

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Auer, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to rehearse it. Few are the intelligent fathers who do not keep 'Castoria' within easy reach." CARLOS MARTIN, D. D., New York City.

Castoria cures Colic, Constipation, Sour Stomach, Hiccups, Eructation, Bile Worms, gives sleep, and promotes digestion, without injurious medication.

"For several years I have recommended 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so as it has invariably produced beneficial results." EDWIN F. PARKER, M. D., 1232 Street and 7th Ave., New York City.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, 77 N. MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

Hon. William F. Matlock.

The Pendleton East Oregonian, publishes the following biographical sketch of Wm. F. Matlock, just re-nominated by the Umatilla democrats for state senator.

W. F. Matlock was born in Dade county, Missouri, April 25, 1847. When he was 6 years old his father caught the Western fever, and emigrated to Oregon. His father located at Eugene, Oregon, in 1855.

In 1869, in company with George Swaggart, Mr. Matlock brought sheep to Umatilla county, running them near where S. P. Purdy now lives on Wild Horse. He remained there until 1873, and in the fall of that year took his band to the Palouse country, where he bought another band, and every sheep of both bands perished the following winter, leaving him "flat broke."

In 1874, he returned and located on McDonald canyon, Butter creek, and in the spring of the following year, his brother Joe located him to again engage in sheep business. This time fortune smiled and he prospered. He remained there until 1878, the year of the Indian war, and was one of the five scouts who left Heppner to investigate the situation.

October 1st, 1878, Matlock removed to Pendleton, where he and his family have since resided. He has been identified with nearly every enterprise promoting the city's welfare.

Mr. Matlock has served with honor and distinction in the state senate, and now seeks to succeed himself.

Battlesnake Items.

The primary was held at Lost Valley last Saturday. Messrs. E. P. Williams and Pearl Pitzer are the delegates from this place to go to Eugene on the 12th inst. The people will be represented from Battlesnake this time. Even the county court do not know the people about Trent and Battlesnake. We failed to get any appointments but not to the bottom will be the people that will be at Eugene the 12th.

Messieurs Mitchell, Park, Weddle and Miss Lena Callison, of Pleasant Hill, were visitors this week to the family of Mr. Coffman.

The cheese factory will start up in about two weeks. The proprietors have sent to Canada for an experienced man to control the factory.

Born to the wife of Thomas Walker, at Pleasant Hill the 5th inst., a boy, Thomas says if he keeps on he's pretty sure that he will have charge of the cheese factory before long.

L. A. Wheeler was doing business at Pleasant Hill one day last week in the way of posting books for his father, J. Wheeler, who is in the mercantile business at that place.

George Pratten returned from sea springs. His health is failing fast. He says he is with the Battlesnake people to stay.

Died, at Trent, April 8th, Levi Harper, of consumption. Mr. Harper has lived in this state for 20 years or more. Before his health failed him he was a hard working, law abiding citizen. He has been an invalid for several years. He was a devoted Christian and belonged to the church at Pleasant Hill. The funeral took place at the Pleasant Hill cemetery on the 9th inst. Mr. Harper leaves a beloved wife and daughter.

The saw mill will start up on Mr. Friendly's farm some time this week. Several tanks are at work now.

There will be a political debate by Wm. Miller, democrat, and Darling, populist, at Unity, on Fall creek in the near future.

I. N. Mulkey preached the funeral services of Mr. Harper Monday, at 11 o'clock. A large number were present.

We would ask the correspondent to the Broad-Axe from Trent, if it is their aim to how to the line like "p-p" editor, if so the correspondent to the BROAD-AXE will secure him for all their work.

Isabel Items.

April 10.

Our enterprising merchant, Mr. Cole, is stocking up for the spring trade.

Already we hear of a daily mail from Springfield to Mabel.

The celebrated Parsons creek school-house site case was settled in our midst last week on Mount Zion, H. Hall Matteson choosing the site and J. R. Cook getting the location, to which he objects as it impairs his vision. Time, 48 seconds; C. H. Neal, referee.

It is now conceded by everybody that Will Ware is the best violinist on the Mohawk.

Woods & Lilly have their log drive of 2,000,000 feet nearly all in and will start for Harrisburg.

Parsons Creek will have two schools this summer, one at J. R. Cook's, and one at Andrew Hanson's.

Charley Baxter will go across the mountains with the Davis boys' cattle drive.

The democratic primary was not largely attended owing to the rush of seeding, but those who did turn out were very much interested and hope for good results.

Probate Matters.

Estate of R. B. Powell; report of executor filed.

Estate of William Palmer; appraisers file an inventory showing real property to the value of $850 and personal property of $122.50.

Guardianship of Harry Badger; W. M. Kirby, guardian, files his bond for $1000, with James Bay and Charles Gettys as sureties.

Guardianship of Sarah M. Meek; C. W. Washburn appointed guardian and files his bonds for $15,000, with T. A. and J. P. Millhorn as co-sureties.

Guardianship of R. B. Cochran; E. P. Coleman appointed guardian, and files his bond for $20,000, with John Whitaker, A. Sharples, S. H. Friendly, F. W. Osburn and S. B. Eakin as sureties.

Will and last testament of Joseph Myers deceased filed; probable value of estate, $1,850. Anna E. Myers appointed executrix, without bonds, as provided under said will.

RETURN HOME—Thomas Sentel, Joseph Weeks and George Black, who went from Fairmont in search of the missing man at Babonia, arrived home sore and tired last night. They were accompanied from Cottage Grove by three others whose names were unable to learn.

A snow storm which set in the day the men, R. L. Downing and J. L. Weaver, went into the mines lasted three days before anyone went over the trail afterward.

It was three or four days after the men were known to be lost before the searching party started from Cottage Grove. Arriving at the mines the men and the whole force superintendent included, joined the party and assisted in the search. Supplies, tools and all aid possible were freely given. The number searching party of the time numbered 20. The ground was thoroughly gone over, but the only trace found, between where the men had hung their blankets and the mine, was where their tracks appeared near the trail about three-fourths of a mile from the latter place. Twenty days having passed it is almost certain the men are not alive. The treacherous conditions existing in that portion of the mountains makes this conclusion absolute.

Eight With Train Robbed.

April 10.

LAND had his first hold-up in the city last night. One robber is dead, another is captured, another seriously wounded and two escaped. The robbers concealed themselves in the tender of the locomotive. Guard J. J. Harmon discovered the men before the attack near Salt Rock creek, and as they were about to hold up the engine and train, Harmon blazed away with a Winchester. Their pack stationed on the bank near the track literally perforated the baggage car. The dead robber's name is Pitts, a notorious desperado. The passengers were uninjured.

An Interesting Trip.

Portland Sportsman: E. H. Cowing, of Oregon City, is promoting an excursion to start from Portland on or about July 1, for a two or three month's jaunt on horseback with pack animals through the country just east of the Cascades, southward to the California line; thence westward along the Siskiyou mountains to Siskiyou and Douglas counties home. The glaciers of the Three Sisters will be visited, Diamond Peak, Crater Lake, Mt. Pitt, with a glance at Shasta, and a visit to the celebrated Siskiyou caves in Josephine county. The company will contain several eastern tourists who came this way in preference to an European outing. One of the most experienced mountaineers of the north will lead the expedition, and it is hinted that this is only the beginning of a series of annual pilgrimages that in the near future will reach large proportions and will noise abroad the grandeur of our natural scenery.

Liberia is the only more or less civilized country where clocks are almost entirely dispensed with. The sun rises exactly at six a. m. and sets at 6 p. m. throughout the year, and is vertically overhead at noon.

Everyone in Eugene should labor to make the General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, which meets in this city next month, a grand success. It will be a great advertisement for Eugene and Lane county.

Jerry Simpson said in a speech in congress, some time ago: "I have not heard an argument from the republican side on this question that has to me given proof that agricultural interests are benefitted one particle by this system of protection."

The sun never sets on the pensioners of the United States. There are 2,000 of them in Canada, drawing annually the pretty sum of $345,000; 600 in Germany receive $98,000 a year, and 750 in Great Britain take $126,990. One pensioner is in the Fiji islands, and four are in Africa.

News: Canyon City does not believe in every respect that city whose streets are paved with pure gold, but while walking through her streets one undoubtedly treads on much precious metal. The Lockwood boys panned out several dollars last week from a piece of brook in the street near their mother's residence. Young America as a miner appears to be a success.

There have been two bills introduced in the Ohio legislature, asking for human subjects for vivisection. One provides that condemned criminals be given over to physiologists for research in the interests of science; the other that the criminal shall have his choice between this manner of ending and electrocution. This is being proven true the statement of close observers that the trend of scientific cruelty, so freely practiced on animals, is to human experimentation.

The remark of Napoleon that armies move on their bellies applies with peculiar force to the so-called industrial army, the rank and file of which recently breakfasted on colles, bread and jellies and complained because they had no pie. At this same breakfast this army was joined by eighteen new recruits, but the dispatch fails to state whether the recruits enlisted until dinner time or whether their enlistment ended when the breakfast was over.

A sensation was occasioned last evening in the congregation of the Twelfth street Presbyterian church, Baltimore, by the startling utterances of the Rev. D. B. Gregg, pastor, who preached on the Pollard-Breckenridge breach-of-promise case. His subject was, "Stones Thrown from Glass Houses." This reverend gentleman warned his hearers to beware of passing judgment upon their fellows and reminded them of the Saviour's declaration, "Let him who is without sin among you cast the first stone," and in speaking of the cause celebre, he said society and the world should be charitable and forgive both parties. He had no doubt there was many as culpable and perhaps such could be found among those before him. Dr. Gregg's remarks created a sensation and were warmly discussed after the service, some condemning and others approving them.

The mayor and councilmen of Eugene are entitled to the thanks of the taxpayers of the municipality for the manner in which they have conducted its affairs, especially during the last fiscal year. While economy has been practiced in every department of the city government, still our lighting system, fire department, our water supply and our police protection have been maintained, besides our streets and sidewalks have been steadily improved. Notwithstanding we had no tax levy last year, the rate this year is only five mills on the dollar. Our city is practically free from indebtedness, excepting the $17,000 owed on sewer bonds, which have a number of years yet to run. This is in marked contrast with other cities of this size in the state of Oregon, which are burdened with excessive taxation, and have heavy liabilities that will prevent moderate taxation for years. The recommendation of Mayor Friendly that a city park should be provided at the earliest possible moment, we believe, to be an excellent one. Eugene is one of the most progressive cities in the state of Oregon. It now has the best streets and walks of any city in Oregon, excepting probably Portland, a fire department that is equal to the best, and excellent light and water systems and a splendid police force; then why not have a city park.

Commissioners Court.

E. H. Ingalls, supplies for paupers $10 50
Ben Jackson, services road supervisor 10 00
Holt Johnson, supplies for paupers 10 95
H. R. Kennard, printing 10 00
L. C. Greenhalgh, lumber, claimed $7 20, allowed 5 40

At this time Ernest F. W. Osburn and presents to the court claim for $22.25 on account of tax on lot No. 122 and taxes paid thereon, and it appearing that the land had been erroneously assessed, and that the same was not taxable, it is ordered that the said claim be allowed for $19.82, being the amount thereof, less $3.43 paid by A. E. Wheeler and by him retained to the holder of said certificate, and the clerk is hereby ordered to draw a warrant in favor of A. E. Osburn, the holder of said tax certificate for the said sum of $19.82.

In the matter of the application of Western Union Telephone Co. for per cent. on taxes paid for 1891 continued to next term.

Following road supervisors were appointed:

M. Doyle, district No 24 in place of Dock Zentgraf, resigned.
M. M. Jackson, district No 97, in place of C. H. H. of the same.
W. T. Bailey, district No 83, in place of A. Thurston, resigned.

At this time it is ordered that A. Matthews, supervisor of road district 27, proceed to grade and gravel the road running west of the city limits of Eugene and by him retained to the holder of the river road crosses the track of the O & C R R Co.

At this time the following claims were presented, examined and allowed by the court, and the clerk is hereby ordered to draw warrants on the general fund in amount of the same:

I. L. Campbell, printing 54 29
Eugene Insurance, printing 47 25
W. E. Walker, clerk 27 85
A. H. Fish, judge 65 05
J. G. Stevens, superintendent 50 00
Jos. Parker, commissioner 13 00
E. H. Perkins 13 00
Eugene Electric Light Co. light 82 50
R. B. Hays, supervisor 6 00
Frank Johnson, treasurer's salary 43 00
L. F. Osburn, witness fees 2 00
J. G. Stevenson, 14 school reports 300 00
Merritt Castled, witness fees 5 20
States vs A. H. Lee 5 20
States vs A. H. Lee 5 20
Josie Castled, witness fees State vs A. H. Lee 5 20
Josie Castled, witness fees State vs A. H. Lee 5 20
M. J. Lee, witness fees State vs A. H. Lee 4 80
Geo. C. Hartley, constable fees State vs A. H. Lee 5 20
J. J. Butler, justice fees State vs A. H. Lee 14.75 claimed, allowed 8 85
S. E. McClure, constable fees State vs A. H. Lee, 86.50, allowed 3 25
Application of A. S. Powers and others for rebate of taxes; petition denied.
Petition of A. S. Powers and others for exemption from road work; petition denied.

Application of Wm. Edris & Son for rebate on taxes; petition not allowed.
Petition of L. E. Prince and others for location and survey of a county road; continued until May term of court.
C. R. Morgan, constable fees State vs Barrett 10 70
C. R. Morgan, constable fees State vs Barrett 15 50
Geo. H. Hartley, constable fees State vs Mills 6 50
John Beverly, supplies for paupers 3 50

Communication.

FALL CREEK, April 9, 1894.

EDITOR GUARD: Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer an article that appeared in the Broad-Axe issue of March 31, Warner of this place, who with give you the contents of the article that was published in the Broad-Axe. It is this:

"The item that appeared in the GUARD, signed 'A Voter of Fall Creek' was dictated by Mr. K. himself to the reporter, with the exception of Mr. K. has already acknowledged the populist platform, but had to wag where the citizens fell and on one occasion in the presence of several others cursed the democratic party for all he could lay his tongue to. These facts and can be proved. That no one would think Mr. Darling wrote this statement of facts, I want it distinctly understood that I do not write this under an assumed name. Signed, Mason Y. Warner."

Now Mr. Editor, I will give below the article that the above-named Jack is alluding about, that appeared in the GUARD:

"Fall Creek, March 3, 1894. The people party primary was held at the City school house March 3. After the primary a political discussion was held by J. H. Darling, representing the populist, and the reporter for the democratic. These gentlemen did not complete their argument but agreed to complete their argument at some future time. We hereby invite some of the populist and republican men to express their views as I am informed that Mr. K. is ready any time to meet them. Signed, 'A Voter of Fall Creek.'"

Now Mr. Editor, I want to say right here that the above statement made by this demagogue concerning me is a willful and damaging lie, as I never talked politics with him in any life. Why? For the simple reason that he has not got brains enough to talk on a common conversation. How could anything else be expected of a man whose brains is in his government as a catch is the words in his case. As for wagging where the citizens fell I have never wagged my tongue with any reporter, but if it were not for the populist critics that fall to the above-named he would now be bragging for Coxey's band. The reporter of this article and the above that this Jack is kicking about care as a glance that he is alluding to, with the exception of the spots where there is no punning. The fact of the business is, Mr. Editor, this man Warner has been an enemy of mine for six years and has tried to pull me down, morally, financially, and every mean, low, deluded way a man could, but he has succeeded so far. I am still up and expect to remain on top. The people of this precinct know the position Warner has taken against me. I do not wish to settle any personal difficulty through the paper but will rather this Jack myself.

MASON Y. WARNER.

Easy to Take and keep the system in Perfect Order.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS

A specific for Headache, Constipation, and Dyspepsia. Every dose Effective.

Golden West Baking Powder

Purity and Leavening Power UNEQUALED CASH PRIZES

To introduce our Powder we have determined to give away the complete outfit of CASH PRIZES. To receive our outfit please send us the coupon enclosed with this paper. We will give a cash prize of $100, and a set of tools, to the person who sends in the most coupons. The prizes will be given away on April 15, 1894. We will give a cash prize of $100, and a set of tools, to the person who sends in the most coupons. The prizes will be given away on April 15, 1894. We will give a cash prize of $100, and a set of tools, to the person who sends in the most coupons. The prizes will be given away on April 15, 1894.

CLOSET & DEVERS, PORTLAND, OR.

The Work of Tariff Hoaxers.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 9.—The presence of a delegation of New England factory girls here this week to protest in person with senators against the passage of the tariff bill had added some interest and a little piquancy to the tariff situation. These girls, about 50 or 60 in number, came here in a special car from Massachusetts, mostly from Boston and the surrounding towns. They were as well dressed as Washington society ladies, and as chippy as larks.

They had arguments for protection at their finger's ends, and let them loose in the corridors of the capitol whenever they could corner a man to hear them. I heard arguments from these delegations, first as a senator from Texas, next as a senator from Arkansas, and thirdly as a senator from Missouri. The girls unfortunately did not know the senators when they saw them, and it was the habit of people who encountered them to introduce any fellow they met to them as a senator. Mr. J. Ellis Foster's distinction was forced upon me for an hour or two at different times.

The girls were loaded with stock arguments of protection, and those who had not statistics at their finger's ends, or the tips of their tongues, had them in note books. The stock cry was that the passage of the tariff bill would be the signal for the shutting up of more than half of the factories in Massachusetts, the casting of them out of employment, and the poverty, want and degradation that would ensue.

These girls were marshaled in this enterprise by our old senator, J. Ellis Foster of Iowa, the boss of the Women's National Republican committee. Colonel J. Ellen marshaled her girls well, and the arguments they made, and the appearance they presented, were entirely creditable to her. Poor little Mr. J. Ellis Foster has still a small job in the treasury department, which Colonel J. Ellen procured for him during the Harris administration. It is to be presumed that Secretary Carlisle had not the heart to turn the poor little fellow out, and set him adrift in the bleak world while Colonel J. Ellen was in Massachusetts, marshaling a female band, to come down here and bulldoze the senate.

It was noticeable that none of the big brats of protection, such as Aldrich, Hoar, Hale, and Frye, paid much attention to Colonel J. Ellen and her delegation.

Went Down With the Building.

MILWAUKEE, April 9.—The Davidson theatre, the finest in Milwaukee, and one of the handsomest and costliest buildings in the city, was destroyed by fire which broke out between four and five o'clock this morning. Valuable scenery, carried by the Lilliputians, worth $25,000 is all gone. The theatre roof on which stood a score or more firemen, went down and the men were carried with it. Some were rescued from the flames by their comrades, who risked their lives to carry out the dead and injured. Seven or eight were soon brought out and those able to speak said there must be an acre in the ruins. The burning roof had fallen on them and they were roasted to death while in plunging from the roof. Several men working in the theatre were caught by falling timbers and other portions of the roof, making the rescue of the imprisoned men impossible. The police report 16 lives lost. The property loss is $500,000. Loss to the Lilliputian company, $200,000; to the theatre about $500,000.

Communication.

FALL CREEK, April 9, 1894.

EDITOR GUARD: Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer an article that appeared in the Broad-Axe issue of March 31, Warner of this place, who with give you the contents of the article that was published in the Broad-Axe. It is this:

"The item that appeared in the GUARD, signed 'A Voter of Fall Creek' was dictated by Mr. K. himself to the reporter, with the exception of Mr. K. has already acknowledged the populist platform, but had to wag where the citizens fell and on one occasion in the presence of several others cursed the democratic party for all he could lay his tongue to. These facts and can be proved. That no one would think Mr. Darling wrote this statement of facts, I want it distinctly understood that I do not write this under an assumed name. Signed, Mason Y. Warner."

Now Mr. Editor, I will give below the article that the above-named Jack is alluding about, that appeared in the GUARD:

"Fall Creek, March 3, 1894. The people party primary was held at the City school house March 3. After the primary a political discussion was held by J. H. Darling, representing the populist, and the reporter for the democratic. These gentlemen did not complete their argument but agreed to complete their argument at some future time. We hereby invite some of the populist and republican men to express their views as I am informed that Mr. K. is ready any time to meet them. Signed, 'A Voter of Fall Creek.'"

Now Mr. Editor, I want to say right here that the above statement made by this demagogue concerning me is a willful and damaging lie, as I never talked politics with him in any life. Why? For the simple reason that he has not got brains enough to talk on a common conversation. How could anything else be expected of a man whose brains is in his government as a catch is the words in his case. As for wagging where the citizens fell I have never wagged my tongue with any reporter, but if it were not for the populist critics that fall to the above-named he would now be bragging for Coxey's band. The reporter of this article and the above that this Jack is kicking about care as a glance that he is alluding to, with the exception of the spots where there is no punning. The fact of the business is, Mr. Editor, this man Warner has been an enemy of mine for six years and has tried to pull me down, morally, financially, and every mean, low, deluded way a man could, but he has succeeded so far. I am still up and expect to remain on top. The people of this precinct know the position Warner has taken against me. I do not wish to settle any personal difficulty through the paper but will rather this Jack myself.

MASON Y. WARNER.

Communication.

FALL CREEK, April 9, 1894.

EDITOR GUARD: Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer an article that appeared in the Broad-Axe issue of March 31, Warner of this place, who with give you the contents of the article that was published in the Broad-Axe. It is this:

"The item that appeared in the GUARD, signed 'A Voter of Fall Creek' was dictated by Mr. K. himself to the reporter, with the exception of Mr. K. has already acknowledged the populist platform, but had to wag where the citizens fell and on one occasion in the presence of several others cursed the democratic party for all he could lay his tongue to. These facts and can be proved. That no one would think Mr. Darling wrote this statement of facts, I want it distinctly understood that I do not write this under an assumed name. Signed, Mason Y. Warner."

Now Mr. Editor, I will give below the article that the above-named Jack is alluding about, that appeared in the GUARD:

"Fall Creek, March 3, 1894. The people party primary was held at the City school house March 3. After the primary a political discussion was held by J. H. Darling, representing the populist, and the reporter for the democratic. These gentlemen did not complete their argument but agreed to complete their argument at some future time. We hereby invite some of the populist and republican men to express their views as I am informed that Mr. K. is ready any time to meet them. Signed, 'A Voter of Fall Creek.'"

Now Mr. Editor, I want to say right here that the above statement made by this demagogue concerning me is a willful and damaging lie, as I never talked politics with him in any life. Why? For the simple reason that he has not got brains enough to talk on a common conversation. How could anything else be expected of a man whose brains is in his government as a catch is the words in his case. As for wagging where the citizens fell I have never wagged my tongue with any reporter, but if it were not for the populist critics that fall to the above-named he would now be bragging for Coxey's band. The reporter of this article and the above that this Jack is kicking about care as a glance that he is alluding to, with the exception of the spots where there is no punning. The fact of the business is, Mr. Editor, this man Warner has been an enemy of mine for six years and has tried to pull me down, morally, financially, and every mean, low, deluded way a man could, but he has succeeded so far. I am still up and expect to remain on top. The people of this precinct know the position Warner has taken against me. I do not wish to settle any personal difficulty through the paper but will rather this Jack myself.

MASON Y. WARNER.

Communication.

FALL CREEK, April 9, 1894.

EDITOR GUARD: Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer an article that appeared in the Broad-Axe issue of March 31, Warner of this place, who with give you the contents of the article that was published in the Broad-Axe. It is this:

"The item that appeared in the GUARD, signed 'A Voter of Fall Creek' was dictated by Mr. K. himself to the reporter, with the exception of Mr. K. has already acknowledged the populist platform, but had to wag where the citizens fell and on one occasion in the presence of several others cursed the democratic party for all he could lay his tongue to. These facts and can be proved. That no one would think Mr. Darling wrote this statement of facts, I want it distinctly understood that I do not write this under an assumed name. Signed, Mason Y. Warner."

Now Mr. Editor, I will give below the article that the above-named Jack is alluding about, that appeared in the GUARD:

"Fall Creek, March 3, 1894. The people party primary was held at the City school house March 3. After the primary a political discussion was held by J. H. Darling, representing the populist, and the reporter for the democratic. These gentlemen did not complete their argument but agreed to complete their argument at some future time. We hereby invite some of the populist and republican men to express their views as I am informed that Mr. K. is ready any time to meet them. Signed, 'A Voter of Fall Creek.'"

Now Mr. Editor, I want to say right here that the above statement made by this demagogue concerning me is a willful and damaging lie, as I never talked politics with him in any life. Why? For the simple reason that he has not got brains enough to talk on a common conversation. How could anything else be expected of a man whose brains is in his government as a catch is the words in his case. As for wagging where the citizens fell I have never wagged my tongue with any reporter, but if it were not for the populist critics that fall to the above-named he would now be bragging for Coxey's band. The reporter of this article and the above that this Jack is kicking about care as a glance that he is alluding to, with the exception of the spots where there is no punning. The fact of the business is, Mr. Editor, this man Warner has been an enemy of mine for six years and has tried to pull me down, morally, financially, and every mean, low, deluded way a man could, but he has succeeded so far. I am still up and expect to remain on top. The people of this precinct know the position Warner has taken against me. I do not wish to settle any personal difficulty through the paper but will rather this Jack myself.

MASON Y. WARNER.

Communication.

FALL CREEK, April 9, 1894.

EDITOR GUARD: Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer an article that appeared in the Broad-Axe issue of March 31, Warner of this place, who with give you the contents of the article that was published in the Broad-Axe. It is this:

"The item that appeared in the GUARD, signed 'A Voter of Fall Creek' was dictated by Mr. K. himself to the reporter, with the exception of Mr. K. has already acknowledged the populist platform, but had to wag where the citizens fell and on one occasion in the presence of several others cursed the democratic party for all he could lay his tongue to. These facts and can be proved. That no one would think Mr. Darling wrote this statement of facts, I want it distinctly understood that I do not write this under an assumed name. Signed, Mason Y. Warner."

Now Mr. Editor, I will give below the article that the above-named Jack is alluding about, that appeared in the GUARD:

"Fall Creek, March 3, 1894. The people party primary was held at the City school house March 3. After the primary a political discussion was held by J. H. Darling, representing the populist, and the reporter for the democratic. These gentlemen did not complete their argument but agreed to complete their argument at some future time. We hereby invite some of the populist and republican men to express their views as I am informed that Mr. K. is ready any time to meet them. Signed, 'A Voter of Fall Creek.'"

Now Mr. Editor, I want to say right here that the above statement made by this demagogue concerning me is a willful and damaging lie, as I never talked politics with him in any life. Why? For the simple reason that he has not got brains enough to talk on a common conversation. How could anything else be expected of a man whose brains is in his government as a catch is the words in his case. As for wagging where the citizens fell I have never wagged my tongue with any reporter, but if it were not for the populist critics that fall to the above-named he would now be bragging for Coxey's band. The reporter of this article and the above that this Jack is kicking about care as a glance that he is alluding to, with the exception of the spots where there is no punning. The fact of the business is, Mr. Editor, this man Warner has been an enemy of mine for six years and has tried to pull me down, morally, financially, and every mean, low, deluded way a man could, but he has succeeded so far. I am still up and expect to remain on top. The people of this precinct know the position Warner has taken against me. I do not wish to settle any personal difficulty through the paper but will rather this Jack myself.

MASON Y. WARNER.

Communication.

FALL CREEK, April 9, 1894.

EDITOR GUARD: Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer an article that appeared in the Broad-Axe issue of March 31, Warner of this place, who with give you the contents of the article that was published in the Broad-Axe. It is this:

"The item that appeared in the GUARD, signed 'A Voter of Fall Creek' was dictated by Mr. K. himself to the reporter, with the exception of Mr. K. has already acknowledged the populist platform, but had to wag where the citizens fell and on one occasion in the presence of several others cursed the democratic party for all he could lay his tongue to. These facts and can be proved. That no one would think Mr. Darling wrote this statement of facts, I want it distinctly understood that I do not write this under an assumed name. Signed, Mason Y. Warner."

Now Mr. Editor, I will give below the article that the above-named Jack is alluding about, that appeared in the GUARD:

"Fall Creek, March 3, 1894. The people party primary was held at the City school house March 3. After the primary a political discussion was held by J. H. Darling, representing the populist, and the reporter for the democratic. These gentlemen did not complete their argument but agreed to complete their argument at some future time. We hereby invite some of the populist and republican men to express their views as I am informed that Mr. K. is ready any time to meet them. Signed, 'A Voter of Fall Creek.'"

Now Mr. Editor, I want to say right here that the above statement made by this demagogue concerning me is a willful and damaging lie, as I never talked politics with him in any life. Why? For the simple reason that he has not got brains enough to talk on a common conversation. How could anything else be expected of a man whose brains is in his government as a catch is the words in his case. As for wagging where the citizens fell I have never wagged my tongue with any reporter, but if it were not for the populist critics that fall to the above-named he would now be bragging for Coxey's band. The reporter of this article and the above that this Jack is kicking about care as a glance that he is alluding to, with the exception of the spots where there is no punning. The fact of the business is, Mr. Editor, this man Warner has been an enemy of mine for six years and has tried to pull me down, morally, financially, and every mean, low, deluded way a man could, but he has succeeded so far. I am still up and expect to remain on top. The people of this precinct know the position Warner has taken against me. I do not wish to settle any personal difficulty through the paper but will rather this Jack myself.

MASON Y. WARNER.

Communication.

FALL CREEK, April 9, 1894.

EDITOR GUARD: Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer an article that appeared in the Broad-Axe issue of March 31, Warner of this place, who with give you the contents of the article that was published in the Broad-Axe. It is this:

"The item that appeared in the GUARD, signed 'A Voter of Fall Creek' was dictated by Mr. K. himself to the reporter, with the exception of Mr. K. has already acknowledged the populist platform, but had to wag where the citizens fell and on one occasion in the presence of several others cursed the democratic party for all he could lay his tongue to. These facts and can be proved. That no one would think Mr. Darling wrote this statement of facts, I want it distinctly understood that I do not write this under an assumed name. Signed, Mason Y. Warner."

Now Mr. Editor, I will give below the article that the above-named Jack is alluding about, that appeared in the GUARD:

"Fall Creek, March 3, 1894. The people party primary was held at the City school house March 3. After the primary a political discussion was held by J. H. Darling, representing the populist, and the reporter for the democratic. These gentlemen did not complete their argument but agreed to complete their argument at some future time. We hereby invite some of the populist and republican men to express their views as I am informed that Mr. K. is ready any time to meet them. Signed, 'A Voter of Fall Creek.'"

Now Mr. Editor, I want to say right here that the above statement made by this demagogue concerning me is a willful and damaging lie, as I never talked politics with him in any life. Why? For the simple reason that he has not got brains enough to talk on a common conversation. How could anything else be expected of a man whose brains is in his government as a catch is the words in his case. As for wagging where the citizens fell I have never wagged my tongue with any reporter, but if it were not for the populist critics that fall to the above-named he would now be bragging for Coxey's band. The reporter of this article and the above that this Jack is kicking about care as a glance that he is alluding to, with the exception of the spots where there is no punning. The fact of the business is, Mr. Editor, this man Warner has been an enemy of mine for six years and has tried to pull me down, morally, financially, and every mean, low, deluded way a man could, but he has succeeded so far. I am still up and expect to remain on top. The people of this precinct know the position Warner has taken against me. I do not wish to settle any personal difficulty through the paper but will rather this Jack myself.

MASON Y. WARNER.

Communication.

FALL CREEK, April 9, 1894.

EDITOR GUARD: Will you please allow me space in your paper to answer an article that appeared in the Broad-Axe issue of March 31, Warner of this place, who with give you the contents of the article that was published in the Broad-Axe. It is this:

"The item that appeared in the GUARD, signed 'A Voter of Fall Creek' was dictated by Mr. K. himself to the reporter, with the exception of Mr. K. has already acknowledged the populist platform, but had to wag where the citizens fell and on one occasion in the presence of several others cursed the democratic party for all he could lay his tongue to. These facts and can be proved. That no one would think Mr. Darling wrote this statement of facts, I want it distinctly understood that I do not write this under an assumed name. Signed, Mason Y. Warner."

Now Mr. Editor, I will give below the article that the above-named Jack is alluding about, that appeared in the GUARD:

"Fall Creek, March 3, 1894. The people party primary was held at the City school house March 3. After the primary a political discussion was held by J. H. Darling, representing the populist, and the reporter for the democratic. These gentlemen did not complete their argument but agreed to complete their argument at some future time. We hereby invite some of the populist and republican men to express their views as I am informed that Mr. K. is ready any time to meet them. Signed, 'A Voter of Fall Creek.'"

Now Mr. Editor, I want to say right here that the above statement made by this demagogue concerning me is a willful and damaging lie, as I never talked politics with him in any life. Why? For the simple reason that he has not got brains enough to talk on a common conversation. How could anything else be expected of a man whose brains is in his government as a catch is the words in his case. As for wagging where the citizens fell I have never wagged my tongue with any reporter, but if it were not for the populist critics that fall to the above-named he would now be bragging for Coxey's band. The reporter of this article and the above that this Jack is kicking about care as a glance that he is alluding to, with the exception of the spots where there is no punning. The fact of the business is, Mr. Editor, this man Warner has been an enemy of mine for six years and has tried to pull me down, morally, financially, and every mean, low, deluded way a man could, but he has succeeded so far. I am still up and expect to remain on top. The people of this precinct know the position Warner has taken against me. I do not wish to settle any personal difficulty through the paper but will rather this Jack myself.

MASON Y. WARNER.

Communication.