

Eugene City Guard.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1895.

WILL BE VOTED ON.

The following senate joint resolutions were adopted at the 1895 session of the legislature and have again been adopted by the present assembly and will go before the electors of the state probably at a special election:

"That section 10 of article XI of the constitution of the state of Oregon, be and the same is hereby abrogated, and in lieu thereof section 10 of article XI shall be as follows:

"Article XI, section 10. No county, city, town, school district or municipal corporation shall be allowed to become indebted in any manner or for any purpose to an amount, including present existing indebtedness, in the aggregate exceeding five per centum on the value of the taxable property therein to be ascertained by the last assessment for state and county taxes previous to the incurring of such indebtedness."

"That the following amendment to the constitution of the state of Oregon, in lieu of section 10, article VII, be and the same is hereby proposed, to wit: Section 10. The legislative assembly may provide for the election of supreme and circuit judges in distinct classes, one of which classes shall consist of five justices of the supreme court, who shall not perform circuit duty; and the other class shall consist of as many circuit judges as may be deemed necessary, who shall hold full terms without allotment and who shall take the same oath as the supreme judges. The legislative assembly may create as many circuits as may be deemed necessary."

COUNTY DIVISION.

From the Lewiston Teller: A warning to all county division advocates is to be found in the history of the Alturas county division. Alturas county was first divided and Logan county created. This came about after a bitter fight and the division of property and the proportionment of debts increased the bitterness. In the first session of the legislature a bill was passed creating Alta and Lincoln counties out of the old territory, but this was annulled in the courts after a long struggle. Now at the present session comes a bill to consolidate Alturas and Logan counties because they alone are unable to stand the expense of county government. The new county divisionists would do well to study the history of the example here given before rushing into evils that they know not of.

In the Minnesota legislature there is a bill whose passage is likely, and whose enactment will be watched with interest by all haters of expensive litigation—and that means everybody. The measure provides for the election of six commissioners of conciliation in each town, incorporated village or city. A justice of the peace and two commissioners compose a court of conciliation. Parties having differences to settle may come before this court, which will hear evidence under such rules as it may prescribe, and after the hearing will endeavor to persuade the parties to an amicable agreement. If they succeed judgment is entered in accordance therewith. If they fail the regular courts are still open to the disputants. The success of this plan would play havoc with the business of the lawyers whose opposition to the bill is natural and very vigorous.

Affairs in Hawaii have taken a turn that has caused the interference of the United States government again, as is made evident by two telegrams sent to congress by the president. "The dispatches stated that certain Americans in Hawaii are under sentence of death, and Secretary Gresham wired as follows to Minister Willis: 'If American citizens were condemned to death by a military tribunal, not for actual participation in the reported revolution but for complicity only, or if condemned to death by such tribunal for actual participation, but not after an open, fair trial with an opportunity for defense, demand a delay of execution, and in either case report to your government the evidence relied upon to support the death sentence.'"

A prominent member of the legislature writing to the Jacksonville Times on Feb. 8th, gives this view of the situation: "The deadlock still continues and probably will to the end of the session, as Senator Dolph's friends decided last night to stay with him until the end. What the last hours of the joint convention may bring forth is hard to tell. There is however a determination to elect a senator before adjournment. The fight is engendering bitterness and places numerous obstacles in the way of legislation. This is the natural result of people endorsing a candidate in caucus and then kicking their faith to the winds and going as they please."

The Oregonian yells "Dolph or no one."

The only financial scheme upon which congressmen are agreed is that whereby they draw $5000 a year salary and mileage.

This legislature promises to go down in history as the most incompetent body of men that ever assembled in a legislative capacity in Salem.

Senator Dawson's bill for deductions of indebtedness, has been indefinitely postponed. This legislature will violate every pledge made in June.

The legislature has voted in favor of free passes. And this is composed of the same gentlemen who last June were elected as reformers!

Oregon has one loyal senator who seems to be attending to her business at the old stand. He is in touch with the masses on the financial question.

Jacksonville Times: If Oregon can get along with but one senator all this winter, perhaps it would not suffer much if it had but one for two years to come.

Plaintiff: The press of the state, irrespective of politics, complains of the action of the legislative body, and many unkind words are being said of it. The session is now half over, and practically nothing has been accomplished.

Of course the U. S. senate is against a constitutional amendment permitting the people to elect their own representatives in that body, as they are well aware that the majority of said members are corporation lawyers and mill owners now in possession of that branch of the government, would remain at home.

Salem Journal: Representative Gates of the railroad committee, stated last night, that this was the fifth week of the legislature and that important committee had never met. All railroad bills are laid to rest. And yet this legislature promised to abolish that perpetual junket known as the railroad commission.

An account of the proceedings of the present session of the legislature, indicates that Senator McAlister is working very industriously for his constituents in Union and Wallawa counties, says the Elgin Record, and proves pretty conclusively that the people made no mistake when they entrusted their interests into the hands of honest 'Bud' McAlister.

The Dalles Chronicle: The railroad commissioners will probably hang on to their job, and if so a lot of legislators ought to be hung along side of them, making one job of the whole business. The spectacle is one to cause nothing but contempt for politics and politicians of all parties and degrees. Every man in the legislature except the hold-over senators, was elected on a platform pledging him to abolish the railroad commission. Will it be done?

Albany Herald: The time in the lower house in the legislature, one day last week, for a short period, was taken up by an address by Prof. Thomas Condon, of the state university, upon the subject of the mineral products of the state. The object was most worthy and no man in the entire country is better qualified than Prof. Condon to impart information upon the particular science, in the study of which he is an enthusiast.

Forten, Or., Feb. 13. Sensational developments continue in the matter of the recent marriage of E. C. Russell and Miss India Howes, the daughter of a mountaineer who lives about six miles above this place. A challenge was sent a few days since by one of Miss Howes' brothers, to Mr. Russell, challenging him to meet him in Mr. McQueen's lane about one mile from here and to bring his Winchester with him and they would settle their difficulty according to "the code." Mr. Russell said nothing but arranged for some of his friends to be at the place at the appointed hour, and they found young Howes on the ground with his Winchester on his shoulder awaiting Mr. Russell, who has no desire to settle his friends in that way. Mr. Russell recently married Miss Howes against the wishes of her father and brothers, and to prevent their marriage the latter took the girl and placed a guard against her getting away. Russell, however, recovered his sweetheart by a writ of habeas corpus, and was married in spite of the repeated threats of her father and brothers, who objected to him solely because he was a republican. Russell is one of the leading young men of this vicinity, of good character, and was a delegate last spring to the republican county convention where he was elected a delegate to the state convention at Portland. Further developments are expected.

The Modern Way. ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 11.—The Rev. J. B. Hawthorne, pastor of the First Baptist church, preached a sermon yesterday over the telephone, and all to Atlanta, Athens, Griffin, Macon and Madison, who had telephone connections, listened.

Lands Open to Settlements. THE DALLES, Feb. 10.—By a recent decision of the land commissioner, 175,000 acres of railroad land in Wasco, Sherman and Gilliam is thrown open to settlement under the homestead act. Most of this land is very fertile and will soon be crowded with homeseekers.

Parks' Sure Cure is a positive specific in all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys. By removing the uric acid in the blood it cures Rheumatism, S. B. Rashford, of Carthage, S. Dakota, says: "I believe Parks' Sure Cure exceeds all other medicines for Rheumatism and Urinary disorders." Sold by A. YERKNOTES.

THE DEADLOCK STILL ON.

Feb. 13, 1895.

A blue looking morning. Miss Ella Misher's health in improving. Jim Misher and Partner visited friends here the first of the week.

Mr. Joe Mack is talking of emigration soon. We think about two miles northeast.

Mr. and Mrs. Traxler visited friends at this place last Sunday.

Billie Fisher, wife and son are visiting at his father's this week near Irving.

There is quite a lot of grain froze out in this vicinity and I guess that we are not the only ones that are complaining.

A valuable horse, belonging to the Johnson boys, got down under the manger during the night and in struggling got crippled so bad it had to be killed.

The funeral of Dr. Hemenway was very largely attended, yet the day was very cold.

Mr. Albert Barker and Leo Shelley went to Lorne last week after a load of hides.

Mr. Hank Fisher, the dad that is all smiles nowadays, came out on business today.

I think it nothing but right, yet if some of those people who are able to sew clothing and grub to sufferers to a distant country, would just divide the above named articles to sufferers and destitute people in their own land and city they would be doing a very charitable deed. This is a fact that I know. If times in this country get any harder people will suffer here as well as elsewhere and I think, not I alone but plenty of others, that if the immigration was stopped and less advertising by the real estate dealers, blowing up Oregon and such stuff, and try to make homes for some very homeless people who can not get a day's work to do, they would have a different tune to whistle or song to sing.

At this time I was represented to the court that C. S. Conant was charged with a poll tax on the assessment roll of 1894 and that the said C. S. Conant resided at that time a resident of Lane county and not in said 1894, and I am appearing to the satisfaction of the court that the representation was true. It is therefore ordered by the court that the sheriff cancel said tax of $1 charged to the said C. S. Conant for 1894.

DEATH ITEMS.

Feb. 14, 1895.

Good old Wolford has returned again.

St. Valentine's day again and I hope friends will remember as kindly as they did a year ago.

Grandma Williams is seriously ill.

Rev. J. C. Richardson preached at the Dexter school house Sunday at 11 o'clock and at Trent in the evening at which Revs. Hunsaker and Chandler continue the meeting during the week.

The many friends of Barney Wood will be pleased to learn that he has so far recovered his mental equilibrium as to be able to visit his wife and children here. May his recovery be complete.

One of our young men we are reliably informed is so completely enthralled in entertainments, both public and private that he has neglected for some weeks to go to bed at night. Make hay while the sun shines Eldon.

Messrs. James Scrivner, E. R. Parker and E. Parker visited Eugene this week.

James Parvin has a number of men grubbing on his farm.

Home seekers are invited before permanently locating to visit this section of country and see for themselves the rich tillable land, abundantly timbered and watered as well as the advantages of saw mill and grist mill and in short anything that makes life endurable.

LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

230. Vanderberg—Appropriating $500,000 for state normal schools at convenient points in the state; rejected. Joint resolution for constitutional amendment abrogating negro clause from constitution, adopted.

Dawson—For relief of Ida Templeton, committee on claims recommended $5,000, instead of $20,000; passed to third reading.

Baley—For branch insane asylum in Eastern Oregon; report of committee recommending appropriation from $140,000 to $200,000 failed of adoption. The bill passed—aye 21. The bill of Hillegas prohibiting marriage of parties at fault in divorce cases within two years was passed in the house by a vote of 33 to 20. The bill was championed by Hillegas, its author, and Boothby, who urged it as desirable for the protection of the marriage relation. Barleigh attacked it on the ground that the present law was good enough. Smith of Josephine pointed out that discrimination against parties at fault in divorce cases was unjust, as in a majority of cases the parties at fault were the ones to be brought suit, while the innocent party's trouble secretly, and failed to appear in court at all.

The house has passed the bill abolishing the railroad commission. It is predicted the senate will "hold up" the measure.

Daily Guard, February 14. THIS MORNING'S FIRE—At about 3:30 this morning the people of Eugene were awakened by the ringing of the fire bell. The conflagration proved to be in the barn of L. Davis, on Sixth street. It was evidently of incendiary origin. Mr. Davis and son had been galled control of the barn when the Oregon hose came arrived and the fire was soon out. Fortunately there was but little damage, about 500 pounds of hay being ruined. The building was not insured. There was no insurance. Two fire engines in such quick succession led some to believe there is a fire bug in our midst. In any event due diligence should be observed in the matter.

Daily Guard, February 14. BEN HUB—A good crowd was in attendance at the Ben Hur stereopticon views at the Presbyterian church last evening. The views were conveyed by all present to be the finest ever presented in this city and the audience was well pleased with the entertainment. Local companies, however, and those interested in having the views presented here.

THE DEADLOCK STILL ON.

Feb. 13, 1895.

Dolph has 39 votes today for senator.

Next Week Ends the Struggle.

Salem, Feb. 14.—The Journal says: The vote on the senatorship stands at a deadlock and no prospect of a break in the ranks.

There is no change of front on the senatorship. Democrats and Populists who have enough votes to elect either of the anti-Dolph candidates stoutly refuse to leave the middle of the road of partisan duty as they see it. The item that Populists and anti-Dolph members have been in conference or caucus is denounced by men of both sides as unjust and untrue.

The vote today resulted as follows: J. N. Dolph.....39 Geo. H. Williams.....11 Lowell.....10 W. D. Hare.....10 Lord.....7 J. K. Weatherford.....7 Absent.....6

Total.....90

Commissioners' Court.

K. Wade, supervisor road district No. 35; report approved and bill allowed.....9 00

J. A. Armitage, supervisor road district No. 36; report approved and bill allowed.....20 00

Geo. Thompson, supervisor road district No. 37; report approved and bill allowed.....28 00

J. J. Leiman, supervisor road district No. 37; continued for explanation.

John Bamford, supervisor road district No. 45; continued for explanation.

C. E. Powers, supervisor road district No. 2 continued for explanation.

Geo. Ward, M. D., medicine to Deffert, Parker.....5 00

At this time I was represented to the court that C. S. Conant was charged with a poll tax on the assessment roll of 1894 and that the said C. S. Conant resided at that time a resident of Lane county and not in said 1894, and I am appearing to the satisfaction of the court that the representation was true. It is therefore ordered by the court that the sheriff cancel said tax of $1 charged to the said C. S. Conant for 1894.

SINSLAW ROAD.

Daily Guard, February 14. J. J. Poll came in from the Sinslaw country on last evening's stage. He was sent out about one month ago to procure men and superintend the improvement of the lower Sinslaw road. Mr. Poll informs us that the result of the work makes an hour and one-half's difference of the schedule time of the Sinslaw stage and will back. Considerable blasting has been done, about one keg of powder being used on one point. One bridge and some ordinary work has been done also, besides straightening out several sharp curves and feeling for a better location of the road in some places. Mr. Poll left just 30 days ago and worked every day while going, getting the assistance of men residing along the road convenient to portions of the road he was repairing. Mr. Poll has built some road that will be in good condition 10 or 15 years from now, and this is just what all road builders should aim to do. One mile of good road will stand the wear and tear of travel is better than 10 miles of road that has to be repaired every year.
