J. M. Beauington Caught by Means of a Decoy Letter.

Saturday night when it became known that J. M. Bennington had been arrested at Springfield charged with forgery, excitement ran high. While there were a good many who were saying, "I told you so," nevertheless to the larger number of his equaintances the news came like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. came here about nine months ago, and hailed from Tacoma where it is said be has a sister living, but farther than this nothing is known about him. His demeanor has been that of a rather pious young man and he has been quite prominent in church and society cir-cles. He is handsome, of pleasing Prof. Luclia C. Carson left for Porties. Some time ago a check for $89, drawn on the First National Bank of Eugene was sent to the Eugene Loan and near Creswell. Savings bank requesting that bank to send $25 in currency and the remain-der in a postoffice money order payable at Creswell and registers t to Goshen. The check bore the signa-ture of Wm Ne's and was drawn in favor D. M. Williamson, and was sent in a letter dated Pleasant Hill, Nov. 16, 1894. Coming to the First National as it did, through a legitimate course of business, it was paid and the regis-tered letter was sent Nov. 17, and the supposed Williamson called for and receipted for the same Nov. 20. The forgety was discovered in a few days and the bank and officers have been quietly working on the case since

The bank was surprised Friday morning, Dec. 21, when another check signed by the same person for $70 and payable to R. D. Wilson, was presented by the Lane County bank for payment. The forgery was immediately discovered and a decoy letter was regdiscovered and a decoy letter was registered to the supposed Wilson at Springfield as requested in his letter to the Lane County bank. J. J. Polli was appointed a deputy constable by Constable Linton, and was sent to Springfield with Instructions to arrest the person calling for the decoy letter.
