Boy Tramps.

Daily Guard, May 1.

Marshal Eastland, last evening, after dark, discovered two well-dressed boys, aged about 12 years, consorting with a gang of tramps camped near the university. He proceeded to interview them, and found out their names were Hedfield and Allen, that they hailed from Albany and were enroute for the Golden State. He brought them to town and telegraphed the authorities at Albany, who replied that the parents of the boys were disinclined to have them returned, hence they were discharged from custody.

Last evening's Albany Democrat has the following concerning the youthful tramps: "The 12-year-old son of F. M. Hedfield and F. E. Allen left home yesterday for California. This is their second attempt. They will probably not be disturbed in their flight. It takes experience to learn matters so as to have them fixed in one's mind, and the boys will soon be glad to return to the paternal roof in Albany. This is the restless era in the world's history, and boys and men alike seem ever moving up and down after adventure and something better, only to get hunked."

The West, April 27.

Mrs. W. A. Cox is quite ill, so we are told. As she now resides on the island, her friends here feel anxious about her and wish they could render assistance.

Win. Kyle was a passenger on the steamer Roberts last week, bound for Yaquina. The steamer returned on Saturday, loaded with passengers and freight.

The steamer Lillian will be taken to Yaquina this week, where she will be placed on the route between Newport, Yaquina and Toledo. She is a fleet boat and will be quite an advantage to the traveling public at these points.

Major J. C. Post and A. J. Brownlie visited Heceta to inspect the light house on Wednesday last. It is Major Post's first visit here and it is understood that he will employ 15 or 20 men to do the work of fencing the grounds, grading and other necessary improvements.

Three families came in on the tug from Yaquina last Saturday, and one of the gentlemen has already purchased a farm and the others will soon locate, as they are well pleased with the country. We are having a large tide of immigration this spring than at any former period, with the outlook that this increasing population will be further augmented a little further on.

A pair of Chinese pheasants have settled themselves down at the mouth of Sweet creek, and by the way they strut around and make themselves at home it appears as though they had come to stay. Several have been seen near Point Terrace, and if they are given half a chance, we shall soon have plenty of choice meat for our tables. Their flesh is very fine and they increase very rapidly, raising under ordinary circumstances 11 broods in one season.

SCHOOL REPORT.—Of school district No. 1 for month ending April 27: whole number of scholars enrolled on register 44, average daily attendance 75, No. days absence 32, tardiness nominal. The following scholars were not absent during the month: Sarah, Helen and George Streeter, Edith Wilson, Grace Marks, Annie and Fred Hopkins, Laura and Ralph Heston, Bessie and Lottie Baxter, Emma, Minnie, Ernest and William Miller, Arthur and Alex McKibbin and Vernon Callison. E. R. PARKER, Teacher.

SCHOOL REPORT.—The following is a monthly report of the first school month of the Smithfield public school, commencing April 23 to April 27th, which had an enrollment of 37 pupils, of whom the following received 100 per cent department: May Beaman, Hattie Hubbard, Ore Mounts, Lou Mounts, Anna Mounts, Ida Mounts, and Lottie Baxter. There were 24 pupils who were not tardy and who were present each day during the month. April 23, 1894. P. C. WEBB, Principal.

Roseburg Review: Work in the Myrtle Creek mines has not down for the present. The clean up made by the company was not very satisfactory.

Horrible Suicide.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., April 30.—Widow Proboscak committed suicide today at her home on Hoskins street. She saturated her bed with oil, lay down, then ignited the bed, and roasted to death. Firemen extinguished the flames.

Success for Divorce.

LUCY FOR DIVORCE.—Mrs. M. M. Luckey has instituted a suit for absolute divorce from her husband, E. R. Luckey, in the Lane county circuit court. The couple were married at The Dalles, Oregon, July 8, 1875. There are five children, the result of said marriage, the oldest being 17 years of age and the youngest 6, and the plaintiff asks for their custody and care. The complaint alleges that defendant abandoned plaintiff February 1, 1892, without cause.

J. O. Hawthorn has a machine of his own invention at work in his Astoria cannery that washes 36,000 cans in 10 hours. The best record for the old machines was 12,000.

Kansas is always several laps ahead of the other states. A Kansas girl has applied to the courts to issue an injunction to prevent the man she loves from marrying another girl. There are lots of softer snags than the judge who will pass on that application.

SOME DIFFERENCE.—People who think the flouring mills have a big thing will be interested in the following from the Pendleton E. O.: Mr. Byers of the Pendleton mills, in speaking of changes of methods and conditions since he was employed in the mills of Minneapolis 30 years ago, said: "People little realize how newly devised machinery cheapens the cost of the necessities of life. Thirty years ago when I was employed in the mills of Minneapolis the profit on a barrel of flour was from 50 to 75 cents, and often on account of a rise in the market, after a supply had been purchased, it reached $1. Of course on a falling market the profit was lowered, yet it was seldom less than 50 cents. Now we never realize more than 10 cents on a barrel. It is true in all the milling centers. A statement recently put out by an authority was that the great Washburn-Crosby mills in Minneapolis last year averaged 10 cents on the total output."

THE STEELERS.—Corvallis Gazette: Four steers that tipped the beam at 6222 pounds, were sold last Saturday by Mr. Wilson, of Alsea, to J. M. Osburn, of this city. The price paid seems to be secret. Mr. Wilson came out here expecting to get at least 25 cents per pound for the cattle on foot, claiming that such offers had recently been made over in the Alsea country. On consulting the various stock buyers of Corvallis, he found that the market price was considerably less than he supposed.

NOT GUILTY.—Albany Democrat: The second trial of Prof. Girard arrested for whipping one of his pupils, Mary Looftrow, occurred at Lebanon Saturday afternoon and attracted a crowded house. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney P. R. Kelley and A. E. Stowe appeared for the prosecution and Attorney Scamers for the school teacher. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty, which is the result of nine out of ten such cases.

SUES FOR DIVORCE.—Mrs. M. M. Luckey has instituted a suit for absolute divorce from her husband, E. R. Luckey, in the Lane county circuit court. There are five children, the result of said marriage, the oldest being 17 years of age and the youngest 6, and the plaintiff asks for their custody and care. A CYCLOPE.—The following from the Oregonia Review shows that the heavy wind of Wednesday of last week crossed the mountains into this valley: Just after dinner Wednesday Prineville was visited by a cyclone on a small scale, though of sufficient velocity to overturn the belltower, a structure about sixty feet high, which was built last summer. The wind came from the southeast, and appeared to have an upward sweep. When the wind struck the tower, it seemed to hit about two feet off the ground, and then gently laid it over to the north across the plainer dome, breaking the latter badly. About 20 feet of the upper part of the tower is badly broken and cannot be repaired, even if raised again. The tower was built by Adam Getz, and cost about $180. No other material damage was done by the wind.
