Tucker, of Virginia, who has the management of the bill, says there will be no limit placed upon the speeches in the line of legitimate discussion but as soon as it is certain that the minority is fillibustering, the committee on rules will be invoked for an order which shall compel a manifested even on the democratic side to present consideration of the proposition to repeal the federal election law. It is claimed it will detract attention from the senate, and in this way, as well as angering the republicans, endanger the cause of repeal. The answer of the southern democrats to this, is to the point. They say they have already sacrificed their opinions on silver to the position of the administration and cannot go back to their constituencies unless something is done which is desired by that section. Apart from this there is a general desire on the part of the democratic leaders to have some question brought forward, upon which political lines can married, and there is absolutely no be visibly drawn. A Flend Incornate. SPORANE, Sept. 11.-Geo. Muloch, a well-known business man of this city, late candidate for mayor and president of a political organization known as Little Tammany, was Saturday charged with the benious crime of having ontraged his 18-year-old daughter vote. A good deal of opposition is Mand. For several days past rumors have circulated to the above effect and the facts could not be verified until late last night, when the victim escaped from her brutal father's close confinement of her and she made known her terrible story.

Soon after men to the number of about 50 gathered together and went up to Muloch's residence for the purpose of making him the central figure in a lynching bee, but he had evidently become aware of their intentions and skipped, as no trace of him could

Matter of Chinese Exclusion. WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.-The house ommittee on foreign affairs met this morning to consider the Chinese exclusion matter. Chairman McCreary laid the bill introduced by Everett of Massachusetts, which is understood to be the administration measure, before them, and suggested that, lnasmuch as several had deemed it advisable, it had better be referred to a subcommittee. After some discussion this action was decided upon, and the bill was reprobable that the subcommittee will reduce the time limit to six months, and, as there is also some question about what constitutes a Chinese laborer, that term will be specifically defined. Other amendments will look to the perfection of the bill and will not affect its import. WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 .- In the senate Mills of Texas gave notice that he would address the senate Tuesday. Stewart's resolution for a committee to ascertain whether senators were interested in national banks came up. Stewart addressed the senate in advocacy of it. After a few moments he diverged into a general discussion of the silver question.

Voorbees suggested one week from today as a suitable time for closing the bate on the repeal bill; unanimous the senate.
