The Old Story.

In many cases the children are the innocent sufferers, and the only ones, in divorce proceedings. The following taken from the Corvallis Times is a case in point: Ever since their divorce, more than a year ago, the custody of their two children has been a bone of contention between Charley Kennedy, the old O. P. conductor, and his first wife. The courts, at the time the divorce was granted, refused to give him possession of the children, and later he abducted and took them East, leaving them with relatives. Recently he brought them back to his home at Marshfield, and while he was here last week they were left in charge of his present wife. During his absence, his first wife, who keeps a lunch counter in East Portland, visited Marshfield and recaptured the children. Charley left here Monday for home. It is doubtful if this is the last chapter in this story.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

News by Wire From Different Sections.

ROSEBURG, Or., June 30.—A bone in F. H. Waite's right leg, between the knee and ankle, was broken this morning, while he was rounding up cattle near here. Waite's horse stumbled and fell on the leg. Mr. Waite is one of Douglas county's heaviest stock-dealers.

Judge Fullerton today sentenced Wesley Ray to one year in the penitentiary, for cattle stealing.

The Free Methodists commenced hold camp-meeting this morning in the grove south of town, and will continue for 10 days.

ASTORIA, June 30.—The cannery of the Astoria Packing Company, M. J. Kinney principal owner, one of the largest on the Columbia river, was totally destroyed by fire early this morning. The loss is estimated at $70,000, including 10,000 cases of salmon ready for shipment. The insurance cannot be ascertained, but is supposed to be $40,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—A continuation of the experimental free delivery of the postal service at the following places was authorized today: Roseville, Cal.; Roseburg, Or.; Caldwell, Idaho.

WEST SUPERIOR, July 2.—It is now believed that by the first part of August there will not be wheat enough at the head of the lake to supply the mills. The amount in store at present is scarcely 7,000,000 bushels. For the past three weeks millers have been drawing largely upon the elevators for their supplies.

The receipts by rail are far short of the amount necessary for their consumption. Of the 7,000,000 now in store the mills will use, at their present rate of consumption, over 3,000,000 bushels, and as the shipments approximate about 2,000,000 bushels per month the supply is more than likely to be exhausted before the new crop begins to move.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 2.—A terrible locomotive boiler explosion occurred at Hixson Station on the M. & O. R. R. at noon today. In the explosion, which was killed and J. C. Sanger, baggage master, A. D. Bentley, brakeman, and J. H. Devers, engineer, were badly hurt. Sanger probably fatally. It occurred at the foot of a mountain where the large push engine, of which Devers was engineer, hauled the freight train to the top of the mountain. Bartlett, engineer on the south-bound train, had detached his engine and gone over the mountain. Young Devers had come off the siding and backed the push engine up to the train. They were just in the act of making the coupling when the explosion occurred. The elder Devers and Bentley were on the ground making the coupling, and Sanger was on the baggage car. The force of the explosion was directed toward the baggage car. Young Devers was hurled into the south-bound train, which was torn away by the force of the explosion. He was instantly killed. Sanger was covered by a lot of coal buried from the tender and was badly scalded by escaping steam. The loss of life would probably have been greater but for the fact that the engine was of the saddle-tank pattern and the water cooled the escaping steam. The track was badly torn up. None of the passengers were hurt.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Senators Dolph and Mitchell made arguments before the commerce committee today and secured an increase in the appropriation for Oregon, as follows: St. Lawrence river, from $20,000 to $25,000; Tillamook bay, from $13,500 to $16,000. They also argued for some kind of an improvement at the Dalles. A test railway was preferred as the most practicable. The committee held this matter in abeyance. Senators Perkins and White and Representative English were also before the committee, and succeeded in obtaining several amendments to the bill.

The house committee on Pacific railroads considered the funding bill today without reaching any result. Next Saturday a hearing will be given at the request of Representative Blair, of New Hampshire, to representatives of the Sioux City & Pacific railroad, which has a debt to the government of $3,000,000. Its bonds for $1,000,000 are guaranteed by the government, it having been built as a part of the Pacific system, and the government has paid interest on it. Its debt is in the same condition as the Central and Union Pacific.

Senator Blanchard regards the prospect for holding the sugar schedule in its present shape better than it was yesterday. He thinks the democratic members of the finance committee will recede from their determination to bring into the senate their proposed modification of the schedule, changing the date when the schedule shall go into effect, and virtually striking out the additional one-tenth of a cent duty on sugar imported from countries paying a bounty.

ELENSBERG, July 1.—Two United States marshals came up from Yakima this morning with instructions to give the company protection in moving the train which had been here since Wednesday. The company called its crew at 1 o'clock this afternoon, and repeated the call several times, but there was no response. It is not believed it will be able to secure a crew here. The delayed passengers are being fed by the company, and the best of feeling, aside from the impatience to get away, prevails.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

TACOMA, July 1.—No train left for Portland today, but two trains arrived from Seattle. The Portland train should have pulled out at 11 a. m., but the fireman would not work and no one could be found to take his place.
