

A little rain today. Democratic primaries tomorrow afternoon.

Times are still lively around the sheriff's office.

J. R. Wyatt, of Albany, visited Eugene last night.

County Commissioners court adjourned last evening.

Several immigrants arrived here on this afternoon's train.

E. Schwarschild returned home from Portland this afternoon.

Stallion show near the court house tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Work is being continued on the dam of the Eugene water power today.

The Marion county republicans have placed a county ticket in the field.

Col. B. F. Alley, of Florence, returned from Roseburg this morning.

President Chapman lectures in Salem tonight on "English literature."

John B. McGee, superintendent of the Annie mine, was in Eugene today.

The Simon ticket carried the day at the republican primaries in Portland.

Reports come from all portions of the state that the fruit crop promises well.

Clackamas republicans instructed for Appertson for governor, Hermann for congress.

John and Fred Withrow left for Amity this morning where they are planting out a hop yard.

Mrs. J. H. McDonald, of Harrisburg, came up this afternoon on a visit to her mother, Mrs. Wm. Osburn.

The weather bureau predicts showers for today and Saturday. It hit the mark so far as today is concerned.

The river warehouse will be located near the Eugene wagon road bridge, and a lease has already been received to the ground so we are informed.

Mrs. Crawford, whose husband was killed while logging on Mill creek March 15, leaves with her children and the remains of her husband on the local in the morning for her old home at Edmore, Michigan.

The supreme court has decided the case of the State of Oregon against Linn county, brought to recover certain taxes against the county. Thus $3000 or $4000 will have to be paid to the state.

The postoffice appointments for Oregon yesterday were: Mrs. Jennie A. Currie, at Nashville, Lincoln county; A. B. Elliott, at Powell Valley, Multnomah county; and John D. Black, at Marshfield.

Today's Oregonian has this personal: Edward S. Orr, mayor-elect of Tacoma, was in the city last night. This morning he starts for the Bohemia mining district in Lane county, to look after certain mining interests there.

R. L. Hendricks and wife, of Salem, arrived here on this afternoon's train on a short visit to relatives. Mr. Hendricks is superintendent of the reform school and was formerly editor of the Salem Statesman.

M. C. Sullivan, the Pinkerton and Thel detective, got into an altercation with Sheriff Matthews, of Tacoma, yesterday, and was dealt a blow on the mouth. The excitement sent him to bed and in two hours he was dead.

Miss Luella George, who has been visiting with the Messrs Hoffman and their families for the past two weeks, left for her home in Baker City this morning. Miss Edythe Hoffman accompanied her as far as Portland, where she will visit for a few days.

A Roseburg dispatch of April 5th says: Yesterday H. Wallenberg and Aaron Rose, sr., paid into the county treasury $13,875.75 in cash, the full balance due from them on ex-treasurer Arrington's bond, making a total of $23,575.75. The bondsmen have now paid in the full amount of the defalcation, together with costs of suits.

Newberg Graphic:—The wrought iron range man is abroad in the land, and we caution our readers to beware of him. His stove may be all right, and probably is, but it is the proper thing, if you want anything of the kind, to get some one of the local dealers to get it for you. It will cost you less and your money will remain at home instead of being sent East.

Astoria Budget:—A society young man of this city has written to inquire how a button-hole boquet should be worn. In the beginning of a great political campaign this question is rather irrelevant, but let that pass. A button-hole boquet should be worn in a button-hole, if one can be found off duty. Any available button hole will do, we suppose, with the exception of the one in the shirt at the back of the neck, where it would give the impression that society is going backward.

The old custom of wearing a La France, and now nearly obsolete in Astoria. If the disease should become chronic the best the patient can do is to change his socks once a week and let nature take its course.

Following are the first and last of ten verses, by a Chemawa man, on "Webfoot Land":

I sing of a land of a golden strand That lies on the Pacific's shore; There tall fir stands in piney grand Keeping time with the Ocean's roar.

Their way down the mountain side, Nor is her son the only one To sound Fair Oregon's fame; For those who come from the rising sun

Will honor, too, her name. Then from Seapooe, to the Skikyouns We will shout on every hand, The Cascades, blue, will echo, too: "Hurrah for the 'Webfoot Land.'"

Corvallis Times: For a long time, Will H. Parry has been city editor of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and now comes the news that he has been appointed city and county controller of Seattle. This is good; and a mighty leap up since the days when Hazlett did the work and Parry dodged the creditors of the Corvallis Gazette.

Resigned.—Frank Davey has resigned as grand lecturer of the A. O. U. W. in Oregon. He has also severed his connection as manager of the Keeley Institute at Forest Grove.

Mr. Nichols, of Portland, is in Eugene visiting the city.

Mrs. Alice H. Chapman arrived here from a visit to Salem this afternoon.

Walter Lang has left for San Francisco, going via the Portland steamer route.

The Polk county republicans have nominated B. F. Mulkey, formerly of this county for clerk.

Mrs. L. J. Hicks and son Claude went to Salem this morning to visit relatives.

Medford item: Mrs. Hill, of Lane county, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. L. Vawter.

Quite a number of students of the University of Oregon, arrived back from their vacation this afternoon.

The republican congressional convention will be held at Salem Monday and the state convention at Portland Wednesday.

Democratic primaries are being held throughout Lane county today. The county convention will be held next Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hendricks, who have been visiting relatives and friends here, returned to Salem this morning.

L. S. Davis and D. H. Roberts will leave The Dalles, for the fossil beds the 15th inst., in the interest of Prof. Condon, of the University of Oregon. They expect to be gone about three weeks.

J. M. Nolan, an enterprising Corvallis merchant, offers a reward of $5 for the best written advertisement of his spring stock. Mr. Nolan believes in advertising and never stops it.

Cottage Grove Leader: Enkin & Bristow, merchants and bankers, have sent over $9000 of tax money thus far to Eugene. The people seem to have been quite fortunate in paying taxes this season, far beyond expectation.

The superintendent of the Oregon state insane asylum has submitted his report for the month just closed. From it the following statistics have been obtained: The number of patients on February 28 was 936—290 females and 646 males; the number received during March was 22; the number discharged as recovered was 15, 3 females and 12 males; number discharged, much improved, 3, males; number discharged, improved, 2; discharged, not improved, 2; died, 2.

The Late Mrs. Caulfield.

Salem Statesman: Effie Young Caulfield, beloved wife of Thos. E. Caulfield, of Salem, died at the family residence No. 440 Chemeketa street, at 9:30 p. m., Friday, April 6, 1894. She was the ninth daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Young, of Lane county, and first saw the light of day on the 30th of March, 1873, at Eugene. In the year 1888 she entered the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Salem, for the purpose of acquiring an education other than that of a common school, and under the faithful guidance and watchful attention of the sisters of that institution arrived at that high pinnacle in life wherein she was graduated with most high honors in June, 1892. While thus engaged in school duties she formed the acquaintance of Mr. Caulfield which ripened into love, and after a happy courtship, they were united in matrimony, on November 4, 1892, the ceremony being performed in St. Joseph's Catholic church in this city, Rev. J. S. White tying the nuptial knot. Previous to this happy union she acknowledged her belief in the Catholic religion and was baptized as a member. On last Thursday night she gave birth to a son which, superinduced by droupical trouble, was the cause of her demise. She was an accomplished woman and being possessed of a most amiable disposition, formed many warm friends who extend deep sympathy to the bereaved husband and parents in their hour of sorrow. The funeral services will be held at the Catholic church at 2 p. m. today, conducted by Rev. J. S. White. The remains will be laid to rest in the Caulfield vault in the Catholic cemetery south of this city. The casket will not be opened at the church.

A POOR BASK.—Ashland Tidings: Jack Garvin and wife, who live on Wagner Creek several miles above Talent, had $245 in gold coin cased in a rag box in a closet of their house last week, but they haven't it now. Mrs. Garvin saw it there at noon on Saturday. About noon on Sunday she discovered that it had been stolen. A man living with them or near them was suspected and placed under arrest, but a search failed to discover the money in his possession and he was discharged. Jack is a hard working miner, and the money, which was paid him for an interest in a prospect which he owned on Applegate, was a good big sum for them to lose in that way.

Florence Items.

The West, April 6.

The pile driver is kept busy driving the piles for the boom of the Spruce Point Mill. As soon as the machinery arrives the mill will start up work.

The herring have made their appearance in the waters of the Siuslaw river. Fresh herring are prepared into a very palatable dish.

On Wednesday the steamer Chetco sailed into our port without the assistance of a tug. She is going to load lumber here and return to San Francisco.

The contract to carry the mail from Gardiner to Alene was awarded to an Iowa man for $275. Our routes seem to fall into the hands of cheap John speculating mail contractors.

The town of Florence held its municipal election on Tuesday. There was not much interest taken and the vote was consequently light. The following were the successful candidates: B. F. Alley, president; Councilmen, O. W. Hurd, Wm. Kyle, A. O. Fiske and L. M. Christensen; recorder, D. E. Soggy; marshal, J. C. Brown.

The schooner Life Mattie, which sailed from this port on the 26th of last month, carried 199 bushels of potatoes and two barrels of pork for A. J. McLeod; 10 tons of chittim bark for Knowles & Getty, and 140,000 feet of lumber from the Siuslaw River Lumber Company's mill at Acme.

Hermann Re-Nominations.

Special to the Daily Grand: SALEM, April 6.—Hon. Binger Hermann was re-nominated for congressman by acclamation, Hon. T. H. Tongue declining.

Binger Hermann, of Roseburg, was born at Lonecannon, Allegany county, Maryland, February 19, 1843; was educated in the rural schools of Western Maryland and at the Independent Academy (afterward Irving College, near Baltimore City); removed to Oregon, taught country schools, studied law, and was admitted to the supreme court of Oregon in 1866, and has practiced law continuously since; was elected to the Oregon legislature (lower house) in 1866, and was state senator in 1868; was deputy collector of United States internal revenue for Southern Oregon 1868-71; was receiver of public moneys at the United States land office at Roseburg, Oregon, under appointment by President Grant, 1871-73; was judge advocate, with the rank of colonel, in the Oregon state militia, 1882-'84; was elected to the forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, and fifty-second congresses, and was re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a republican, receiving 18,219 votes, against 13,019 votes for R. M. Voth, democrat, 7,518 votes for R. V. Rork, republican, and 1,285 votes for W. T. Higdon, prohibitionist.

Both Were Old Mountain Men. PAIGENIX, April 6.—Yesterday Chas. Roquet was shot and killed on the road between Globe and Tonto basin, by Phil Askins. Few particulars have come. Roquet was a Frenchman, who had built up in the mountains a highly profitable fruit ranch. Askins is a very old man, celebrated as the greatest lion and bear hunter of the Southwest. He is thought to be somewhat demented. The two men were partners in a band of hogs, and it is understood that the murder occurred over an altercation over a settlement of the partnership. Both men had been participants in the Pleasant Valley war a few years ago. Askins was captured and is now in jail at Globe.

He Knew Too Much. DENVER, April 6.—Jack Crowler, an associate of gamblers and thieves, known as Aspen Jack, was found dead September 13, 1893, in a lodging house. His face was black and blue and covered with clotted blood as if he had been strangled. It was supposed he was murdered by his criminal associates when they learned he was a Pinkerton detective, as he had evidence on which they would be sent to the penitentiary. Irish Jimmy Sharon, a gambler, who was found dead last week, occupied the room next to the one in which Crowler was murdered, and the detectives have concluded he was also murdered, because when intoxicated he dropped remarks indicating that he knew who killed Crowler.

Rhode Island Election. PROVIDENCE, April 5.—The republicans made a sweep in the elections in the state yesterday. The democratic papers concede Brown's election for governor by a plurality of over 400, and say the general assembly is also republican. This assures the election of Wetmore as United States senator. The vote polled is the largest in the history of the state. The republicans made gains in many cities, and claim their whole ticket is elected in Narragansett, a former democratic stronghold. The democrats, however, maintain in Providence, hitherto a strong republican city.

Arrests Made at Florence. FLORENCE, S. C., April 5.—An order has been received from Governor Tillman directing the arrest of all citizens of this place who participated in taking the guns from the local armory last Friday. The order embraces the best citizens of the town. They are surrendering quietly, and are reporting to the court house. Hatens corpus proceedings will be commenced.

He Cannot Interfere. WASHINGTON, April 5.—President Cleveland last night received a cable appeal from the Masonic lodge of Argentine, urging him to intercede to permit the landing of Brazilian refugees from the Portuguese vessels at Buenos Ayres, but it is impossible for him to interfere in the matter, and the state department will reply to that effect today. The administration holds that it cannot consistently take action where interests of Americans are not jeopardized, and no exception can be made in this instance.

A New Panama Canal Company. PARIS, April 5.—Persons representing 722,000 shares in the Panama canal enterprise met yesterday and resolved to entrust a syndicate of five with the founding of a new company to complete the canal. They agreed to provide a first subscription of 20,000,000 francs, this to be subscribed proportionately, and the share of the existing committee to be deducted from the assets distributable among them.

Bankers Avoiding Taxation. WASHINGTON, April 5.—Representative Hall, of Missouri, delegated by the committee on banking and currency to write a favorable report on the Cooper bill to tax greenbacks, said concerning the bill: "I regard the measure as a most significant one. The anxiety of the bankers to get hold of greenbacks has been so great that a fraudulent practice has grown up. A package of greenbacks is passed from bank to bank, ahead of the tax assessor, and in each bank he examines the same package of greenbacks. The Cooper bill will put an end to the practice."

The Benefit of Advertising. HARRISBURG, Pa., April 5.—Miss Alice Lingist of Sand Beach, Dauphin county, 27 years old, and weighing 33 pounds left last night for Coeur d'Alene Idaho, to marry Harry Crutcher, whom she never saw. Crutcher advertised for a wife and the engagement resulted.

Rolling in Regard to School Lands. WASHINGTON, April 5.—A long line of department rulings in the administration of school indemnity laws are reversed by a decision rendered yesterday by Secretary Smith on the application of the state of Oregon to select double minimum lands for last single minimum lands. The decision holds that the selection of double minimum lands may and ought to be allowed to the school grant in lieu of single minimum lands lost.

Union County Republicans.

CORVALLIS, April 7.—The Benton county republican convention was held in this city today. The ticket named is as follows:

Delegates to the state and district conventions: E. Woodward, Thos. Cooper, Levi Henkle, R. M. Davidson, Miles Starr, Wm. Knotts; representative, Thos. Cooper; clerk, Henry Korthauer; sheriff, G. W. Smith; county judge, W. S. Hubbard, the present incumbent; recorder, H. T. Bristol; treasurer, Frank Clark; coroner, I. G. Altman; county commissioner, E. Chambers; assessor, M. Hayden; surveyor, George Mercer.

"Bush" Wilson who has been the republican nominee for county clerk for the past thirty-two years, and always elected, has evidently been "turned down" Mr. Korthauer, the present nominee, is a young and thorough business man of Corvallis.

Showered Them How It Was Done. BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 6.—Joseph, a student at Blount County College, accidentally shot himself at Morris yesterday in most peculiar manner. Dial was at a picnic and was amusing a party of lady friends by putting the end of the barrel of his pistol in his mouth and pulling the trigger back almost to the going-off place just to show how nicely he could do it. He did it several times, when to the horror of the spectators the pistol discharged. Dial's tongue was cut off and the bullet penetrated his head. He died today from the effects of the wound.

Spanish Pilgrims in Rome. ROME, April 6.—One hundred and fifteen thousand Spanish pilgrims are expected in Rome, and the pope has decided that the services in connection with the beatifying of Juan de Avila Diago, of Cadiz Diaz, are to be held in scene of a similar ceremony since 1870. The pope, on April 19, will give an audience to the pilgrims in the basilica. A consistory for the recognizing of bishops and for the creation of cardinals will be held June 10. The public consistory, at which the new cardinals will receive their latus, will be held June 21.

A National Bank Robbed. EL DORADO, Kan., April 6.—The Exchange National bank of this city was robbed of $15,700 a few days ago. The officers kept it a secret until today, in the hope of catching the robber, but they have as yet failed to do so. There was no force used on the vaults, and it is supposed to have been the work of some one who understood the combination. There is a reward of $4000 offered for the thief and the return of the money.

Democrats Want a Caucus. WASHINGTON, April 6.—Over 150 democratic members of the house today united in a request to Chairman Holman, of the democratic caucus, for a caucus on the state bank question next Thursday.

Quiet in the Coke Region. CONNELLVILLE, Pa., April 6.—Everything is quiet in the coke region. Further trouble may occur, but the operators claim the backbone of the strike is broken. A number of plants are now operating. The strikers do not think the strike is broken, and are recovering from the confusion caused by the arrest of the leaders. The strikers say when they have fully recovered the strike will be resumed with vigor.

Aided the Revolutionists. NEW YORK, April 5.—President Peixoto, of Brazil, has procured a list of citizens of Rio who aided the revolutionists. The majority are said to be parasites of the imperial regime.

Da Gama and His Officers. NEW YORK, April 5.—The steamer Angolia, of the Portuguese navy, has sailed from Lisbon for Buenos Ayres, under orders to proceed to the Argentine capital and take on board the insurgent admiral, Da Gama, and his officers, now on the Portuguese warships, and to return immediately.

Plenty of Italian Wines. WASHINGTON, April 6.—Discouraging reports come from consular agent Castellamare, of Italy, as to the enormous wine crop. The grape crop is so abundant in many districts that there are not barrels and dimijohns suffice to hold the juice, and cisterns are filled with wine. The great French wine crop, by reducing the market in that country for Italian wines, will compel large exports to other countries.

Dave Hill and Tariff. WASHINGTON, April 6.—The announcement that Senator Hill will deliver his speech on the tariff Tuesday next is received with much interest at the capitol. It is expected that Hill will thrust thorns into the side of the administration. He will undoubtedly inveigh against the income tax and the policy of lack of such which has given being to the bill. Just how much he will find to object to, and how strongly he will put it, will be one of the factors in determining the case with which the tariff bill will pass the senate. Senator Hill has maintained just enough secrecy about the nature of his remarks to arouse curiosity.

Springfield Delegates. SPECIAL TO THE GRAND: SPRINGFIELD, April 7.—The following delegates were elected to the democratic county convention this afternoon: W. F. Cheshire, P. Wilcox, J. W. Stewart, J. A. Stevens.

Joe Simon the Boss. SPECIAL TO THE GRAND: PORTLAND, Ore., April 7, 4 p. m.—Republican county convention organized with Sol Hirsch, chairman. Joseph Simon was nominated for state senator by acclamation.

Convention voting on representatives. Everything indicates a Simon county and city ticket.

A Notorious Scheme. OLYMPIA, April 7.—The Union Pacific officials have been notified of a malicious attempt to drain Barnes lake one mile south of Olympia, by the aid of the old Union Pacific roadbed. Had the efforts proved successful a body of water two-thirds of a mile long and half a mile wide and about 25 feet deep would have flooded the surrounding country, doing hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of damage. The lake is now being guarded day and night by a deputy appointed by the county commissioners.

JENNINGS'S EXPERIENCE.

The Journal says: "A. C. Jennings is well qualified to perform the duties of clerk, having had experience in similar duties."

Yes, Mr. Jennings had an "experience" as chief clerk of the lower house of the legislature several years ago, and made a most lamentable failure, causing his friends, who had vouched for his competency, no end of mortification.

When the house got organized Mr. Jennings tried to perform the duties of chief clerk, and for two days blocked the business of the legislature, by his titter incapacity and lack of clerical ability. The members of the house were thoroughly disgusted by the needless delay, and Jennings was easily persuaded to turn over work, not the salary of $10 per day however, to the assistant clerk, then tried his hand as reading clerk. His failure in that place was only a little less pronounced than in the superior position, and to enable the house to do business he quit trying to read for the Oregon solons. We have not yet learned what job he then took, or whether he performed any other services for the state during the remainder of the session.

There was one duty he was able to perform. He drew the salary of $10 per day during the session for work which was performed by others. The "experience" claimed for Mr. Jennings is not such as will satisfy the voters of Lane county of the expediency of electing him county clerk.

Of all the European governments, that of England is the only one which is paying its way. The remainder are living on loans. As a consequence they are all augmenting their national debts. Between 1880 and 1887, the national debt of France was increased by 12,000,000,000 francs, that of Russia by 11,000,000,000, that of Austria-Hungary by 4,019,000,000, that of Germany by something like the same sum, that of Spain by 1,300,000,000, and so on. Even the smallest states are heavy borrowers, Belgium having added almost as much to her obligations as Spain. While the Rumanian debt has been augmented to the extent of 701,000,000 francs, that of Serbia to the extent of 244,000,000, and that of Greece to the extent of 270,000,000.

An esteemed cotemporary comments as follows: "Most business men as soon as they find business is dull, refuse to look for the cause, and simply work themselves into a frenzy of depression, cut expenses in every way, talk hard times, show hard times in their faces, give a hard time appearance to their store, and get exactly what they expect—no trade. The progressive merchant arranges his counters more attractively, piles his goods higher than usual, decorates his window, burns more gas, brushes up everything, puts a new coat of paint on the outside, looks animated, diffuses his enthusiasm in every clerk, advertises more extensively and gets the bulk of the business. There are selling seasons, and there will always be, but people wear out clothes and shoes as much in dull times as in flush, and the dull-time stomach will have its accustomed food anyway."

Salem Daily Independent, Ind.: The delegates to the state convention from Linn county, are unanimously for Hon. J. K. Weatherford for congress. There is one thing that can be said of Mr. Weatherford's political life, and that is that it has always been devoted to the best interests of the people. And to show the high estimation in which he is held in his own county it is only necessary to state that in 1882, when he was on the democratic ticket for secretary of state, against Hon. R. P. Earhart, that he carried Linn county by nearly 800 majority. He is certainly the strongest man in the first district for congress.

Salt Lake Tribune: The winter is almost past, but there is an item in an eastern paper which, every woman in Salt Lake should cut out and paste in the top of her husband's hat, as a sure proof of the danger of compelling the woman of the house to split the kindling wood. The item says that a Minnesota woman was splitting wood in the house, when either her blows or her expressions she was using at the time, jarred down a hanging lamp which exploded and burned down the house.

Hon. Chas. Nickell of the Jacksonville Times has been invited to address the National Editorial Association which meets at Ashbury Park, N. J. The first week in July.

Postal cards were first issued May 1, 1873. The first year's sales were 91,079,000 while last year over 500,000,000 were sold.

Jacksonville exchange: Perceiving that the people's party was running after the idols of the wicked democrats and holding caucuses and putting up political jobs, W. H. Broese has ordered his name erased from the roll of the populist club at Talent. N. B. Brophy resigned at the same time.

In a letter published in the Bandon Recorder, J. H. Upton states that he will donate to the county school superintendent to be apportioned among the school districts of Curry a sum equal to his over draft for mileage, as a member of the late legislature. He fails to fix the time for so doing, however.

The Courier Journal suggests that it might be a good idea while these nauseating reports of the Pollard-Breckinridge case are being published for the head of the house to carefully edit his newspaper with a pair of shears. He can then allow the expurgated edition to go into his family and take the clippings away to his office.

Joe Simon, the boss, has already named the county and city republican tickets in Portland. Wednesday he will nominate a state ticket. He has more political power, considering the size of his field, than ever did John Kelley, Chris Buckley or McKane. Still the Oregonian applauds the former, while it condemns the others. Does it get part of the spoils?

The Oregon Independent, McMahon's Populist weekly, has been sold to J. H. Fletcher, Geo. T. Cline, of Woodburn, to be editor. He is a populist candidate for representative. Mr. McMahon is seeking to have a receiver appointed for the Independent Publishing Company, a move to oust Mr. Fletcher as editor of the daily and as business manager of the weekly. The end is not yet.

The East Oregonian gives this well timed and sensible advice: "Don't repudiate any debt which you in any manner owe, but resolve so soon as you can get out of debt and stay out of debt. If no one was in debt and there were no debts there would be no depressions or panics, and what is known as hard times. Debt is the canker which destroys the source of prosperity."

MINING INTERESTS.—Brownsville Times: The mines on the Blue River are beginning to attract considerable attention this spring, even though it is early in the season. J. M. Henton, a thorough mining man in every sense of the word, arrived here the first of the week from California. He is formerly from the Black Hills and comes here for the purpose of examining the mines in this vicinity. He represents a company of men who have the money to push any enterprise they undertake, and that coupled with mining knowledge, is just what is needed in this district. A second man will arrive in about two weeks and then the two men, accompanied by men interested in the mines, will start for them and begin a thorough examination. If the outlook is as favorable to them as has been portrayed, and we are confident that it will be, before another year rolls around a mill of large proportions will be put in and a mining camp in pace with California in 1890 will be the result. Citizens, arouse and be ready to join in any movement that will assist to open these new avenues of wealth.

EX-LANE COUNTIES.—W. F. Matlock one of the early residents of Lane county, and a brother of J. D. Matlock, of this city, was re-nominated for state senator by the Unaffiliated democrats last Saturday. C. E. Stanard, who formerly attended the University, is the democratic candidate for clerk in Linn county. Dan J. Moore, who will be remembered by many Eugene people, and who worked on the GUARD for a year while Geo. J. Buys was proprietor of the same, was given the republican nomination for clerk in Multnomah county last Saturday. We predict that all these gentlemen will be successful at the polls in June.

MARRIED.—At the Hotel Eugene, in Eugene, Oregon, April 9, 1894, by G. W. Kinsey, J. P., Alex. Castled and Fannie Howard, all of Lane county, Oregon.

The Wheat Market. SPECIAL TO THE DAILY GRAND: PORTLAND, April 6.—Cargoes on passage firmly held; options and Liverpool spot generally dearer; at San Francisco, buyers and sellers apart, market tending up, and futures higher; Chicago and New York report markets firmer.

EX-CONVICT'S SUIT FOR DAMAGES. STOKX CITY, Ia., April 9.—Walter H. Brooks returned today from the penitentiary at Anamosa, where he served a term of one year for embezzlement. He will at once sue the county for $10,000 for damage sustained by his health while he was imprisoned in jail here. The jail has been condemned by the grand jury and district judges respectively, and it is believed he will win the case.

Dr. B. F. Hamell, of Roseburg, visited Eugene over last Sunday.
