

TUESDAY, OCT 10.

It is lawful to kill deer until November 1.

Mrs. Dr. Powell Reeves is in Salem attending circuit court.

H. C. Hunter and Alex Eaton, of Creswell, were in town today.

Several families of immigrants arrived on the local this afternoon.

Holiday's teams arrived with considerable Yaquma freight last night.

J. W. Christian presented this office with a raspberry twig full of ripe berries today.

The state printing office is working on the 23d volume of Oregon supreme court reports.

J. P. Curran and Thomas Swift came down from Cottage Grove on the local this morning.

Hon. R. M. Veatch, of Cottage Grove went to Portland on this morning's local train.

Mrs. Walter Ross went to Harrisburg on the local this morning for a visit with relatives.

F. W. Olson and wife were in Boston a few days ago, looking over the sights in "The Hub."

Two thousand fence posts were carried away by the high water, belonging to a Dexter man.

J. P. Meeker, of Puyallup, Washington, and F. M. Templeton, of Salem, hop buyers, are in Eugene.

H. R. Kincaid and wife of the Journal were registered at the Hotel Perkins in Portland yesterday.

Frank Page, while cutting a cheese yesterday, let the knife slip and carved off one of his fingers quite badly.

Hop buyers reported not so eager today. Still, extra choice hops will readily bring 18 cents per pound.

Mrs. M. F. Baker and family have moved from Franklin to Eugene where they will henceforth reside.

The government appropriation for surveys in Oregon for the current fiscal year is $11,000 against $20,000 last year.

Gov. McGraw denies the rumor that he will call a special session of the legislature to elect a senator to the senatorial vacancy.

Work on the Blair and west Eighth streets improvement has been suspended for the present, on account of the rainy weather.

It is now stated that of the democratic United States senators, 21 favor the repeal of the Sherman act and 23 are against such procedure.

G. C. Greene and family arrived from their eastern home today, on a visit at the residence of Mrs. Greene's father, J. U. Green of this city.

C. A. Graff, convicted of larceny from the dwelling of Mrs. Maggie Horn, was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary, at Portland, yesterday.

A. N. Gilbert, of Marion county, has been sent to the poor farm. As this is the name of the postmaster at Salem our readers must not jump to a hasty conclusion.

J. L. Scott and family, who have been visiting at the residence of B. B. Scott at Creswell for several weeks, were in town today taking advantage of Eugene prices.

A small cyclone occurred at Independence, Oregon, yesterday afternoon. The only damage done was the upsetting of woodsheds, barns, etc., and some young trees were torn up.

Dr. W. H. Barr came down from the Foley Springs. He reports the roads in a terrible condition and nearly impassable. He was delayed one day by the high water in the McKenzie river.

T. C. Mackey, of Gardiner, health officer of the Port at the mouth of the Umpqua river, resigned sometime ago. Governor Pennoyer Monday appointed Dr. J. L. Elwood, of Gardiner, to fill the vacancy.

John H. Atwood, the defaulter Portland bookkeeper for Jacob Kamm, who disappeared last July, surrendered himself to the sheriff at that place yesterday. He had been to other and foreign cities.

The Portland Telegram is authority for the statement that an Italian there took the money his wife needed to buy shoes for their children invested it in a lottery and drew $750 and then immediately left for Italy. Decidedly thin.

The Sunday mail from Florence, due here Sunday, has not yet put in its appearance. High water and bad roads are probably responsible for the delay.

Since writing the above, the Florida stage arrived at noon today.

The contracts for the carrying of the United States mail in all sections of the country from July 1, 1894, to June 30, 1895, will be let on February 1, 1895, and the bids must be received at Washington sixty days before that time.

P. B. Johnson of the Walla Walla Union has been removed as a member of the board of penitentiary directors and Geo. T. Berry appointed to the vacancy. Johnson is charged with malfeasance in office, in that he sold grain bags from the penitentiary jail mill to Umatilla county farmers.

W. H. Hoffman arrived home on this afternoon's train from a visit of six weeks to the world's fair and eastern cities. He still thinks this is the best country in the world. His wife, and James Hoffman and family will arrive home on tonight's train. The entire party arrived in Portland Sunday.

A correspondent in speaking of Dr. Bushnell's lecture delivered at the C. P. church last Saturday evening, on "Alaska," says: "His description of that great country and its resources and the customs of its people, is well worth the attention of students of nature, geography, commerce and finance."

H. C. Humphrey and L. N. Boney returned last afternoon from their hunting trip up the McKenzie. On account of the rainy weather their friends in Eugene will have to go hungry for venison. In fact, the boys one day had nothing to satisfy their hunger but Oregon wild grapes, and they are now busy recuperating.

Albany Democrat: County assessors have a hard job under the new law. The assessment has to be made to cover the property in each school district, hence requiring an immense amount of figuring as a great many taxpayers own property in several districts. In the matter of the S. P. R. Co.'s property this is alone a big job.

Yesterday was "Chicago day" at the world's fair. The total attendance was 751,029, of which 715,626 were paid admissions.

Wm. F. Westlake died at Portland last week. A book indicated that he had worked for G. Long, at Halsey, and that perhaps his name was W. H. King. He claimed to have a daughter teaching school in Albany.

The dwelling occupied by E. E. Parish in Albany, and owned by D. B. Montieth caught fire last evening. The house was about half consumed. The loss is about $2000. The contents were insured for $1500. The house was uninsured.

It was currently reported that the famous mink mines located near Hildie's station, Douglas county, have been sold to the Anglo-American Mining Company by W. Q. Brown, the discoverer and Mr. Riddle, a part owner. The purchase price was not mentioned. The company, so the report ran, had been capitalized at $1,500,000, and intends to engage in the manufacture of combination mink fur armor plate for bathrobes. The mine is said to be very rich. Some place its value at $8,000,000 and others at a smaller figure.

The mine in the opinion of many is the most valuable mine in the state. It is a wonderful deposit unlike any other in the world save one. The single prototype is the nickel mine in New Caledonia, an island in the South Pacific ocean.

Leggette Landrith Still Lives.

Coo Bay Sun: Two weeks ago we published an account of the mysterious disappearance of Leggette Landrith, a well-to-do Coo river farmer, and now it turns out that he has skipped and his putting his gun and hat in the boat was only to decoy the public. His wife, the other day, so the report comes from reliable parties, told of her husband's actions to several friends. Landrith, before his departure, shaved off his "locks" and took all the money in the house, even his children's pin money and started for the valley via Loon lake.

The general impression seems to be that the motive that prompted Landrith to leave was the fear of his connection with burning of his barn. He had been carrying $1500 insurance on his barn and contents, and on the 26th day of July last, four days after he paid the policy, the structure went up in smoke. Landrith was in town the day before his disappearance and agreed with the underwriters to accept $500, but his wife was not satisfied with that amount. In the course of the conversation the underwriter told Mr. Landrith that his company would probably inquire a little further into the origin of the fire. The next day Mrs. Landrith came to town to accept the proposition made by the representative of the insurance company, but before she returned home her husband had skipped out.

DAILY NEWS, OCT. 10.

NEARLY STARVED.—An immigrant family with ten children arrived at the McKenzie bridge the first of the week from Oklahoma, having been on the road since the middle of April.

The night previous to their arrival on the bridge they camped on the summit of the Cascades in the snow, with not a bite to eat. When they arrived at Powers they were in a pitiful condition and nearly starved, and ate raw potatoes readily not waiting for a meal to be cooked. They were taken care of by Mr. Powers and furnished with all the food needed, and they were about the happiest mortals in the state. The last heard of the family they were at George Milligan's slowly making their way toward Eugene.

SUN ECLIPSE.—At 10:20, Oct. 9 the smoked glasses were in great demand to get views of the eclipsed sun as it escaped at times from the clouds of flying Oregon mist. Computations show that the eclipse was first noticeable from Mount Hamilton at 10:21:30 a.m., Pacific standard time at 10 deg 45 min, north of the sun's west point, and at 12:56:33 p.m., at 12 deg 41 min, east of the sun's south point. At Eugene the contacts occurred a minute later than at Mount Hamilton. Similarly for points east and southeast of Mount Hamilton the contacts took place later. At the time of the greatest eclipse the moon obscured the southwestern half of the sun for observers in Oregon. The day being cloudy, there was a noticeable darkness caused by the eclipse.

NOT NEEDED.—A member of the board of trade last week had an interview with Major Handbury on the advisability of sending the U. S. snag boat here to further clear out the river.

Mr. Handbury in reply stated that the river was now clear of all snags, and that it would be a useless expense to send the boat to work on the river between here and Harrisburg. He further said that at any time snags were found in the channel he would gladly have them removed at once.

The river between here and Harrisburg, Mr. Handbury stated, was in a much better condition than between the last named town and Corvallis, and he was glad to learn that the steamer intended running to Eugene this winter.

DAILY NEWS, OCT. 10.

SERENADE.—The Eugene Cornell Band favored G. D. Lynn, who has been one of their most active and popular members for several years, with a serenade and surprise at his rooms in Mrs. Fitch's residence last night. The occasion was a birthday anniversary denoting that the gentleman was a quarter of a century old. Mrs. Fitch was prepared for the surprise and a luncheon was set forth to which the boys did ample justice. The music was enjoyable, and the occasion was one long to be remembered by Mr. Lynn and his co-workers in the band. May he live to be four times as old.

DAILY NEWS, OCT. 10.

NOT FOUND YET.—Dr. Barr informs us that the gentleman who recently took charge of the Lewis homestead, above the McKenzie bridge claims he has a letter written by Mr. Lewis, the man who suddenly disappeared from that section, and that he is still in the land of the living and all right. For some reason, though, the man refuses to give Lewis' present address or the cause of his sudden disappearance.

DAILY NEWS, OCT. 10.

BORN.—To the wife of J. O. Kelley, in this city on Monday, October 8, a 10-pound boy. All doing well.

DAILY NEWS, OCT. 10.

NOT FOUND YET.—Dr. Barr informs us that the gentleman who recently took charge of the Lewis homestead, above the McKenzie bridge claims he has a letter written by Mr. Lewis, the man who suddenly disappeared from that section, and that he is still in the land of the living and all right. For some reason, though, the man refuses to give Lewis' present address or the cause of his sudden disappearance.

DAILY NEWS, OCT. 10.

LEWIS.—To the wife of J. O. Kelley, in this city on Monday, October 8, a 10-pound boy. All doing well.

DAILY NEWS, OCT. 10.

FERDINAND DE LESESNE DYING.—Paris, Oct. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesesne is near death. His son Charles and wife are at his bedside, and the end of the great engineer may be expected at any moment.

DAILY NEWS, OCT. 10.

Annual Reception.

The annual reception of the senior class at the State University was given at Villard Hall last Saturday evening. As usual nearly the whole number of students enrolled was present beside a large number of the alumni and friends. One peculiarity of these socials is that they are given under the auspices of the senior class each year and the feeling of good-will and co-operation thus generated is felt throughout the whole year. The members of the class of '94 number 14 and are Melissa Hill, Amy Powell, Mary Collier, Carrie Friendley, Miss Wolf, E. M. Underwood, I. M. Glen, G. W. Welch, P. J. Brattain, W. E. Rowe, G. W. Jones, J. A. Laurie, Frank Matthews and J. B. Rowe.

The exercises were opened with a piano solo by Miss Carrie Horvey, a graduate of the conservatory of music. Mrs. Fletcher Linn sang "Gay Chant the Summer Birds," by De Pinna, and was heartily encoreed.

The address of the evening was delivered by President Chapman, and his remarks were reassuring and well received. The main thoughts were in substance as follows:

"Eastern universities surpass us in fine buildings, libraries, laboratories and long lists of eminent alumni, but we surpass them in our spirit of refinement and mutual courtesy. This gathering would not be possible in most Eastern colleges. There new students are subjected to all kinds of outrages and sometimes their lives endangered by hazing. Hazing has never flourished in co-education. Women introduce refinement and true manliness into colleges as into the home. To them our new students undoubtedly owe the possibility of this charming reception and welcome. The welcome means that the door of a career is now open to you—that you have access to the masterpieces of literary art, to the sciences and to the influence of excellent instructors. But the welcome is not meant solely for you who are here—it is meant for the hundreds of young men and women all over the state of Oregon who ought to be here and are not. We want them here; this University belongs to the youth of Oregon and we want them to enjoy its benefits."

Following the address L. M. Glen rendered a vocal solo and was called to respond to an encore. Miss Hill, president of the class, then invited the assembled students and friends to enjoy themselves in a general social time which they proceeded to do. The Kraiss Mandolin Club furnished excellent music for the balance of the evening which was very profitably spent by all present, strengthening old friendships and forming new acquaintances.

The Trespass Law.

The last session of the Oregon legislature enacted a trespass law the provisions of which are not generally known, and sportsmen may profit by reading the same over carefully. We publish the law by request in full:

SECTION 1.—It shall be unlawful for any person other than an officer on lawful business, being armed with a gun, pistol or other firearm to go or trespass upon enclosed premises or lands without the consent of the owner or possessor thereof.

SECTION 2.—It shall be unlawful for any person to shoot upon or from the public highways.

SECTION 3.—It shall be unlawful for any person being armed with a gun or other firearm, to cause, permit or suffer any dog accompanying such person, to go or enter upon any enclosed premises without the consent of the owner or possessor thereof; provided that this section shall not apply to dogs in pursuit of deer or varmints.

SECTION 4.—Any persons violating the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not less than fifteen dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and in default of the payment of the fine shall be committed to the county jail of the county in which the offense is committed, one day for every two dollars of the said fine.

SECTION 5.—Justices of the Peace for the county proper shall have jurisdiction of offenses herein defined.

MARRIAGE.—Portland Sunday Tribune: "Mr. J. Freeman and Miss Henrietta Strelzfelder of this city were married at the residence of the bride's parents last Sunday by Rev. Dr. Bloch. The numerous friends of the young people, wish them a long and happy life." Miss Strelzfelder spent her early childhood in Eugene, and has many friends here who offer their congratulations.

PRECARIOUS.—It is learned that Rev. J. O. Travis, who was injured in a runaway accident near Oakland some weeks since, has been in a perilous condition the last few days. Yesterday his ankle was so bad that it was thought for a time that an amputation of the lower leg would be necessary but today we are glad to hear the report that the reverend gentleman is materially improved.

Short in His Accounts.

TUCSON, Oct. 10.—The finance committee of the Choctaw council which is in session here has discovered a further shortage in the accounts of ex-Treasurer Green McCutkin. Besides $100,000 of the lease of the district mines, there is a still larger amount of the general fund that has not been accounted for. Dr. E. H. Wright, national agent, has his report ready to submit. It shows that $100,000 was collected on royalties and turned over to Treasurer McCutkin, which he failed to account for in his report and only turned over $10,000 to the general fund. Tonight Governor Locke sent McCutkin a letter by a courier stating that the United States commander at this place had informed him that unless McCutkin delivered all moneys due the nation by him the commander will arrest him and place him in the hands of the authorities for investigation.

THE CRUISER BOSTON.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Orders have been received from Washington for the United States cruiser Boston to go out of commission. She proceeded to Mare Island this morning, and on arrival there the crew will be paid off.

President Cleveland Censured.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The state anti-Chinese convention resolved that President Cleveland and his cabinet be censured for the non-enforcement of the Geary act. Congress will be called upon to refuse extension of the time of registration. Organizations in sympathy with the movement are requested to insist on the Geary act being enforced and a committee of 11 members will be formed to carry out the resolutions.

FERDINAND DE LESESNE DYING.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesesne is near death. His son Charles and wife are at his bedside, and the end of the great engineer may be expected at any moment.

FERDINAND DE LESESNE DYING.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesesne is near death. His son Charles and wife are at his bedside, and the end of the great engineer may be expected at any moment.

FERDINAND DE LESESNE DYING.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesesne is near death. His son Charles and wife are at his bedside, and the end of the great engineer may be expected at any moment.

FERDINAND DE LESESNE DYING.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesesne is near death. His son Charles and wife are at his bedside, and the end of the great engineer may be expected at any moment.

FERDINAND DE LESESNE DYING.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesesne is near death. His son Charles and wife are at his bedside, and the end of the great engineer may be expected at any moment.

FERDINAND DE LESESNE DYING.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesesne is near death. His son Charles and wife are at his bedside, and the end of the great engineer may be expected at any moment.

FERDINAND DE LESESNE DYING.

PARIS, Oct. 8.—Count Ferdinand de Lesesne is near death. His son Charles and wife are at his bedside, and the end of the