Five Cattle Thieves.

Monday's East Oregonian: Fifty-and straight toward Pendleton was a strange proceeding, unless the people who performed the job were desirious of making their stay in the penitentiary safe and sure. And five cattle thieves was no inconsiderable number of criminals for a sheriff's posse to gather in at one fell swoop, but on Saturday afternoon Sheriff Bliss, of Union county, Marshal McLaughlin and three others came up with a band Clocks. Watches, Chains Jewelry, Etc. and three others came up with a band of five men and 57 horned brutes and arrested the men. They were taken local home to Union and tour young men came over Saturday evening to Thorn Hollow, the place of the capture, and took the custody of the cattle which had been left in charge of a Thorn Hollow Indian.
