It is Said That Jackson Would Not Sign

CHICAGO, September 12.-Jackson has refused to sign the articles to fight Corbett. Edward Lloyd, representing the Sioux City Club, met Jackson and his manager, "Parson" Davies, at the Briggs House at noon. Lloyd produced the papers, which Corbett had signed in New York. Jackson glanced over them, and at once said they would not do.

"I will fight for your purse and a side bet of $1,000," he said, "but the fight will have to come off within three months."

"That's the idea exactly," said Day vies. "Corbett is on the stage now, and we don't intend to advertise him until next May or June. This agreement call for a fight between May 15 and June 15 Now you people name your place and make the time within the next three

CORRECT HEARD PROM. Washington, September 12.—Champion Corbett talked freely to-night conerning Jackson's refusal to sign articles for a fight under the auspicies of the Sioux City Athletic Club next year. Cor-bett insisted that Jackson's objections to the conditions of the articles that they failed to point out the place of fighting and duration of fight were very trivial and ought not to have any consideration in the minds of people. He pointed out in this connection that in his fight with Mitchell there was no certainty regard ing the place and time of the fight, even the day before the battle.

NEW YORK, September 11.-The investigation of the police department was resumed to-day by the Lexow committee of the State Senate, Mr. Goff was inquisitor-in-chief. He first stretched Detective Sergeant Charles A. Hanley upon the rack. The handsome gold watch which Hanley carried served for a text for Goff's interrogations, which were directed to showing the police were upon too friendly terms with the pawn-brokers for the good of the public, and that it was not uncommon for pawnbrokers to sell officers valuable articles at ridiculously low prices. Goff also questioned Hanley as to his relations with Jimmy McNally, well known as "Green-Goods Jim," the interrogations mplying the thief taker had accepted gifts at the hands of the man whom he lenounced as a thief. The detective was asked if he ever received money from McNally, and made an equivocal answer. This was followed by the question if he had not received from McNally two handsome banquet lamps. KAISER WILHELM.

German Emperor Makes Another Sensational Speech.

HE CALLS DOWN THE NOBILITY

The Opposition of the Prussian Nobilliy to Their King He Characterizes as a Monstrosity-The King of Warten burg the Principal Guest.

which the King of Wurtemburg was the had been coming of the sidetracking of a St. Paul and Duluth passenger train because of fires on all sides of it, and struck from the list of guests the names of Count von Mirbach and Count von Kanitz and Generals Klitzuing and Sandim. The two latter were subsequently restored. Emperor William's act plain-ly marked his displeasure at the attitude of the persons named upon the agrarian question. This is confirmed by the fact that the Emperor has just decorate Count von Doenhoff with the order of the Red Eagle, Count von Doenhoff was expelled last May from a Conservative union, because he voted for the Russo German commercial treaty in the Reichs ag. Emperor William approved the Count's action. After the Emperor had toasted the King of Wurtemburg and the latter had responded, his Imperia Majesty made a speech, which care the deepest impression. After a less words of thanks for his reception the Emperor said:

"When I was here four years ago emphasized the fact that in Easter Prussia, where the people are chiefly farmers, you must before all preserve and maintain a capable peasantry, and that as such they would be a pillar o support to any monarchy. Hence in constant endeavor whenever the opport tunity arises to foster the welfare and economy of East Prussia. The past four grievous years have weighed upon the farmer, and it appears to me that under this condition doubt has arisen in regar to my promises and as to whether i should be able to keep them. Nay, find myself compelled to observe with a sore heart that in the circles of the no bility standing near the throne my best intentions were misunderstood and to a certain extent combatted. Nay, more word of opposition has been brought to my ears. Gentlemen, the opposition of Prussian noblemen to their King is a monstrosity. They are justified in form ing an opposition only when they know the King to be at their head. This is a esson taught by the history of our country. How often have my ancestors had ereign Duke of Prussia will follow the same path as his great ancestor, and as once the first King of Prussia said, 'Ex me mea nata corona,' and as his great son established his authority, so I represent, like my imperial grandsire, the kingdom by the grace of God. "I shall continue in my constant endeavors, and the next budget will afford fresh proof of my parental solicitude. Gentlemen, let us regard the pressure weighing upon us and the times through which we are passing in the light of the Christian profession in which we have been educated as a trial laid upon us by God. Let us preserve our minds in quietude and endure with patience and firm resolution, hoping for better times according to our old maxim 'noblesse oblige,' A stirring ceremony passed before our eyes Tuesday. Before us stands the statue of William I, the imperial sword uplifted in his right hand, the bol of law and order. It reminds of the arduous struggle which has de signs against the very foundation of constitutional and social life. Now, gentlemen, it is to you I this day address for morality and for order against the parties of revolution. As the ivy winds itself around the oak, beautifies it with its leaves and protects it when the tem pests rage, so do the Prussian nobalty close around my house. May it, and with it the whole nobility of the Garman nation, become a bright example to those sections of the populace which are still wavering. Let us enter togethe upon this struggle. Onward with God, and dishonor to him who forsakes his
