Newspapers Affected, Also.

The hard times prevalent throughout the country affects the newspaper business as well as every other branch of industry. The Portland Telegram is forced to retrenchment and says:

Commencing with Monday the Telegram will be reduced in size to four pages, but this is intended to be only a temporary arrangement to last through the dull season. In doing this we are following the example of all the evening papers and many of the morning papers on the coast, including San Francisco, Los Angeles, Tacoma, Seattle and Spokane, most of them having been reduced from eight to four pages.

In welcoming Vice President Stevenson to Oregon Governor Pennoyer first said: "On behalf of the people of Oregon and as its chief executive officer, I bid you a heartfelt welcome to the state. We have a beautiful country with varied resources. Look around you and behold the vision of beauty which greets your eye on every side. No fairer land upon the whole earth is visited by the sunlight of heaven than our own Oregon." The vice president, in answering, among other things, said: "I can only thank you for the kind and generous welcome extended to me at this early hour in this beautiful valley and city of your beautiful and glorious state. I am profoundly grateful for this manifestation and shall carry the memory of it to my latest hour. All through Oregon, the first born of the states of the Pacific, I have received only kindness that has touched me deeply and for which I am profoundly grateful.

A very forcible illustration of the decline of prices is made by the comparison June exports for 1892 and 1893. Our exports of corn were larger this year than last by 1,600,000 bushels, of barley 400,000 bushels, of flour 100,000 barrels and and of wheat a slight increase, yet on account of low prices the value of exports of breadstuffs is $536,000 less than year. Of cotton we exported over 9,000,000 pounds more but received $180,000 less. Of oil we exported 22,900,000 gallons more and received $460,000 more, but this was $770,000 less than would have been received at last year's prices. And yet there are people who hold that silver has decreased in price because it is too abundant.

The appointment of H. C. Evans, of Ottumwa, Io., son-in-law of General Weaver, indicates the official appreciation of the aid given the democrats by the populists in the presidential election. This is right. If the populists were good enough to receive the votes of dyed-in-the-wool democrats, they are good enough to hold office under a democratic administration, and it would be rank ingratitude not to appoint them.—Oregonian.

Mr. Evans is a thorough going democrat hence all the "sweetness" in the above is lost on the desert air.

The Pendleton Tribune of Tuesday says: Nathan Pierce, the wheat king of Umatilla county, is in town having come down from his Milton home, to begin harvesting on his 3000 acre field of wheat on the reservation. Mr. Pierce has purchased one of the California combined harvesters, and it is with this machine that he will open up the season in a day or two. Altogether Mr. Pierce has about 5000 acres in wheat this year, all of which is in good condition and from which he expects good returns.

THE BIDS OPENED.

The Bids on the Reform School Are too High.

SALEM, July 26.—The following bids for the erection of the new buildings at the reform school were opened in the governor's office today: G. A. Stevens, $46,175; C. D. Wilson, $46,300; E. Weiman, $44,450; Wickstrom & Cheney, $44,889; Plummer & Ault, $42,300; Hutchins & Southwick, $43 000; J. Krumbel, $46,727; Thos. Mann, $48,500; Craven & Ollinger, $45,681; J. A. Hazel, $40,088; L. N. Roney, $50,000.

The bids being considerably in excess of the estimated cost of the building, the contract was not let and it is probable that other plans will be called for. Amongst reform institutions in the East, the family idea is rapidly gaining ground and the governor is in favor of building a cottage that will accommodate about sixty of the boys, and a congregated dining hall. He will drive out to the grounds this afternoon with the architect and look over the situation.

Mr. McBride is in St. Helens but will probably go to Portland to meet the governor tomorrow or next day. These two constitute a majority of the board and the intention is to commence work on whatever buildings are to be built, just as soon as possible.

Crime Notes from Union.

UNION, Or., July 26.—In the circuit court this morning the jury in the case wherein Dan Tartar was charged with killing his brother, Robert Tartar, in Eagle Valley, this county, after remaining out all night, brought in a verdict of manslaughter. It is rumored that a new trial will be asked for.

The court this morning sentenced E. J. Mahaffey to two years in the penitentiary for obtaining money under false pretenses.

Is Probably After Counsel.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—A morning paper says: One of the United States custom officials indicted by the United States grand jury for smuggling Chinese and opium into this country, arrived in San Francisco last Friday and is now at the grand hotel. He is James Lohan, ex-collector of customs at Portland. With him came James Wasson, ex-collector of customs at Port Townsend, who was removed from office several months ago after charges had been preferred against him at Washington, D. C., but who has yet escaped indictment at the hands of the grand jury. Just what the business of these two worthies in this city may be, is one of those things no fellow can find out. Probably, however, they are here to engage the talent of eminent attorneys to help vindicate them in the eyes of the people of our district.

From Portland.

PORTLAND, Or., July 25.—Vice President Stevenson and party arrived here this morning at 7:30 a. m., amid the booming of cannon and blowing of steam whistles. He was escorted to the Portland hotel for breakfast and afterwards taken on a drive through the city. An immense procession, including companies from the regular army at Vancouver, Oregon state militia, Portland fire department, etc., paraded the streets. The vice-president and party will visit the coast defense vessel Monterey here this afternoon and in the evening will hold a public reception at the Portland hotel, leaving for the sound at midnight. They will probably remain over at Tacoma and Seattle for a few hours.

Situation in Siam.

PARIS, July 26.—It is stated that an effective blockade of the Siamese coast by the French fleet will only begin Saturday or Sunday. Until then all the powers will not have received notice of France's intention to establish a blockade.

An Absent-Minded Man's Money.

BAKER CITY, Or., July 25.—D. H. Crouter and family, who occupy the residence of Judge D. B. Schofield, yesterday found a number of tin cans on a joist in the cellar under the house and among them was one containing 50 $20 gold pieces. The money belongs to Judge Schofield, who now resides at Grant's Pass, Oregon. Before leaving this city, about one year ago, he claimed he was $4000 short. This discovery accounts for $1000. Of late years the old gentleman has been quite feeble and his memory poor. He has been apprised of the find.

It's money thrown away when a medicine doesn't help you. It's your risk and your loss. But that's the way you have to buy every medicine for woman's ailments, except Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

With that, there's no risk—it's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in all the chronic weaknesses, painful disorders and functional disturbances that afflict womankind, you have your money back. But you won't ask it—you'll be cured.

Give it time, if your case is obstinate. The troubles that come slowly, have to go slowly. The surest and speediest remedy is the "Favorite Prescription." It builds up and invigorates the system, regulates and promotes the proper functions, and restores health and strength.

For everything that's known as a "female complaint," it's a positive specific.

If you're an overworked or suffering woman, it's a medicine that's made especially to help you—but you pay only for the help that you get.

On those terms it's the cheapest sold.

MATTEI'S REMEDIES.

Some six or seven years ago Dr. Frank Cushing, of the Smithsonian Institution, astonished the world by his account of the semi-civilized Zuni Indians, who, until his visit to them, had successfully maintained their entire existence. He only succeeded in obtaining an entry into one of their villages through the kind-heartedness of the Zunis. When he was commissioned to investigate the character and habits of these superior people he was a very sick man, was being treated, in fact, for consumption. The mission was given him in the hope that residence in the warm south would restore him to strength and preserve a valuable officer to the Government. During his journey his illness grew upon him, and when he reached a Zuni village he was stretched in exhaustion, upon a litter which was carried by his friends. They presented to the Zunis that a great American chief had come to them imploring to be cured. On this the Indians received him, nursed him assiduously and finally made a well man of him. Previously he was received into the tribe, learned their language, religion and science of medicine.

DR. FLY.

STANDING BEAR.

One curious thing he discovered was that the principal cause of his cure was a liquor whose composition is unknown to the Zunis. They hold it in great esteem and twice every year they send an embassy to the Kickapoo Indians, who manufacture it, and purchase a supply of it. Several times the Zunis attempted to purchase the secret of its composition, but always without success. Once they attempted to force the coveted knowledge from the Kickapoos and made war upon them for that purpose, but were repulsed.

Fortunately a white man was more successful with the Kickapoos. This tribe originally dwelt in Illinois. Thence the Government moved them to Kansas and later on to the Indian Territory, where they inhabit the old Sacs and Fox reserve. A Government agent, Mr. Charles Bigelow, better known on the border as Texas Charlie, was taken very sick while visiting the Kickapoos, and was restored by their doctors, whose chief prescription was the Sagwa, whose ingredients the Zunis are so desirous of learning. When Mr. Bigelow recovered he pointed out to the chiefs of the Kickapoos that they might acquire wealth by preparing quantities of Sagwa for sale

AMONG THE WHITES.

They demurred for a long time, but finally fell in with the proposal and sent a group of their people to travel under the guidance of Mr. Bigelow and sell the Sagwa. Their success was phenomenal, so great, indeed, that it became impossible to supply the demand and adhere to the crude processes of manufacture adopted by the Kickapoos. Accordingly, the Kickapoo Indian Medicine company was formed, with headquarters at New Haven, Conn., and the manufacture of herbs and other Kickapoo remedies was begun on a large scale. About ten hundred men are employed, and the capital of the company is $200,000. Giving round numbers only, the sales of the Company last year were 500,000 bottles of Sagwa, 400,000 bottles of the Kickapoo Indian Oil, 100,000 bottles of the Kickapoo Cough Cure, 120,000 boxes of the Kickapoo Worm-Killer and about 90,000 boxes of Kickapoo Salve.

The Sagwa is a tonic purely vegetable in character, being the liquor obtained by boiling in water certain varieties of bark, leaves, herbs and roots. The Kickapoo theory of sickness is that it results from a poverty of the blood, involving cessation or sluggishness in the action of one or more of the vital organs. Hence they direct their attention solely to the purifying and strengthening of the blood. This the Sagwa effects beyond question, though just how it acts will probably not be known until the Kickapoos are willing to make the ingredients of their great specific known. The benefits of its use may be noted in the Kickapoos themselves. No finer race physically exists in the world. Both men and women are tall, strong and magnificently developed. There is not a weakling in the tribe. They are a very peculiar people. Like the Zunis they are very exclusive and have never acquired the vices of civilization. The Indian nations generally, judging from the reports of early settlers and travellers in this country, were healthy people until intemperance and diseases contracted from white men began to play havoc with them. The Kickapoos have always resisted contaminating influences and preserve their pristine vigor. Possibly the fact that Sagwa keeps them robust is the reason. A desire for alcohol often arises from irregular action of the bodily system. However that may be it is a fact that derive astonishing benefit from the use of Sagwa. It appears to act upon the stomach, bowels, liver, kidneys and bladder, stimulating all of them to action; and it is never too violent a stimulant, for the Kickapoos live to a remarkable old age. They always administer the Sagwa to their sick either alone or in conjunction with their other famous remedies. The price of Sagwa is one dollar a bottle.

RED DEER.

DEBILITATED PERSONS

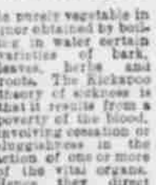
DR. EAGLE IN THE SKY

The Kickapoo Indian Oil is a very valuable remedy, affording effectual and speedy relief to all nervous and inflammatory diseases. As a quick cure for all kinds of pain it is unrivaled. The oil may be taken internally or applied externally. For children it is invaluable. The price is twenty-five cents per bottle.

The Kickapoo Indian Worm-Killer is prepared by the Kickapoos from their native herbs. It is a positive specific for the removal of stomach, seat or pin worms, whether in adults or children. It is a pleasant, safe, prompt and effective remedy, and requires no purge. The price is 25 cents per box.



STRONG BEAR.

The Kickapoo Indian Salve is made by the Kickapoo Indians from the best buffalo tallow and lard. It is a specific for skin diseases, scalding and excellent for chapping, burns, boils, piles, burns, &c. It also will kill cattle ticks. Per box.

The Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure is an invaluable Indian remedy for coughs, colds, asthma, throat and lung diseases. It is purely vegetable and pleasant to take. Its action is specific. The price of the Kickapoo Indian Cough Cure is half a dollar per bottle. These are its chief medicinal preparations in use by the Kickapoos. Their excellence is proved by the fact that they have preserved the tribe in health, notwithstanding the fact that they have been removed from their original home in the north to the centre and afterwards to the extreme south of the country, and have thus been forced to brave great climatic variations. Another proof of the superiority of these conditions is found in the enormous quantities that are being sold yearly in all parts of this country. In our home where once they have been used a supply of the Sagwa, at least, is always kept on hand for it is known to be necessary. Most every druggist sells it.
