Fairmount Items.

Dec. 12.

The la grippe claims several subjects, but nearly all reported improving. H. A. Barr, foreman at the knife works, has been on the sick list for several days, but is now able to attend to business.

There is some talk of building a steam grist mill at this place. A gentleman of large milling experience and considerable enterprise has offered to take stock in the enterprise. A church society is held for next Wednesday, Dec. 13, at the hall for the purpose of raising a fund for new vestal expenses. Admission, including lunch, 10 cents.

A large deposit of stone has been found in the south part of Fairmount that is believed to be very valuable for street paving. It is very hard texture, yet breaks very easily from a quick blow. It is thought it will break into small regular blocks, by the use of a steam crusher and its extreme hardness will prevent from pulverizing into dust under the action of wagon wheels. The quarry will be opened and the stone thoroughly tested.

Home Sold.—J. R. Cartwright, who resides in Junction City, procured yesterday afternoon sold the balance of his 18th crew of hops, consisting of 100 tons, to T. D. Linton, agent for E. Mosket. The price paid was 16 cents per pound.

College Y. M. C. A. Lecture.

Daily Guard, Dec. 11.

The lecture at the State University yesterday afternoon by E. L. Hunt, though not largely attended, was an able, energetic effort, and plainly showed what a grand, elevating work was being accomplished through the efforts of the college association of the Y. M. C. A. The movement is becoming decidedly a students' movement, and shows the general tendency of the intellectual efforts, the harmonious and work in sympathy with the Christian world. In fact, the two are joining hands, as is shown from the fact that the College Y. M. C. A. in its combined forces is introducing the Bible or reading it to be introduced into the curricula of many of the leading colleges in our land.

Another fact showing the general drift of the highest intellectual minds was brought forth from the following results, brought forth from careful investigation: Of the young men in our land about one in ten are Christians; of our students about one-half are Christians, while of our college thinking professors seven in every eight are Christians.

The River.

Daily Guard, Dec. 11.

Geo. M. Miller, accompanied by E. J. McClannahan and son went down the river in a rowboat yesterday. They started from here about 9 o'clock and arrived at Harrisburg at 1 o'clock. Regarding the change in the river reported by the captain of the Hong about three miles below here they state that said report is a mistake. One large tree and several smaller ones have fallen into the stream at that point but they are of the opinion that all the obstructions might be removed by the snagboat in half a day and with this one exception the river is clear to Harrisburg.

A HAZARDOUS TRIP.—Alex. Davis, one day last week crossed the Cascade mountains via the McKenzie route. He left the other side of the mountains early in the morning, on snow shoes and traveled all day and the following night before reaching here, ground on this side of the range of mountains. The trip was a hazardous one as he was all alone and this was his first experience on snow shoes. Luckily it did not storm on the summit of the mountains that particular night. Mr. Davis informs us that the snow extends about 10 miles and on the summit it was about five feet deep. The snow commences about fifteen miles east of the McKenzie wagon bridge, at Friswell's.

COLUMBIAN POSTAGE STAMPS.

Now that the world's fair is over the demand for postage stamps of the Columbian series is falling off and postmasters are sending requests for the old series. Postmasters have been advised, however, by the department that people must take the Columbian series which they like them or not, until they are all used up, and orders for the ordinary ones will not be filled until the new ones are exhausted. The printing of the Columbian series has been discontinued and it is expected that the residue of the old series will be resumed about the beginning of the new year.

STILL WASHING.

The bank at the place of the mill, still washing body and the distance that the river channel must cut before it reaches the water confined above the mill dam is less than forty feet. It is generally supposed that this narrow strip of land will be washed away before the end of the week. Then the water power will be damaged to such an extent that it will be of no use until a long flume or some other improvement is put in to hold the water. The Electric Light Company and the manufacturers of Day & Henderson and Geo. Midgley will be compelled to use steam power temporarily at least, when this happens.

THE LATEST.—F. E. Dunn makes an announcement in today's GUARD. Read it; then visit that gentleman's elegantly fitted establishment.

PROPERTY SOLD.—Lot 3, block 5, Ellsworth's addition, formerly owned by C. M. Schofield, was sold at sheriff's sale this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The property was bid in by the judgment creditor, Wiley J. Fox, for the sum of $761.05.

Flourine News.

The West, Dec. 1.

It is estimated that about fifteen feet of water can be found on the Siuslaw bar at the close of this fresh water scouring.

The school controversy about employing Geo. W. Smith and Willie Martin to teach at Astor school, has been closed in favor of the latter.

The Siuslaw river is full to its banks and the water continually flows out to sea, the tide having no other effect than that of raising the water about seven miles inland.

The high tide of nine feet and four inches, which came on Friday last, accompanied with a strong wind, did considerable damage to the banks of the river above Oscar Funke's hardware store.

BOARD OF TRADE MEETING.

A Number of Very Important Measures Acted Upon.

EUGENE, Dec. 11, 1893.

Board met in regular session, President Wilkins in the chair. Present—Messrs. Cockerline, Miller, Chapman, Svarverud, Edris, Midgley, Barker, Levinger, Haines and VanTyne.

Minutes of last meeting read, corrected and approved.

Mr. Geo. M. Miller of the committee on resolutions acting on behalf of the improvement of the river from Harrisburg to Eugene, presented the same which was read after discussion was had thereon. On motion, the chair appointed Messrs. Cockerline and Svarverud, committee to get up a complete statistical report on condition of the river, and showing the necessity for immediate improvement.

On motion a committee of three consisting of Messrs. Barker, Levinger and Svarverud were appointed to draft resolutions on the wool, fruit and lumber interests and send the same to our representatives in congress.

Mr. Miller reported the trip of his committee down the river and stated that just below the mouth of the McKenzie they found one or two balm trees lying in the river with the tops downstream. He thought the trees could easily be removed either by giant powder or by the government.

Mr. Miller stated that the current of the McKenzie coming in there so much stronger than that of the Willamette causes a large amount of drift to accumulate at that point and together with the loose sand and gravel, soon forms a bar and obstructs navigation. This could be easily remedied and the channel cleaned out and repaired by the government snagboat.

On motion the Secretary was instructed to correspond with Major Post government engineer, successor to Major Handbury, stating the facts and asking that the snagboat Corvallis be sent up the river to clear out the channel and do such other work as might be found necessary for the benefit of navigation.

Mr. Wm. Edris called the attention of the board to the danger menacing the city by reason of the cutting away by the recent high water of the bank of the river at a point opposite the state university. Over 250 feet in length has already been washed out and the current is still cutting into the banks. A sudden rise of the river would completely open the highway, destroy forever the water power and endanger the city. He said that for the past two days he had been at work with a gang of men trying to fill up the riprap at that spot but felt that the citizens ought to take active measures at once to repair the damages and make such improvements as might be found expedient and necessary to turn the force of the current away from that point and throw it into a more direct channel down the river.

Mr. Edris' remarks were seconded by a number of gentlemen who had examined the break and they urged the necessity of immediate action before another rise in the river made repairs and improvements impossible.

On motion a committee of five consisting of Messrs. Edris, Haines, Chapman, Levinger and Barker were appointed by the chair to confer with the city council, county court and all other parties interested regarding the condition of the river at that point and the necessity for immediate work, and to take such other action as they might deem necessary. The committee was also empowered to call a mass meeting to be held in the court house at 7:30 to-morrow, Tuesday evening, Dec. 12.

The board then proceeded to the election of officers and the following were chosen for the ensuing year: President, F. M. Wilkins; vice president, M. Levinger; recording secretary, S. R. Williams; corresponding secretary, H. N. Cockerline; treasurer, W. W. Haines.

On motion adjourned.

M. C. VAN TYNE,
Secretary Pro Tem.

Another Pioneer Lady Dead.

Daily Guard, Dec. 12.

Mrs. Mary Hayes died at her home in Eugene this morning. The lady has been in feeble health for some time past resulting from old age. She was well known in this county where she has resided for the last 40 years. Her husband, Henry Hayes, died on the 28th of February, 1852, and since that time deceased had lived with her son R. H. and daughter Amanda Hayes in this city.

Mary Head was born in Tennessee, March 29, 1810, and was married in July 11, 1832, to Henry Hayes. Afterwards the couple moved to Holt county, Missouri, whence the family moved to Oregon, crossing the plains in 1852. They settled in Lane county where the father and mother both resided until death. Six children survive them, viz: Mrs. Maggie Shelley, of Centralia, Wash.; Miss Amanda Hayes, of Eugene, John Hayes, resides in Benton county, George Hayes, British Columbia, J. R. Hayes, Harrisburg and R. H. Hayes of this city.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence to the I. O. O. F. cemetery. One by one Oregon's deeply respected pioneer men and women of the 30's are leaving us and when another demise passes scarcely one will be left to record the varied experiences of pioneer life in the Willamette valley.

JONES' BOAT.—A letter from Captain F. B. Jones, of Portland, to a citizen of this place states that he has his light draft boat well under way and will be ready to run by the 1st of February. That he will run here as long as the stage of water will permit which he thinks will be nearly all season.

He also wants to know what progress is being made towards building warehouses. It is said this boat will be the lightest draft of any on the river.

The total taxable property in Linn county is given at $4,592,860.

Merchants here have been wondering why there are so many quarters in circulation. The Southern Pacific is said to have unloaded an immense quantity of them recently in paying their hands.

L. N. Roney has been elected a member of the council from the third ward to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of A. E. Wheeler. Mr. Roney has had experience in this line heretofore and made an excellent official.

David Monastes of Portland has at last been sued by wife No. 1 of that city for a divorce. Mr. Monastes has been married to wife No. 2, for about 33 years. About $250,000 worth of property is involved and the trial is expected to be an interesting one. Mr. Monastes is well known in Eugene and Lane county.

President Jordan of Stanford university says: "Football is a game of character. It is an antidote to the maladies of dissipation and pessimism which are said to afflict the end of a century. Football is not a 'ladylike' game. It is not a pastime for afternoon teas. It is a manly game, and so long as it is manly it is the best antidote to its own evils."

The college Y. M. C. A. convention will be held at Albany January 6, 8 and 7th. Mr. Hunt of the international committee will be at the university some time this week in the interest of the convention. Willamette will send a good delegation to the convention this year as usual.—Statesman. Eugene will be well represented. The Albany Democrats say "Arrangements will be made at Albany to entertain the 150 young men to be present on our citizens should respond liberally."

Goshen Items.

Dec. 12, 1893.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smith visited relatives at Creswell Sunday.

Quite a number of horses are dying in this section. Among those that "succumbed to the inevitable" during the last week was Miss Nellie Hampton's fine riding horse, "Colonel." "Colonel" was not sufficient to justify an attempt at naming the cause.

Mr. Henry Matthews returned last Saturday evening from a three weeks' sojourn in Portland where he was called to do U. S. jury duty.

A number of persons about the depot Sunday evening witnessed a very sudden death. "Old Rig," our worthy Postmaster's valuable canine, who has for several years past indicated by his actions that it was his duty to stop all trains, undertook to pass in front of the south bound freight when "presto" voice changed,—"the said animal's rear anatomy severed connection with his other parts and the fireman with the hot water hose on the local next morning was a disappointed man. The section foreman, W. W. Moore, with an eye ever alert to the interest of the company refused to appraise the dog on the ground that he was killed within the city limits.

It is said we have had a case of measles in our midst.

Miss Jennie Taylor finished a three months term of school here last week and entered on another of two months last Monday.

E. W. Matthews and family were over from Pleasant Hill visiting relatives Sunday.

F. Brewer is planting several acres of prunes adjoining Goshen.

There seems to be quite a call for hop roots by parties intending to engage in hop culture. J. B. Kenney of this place is selling quite a number.

The recent high water did considerable damage to fences in this section. No stock was lost, however.

Mr. J. A. Burnett of Greenleaf was out last week seeking to purchase a pair of mules.

Rev. Alexander Bennett of Philomath spent last Thursday night with relatives at this place while on his way to Egypt to conduct services in the interest of the radical U. R. church.

Our friends may know of several items overlooked this week, but as we have actually worked one-half day more or less during the past fortnight we are certainly excusable.
