EUGENE PEOPLE:—The Princville News has this: "It is claimed that the ill-fated vessel, Brother Jonathan, has at last been located. Among those Sol. Steinheiser, an old resident of Eugene, while going down the stairs of his residence in Portland, in the ton Elliott; also Jerry Luckey's wife and her two little boys; also a sister of Mrs. Elliott's mother, whose name we have not now at hand. Mrs. Elliott's parents were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel N. Luckey, uncle and aunt of J. L. Luckey, of this place. They had been East and were returning home when the old condemned hulk, known as the Brother Jonathan ran onto a rock and sank in a few moments. It is said that a trunk belonging to Mrs. Jerry Luckey is the only property belonging to the unfortunate family that ever came ashore. The Warm Spring Indian agent, whose name we have forgot-ten, was one of the drowned. He had with him $10,000, which belonged to the Indians. The United States gov-ernment never made up the loss. S. Luckey had with him between 13,-000 and $1,000, all of which funds were but the reports of the fabulous richness doubtless locked up in one of the ship's of the gold mines of Africa attracted safes. The vessel carried $1,000,000 in his attention, and he determined to gold, most of which was probably govgold, mast money."

CITY DRUG STORE. WANAMAKER'S MISTAKE -Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York, have lately been refunded about $25,000 by the U. S. postoffice department, which S. postoffice department, was the amount in excess of the legal rate of postage paid them under protest, on "Printer's Ink," a journal Want It Bad.

Sam Simpson, now of Astoria, is the best poet in Oregon, hence his poetry is always interesting. The foliowing on Astoria's long felt want, a railroad, is worthy of being read by everybod, in Oregon. It is rich:

And the world be young and fair

There'll be music in the air When the railroad comes,

When the rothroad comes; For the legions of despuir And the strain of oork and care Will be banished everywhere, When the milroad comes! There'll be joy to youth and age When the railroad come er we'll turn a brighter page When the railroad come We will turn a brighter page In the glorious golden age That our prophets did pressge, When the railroad comes! The peninsula will bloom, When the railroad comes There'll be glory after gloom, When the railroad comes, The peninsula will bleam With the banners that illume Every cold obstructor's tomb, When the ratiroad comes! How the headlands to the bay, When the railroad comes, Will rejoice and seem to say, When the radroad comes: 'We have waited for this day, We have seen it in the play Of the rainbows in you spray," When the railroad comes! Let beauty turn with scorn, When the railroad comes, From the laggard all forlorn, When the railroad comes;

Let beauty turn with scorn From the mossback wrongly born, When the railroad comes! Let bonor never crown, When the railroad comes, Any man that held us down, When the railroad comes; But let riches and renown Be for them that saved the town Underdark misfortune's frown
