treasury. The pretense that an income tax cannot be collected is idle. It is collected without difficulty in Great Britain, and was collected with no great difficulty in this country at the time it was on the federal statute books. It will be no more easily evaded than any other tax, and will probably be more closely collected than taxes on personal property now are.

The interior of the office at the Hotel Hoffman is being repainted and other places renovated.

A game of base ball was played at the university this afternoon between a town nine and the university nine.

The county clerk has received several copies of the session laws of '93 which he is busy sending out today to the justices of the peace throughout the county.

In this week's letter to the S. F. Examiner Bill Nye speaks of Eugene as the place where there is 140,000 acres of good farming land for sale within the city limits.

County Judge Fisk received a communication this morning from the officials at Salem that the state reform school was again ready to receive returning youths.

Harrisburg Courier: M. W. Carter and J. C. Sablin have been elected delegates by the Central Lodge of Harrisburg, to attend the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F., which meets in Eugene, May 17. A large number of brothers from this place will attend.

Harrisburg Courier: Mrs. T. M. Wyatt, whose maiden name was Nannie McCartney, was examined on a charge of insanity Monday by Drs. Davis and Kelley, and was taken to the asylum. She was married to T. W. Wyatt, May 18, 1892, and the newly married couple went to San Diego, Cal., to reside. Mrs. Wyatt was taken back to her mother's home near this city only a few weeks afterward, after a severe illness. Since her return she has been constantly sick.

The snag boat has received orders to remove the snags from the channel of the Willamette between Harrisburg and Eugene, and left here last Monday morning to begin work.

The run of sturgeon down the Columbia this season between Eagle Cliff and Mayport is unprecedented. One fishing boat caught 25 sturgeon in their net in one drift. The habits of the sturgeon are very peculiar. They cannot be found two years in succession in the same grounds. When the schools of sturgeon come in the river to spawn, they appear to be very gregarious in their instincts and move along in a body. They seek out all the deep holes and migrate about at pleasure. A good fishing ground may be entirely deserted the next season. Caviare is worth 6 cents and the meat 2 cents per pound. At this price there is more money fishing for sturgeon the year round than any other business in the state, so says the Cathlamet Gazette.

There is nothing like going away from town to trade. The next thing we expect to hear is that some of the sawmills of Oregon and Washington have sent to the deserts of California and Arizona for sawlogs. The following information is taken from a Portland exchange: "Major Handbury has returned from the granite quarries where Messrs. Day & Co., contractors for the locks at the Cascades, will obtain the granite for their work. The quarries are located at Raymond, Fresno county, California, about 200 miles from San Francisco. There is an immense amount of granite in sight, and machinery is being put in preparatory to quarrying it in large quantities. J. C. Day, one of the contractors who has been at the quarries for some time, returned to Oregon with Major Handbury."

Ashtand Tidings: Dave Horn, the well-known merchant rancher and hotel man of Hornsburg, was in Ashtand last Friday. Mr. Horn believes there will be some extensive exploration and prospecting of the famous blue lead which marks the course of a great ancient river or ocean current that swept along the coast at one period of the geological formation, when the Siskiyew mountains were an island. It extends into the Rogue river valley and is found near Ashtand. The blue lead has been found very rich in gold in California, and some rich streaks of it will probably be opened in the valley when the prospectors finally get after it in a scientific manner. It crops out east of Bear creek within a mile of Ashtand, and is covered by the sand rock formation of a later geological period.

Robbery of Salem.

SALAM, May 13.—The residence of O. A. Manning, the best and show merchant was broken into yesterday afternoon while the family was away. A good watch and other valuables to the amount of $300 were taken. No clue to the burglars.

Weather Report.

For the week ending Tuesday, May 9, 1893. B. S. Pease, local forecast official, weather bureau.

Western Oregon.

Weather—Saturday the 6th, was the first spring day of the season, the temperature rose to 70 to 85 degrees, and the sky was clear; the other days of the week were generally cloudy; rain fell frequently but the air was considerably warmer. The mean temperature for the week averaged from 50 to 54 degrees, as against 48 to 51 degrees of the preceding week. The total precipitation amounted to over one inch in the Willamette valley north of Lane county and about Ashland; while in Lane, Douglas, Josephine and northern Jackson counties it ranged from 0.59 to 0.70 of an inch. No frosts are reported.

Cottage Grove Items.

[Echo-Lender, May 13.]

A creamery plant is on its way here for Mr. P. Sherwood.

About fifty lengths of small steel rails were received by the Annie Consolidated Mining Company this week, to be used in laying a track in the tunnel at the Annie mine.

A company of six experienced miners, capitalists arrived at the Central Hotel Wednesday. They will leave for the Bohemia mines today where they will spend a portion of the summer prospecting and investigating the mineral formation of this famous mining district. They are all well equipped with mining tools and everything necessary for a thorough and practical prospecting tour.

The Jerusalem Christian Centennial.

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—The projectors of the Christian Centennial at Jerusalem in 1900, the chief moving in which is Colonel Jesse E. Payton, met yesterday. Colonel Payton stated the object of the centennial to be a recognition of all nations and to mark the nineteenth hundred anniversary of the birth of Christ. He further said that a committee would prepare resolutions and present them for adoption at a public meeting to be held in front of Independence Hall on July 4. The resolutions will then be sent to Chicago for consideration by the Congress of Religions at the World's Fair. Chairman McCook said a union of Mohammedans, Israelites and Christians would be a remarkable thing to accomplish, but if it could be done it would be a most auspicious opening of the Twentieth Century.

CRIMINAL COURT.

The two boys Ralph and Jesse Winkle were arraigned in Justice Kinsey's court at 10 o'clock this morning for the crime of burglary. The oldest, Ralph, was discharged, there being no evidence that he had committed any crime. A motion was made by the attorneys for the 12-year-old lad Jesse, L. Bilyeu and J. F. Amis, to dismiss the complaint against him, but the court held that although the evidence did not warrant his being held on the charge of burglary he should be for the crime of petit larceny from a dwelling. A jury was called for and impaneled, and as we go to press the little fellow is being tried. Later, since the above was written the lawyer discharged by the court on motion of his attorneys, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Potter assenting.

PRESS EXCURSION.

The party of Oregon editors who started to visit the world's fair at Chicago, going from Portland over the Union Pacific and Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroads, consisting of Col. J. B. White, of Salem, Robert Johnson, of Corvallis, Geo. O. Yoran and L. I. Campbell, of Eugene.

STEAMBOAT EXCURSION.

A steam boat excursion is being planned by Captain Hatch and the crew of the snag boat Corvallis. The steamer House of Three Sisters will be chartered and the excursion run from this city to Harrisburg and return. The event is expected to occur in the first two or three weeks and the fare will probably not be over $1 for the round trip, with children half fare.

A LARGE DRIVE.

The Deadwood brothers have started a large drive of saw logs in the McKenzie river. The drive amounts to 7,000,000 feet and is destined for the saw mills, Harrisburg and Corvallis saw mills.
