Successful Surgical Operation.

Daily Guard, November 9.

An operation for the removal of a skin cancer was made upon Mr. Layman, of Loran, at the Minnesota Hotel this forenoon. The cancer was spreading over the lower lip and the surgical work, which is known as a plastic operation, consisted in removing the whole lip and forming a new one from the cheeks.

Dr. Paine was assisted by Drs. T. W. and J. W. Harris and W. Kuykendall. Chloroform was administered to the patient and the lower lip removed, the surgeons cutting from the corners of the mouth to the point of the chin. After the tissues containing the cancer were removed a cut was made from the corners of the mouth to the center of each cheek and then down to the neck. These pieces were entirely loosened then brought together in the middle of the lower jaw and sewed. The edges in each cheek were then brought together again by stretching the loose pieces, and after the rest of the stitching was completed the man had a whole face again with a new lip on it.

Mr. Layman is 70 years of age but his general health is good, he stood the operation well, and the doctors are confident of his rapid recovery.

Penneyer on the Election.

PORTLAND, Nov. 8.—Governor Penneyer, in an interview with an Associated Press representative today, said: "Two years ago the people jumped out of the frying pan into the fire. This year they have jumped back into the frying pan again. This election landslide is really an unwitting rebuke to Cleveland for adhering to the republican financial policy until the country is nearly bankrupt."

McKinley Cautious.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 8.—Governor McKinley was in his office early, considering that he was out all of last night. Being asked what he thought about the situation, he preferred not to talk. He would only say:

"The sweeping republican victories indicated at this hour are impressive. They need no interpretation. They express better than words the revised and deliberate judgment of the people upon public questions involved in the political contest now closed."

Gen Howard Retired.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—This noon, Gen. O. O. Howard, commanding the department of the east, with headquarters at Governor's island, was retired from active service.

The Young Caesar.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 8.—The czar is showing great activity in answering the many telegrams of condolence and expressions of loyalty which he receives, and the impression prevails that he is trying to demonstrate the fact that he is courteous in general, and that Russia is extremely loyal. Replying to a message of sympathy and loyalty from the nobles of Moscow, the czar said:

"In union with you I shall find strength to fulfill the arduous duties which have devolved upon me so early and I shall devote all my power to the service of my dear country."

DIVORCE SUIT.—G. L. Severn has commenced an action for divorce against her husband, Geo. L. Severn, in the Lane county circuit court. The couple were married at Bretwood, Cal., Nov. 28, 1880. The issue of said marriage is three children, aged 13, 9 and 6 years respectively. Inhuman treatment and abandonment is alleged in the complaint.

INJUNCTION GRANTED.

The City is Prohibited From Selling Certain Parcels of Property.

Daily Guard, November 12.

The following injunction papers were served on the city this afternoon: In the name of the state of Oregon, to R. E. Eastland, Marshal of the City of Eugene, defendants, greeting:

The above plaintiff having filed his complaint in the circuit court of the State of Oregon, County of Lane, against the above named defendants, requiring them as Marshal and said city to refrain from certain acts in said complaint and hereinafter particularly mentioned: On reading the said complaint in this action duly verified by Peter Johnson, plaintiff, it satisfactory appearing to the judge of said court therefrom that it is a proper cause for an injunction and that sufficient grounds exist therefor, and the necessary undertaking having been given, we, therefore, in consideration thereof and of the particular matters in said complaint set forth, do hereby hereby command you, your aid and each of your servants, agents, employees and all persons acting under the control, authority or direction of you or either of you, do absolutely refrain from and desist from in any wise attempting to collect any of said claim or assessment of plaintiff in the sum of $214.74 or any part thereof or from selling or attempting to sell any of the real property described in plaintiff's complaint or belonging to plaintiff or any property whatever belonging to plaintiff whether described in said complaint or otherwise.

In Chambers, at Roseburg, Oregon, this 10th day of November, 1894.

J. C. FULLESTON, Judge.

Similar papers were served on the city by the following persons, injunctions having been granted by the Circuit Judge in each case: G. W. Weider, Harriet E. Sladden, Wm. Lynch, C. E. Platts and Mrs. S. A. Huddleston.

Oregon National Guard.

Portland Telegram: Court martial orders No. 1 have been issued from the adjutant-general's office dismissing Colonel Lovell, of the Second regiment from the services of the state. An interesting contest will now ensue in the Second regiment for the success of the avowed candidates are: Major George S. Yoran, of Eugene, the present in command; Major V. C. Sherman, junior major of the regiment; and Major George T. Telfer, formerly major in the first regiment. Major Telfer is now located in Albany, and the officers of the Albany company, recognizing his fitness for the colonelcy of the Second regiment, are straining every nerve to secure his nomination and election. Major Yoran has many friends in the Second regiment and during the time he has been in command has shown marked aptitude as a military officer. Major Sherman will be backed by all the old boys—meaning the G. A. R. element now in the National Guard in the state. The contest promises to be most interesting.

Election Notes.

It now looks as if the republicans have elected the governor of Tennessee by 1000 plurality.

Judge Holcomb, the fusion candidate, is elected governor of Nebraska by 3000.

Texas has gone democratic by 55,000.

Additional returns show very little change in California. Budd's plurality is 183 with 157 precincts to hear from.

Probate Matters.

In the matter of the estate of Lydia N. Armstrong; order for sale of real property.

Estate of Christian Barger, deceased; petition for an order to sell real property. Petition granted.

Estate of Thomas Gray, deceased; Monday, January 7, 1895, set for final hearing.

Estate of Wm. Palmer, deceased; Final account approved.

USED TO LIVE HERE.—The Portland Oregonian says: Word has been received in Portland that William H. Leasure, a brother of Mr. John C. Leasure, was last Tuesday elected treasurer of Lathia county, Idaho. Mr. Leasure is one of the heaviest tax payers in the county, is a breeder of fine stock and owns a fine farm adjoining the city of Moscow. There seems to be a strange freak in the Leasure family. Their are three brothers. Wm. H. Leasure is a populist, and was elected on that ticket. D. W. Leasure resides in Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and is a very strong democrat, and John C., a resident of this city, is a republican. Their father, George Leasure, one of Oregon's early pioneers, was a member of the whig party, until the organization of the republican party, when he identified himself with it, and was an ardent republican, but his last vote was given for Horace Greely for president.

Roseburg Review: The leading newspapers are opposed to a change in text books at this time. It is only interested parties who are seeking to foist upon the people a heavy and unnecessary burden of expense.

Daily Guard, November 10.

A NEW G. A. R. POST.—Comrades S. W. Taylor and L. Gilstrap, of this city, this morning went to Thurston for the purpose of organizing a Grand Army Post at that place. It is reported that the new post will have twenty charter members.

DIED.—At the residence of A. M. Richardson near Glentana, Sunday, November 4, at 1 p. m., Mr. J. R. Richardson, aged 58 years. Mr. Richardson was one of the first settlers to build and improve the upper river country, having located near Glentana in 1882, and has resided there ever since.

Last Monday's Roseburg Review made the following among other predictions: "Hill will carry New York. Grant will be elected mayor of New York City; congress will be slightly democratic; Estee will beat Budd. But it adds: "We might be mistaken." Undoubtedly you might.

In Trouble.

The Pendleton East Oregonian of last Saturday gives evidence that Mrs. Jackson has been interviewing Editor Jackson concerning his recent libel on married ladies. It says:

TAKE IT BACK.

"Several papers are printing this paragraph: Jackson, of the East Oregonian, who is a married man, publishes this: 'When a man is first married and anything serious happens, he tells his wife all about it. But he discovers later that she does not believe a word he says, and after that he does not tell her any thing.'"

"To this the Albany Democrat makes this comment: 'As a matter of fact this is simply a joke. Many women will always believe their husbands. All men are not liars.'"

"It is hardly necessary to say that Jackson is not the author of this wisdom. In truth, it is older, by far, than Jackson. It belongs to that series of jokes in which the mother-in-law takes so important a part. Jackson knows the man who first attached his name to this old 'chestnut.' He is that fat, jolly, free and easy man who runs the Eugene GUARD so successfully."

Guilty of Manslaughter.

The trial of the case of the State vs. Lorin Parker, indicted by the grand jury of Harney county for the killing of Bud Howard, the murder of Till Glaze, took place last week in the circuit court and resulted in the jury bringing in a verdict of manslaughter.

The Burns News says of the case: "Many ladies attended the Parker trial several days; being the first murder case ever tried at Burns, made it of absorbing interest to even those not particularly concerned for the welfare of the young man accused. The Burns church was never before so crowded on Wednesday evening by men, women and children to hear the argument in the case of the State vs. Parker for killing Bud Howard; Thornton Williams, deputy district attorney, and M. R. Briggs for the state and Walters & Gowan, and C. W. Parrish for defendant. This case has occupied the court from Saturday 9 a. m., to Wednesday 10 a. m., exclusive of Sunday. Jury reported at 9 a. m. Thursday, a verdict of manslaughter; recommended to the mercy of the court."

Parker resided in Lane county for several years, prior to his removal to Eastern Oregon.

Fears He Will Be Poisoned.

Klamath Falls Express: Sheriff F. P. Lane, Manly Whorton, W. N. Sutton, and Al Heminger, arrived last night from Lakeview on their way to Salem and Portland. Mr. Heminger is being taken to Salem for medical treatment. He is a respected citizen of Lakeview and was night watchman at the time Thompson was lynched by the Warner Valley mob, the keys being wrested from him by the lynchers. Heminger brooded over the matter until he was almost crazed on the subject. He imagined for some time afterward that the mob was also after him. This illusion was finally dispelled from his mind, but he is now laboring under the belief that the citizens of Lakeview wish to poison him.

It is a sad case. He is rational on every other subject but the one pertaining to the lynching, and it is hoped he will fully regain his mental faculties while away from the scene of the lately committed crime.

Daily Guard, November 10.

GLORY TICKETS.—The following marriage licenses were issued by County Clerk Jennings today: Edward B. Griffin and Emma Elliott; John H. Kissinger and Gertrude M. Harkins.

A LARGE SQUASH.—A large squash weighing 136 pounds can be seen at Ax Billy's store. It was raised by A. Vitus, who resides near Springfield. Mr. Vitus says he will bring down a much larger one in a few days.

Foot Dropped Off.—SPENCERVILLE, Ohio, Nov. 12.—One of the strangest cases of human endurance ever heard of in this section has just come to light, in which the individual has suffered the loss of a foot.

A. C. Deniston, now a resident of Spencerville, enlisted and served in the Mexican war, and also in the war of the rebellion. In the former he sustained a bullet wound in his right foot just above the ankle. The wound healed over at the time, and he still retained the use of that member, although at times it caused him considerable trouble.

This summer he has been unable to use his foot, and for the past three months has been unable to leave his room. Yesterday his relatives and friends were horrified on going to his room to find that the foot had actually dropped off, the bone and flesh being unable to longer sustain the weight of the foot.

Mr. Deniston is an excellent old gentleman, and would not allow a surgical operation. Other than the soreness of the leg, he seems to suffer no bodily pain, and is in perfect health. The foot has been preserved in alcohol.

THAT HAT PIN.—The head and a piece nearly an inch and a half long of the hat pin swallowed by Baby Cannon, a few miles south of Salem, July 22, revealed itself a few days ago through the ordinary course of nature. It will be remembered that a five-inch piece of the pin was taken from the child's side the 21st of October, and now the head has been passed off, so that the child will be all right. The head was of iron instead of glass as reported, and its weight carried it through the passages easily.

Daily Guard, November 13.

DELIGHTFUL CLIMATE.—Oregon has a climate that cannot be surpassed in the world. In Mr. Miller's garden, in the southeastern portion of the city, can be seen tomato vines upon which are ripe and green fruit and beside many are in bloom. In the fall lot red clover can be seen in full bloom. What do our friends in the East think of such November weather?

An Albany young man serenaded his would be best girl the other evening and the next morning met her little brother going to school and asked him if she enjoyed it. "Yes," he said, "her and Frank laughed at everything you sang."

A HORRIBLE EXPERIENCE.

W. K. Moorehead, a geologist, was recently buried alive while excavating a mound of the mound-builders in Ohio, says Science Siftings. He fell with his head resting a little above his feet, and suffered little beyond a sensation of strong compression due to the weight of the earth, which pressed the buttons of his light costume into the skin and caused his watch to mark his body.

The pressure of the soil on his straw hat caused him to feel as if the skin of his brow were cut. A knife in his pocket seemed to burn into the flesh, and finally his backbone seemed slowly to break. Then he became insensible to pain, though still able to think. His thoughts succeeded each other like flashes of lightning and related to the past, the future and his home. He did not think of his condition except to wonder if he would be able to breathe when he was taken out of it. He tried to move his hand, even his finger, but failed. He could not lift his chest, and the only part of his body he could move was his lower jaw, which the elods permitted to be done. He remembered how warm the earth before his face had become when the breath was pressed from his lungs.

He kept his mouth shut to exclude the earth, but after a time it opened in spite of him, and two pieces of clay entered, and caused him a horrible sensation in trying to eject them. He felt that he was lost and became indifferent. The workmen who were digging him out cleared the earth from his face and eyes; but when they stopped a little the pressure on the rest of his body drove the blood to his head and swelled the veins so that he was afraid they would burst. Moreover, he could not breathe yet, because the thorax was still compressed by the soil.

He never lost consciousness, and as the men carried him away he saw a little wild canary sitting on a tree and heard it sing. As the bird flew off he fancied he was flying after it and perching on one twig after another, just as it did.

The sky seemed of a different color than usual, it also seemed grander, and the country more beautiful, and he was so much affected by the wondrous beauty of the spectacle as to shed tears.

THE SMALLEST INHABITED ISLAND.

The smallest inhabited island in the known world is that upon which the famous Eddystone lighthouse is situated. At time of low water this island is but 30 feet in diameter; at high tide the base of the lighthouse completely covers it. It lies nine miles off the Cornish coast and exactly 14 from the Plymouth breakwater. It is inhabited throughout the year by three persons.

Flatholme island, in the English channel, is another miniature inhabited island. It is only one-half mile in diameter, but is so rich in pasture that it supports a large family of farmers, an old man and his three grown sons. They have a fine farmhouse and the necessary outbuildings, and also care for the light, which is a revolving one, in a lighthouse 156 above the level of the sea.

Editor Cradlebaugh, of The Dalles Chronicle, thus moralizes on the wickedness of women: "In these days a poor devil of a man has a hard time of it. He can't look at a woman any more without the fear of a suit for damages. And then the jurors have a fashion of closing their eyes to reason and opening their eyes to beauty of the lachrymose Niobe order. Time was when the youthful swain could vow eternal constancy to his Phoebe Jane, but times have changed. The modern man has learned that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, and fights exceedingly shy of the female of the period and her breaches of trust. The strange mixtures of doll babies and love affairs, sugar teats and breaches of promise, spoon victuals and marriage licenses, puppy love, lawyers, guardians ad litem, and all the horrible paraphernalia of the equity courts, are weird and strange blending to mark the exit of a weary century."

Florence West: We claim no more for our personal opinion than that of an appeal to reason, and here it is. Our county superintendent should not vote for a change in any of the textbooks named in the catalogue, unless the standard of the work is equal or better and will be furnished at a less cost to purchasers. The quality of food for students' minds first and the cost next. As we have entire faith in the capability and honesty of our county superintendent, we have confidence that all will be satisfied at the outcome of the issue so far as he is concerned.

FROM THE ASHES.

Portland Telegram, Ind.-Rep.: It is interesting to learn that steps are already being taken to reorganize the New York democracy. The plan is to establish a permanent state bureau, "where attention to details of the party must be paid all the year round."

This is further exemplification of the paradox that democratic success is dependent upon democratic defeat. The party has repeatedly shown its inability to profit by prosperity. In a day it destroys what years have been consumed in building. No sooner has it received the rewards of persistent effort than it commences the work of self-destruction. Two years ago the people gave it full control of the nation's affairs, and, instead of utilizing the opportunity to make its stewardship permanent, it neglected public interests and "details of party" in the mad scramble for patronage. Now the wires have ceased conveying the particulars of its suicide, it commences the task of self-resuscitation and again proves its imperishableness.

A RARE THING.

Walla Walla Statesman: In Washington we will have two new moons this month. There has been one already and there will be another one on the 30th. This reminds us of the month of February 1866, which was in one respect the most remarkable month in the world's history. It had no full moon. January of that year had two full moons, so did March, but February had none. Do you realize what a rare thing in nature that was? It had not occurred since the time of Washington, nor since the creation of the world; and it will not occur again, according to the computation of astronomers, for—how long do you think? Two and a half million years!

It is believed that Texas was saved out of the general wreck.

Even wealth has its burdens. It is said Rockefeller is expected to pay an income tax to the general government of $152,225 assessed on $125,000,000 worth of property. The Jay Gould estate is not expected to pay more than $80,000; Russell Sage, $90,000; Cornelius Vanderbilt, $81,000; William K. Vanderbilt, $75,960; John Jacob Astor, $50,000. Most of us would be satisfied to retire on the tax alone.

The great wealth, either of the Mormon church, or of the individuals at its head, has been again demonstrated by the recent investment of $10,000,000 by the "first presidency" in a new corporation called the Utah Company. This new company is to operate coal mines, a railroad, a bathing beach and a pleasure resort at Great Salt Lake, and build, equip and operate telegraph and telephone lines. This is purely a church scheme, in which the Gentiles have no part, and is, like the Zion co-operative company, to be managed to add to the wealth of the church.

Several well known politicians favorable to the election of Senator Dolph say they are "confident the people in voting the republican ticket last spring and electing this legislature had in view the election of Mr. Dolph to the senate," says the Roseburg Review. Those politicians are probably mistaken. With the exception of Multnomah there was not a county in the state where the republican press was not particular to convey the impression that the election of a republican legislature did not necessarily mean the re-election of Mr. Dolph to the United States senate.

Furthermore, a very large majority of the people of Oregon favor the free coinage of silver and there is no use of disguising the fact. Mr. Dolph is doubtless aware of that fact, too, for when he was in Roseburg a few days since and delivered an address he did not even mention the monetary question, much to the disappointment of several persons who expected to learn something new on the subject.

There are about 600,000 islands, great and small, scattered over the oceans, North America alone owning 5500.

To prevent the wearing out of boot soles a new invention is now being tested by the military authorities of Germany. A
