FIRST WHITE CHILD.-There has been some controversey as to the first white child born within the present limits of Lane county. From the most reliable information we can obtain that honor belongs to W. P. Martin, who was born May 27, 1847, on the place now owned and occupied by Wm. Stewart, near Goshen. His father, Chas. Martin, a brother of Marion Martin, deceased, of Cottage Grove, came about the same time as Eugene Skinner. The Lane county history, which was hastily compiled, the attendance being smail.

Addresses were made T. J. Elliott and James Calvert. Mr. Calvert was that Mrs. Skinner, who came in the interrupted in the middle of his speech summer of 1847, was the first white by some of the delegates, who said too woman who made her permanent senate Peffer introduced a resolution to investigate rumors regarding sugar speculations by members of compress. The bland seignforage bill came up this afternoon, the pending question being Allison's motion to reconsider the last stage of the proceedings in order that amendments could be offered to the bill. Harris, who had been op-osing the motion, said he was will-ig to allow the debate to continue up any day till next Wednesday, but at present be was unwilling that the bill should again go back to the amendment stage. A discussion fol-lowed as to the necessity for amend-ments.
