BATTLE OF PING YANG.

Thousands of Chinese Prisoners to Sent to Japan.

London, September 10.—The officials of the Japanese legation here have received the following cable dispatch:

gained a great victory and captured the city. The number of the enemy killed, wounded and taken prisoners is immense, The Japanese lost eleven officers and 260 soldiers, killed and wounded."

The British Minister at Tokio has cabled the foreign office announcing the Japanese victory. A Central News Ping Yang dispatch, dated yesterday, says that 14,000 prisoners marched through that place vesterday; others are arriving hourly, and will be shipped to Japan. The report that there are 50,000 Chinese between Ping Yang and the Yain river is discredited. The force around Ping Yang was the flower of the army and really the only effective part. The Chinamen composing the levies now made have do idea of modern warfare. Another Ping Yang dispatch says that im-mense quantities of rifles and stores are stacked in the public squares. The Chi-nese prisoners are fairly well treated. They will be sent to Japan in batches of

PRATT WILL CONTEST.

The Fight Promises to be a Very Interesting One.

Los ANGELES, September 19.-The trial of the sensational contest over the will of Mrs. Anna A. Pratt, who died a few months ago, shortly after the decision was rendered in the famous family THE NAVAL BATTLE squabble over the guardianship of her person and estate, was commenced in the Probate Court to-day. The late Mrs. Pratt left an estate estimated to be worth dated April 28, 1881. By its terms she named as her executors Mrs. Louisa G. Cross, her sister; Charles P. Pratt, her son, and Mrs. Lulu C. Goodspeed, her daughter. Charles P. Pratt subsequently died, and a codicil was attached June if, 1885, to the effect that in the event of the marriage of Kate N. Pratt, her son's widow, the $10,000 left to her in the original will was to be given to her chil-dren. This document is contested by Mrs. Lulu Goodspeed and E. L. Camped, who contend that at the time the will was executed Mrs. Pratt was under duress and undue influence. It is fur-ther claimed that the contestants are in session of another will, which, if shown to be genuine, will completely change the aspect of affairs. The fight ald prints the following from its Rome correspondent under date of September 2: Another pilgrimage from across the Atlantic, this time from Canada, has arrived in Rome, and was received this morning by the Pontiff with great ceremony and graciousness. They came to Rome last Thursday from Lourdes, where they were during the national pilgrimage. As they steamed into the famous town of Bernadotte their American colleagues were just leaving. In an interview with M. Rivet, the director of the pilgrimage, he informed me that, al-though some of the party started out with rather vague ideas of Lourdes, they were all enthusiastically devont and de-lighted while there, and it was with great difficulty that they went away, even with the prospect before them of being received by the Holy Father. The first day of their stay ten miracles were registered at the bureau, and their faith was strengthened to exultation by the complete restoration to health of one of their party. Mrs. Burque, the wife of a physician of Montreal, suffering from umor, took this pilgrimage as a last resort, having been given up by the doc-tors in Canada. It was against their advice, and even in Paris no one could relieve her in any way, and she was told that, if she took such a journey, it was at the risk of her life. She pursisted, being strong in her faith; and, though much exhausted on arriving, a few days later she re-embarked for Paris, radiant with health with health, perfectly cured and devont-ly thankful to "Our Lady of Lourdes." Mrs. McCall brings her suit for breach of promise against the son of the famous leader of the 400, there may be some testimony that will embarrass her, Me. Allister, Sr., has been gathering evidence with assiduity that proves that he is good for something more than a model for all the Norwegian members of the expedition had promised to accompany the next expedition. As to Messrs. French, Mohun and Dodge, he said, braver or better men cannot be found.

for something more than a model for those who wish to be in the swim. He has learned that Mrs. McCall has rather an unenviable St. Louis record, and two well-known men of that city, as well as well-known men of that city, as well as a prominent New York newspaper man, may have to tell what they know of the woman's past. One of the St. Louisans in question is Colonel John Norton, man-ager of the St. Louis Grand Opera House, who is one of the best known theatrical men in the country, and whose wife eloped was made public to-day. The document, which is very brief, is dated Stowe House, July 21, 1894, and says:

"As I had no knowledge of my future, I would not attempt to trace a line of Colonel Norton through the streets with

SALUTE AT MIDNIGHT.

Why the Attack on Wei Hai Wei Proved a Failure.

NEW YORK, September 17.-The following remarkable message in the original has been translated by a Japanese gentleman in New York. It was sent by a special Japanese correspondent serving with the fleet in the Gulf of Pe Chi Li to the newspaper in Japan which he represents, and the name of which is for obvious reasons withheld. The Janwas sure that his friends would under- anese government, which exercises a strict censorship over all news relating to the war, prohibited its publication. It is dated "With the Japanese fleet before Wei Hai Wei, Gulf of Pe Chi Li, August 12:"
"At 11 o'clock yesterday morning, Au-
