Pararaising and Quilting.

Mrs. D. C. Mathews, of Upper Dexter, entertained about sixty guests last Wednesday in a pleasant and profitable manner. The gentlemen were enbarn and the ladies were occupied in quilting. On the grounds near the home of Mr. Mathews lay the huge timbers of the barn all ready to be hoisted into the air; to these timbers the gentlemen were esserted soon af-ter their arrival, nhere each tried his strength in lifting. The ladies in their turn were escorted to the sitting room where hung a beautiful quilt ready for their nimble fingers. Every lady and gentleman worked fathfully until the noon hour when they were amply re paid for their labors by an apetising dinner prepared by their genial hostess Mrs. Mathews. All did justice to the good things set before them, after which they repaired to their respective work until about 3 o'clock when they went to their several homes more than went to their several homes more than pleased with their days accomplishments. The barn when finished will be large and roomy and the envy of the neighborhood. The only objection made to it was, that it was so high that perhaps it would shut out the beautiful view of Mt. June. Mr. and Mrs. Mathews desire to thank their many friends who so generously assisted them.
