Mrs. Ruth Townsend was accidentally shot and killed at Salt Lake with a tar get rifle in the hands of Levinia Hark-ard, the sweetheart of Mrs. Townsend's son, Arthur. Miss Harkard was aiming at a target, and Arthur Townsend, who was endeavoring to steady her aim by resting the rifle on his arm, suddenly dropped it at her request, changing the aim. Mrs. Townsend, who was standing to one side, received the discharge of the rifle, and died in ten minutes.

At Astoria Attorney Warren has commenced suit in the Circuit Court against Mayor Crosby and the city of Astoria enjoining them from levying and collect-ing taxes for 1893. The complaint alleges that there is no City Assessor au-thorized by law, and that the Council has no authority to levy a tax for this year. The case was heard before Justice McBride. City Attorney Hamilton demurred against the complaint, but the Judge overruled the demurrer and granted the injunction, saying that the county, and not the city, could be allowed to levy the tax according to the last State law. The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court at once.

It is an open question whether the time has not come to throw, as it were, halo of sentiment upon the life of the farm and to cause this halo to permeate all departments of home life and so to rob the occupation of much that now seems to make it distasteful, says the New York Ledger. To be sure farm work is hard work; but that it is harder than trucking and bricklaying, carpen-ter work or a thousand and one trades of the city it would be difficult to prove. The hours are longer, but they are spent ont of doors in the healthful, clear, bras ing, fresh air, and health and peace of mind are likely to come with them. Once his day's work is done, the town dweller has his clubroom, headquarters, saloon or some other favorite lounging with his fellows. That this discussion is any benefit to him there is grave reason to question. It makes him dissatisfied uneasy and rebellious; but, all the same he has it, and that, too, because he wants it. The farm dweller lacks this source of amusement; but he can in most localities go to the corner grocers and learn what is going on in the world, and it is safe to say that he gets a far more reasonable and healthy idea of current events than the man in the city. As the country becomes more thickly set-tled and lands are cut up in smaller sec-@17c; covered, 15@16c; short clear sides, tions, it would be the easiest thing imaginable to have a general place of meet ing in every community, A reading room with the agricultural books, papers and general literature of the business, a weekly lecture on all the newest ideas belonging to the occupation of the farm to good steers, $2,00@2.50; good to choice and an evening or so a week for purely social pleasure and amusement would do much towards making farming communities desirable places of There are many who contend that farm dressed, $6.00; lambs, $2.00(2.50; hours are too long.
