HOPELESS.—A La Grande dispatch says: "Dr. J. J. McDonald, a high Mason, who has an extensive acquaintance on the entire coast, who has practiced in the Grande Ronde valley 17 years, and is a graduate of the Royal university of Toronto and of the universities of Pennsylvania and California, is lying severely ill at home. His condition is pronounced almost surely hopeless by leading Portland and local physicians."

HARD TIMES SURE.—Fossil Journal: Money is getting to be a scarce article with the boys in this vicinity and they have commenced to put up horses as collateral while gambling, valuing the expenses at $5 per head. In this way one young man won two ponies this week, and having no use for them, is trying to find a place where they can work for their board.

SHOULD BE CONFIRMED.—Hon. Chas. Knowles, of Portland, speaking to a reporter of the Corvallis Gazette, says: "The sale of the O. P. ought by all means to be confirmed. The purchasers have abundant capital and will push the road to an eastern connection and will probably build a feeder to Eugene in the spring. The construction of this line and the Astoria branch during the present depression will advertise Oregon as nothing else will. The prosperity of the Willamette valley and even of the entire state depends largely on the confirmation of the sale to Messrs. Bonner & Hammond. They are pushers and it would be almost impossible for the road to fall into better hands than theirs."

WAIVED EXAMINATION.—This morning John G. Gay, being held for the crime of forgery, waived examination and was placed under $1000 bonds. Being unable to secure bail he is held for his appearance at the March term of circuit court.

BORN.—In this city, Dec. 1, to the wife of Geo. J. Moran, a son and girl. This is No. 2. The Colonel smiles today.

AT FISHER & WATKINS.—A couple hundred people, more or less, gathered at Fisher & Watkins' market Saturday evening to see their Christmas beef weighed. The animal weighed 1,218 lbs. The winners of the $10 prize were John Stewart, G. M. Miller and E. Turpin who guessed 1219 lbs, the money being divided among the gentlemen. The total number of guesses in the market was 410. The highest guess was 2,050 and the lowest 1,000. Considerable excitement was occasioned over the affair.

A PLEASANT GATHERING.—The social party given at the gracious residence of W. L. Seavey on the McKenzie last Friday evening was admitted by critics to be the most fascinating event of the season. Long before the hour for the grand march arrived, a continuous stream of humanity kept pouring in from all quarters. An appetizing luncheon was served at midnight of which many guests partook with an appetite born of hunger. The Molokah orchestra of three pieces enlivened the dark hours of morning with strains of sweetest music. Shortly after 6 o'clock Saturday morning the assembly dispersed for their several homes, voting this to be the crowning event of the season.

THE ADVANCEMENT CLUB.—On Monday evening, Jan. 7, 1895, the next meeting of the class in economics will be held at Mount's hall. This will be the first meeting of the class since their adjournment for the holidays. At this meeting a paper on "The relation of metallic money to commerce" will be read by Dr. W. W. Murray. An interesting paper is promised and there will be a good attendance.

Foot Ball.
Corvallis Gazette: There is a call going the rounds of the colleges, that have been represented in the foot ball arena, for a committee, consisting of one professor and one student from each institution, to meet and confer with the other delegates in regard to ending the brutality of the future game of foot ball. What success will be met with it is hard to say, but with the exception of a few slight accidents, the past season has been almost exempt from casualties. From all accounts there has not been one case of unnecessary roughness during the season. The relative position of the various teams of the Oregon intercollegiate foot ball association is about as follows:
1—Portland, won 4, lost 2.
2—O. A. C. " 3, " 1.
3—For. Grove " 1, " 2, tied 1.
4—Eugene, " 1, " 2, " 1.
5—Monmouth, " 0, " 4.
The final meeting of the foot ball team will be held soon after the school reopens. The main object of the meeting is to discuss the financial condition of the team, and a complete statement of the money taken in and expended will be made by the treasurer. Probably some business relative to next year's team will also be discussed.

The Harrisburg Water Power Company has made its first assessment, which is 15 cents on the dollar, and members paying the same are receiving their stock certificates.
A message received by May & Senders from L. Senders, who is under medical treatment in Chicago, is to the effect that there is hope of his ultimate recovery. Mr. Senders is a resident of Albany and his many friends and acquaintances here will be pleased to learn this glad news.

A Novel Picard.
Perhaps one of the most unique placards gotten up by a railroad corporation is the latest issued by the Southern Pacific Company, on which the company has expended a large sum of money. The scene is represented by the new "Sunset Limited" or flyer as it is called, describing an arc passing through space over the world, or a portion of it, in the foreground, on which the terminals New Orleans, Los Angeles and San Francisco are designated. The scene is quite in harmony with their motto on their timetable: "Not as the crow flies, but as the sun flies, so swings the palace record breaker."

NEW TIME CARD.—The new time card of the Southern Pacific lines goes into effect tomorrow at noon. We understand there will be no change over the main line but the Woodburn-Springfield branch is changed so as to give it a daily service.

GETTING NUMEROUS.
A Young Man From Camp Creek is Now in Jail.
Daily Guard, December 31.
It is not a pleasant thing to announce with the frequency with which we have done so recently that bright young men of ability have, in their desire for a few dollars, left the paths of rectitude and honesty and sought to obtain money not rightfully theirs.
On the 4th day of August, 1894, L. A. Powers, of McKenzie Bridge, this county, drew a check on the First National bank for $24.07 in favor of A. Auten, of this city. In the meantime the check was lost and a duplicate was issued. The bank was notified of such proceeding and was consequently on its lookout for the first check issued.
On the 15th day of September a young man presented the same at the desk of the bank for payment. The check was at once recognized by the bank officials as the one lost.
Inquiry of the young man as to what his name was, how he received the check, etc., brought out the following story from him:
He stated he received the check for work done on the farm of A. S. Powers, and that he lived on Camp Creek. He also stated a number of times to the bank officials that his name was A. C. Auten, the person in whose favor the check was drawn, and when asked to endorse the check for payment wrote "A. C. Auten." He was asked that he be identified and he mentioned the names of several persons on Camp Creek known to the bank, one of whom was in town that day. When asked to hunt him up and bring him to the bank, he started out, but went to Barker's gun store and got his bicycle and left town.
It was at first proposed to let him learn by an experience he had undergone the folly of his ways and nothing was done about it at the time. In view of the considerable work being done in that line now it was thought best to bring the guilty party to time.
As enough evidence was made to their satisfaction by the man, Deputy Constable Poll, armed with a warrant, brought John Craig, of Camp Creek, today yesterday to answer to the charge. The complaint was sworn out by A. C. Auten. Young Craig is out on bail awaiting his examination, which will take place this evening or tomorrow morning.
Craig, the defendant, claims that it is a case of mistaken identity, and declares he never had the check in his possession.
Craig's preliminary examination has been set for Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

HOW '95 CAME IN.
Some of the Various Ways Our people Watched the Advent of the New Year.
Daily Guard, January 1.
Quite a number of the residents of Eugene were out last night at the various gatherings in the city that held until the new year was with us. But shortly after 12 o'clock most of these gatherings broke up after the participants had wished each other "A Happy New Year" many times over.
A good crowd was in attendance at "The Art Loan" at the Presbyterian church. A most excellent program was rendered, the length makes it impossible for us to mention each number. However the chorus by the Sol-feggio class and the "art loan" are worthy of special mention, as those who were present will agree. An elegant supper was also served. The remainder of the time until the new year arrived was spent in a most pleasant social time.
The I. O. G. T. lodge also held a very enjoyable watch party at their lodge room last evening. About 70 persons were present. Light refreshments were also served. The time was very pleasantly spent until shortly after 12 o'clock when they all dispersed, wishing each other the best success for the new year.
Miss Ida Evenson entertained about 40 of her friends at her home on the corner of Twelfth and Patterson streets last evening. A most enjoyable time was had, and about 11 o'clock refreshments were served. This party also held until '95 was here, and when the merry crowd left it was with many thanks to their charming hostess for the pleasant evening.
Miss Nettie Burr entertained quite a number of her friends at her home. They all had a very pleasant time. This party also held over till the dividing line of time between '94 and '95 had passed.
Several of the churches held prayer meetings last evening but adjourned rather early, none of them being a watch-night meeting.

THE DANCE.
A very good crowd was in attendance at the dance given in Armory hall. There was a slight scarcity of men in attendance, but that apparently did not lessen the pleasure of the evening. The music was excellent and the floor in good condition. In a very few minutes after 12 all present had left, as very few dances are held later than that hour in this city. It was thoroughly enjoyed by every person present.
The Eugene Band played some excellent music on the arrival of the new year, which was very much appreciated.
The sweet chimes of bells were also heard in many parts of the city.

MORE FORGERY.
Salem Now the Location—Victims Numerous.
Special to the Daily Guard:
SALEM, Oregon, Jan. 1.—Late last night a young man was arrested here by the police for passing forged checks. He gives the name of Curtis Lawson and says he hails from Cleveland, Ohio. He successfully forged the name of Rev. C. Seaman of the Unitarian church to ten different checks ranging from six to eighteen dollars each. He passed them chiefly on saloon men and druggists. He had successfully "done" his neighbors and was preparing to leave the city when apprehended. He has been in Salem two weeks and is spent at the richest dye. No little joking is done at the expense of those who cashed the checks. When arrested he had five bottles of liquor on his person and a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He appears before Judge Edes this afternoon for trial. He will likely get longentance.

THE U. S. SENATORSHIP.
How the Linn County Members Stand on the Question—In Marion County.
Albany Herald: By a peculiar coincidence, or most likely on account of the holiday season, all of Linn county's members of the next legislature were in the city yesterday, all republicans. They are S. A. Dawson and A. J. Johnson, senators, and W. A. Templeton, Flen Smith and J. H. Scott, representatives. They are well informed, enterprising, fine looking men who can be depended upon to work faithfully and intelligently for their constituents. They very naturally decline to say how they are going to vote on the question of the election of U. S. Senator, but as near as can be ascertained from those best posted it is believed the situation is about this: Three are for Fulton, Tongue, or some candidate opposed to Dolph's financial views, one is for Dolph and one is in doubt. This is about the way the question stands in Linn county.

IN MARION COUNTY.
According to the Portland Sun the situation in Marion county is about as follows: There seems to be a great deal of theory as to the standing of the members of Marion county to the coming legislature, both in the senate and house, regarding the election of U. S. Senator.
One thing is certain, and that is that no one man will receive the complete vote on the first ballot.
Dolph has his supporters; likewise C. W. Fulton, Mr. Fulton's supporters being mainly in the house. Tom Tongue is also held in very high respect by some of the members. The election of Governor-elect Lord will not be overlooked should there be any chance for him.
A member of the next house of representatives on being interviewed said that in his opinion Mr. Dolph had no assurance of his re-election, and that if he were not elected on the first ballot there surely would be a strong and bitter fight against him. "When such men as Tom Tongue and Chasley Fulton are in the field with their large number of ardent supporters it will be no easy matter for Mr. Dolph to walk away with the plum."
Sizing up the Marion county delegation as it now stands, it would be impossible to tell what way they will vote on the United States senatorship.

LANE COUNTY.
A well posted republican informs us that the Lane county delegation will probably go solid against Dolph. Another says it will stand four to one against the senator.

Applicants for Clerkship.
As the assembling of the legislature draws near, members are being so continuously importuned for clerkships, that life is becoming burdensome and excitable, members are liable to consign the aforesaid legislature and all in connection therewith to heaven. In relation to the clerk business, a Linn county member is said to have answered an over-pressing impudently in the following strain: "Scio, Oregon. My Dear Sir: I will be over at Salem about January 5, prepared to endure a siege of applicants for clerkship. The young lady who secures my endorsement for a position must be very homely. Cross-eyes or a wart on the nose will not disqualify. She must not flirt with me. That will not be permitted. I am not suiting myself in these requirements by any means. My wife is the party to be suited, of course. It will be an awful cross to bear, but I must be brave under the circumstances. I trust I have your sympathy in my case."
