CLEVELAND IS A SICK MAN.

Went to New York to Consult a Physician.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—An afternoon paper says: "Light is beginning to down upon the object of President Cleveland's hurried and mysterious visit to this city Wednesday. Notwithstanding the statement that Cleveland is enjoying the best of health, it is understood today that such is really not the case. Rumors have been traced to a prominent surgeon of this city, who is in the confidence of Cleveland's professional advisers. He has stated the real object of the president's visit here was to get advice about a painful coccygeal abscess which he has. Dr. Bryant, Cleveland's physician, when seen, refused to affirm or deny the rumor about his patient's new affliction."

Fatal Fight Between Brothers

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 17.—Down at Lee creek, David and Bradford Amos, brothers and well-to-do farmers, had a disagreement a few days ago but the quarrel was believed to have been amicably settled. Bradford Amos came here yesterday and got drunk and started home threatening to kill his brother. Before the brother could be warned, Bradford came up and tackled him with a knife, cutting and stabbing him on the arms, back, head, neck and breast, inflicting terrible wounds. David tried to run but could not. Then he picked up a heavy stone and struck Bradford on the head crushing his skull and fatally injuring him.

Death of Prince Alexander.

GRATZ, Nov. 17.—Prince Alexander of Battenberg died at noon. He was recently prince of Bulgaria and a brother of the late empress of Russia. He served in the Russian army during the war with Turkey. He was elected hereditary prince of Bulgaria in 1879. By consenting to the union of the two Bulgaries he incurred the displeasure of the czar and through the machination of Russian agents his army revolted in 1886 and forced him to abdicate. In 1889, under the name of Tomte de Hartenau, he married the celebrated actress Amalia Louisinger and retired to his estates. His death was the result of inflammation of the bowels.

Still Believe in Mrs. Lease

TOPEKA, Kan., Kan., Nov. 16.—Populist leaders emphatically deny that a formal demand has been made on Governor Lewelling for the removal of Mrs. Mary E. Lease from the state board of charities. It is expected she will make an explanation of her attack on the administration which will be satisfactory. It is said that Governor Lewelling and the state officers are especially interested in bringing about a reconciliation, as they want no opposition to a renomination.

SIX SPASMS A DAY.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

GENTLEMEN: I never lose an opportunity to recommend Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine to any one afflicted with nervous complaints with the assurance that it will not disappoint them. When our boy was eighteen months old he was attacked with violent spasms. Sometimes he would have five or six spasms in a single day. WE TRIED MANY PHYSICIANS WITHOUT BENEFIT; finally our druggist recommended Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. We tried a bottle, and could see that he WAS BENEFITED FROM THE FIRST DOSE. We used three bottles, and I am happy to say the child was ENTIRELY CURED. We used no other remedy, and his cure is complete. He is now three years old and perfectly healthy. You are at liberty to use my name in SOUNDING THE PRAISE OF THIS WONDERFUL REMEDY.

CLOSSET & DEVERS, PORTLAND, Or.

TUESDAY, NOV. 21.

Hop buyers continue plentiful.

The roads are reported as becoming better.

Dr. Powell Reeves was in Eugene last night.

Frank Gilstrap left on last night's train for Tulare, Cal.

The trustees of the soldiers' home meet in Roseburg today.

The Pendleton Savings bank resumed business yesterday.

L. H. Montayne, an Albany attorney, was in Eugene today.

Attorney H. D. Norton, of Junction City, was in Eugene today.

Herbert Eakin, a Cottage Grove merchant, visited Eugene today.

It is thought the new tariff bill will be given to the press next Monday.

Mrs. Dr. Powell Reeves and sister arrived here on this afternoon's train.

Attorney J. M. Williams visited Cottage Grove last night on legal business.

There were five civil cases commenced before Justice Kinsey yesterday.

The plumbing work on the University dormitory building is delaying its completion.

The county jail now has three boarders, but one of them is the guest from another state.

Mrs. S. A. Hulin went to Harrisburg this morning to join her husband at that place.

D. E. Rice and Hank Owens left for the former's homestead on the Siuslaw this morning.

Two companies of the state militia, located at Fossil and Condon, have disbanded during the past week.

The farmers are sowing more fall wheat than ever before. The ground is in splendid condition for farming.

President Chapman of the State University returned on last night's overland train from a short visit to Salem.

For lung protectors, trusses, syringes, chamois skins, combs, brushes and all toilet articles go to Yerington's Ninth street drug store.

As I lay awake at dead of night,
And toss upon my restless bed,
I wish the tax on barking dogs,
Was $40,000 a head.

About 700 men jumped lots in Spokane Falls yesterday belonging to the N. P. R. R. It is not believed they have any show of holding them.

The hunting party that returned last night disagree as to the number of deer killed. A character like 0 would probably about express the the number.

Monday's Albany Democrat: Mr. Van Wilson returned this noon from Eugene, where he spent Sunday, the guest of his sister, Mrs. Chas. B. Watson.

Hays & Butler expect to have 30 acres of their Creswell farm planted to hops by the end of the week. During the winter they will plant 20 acres more.

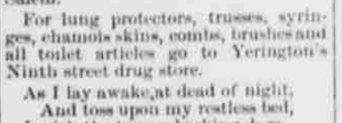
Wm. G. Obenauer, who published a city directory of Eugene a year or two ago, was announced to marry Miss Belle Strasburg, formerly of Albany, at Oakland, Cal., today.

Messrs. Fisk, Roney, Paine and Chamberlin returned yesterday from a week's trip to Winbury creek. They had fair success, but report very cold and dry weather in the mountains.

An exchange says it has written to Governor Pennoyer to learn on what dates he proposes to have Christmas and New Years; and while at it he might as well settle the time for Washington's birthday, decoration day and the 4th of July.

Among the church and religious notices of the Portland papers last Sunday is this: "At the First Secular church the evening's entertainment will be concluded with a progressive whist party and other games. All is free and everybody is cordially invited."

The



and tramps are going south.

Salem Journal: Dr. C. H. Chapman, president of the University of Oregon, will begin a series of university extension lectures on English literature, at the Y. M. C. A. rooms in the near future. Dr. Chapman is endeavoring to unite all the colleges of Oregon in carrying on this great educational movement now so prominent in the East.

An exchange has this: Mrs. Sylvester Pennoyer says she will observe both thanksgivings. Pennoyer's day she will celebrate with a big goose and and apple sauce, and Cleveland's day with a fine turkey and lots of cranberry mash. Now, when it comes to getting even with her husband the governor, Mrs. Sylvester is "at home."

The last issue of the State University Reflector says: At a class meeting held in Professor Condon's room on Monday afternoon, Messrs Glen and Jones were chosen orators for the preliminary oratorical contest, Mr. J. P. Rowe was elected vice president and Messrs. W. E. Rowe, P. J. Brattain and Miss Powell were appointed a committe on choosing a class trey.

The Albany Democrat gets off the following one on a lady and gentleman who have many friends in Eugene. Mr. and Mrs. Sam May and one of their eight girls, of Harrisburg, spent Sunday with Albany relatives. As each of the girls has a brother the fact will be appreciated that Mr. and Mrs. May, have their hands full keeping track of their children.

Woodburn Independent: 'What for! No good?' Was the exclamation of a Chinaman in the postoffice store yesterday. He came in the other day three miles to buy a sack of flour and by a mistake got buckwheat flour. Not knowing it was worth four times as much, he tramped back in high dudgeon and brought his sack of buckwheat on his shoulder crying out in Celestial disgust, "What for! No good!"

The Olympia's Trial Trip.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—The United States cruiser Olympia is coaling and making final preparations for the government trial. It is understood that Commander Cotton, president of the official board of inspectors has issued orders for the cruiser to proceed to sea Wednesday. The speed course that the war vessel will run over will be from Point Sur down through Santa Barbara channel. Fairly smooth water may be counted upon over this section of the coast, and a most successful trip is anticipated.

An Incendiary Fire.

RIO RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 20.—An incendiary fire at Keno Saturday night destroyed $200,000 worth of lumber.

Those Milton bank robbers would have been good ones to operate on some of the suspended banks. They might be able to get out money that depositors failed to secure.

While west Eighth street is being graveled the other portion of the street over which gravel is hauled is cut up and badly damaged. A city law shauld be passed requiring gravel wagons to be supplied with a four inch tire.

Portland Welcome: If we felt like indulging in a bit of Republican idiocy it would say: The people wanted a "change"—and got it, with a big C. But where's the good times that were to follow? It is twelve days since the change was effected.

Hundreds of acres of new orchards and hop fields will be planted in Lane county this season. It is the road to future prosperity. Land that produces now practically no income, if used in those industries, will furnish employment to many laborers and reward the owners with fair returns.

While the exporters are pleading for the retention of the protective duty on coal, West Virginia is exporting coke to Mexico, and though the McKinley bill raised the duty on carpets up to 60 or 100 per cent., to protect our carpet manufacturers against foreign importers, a mill at Yonkers, N. Y., is shipping carpets to England where they are sold in open competition with English goods.

Tariff reform has waited long, but it will not be postponed much longer. The conclusion of the silver struggle makes way for the new work, and the administration has had full time to be prepared and is well prepared for the work of legislation. There will be a united effort to redeem this pledge of the Chicago platform, and to this effort the people of the country will lend the support which they pledged a year ago.

What a pity for Governor McKinley that the republican national convention is not held this fall. A whole lot of things are liable to happen in three years, William. And after the country shall have enjoyed the benefits of a low tariff and commercial liberty for three winters and two summers we fear the spring of 1896 will find you a back number, William, and our republican friends skirmishing about for a new candidate.

The Hood River Glacier: Sidney Dell has it again—that is to say, he is again troubled with a wild desire to write, and this time on the "financial question." It is a subject that is wonderfully attractive, and that's the reason we like to get a whack at it ourselves. We all like to write about the things we do not possess. Hence Sidney Dell and Moffett and the balance of us penny-a-liners can roll from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000 under our tongues and never gag. And a "bilyun" of us couldn't dig up money enough to buy a shote with.

About two weeks ago Comptroller Eckels issued an order that all loan and trust companies, building and loan associations and other financial institutions, except national banks, having the word "national" in their names, must drop the word. An agent of the government was recently in Olympia and called the attention of the state officials to the order. In obedience to this command the National Building and Loan Association of Walla Walla filed amended articles of incorporation, striking out the word "national" and substituting there for the words "Inter State."

There are a large class in every community who want an editor to indulge in personal criticisms that would gratify their jealousies, spites and vanities, but which would very probably result in considerable pecuniary loss to the editor, yet they are unwilling to assist the newspaper to any extent. They want the editor to fight their battles for them, but are unwilling to furnish any of the "munitions of war" in the way of patronage which will keep the paper going. Again, it is a very common occurrence for reports to be brought to our sanctum that so and so stole a horse, killed a deer, or run in some stray sheep, and demands us to ventilate the affair, but caution us not to use their name in connection with it. In such instances, this paper gives but little attention to such reports.

The Vancouver Columbian says: There is nothing strange in the fact that the Washington state building at the world's fair is in the hands of the sheriff, but nevertheless it is humiliating to the people who prided themselves on our wonderful exhibit. When we think of the money it has cost the state, and now of the unwholesome comments throughout the union which we will receive it is humiliating indeed. While the great state of Washington is one of the wealthiest states in the union, to the world it is a bankrupt. The unfavorable advertising we will now get will go along way toward counteracting the beneficial results from our exhibit. The laurels won by Oregon, who modestly spent but $50,000 on her exhibit, are permanent, while those of her purse-proud sister, though dearly bought will be as flitting as the morning dew.

The political schemers will soon begin to repair their old fences.

The Portland Mercury is in trouble and all because it is not a decent newspaper. It panders to the depraved instincts of men and women some of whom claim respectability. The prosecution comes none too soon.

Salem Democrat: "And now the Louisiana sugar growers are protesting against the removal of the sugar bounty. Yet there is no more reason why there should be a bounty on Louisiana sugar than on Oregon wheat. It will have to go." The correct idea.

Winter is approaching and those with means should remember the poor in our midst. There are other ways to do this besides direct charity. Odd jobs about gardens, houses and fields, that are not absolutely necessary, can be done thus giving work and means of sustenance to men who are anxious and willing to work.

The longest ocean cable in the world is that of the Eastern Telegraph Company, whose system extends from England to India and measures 21,000 miles, says Kate Field's Washington. Africa is now completely encircled by submarine cables, which make up altogether a length of 17,000 miles. There are 11 cables across the North Atlantic, though not all of them are at present in use. Five companies control the lines of telegraphic communication between this country and Europe.

The women of California assisted by the churches, seem to be doing well in getting signatures to petitions looking forward to reforming the press, in particular the occasional issues of the Police Gazette style of the great dailies. Lately several of the dailies endeavored to outdo each other in publishing and picturing all the horrors of murders and butchering done by doctors which no doubt led the women to make a movement to reform the press. It is expected that 500,000 women will sign the petition.

John Hansen, who murdered his wife, complains that none of his former friends come to see him, says the Astoria Herald. Probably his former friends are not accustomed to associate with murderers. No one has any use for a man who will murder his wife, and the sooner he goes to hell the better will his friends and the community be. The cold-blooded assassin should not be allowed to see any one. Hanging is too good for him. He was a common drunken brute while alive. He abused himself and family, and was a disgrace to the community. Let him die like a dog.

"Poor Indian" is no more applicable to Mr. Lo! He is the rich Indian now. Since the Cherokees sold their lands in Indian territory for nearly $10,000,000, some long-prevalent notions as to the poverty of the aborigines have been dispelled. If the Indian has been plundered and mistreated in the past, he is now benefiting by the very conditions under which he suffered. The prodigious increase in the country's population, has made the great reserved tracts in the West so desirable that, incredible as it may seem, the Indians that occupy them can get a fair price for them.

Gov. Flower, of New York, has an able article in the North American Review on the subject of good roads, and how best to get them. Gov. Flower is a man of acknowledged business ability, and his remarks are as applicable to Oregon as to New York state. "I venture to say," he writes, there is not a county "in New York which, if it would bond itself for a million dollars and invest the money in the scientific construction of highways, would not in five years have increased the valuation of its real estate many times the amount of the investment. But that would be only a small part of the gain. The greater part would be in the saving of wagon transportation, a saving in vehicles, a saving in horses, a saving in time, a saving in labor, a saving in risks, a saving in markets."

GENERAL CARLIN'S SON

Search for the Missing Has Had to Be Abandoned.

MISSOULA, Mont., Nov. 21.—The search for the Carlin party, consisting of a son of General Carlin and friends, has been abandoned by the military authorities, the expedition having been given up as hopeless. Every human effort at rescue was made, even to endangering the lives of soldiers and the loss of wagons and other equipments. The snow is too deep and impenetrable, and where no snow exists the streams are greatly swelled. In fact, it is now feared the rescuing party will be unable to return at once, as the Lolo river, which must be crossed over 30 times, is impassable. General Carlin, from Vancouver, expressed the belief that his son and companions will perish in the mountains, though he has offered a large reward to any one who will venture their rescue. Still there is a possibility that they may have found shelter with trappers, though this will not be known before spring.

Beer Only 10 Cents Per Gallon.

OAKLAND, Nov. 21.—The local sensation of the day here is the reduction of $2 per barrel on the price of beer, declared yesterday by the English syndicate, which controls all the breweries on this side of the bay, except the Washington, in this city and the American of Berkeley, making the present price $3 per barrel of 30 gallons. The object evidently is to crush out all opposition to the English syndicate.

The Queen May Be Restored.

CHICAGO, Nov. 20.—The following Washington special appears in the afternoon papers:

"He laughs best who laughs last." The republicans are having a great deal of fun over Saturday's news from Hawaii. They are pleased to refer to the affair as a fiasco. Neither the president nor the secretary of state is feeling a bit chagrined, however, and when the next steamer arrives from Hawaii it is expected they will then have their turn to laugh. The dispatch from Minister Willis has been translated. Its contents cannot be published at present, however. The greatest secrecy is maintained at the state department in regard to it and everything else connected with Hawaii, but a correspondent has it from very high diplomatic authority that there is very little doubt the queen has by this time been restored to the throne. The question will be asked, Why the delay in restoring the queen? Why wasn't she restored, if at all, before the Australian sailed? It would be necessary to print Minister Willis' cipher dispatch to answer these questions, but one of the most experienced members of the diplomatic corps gives this explanation: National affairs cannot be transacted so speedily as affairs of individuals. A great deal must be left to the discretion of the diplomatic representative on the ground. I should not be surprised, however, to learn that when the Australian left Hawaii President Dole knew of Willis' instructions, and agreed to retire with his colleagues in favor of the queen, but before carrying out the restoration many things had to be arranged. The queen may have agreed to grant amnesty to those who opposed her, but they undoubtedly wanted something more than her promises. They wanted an absolutely reliable guarantee, not only for the safety of their persons, but for the protection of their vast properties. All that takes time and accounts for the delay.

Many Saw Them Dashed to Death.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Two young men went over the Horseshoe rapids of Niagara at dusk Saturday night. When the Michigan Central stopped at the new station, passengers saw two men in a boat in the Horseshoe rapids opposite the third of the Sister Islands. They were making frantic endeavors to reach some rocks. The bodies have not been recovered. When the train brought the report to the city a great rush was made across the Goat-island bridge to get a glimpse of the men. The gates were closed, which caused some delay. The first of those to get in sight of the rocks saw the men swept away from the last chance by the swift current of the river. The bodies were quickly carried over the falls. They had started up the river duckhunting in the afternoon and permitted their boat to float too far with the current. Their identity is not well established, but one is believed to be John Supple, of Niagara Falls.

Will Fight.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 17.—The contents of a cipher dispatch from Minister Willis at Hawaii to Secretary of State Gresham is now known. The dispatch informed the department that the provisional government is prepared to resist overthrow and restoration of the queen. The dispatch contains the statement that the provisional government has on hand 1600 rifles, two gatling guns and four maxim guns, besides plenty of ammunition available. The force of police guards and officers on hourly duty at Honolulu is 200, while there is a reserve militia of 500, and further reserves which swells the total enrolled number to 1100. It is supposed that 500 more could be had from the other islands.

A Crank at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 16.—A woman, claiming relationship to Queen Victoria, called at the White House this morning, and asked to see the president, saying she could tell her business to no one else. "I am a neice of Queen Victoria," she said, "but I dislike to say anything about, and will not unless compelled to." When told that she could not see the president, she went away saying she would call again.

Hold Your Wheat.

ST PAUL, Nov. 20.—The farmers in the northwest realizing the shortage of wheat have held several meetings to discuss the situation and decry the causes of the unprecedented low prices in the face of this shortage. As a result another hold-your-wheat circular has been issued from Pierre. It reads in part as follows.

"Every country in Europe has a short grain crop this year except Russia. Our own crop is at least 100,000,000 bushels under that of last year and 200,000,000 bushels less than that raised in 1891. The general financial stringencies of the past six months has brought out large supplies for all. The harvest this year has been a poor one, while the exports this fall have been large amounting to about 80,000,000 bushels since the harvest began. After a thorough examination of the conditions existing, we feel certain that the year 1894 will bring much higher prices, and do not hesitate to urge Northwestern producers to hold their wheat in hand for a few months."

A Robbers Retreat Discovered.

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ky., Nov. 20.—There is a cave 3½ miles from this city which had never been explored to any great extent till yesterday, when a party of young people penetrated its deeper recesses. It was found to contain a number of large rooms, and in one of these rooms was found a box containing several gold and silver watches, two diamond rings, a lot of earrings and several pistols. In another room were found five skeletons, thought to be those of persons who had been robbed and then murdered. In this same room was a lot of cooking utensils, which were probably used by the robbers. Two of the watches bear the initials "Q. C. A." and "S. J. McK."

Blount's Report Stolen.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The publication of Blount's Hawaiian report this morning does not seem to have disconcerted the state department particularly. It contains little aside from what was summarized and indicated in Gresham's letter to the president. Gresham declines to talk about it. It is intimated the report was stolen from the government printing office, where it was in type Saturday night.

Hawaiian Minister Thurston is in consultation with Gresham this morning, presumably by invitation.

Blount's Report Given Out.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Blount's report has just been given out by the state department. It makes from 100,000 to 150,000 words. As far as can be discovered in a hurried glance through it, the abstract sent last night covers all the salient features.

High Seas.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—According to a decision by the supreme court today the Great Lakes are high seas. Decision was made in a suit under an act of congress for the punishment of offenders on the high seas. Gray and Brown dissented.

McKinley's Plurality.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 20.—The official count shows McKinley had a plurality of 80,995, and a majority over all of 45,696 in the late election.

May Join Forces.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—There is a movement on foot of populists and free silver men, to join their forces for the next presidential campaign. To this end it is proposed that the populists shall hold their organization in abeyance together with their doctrines as to government ownership of railroads, bond loan, policy, and issuing paper money, which the silver men as a body have never embraced, and under some such name as "national party" make united pull for the presidency and free silver in 1896.

Senator Peffer, when seen by an Associated Press reporter admitted the report as outlined above. He said he was not in favor of making the alignment until the congressional elections next year when the new party would get ready for the presidential election of 1896, and expressed the utmost confidence in its ability to carry the country. In a new party the paramount question would be one of money.

Will Fight.

Southern Iron Men in Protest

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Southern manufacturers who are protesting against the abolition of the duty on iron ore and coal have issued a public statement to the democratic party, appealing for consideration in view of their well known fidelity to that party, and saying, among other things: "The southern iron men have resolved to resist repeal, forgetting for a moment all differences of political beliefs, and mindful only of the stable and better things, to-wit: Domestic prosperity.

Russian Convicts Released.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—Secretary Carlisle has ordered the release of the 10 Russian convicts picked up at sea and landed at San Francisco. It is understood that the Russian minister here will endeavor to have them rearrested and extradited.

Trial of Chris Evans.

FRESNO, Cal., Nov. 20.—Chris Evans was arraigned in Judge Harris' department of the superior court this morning on the charge of murdering Deputy McGuinness at Simpson Flat. Defendant moved for a continuance on the ground of the absence of one of his attorneys, but this was denied and the case went over until 1:30 this afternoon when the selection of the jury will begin.

Fire at Central Point.

CENTRAL POINT, Nov. 20.—About 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon the residence of T. McGrinder was discovered on fire. The citizens turned in and forming a bucket brigade, saved the structure, although the inside and the furniture was badly damaged. The loss will be no less than $500, and it is reported that the house was not insured.
