A How Ends in a Murder.

DRAIN, Or., Sept. 28.—September 28, in a row between Charles Koondick, and a man named Judy, living about 40 miles west of Drain, in the Loon Lake district, Judy shot and instantly killed Koondick. The row started over some land. After some hot words Judy shot Koondick with a Winchester. Judy was tried before Justice of the Peace Burchard of Scottsburg, and was found over and afterwards he was brought out to Drain on today's stage and taken to Roseburg to be lodged in jail at that place.

MONDAY, OCT. 2.
Gov. Petty, of Crowell, was in town today.
Ex-Commissioner Jennings was in town today.
W. S. Lee, of Junction, came up on the local this afternoon.
W. W. Haines went to Portland this morning to visit the exposition.
L. N. Roney tightened up the Petty bridge on the Coast Fork Friday.
A. Wheeler of Springfield went to lower valley points on business this morning.
Miss Carrie Lauer returned home this afternoon from a short visit at Portland.
Senator Dolph has sent us a copy of his speech on the repeal of the Sherman law.
Frank Mattison left on the local yesterday morning for a week's trip to Salem and Portland.
Miss Kate Farrington went to Salem yesterday and will teach school this winter near that city.
J. P. Auld went to Albany on professional business this morning and will return in a day or two.
Mrs. E. Conser and Mrs. W. Shannon are visiting for a few days at the residence of W. S. Conser in Portland.
Rosa Matthews has returned from an extended visit with friends in Illinois. He visited the world's fair during his stay.
C. F. Hartlett spent Sunday in Eugene, returning to Junction this morning. Mrs. Hartlett is reported steadily improving.
R. M. Stevens, who has been traveling with A. V. Peters dry goods wagon this summer, is back in the store again permanently.
J. R. Hays has leased the Harrisburg hotel and with his family will take possession Wednesday. Mr. Hays will occupy a position at the railroad depot.
Polk county claims a hop yield of 2500 lbs. per acre for the New Year of 28 acres, four miles above Eugene, produced nearly 2700 pounds to the acre.
Of the seven new varieties of cherries devoted worthy of special mention by Pomologist Van Denuin in his report to the Secretary of Agriculture, six originated in Oregon.
Tramps do not seem to be confined to the human species. A tramp white kitten came in on a north bound freight train last evening, being begrimed with dust and soot.
Wm. Preston left on the overland this morning for a six week's visit at the East. He will visit the fair at Chicago, and then go to his old home at Picton, West Ontario, Canada.
Chas. Baker went to Portland on the local this morning. He will remain there until Wednesday, when he will take the steamer for San Francisco or return on the Southern Pacific.
Rev. J. B. Hall's sermon at the C. P. church yesterday morning was listened to with profit, and the lecture last night illustrated with the stereopticon was par excellence. Good audiences attended each service.
Ashland Record: A big white rat crossed the path in front of a couple of Ashland ladies one day this week and caused a panic for a few moments, but one of them had presence enough of mind to say "rats" and a serious stampede was averted.
Prineville News: Crowds of men all over the county are riding after and gathering beef cattle for Eastern purchasers. Crock counts in the county not less than 6000 head of beef during the next two months. Present sales will drain this county of its steers three-year-olds and four-year-olds.
Vice-President Crocker, of the Southern Pacific, has announced that his company does not propose to make any light against the herds of tramps who are leading the way westward on freight trains. He has arrived at the conclusion that it is useless to unload the ticketless tourists, because they get aboard again in sufficient numbers to overpower the trainmen. How these are to be classified has not been announced, nor has it been decided whether they will be regarded as human freight or livestock.

Prof. J. P. Holland will go to College Grove tomorrow and the public schools will open next Monday. The beginning of the term had been postponed one week to allow Mr. Holland to secure his hop crop.
Miss Mabel Fuller, who has been visiting at the home of her parents, 5 miles west of this city, for several months, returned to Seattle this morning to resume her profession as an actress at the opening of the season.
Lebanon Advance, Sept. 29: H. J. Boyd and wife, of Eugene, were here last Friday. He will open a photographic gallery in Courtney's building in a couple of weeks. Mr. Boyd and wife are excellent people, and he is a good photographer.
Mrs. R. B. Houston stopped over here to visit friends last night. She is just returning home to Roseburg from Portland where she has been in attendance at the Grand Lodge of Pythian Sisters. She was elected Grand Senior officer for the ensuing year.
A Courageous Woman.
Daily Guard, Sept. 30.
A case of isolation and need has just come to the authorities today. A lady with two children arrived here this morning from their home in the northwestern part of Lane county. One of the children, her youngest, is only a baby while the eldest, who is also with her, is not much more than 10 years of age. The father and four remaining children, were left at their homestead which is several miles from any neighborly help. Last winter the woman was seriously ill with inflammatory rheumatism and the husband who is consumptive managed to get to this place and procure a little assistance from the county court. His disease has been gradually growing worse since, but the mother and her little children have worked what little land they have cleared and raised enough vegetables to last through the winter. They have no stock, no wheat, and no means with which to purchase flour and other necessities. The husband is too weak to travel so the woman and the two children started for the county seat to see what she could do. The first five miles they were obliged to travel over a mountain trail, that being their only outlet to a road way. From there she caught a stage and they arrived here. The county court will undoubtedly do something for the family and the Woman's Relief Corps and others benevolently inclined will also assist. The lady thinks that if they are favored with improved health another year they will be able to get along nicely on their little homestead.

Tramps Arrested.

Daily Guard, Sept. 30.
Two tramps, William Cunningham and John Wilson, were arrested about noon today by Deputy Sheriff Day, the former for larceny from a store, and the latter for receiving stolen property. They were arraigned before Justice Kinsey and Cunningham waived examination and was bound over to appear before the next grand jury. In default of bonds he was lodged in the county jail. As we go to press the court is proceeding with the examination of Wilson. It seems that Cunningham took an accordion from R. G. Gaylord's music store this morning and afterwards gave it to Wilson who carried it to camp.
The officers found the men and property in one of the holes, camps on the river bank over beyond the mill. There is said to be three camps over there altogether which contain about 20 men.

Drain Correspondence.

Sept. 27, 1893.
The Drain Normal school opened with an enrollment of 72 in the normal department and 100 in the grammar department. It is expected that the attendance will be greatly increased before the holidays.
Prof. Merle Rogers, a graduate of the Portland Business College, has been engaged as instructor in shorthand.
A glee club of twelve members has been organized under the direction of our instructor in music.
A school band has been organized consisting of sixteen members, Prof. Hickathier, director.

Enough Now.

Daily Guard, Sept. 30.
It is expected that the ice plant, owned by H. Weinhard in this city, will be shut down for the season some time next week. Since the recent rains the temperature has fallen so perceptibly that sales have been light for two or three weeks past.
The institution has been making about the same quantity of ice however, and the product has been stored away. In two buildings about 80 tons are packed away, a sufficient amount to supply the anticipated trade until after the holidays. The plant will then run for a few days until enough ice has been manufactured to last until the next season opens in the spring.

Season Closed.

Methodist Church Services.

As formerly announced the pastor, Rev. D. N. McIntariff preached this morning and evening. The congregations were very large. The singing was excellent. The Sunday school was larger than it has been for months and the pastor had a good time. Mr. McIntariff announced that he would begin a course of Sunday evening sermons on the martyrs next Sunday evening. The outlook for this church was never so good as now.

Straw Market.

It has been suggested that the increased business transacted at the county clerk's office today would seem to indicate that a significant hearing on the price of straw this winter.

THE PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Officers Elected and Other Proceedings.
Daily Guard, Sept. 30.
At the meeting of the Oregon Press Association in Portland yesterday the following officers were elected:
President—Ira L. Campbell, Guard, Eugene.
First vice-president—Lau Peterson, Commercial Review, Portland.
Second vice-president—Mrs. W. J. Plymale, Times, Jacksonville.
Secretary—Albert Tozier, Pacific Farmer, Portland.
Treasurer—C. C. Doughty, Observer, Dallas.
Executive committee—E. L. E. White, Chronicle, East Portland; W. A. Wheeler, Old Fellows, Portland; John R. Beagle, Independent, Hillsboro.
The National Editorial Association was invited to hold its next meeting in Portland.
A resolution was offered by J. R. Eddy that all newspapers in the state in referring to Chinese or Mongolian plebeians hereafter designate them as Denny plebeians, in honor of O. N. Denny, to whom the honor of importing them is due. It was adopted.
Captain George H. Moffatt stated that Rev. Arthur J. Brown, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, had extended an invitation for the members of the Press Association to attend the service at his church Sunday evening. After some discussion the invitation was accepted, and the association decided to attend in a body.
At 8 o'clock this morning a special train conveying the Association left for Hood river, where a dinner will be served, and the newspaper men driven around to see the fine fruit farms of that section.
At 10 o'clock tonight a banquet will be served at the Portland Hotel.

University Notes.

Daily Guard, Sept. 30.
Both instructors and students are becoming more accustomed to the new hours of recitation adopted at the beginning of this year. The meeting of the whole body of students with the faculty at chapel, in Villard hall at 8:45 every morning, is a custom inaugurated by Dr. Chapman which is not an unpleasant feature and must be fruitful of good effects.
The senior class now numbers thirteen, three additional members having arrived this year.
The Laurean society held the first quarterly election of officers for the present year at last night's meeting. The successful ones were: F. W. Mulkey, president; C. W. Keene, vice president; Owen Vanduyn, secretary; Leo Travis, assistant secretary; H. A. Davis, treasurer; L. T. Harris, censor; P. J. Brantlin, editor; W. C. Smith, sergeant-at-arms.
The dormitory building is fast nearing completion. The plastering is partly done and only awaits the addition of the hard finish. The steam fittings are all in and the foundation for the boiler and engine is being built. A few finishing touches, the drying of the plaster and the new building will be ready for the furniture which the executive committee of the board of regents will make arrangements for in due time.

Assessment Raised.

The board of equalization for Lane county has concluded its labors for the present year. A number of minor corrections were made in the smaller assessments but one item of considerable importance was the raising of the assessment of the Southern Pacific Company's roadbed.
It was assessed at $5000 per mile last year and the state board of equalization raised it to per cent making it $3850. This year it was again assessed at $3500 and the county board raised it to $4000 per mile. As there are 47.77 miles in this county it makes quite an item and still an even higher assessment would not be unjust. The assessment on the company's rolling stock, etc., was left unchanged, $555.75 per mile.

Discharged.

Daily Guard, September 29.
Nicholas Behart, the tailor who was brought back from Ashland on the charge of taking a breast-pin from the residence of J. Davies, had an examination yesterday afternoon before Justice Kinsey. E. O. Potter appeared for the prosecution and L. Bilyeu for the defense. No evidence being introduced to prove his guilt Behart was discharged from custody and will get back to his job at Ashland the best he can.

A Fitting Selection.

The Oregonian says: The selection of Ira Campbell, of Eugene, for the president of the State Press Association, was a very fitting one. None of the Oregon editors is more consistently a newspaper man. He devotes himself entirely to his paper, and succeeds in a way that discounts the efforts of those who are always babbling in three or four outside enterprises. The way to succeed in any calling is to stick to it, and Mr. Campbell uniformly does.

Hobo Army.

Daily Guard, Oct. 2.
There were more tramps than passengers on the Roseburg local train this afternoon. Besides a number, who managed to escape the vigilance of the train employes, and take breakfast and blind baggage passage out on the train, 15 more composed a gang which went up the track on foot after the train had started. A number of others are about the city and their rendezvous on the river bank and the afterward gang will doubtless not leave the city immediately so it might be said that this afternoon Eugene is almost taken by an army of hobos.

Fixed and Hatched.

Daily Guard, Sept. 29.
FIXED AND HATCHED.—In a 3 mile race at Albany yesterday, the mare, Pappoose, owned in Eugene, ran third. The race was declared off, however, and was set for today. The Herald says: The judges ruled the owner of Pappoose $100 and fined the rider off the track for foul riding but afterwards when it was shown the rider was an inexperienced boy the fine was remitted, the rider rescinded and the race ordered run today. His offense consisted in running against Pappoose and crowding him into the ditch.

Miniature Ferris Wheel.

Daily Guard, Oct. 2.
The miniature Ferris wheel in Yoran & Son's window is attracting considerable attention.
