The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical profession. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is a direct influence on the blood and mucous surfaces, driving out the disease, and curing the patient strongly by building up the constitution and restoring nature to do its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative properties that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonies.

A difference of opinion exists among attorneys as to whether Dr. John W.
Gaff can be successfully prosecuted on the charge against him, of kidnapping the daughter of Municipal Judge R.
M. Smith.

McClung's memorial to congress before the senate today, calls upon the Oregon delegation in congress to see the Indian bureau and urge it to do what can be done to restrain Indians from killing deer out of season.

The bonded indebtedness of Portland is the enormous sum of $54 per capita; in San Francisco it is only $1.60; in Eugene it is about $4 per capita.
There you have the situation on this subject of three great cities of the Pacific coast.

Senator Vandenberg has introduced a bill in the state senate proposing Joquin Miller is growing a his California farm a mile of roses. He believes families live too close together, therefore, in place of building one large house, he has erected four small ones—one for his mother, one for his brothers, one for his own use, and the fourth for his guests.

Great Northern Railway Bulletin:
D. W. Coolidge, of Eugene, is a progressive young fruit grower. His specialty seems to be grapes. One increase variety that he has tested is "Chassels Neuchatel." He has originated a winter pear which so closely resembles the Bartlett that it is called the "Winter Bartlett." This pear promises to revolutionize the culture of that fruit.

WRONG AGAIN. The Albany Democrat says that both Albany and Eugene will have to live without the Calhoun Opera Company this season.
They didn't make the necessary guaranty. That is right. If a troupe can't come here on their own reputation let them stay away. The day of business men getting up troupes is past. A troupe must stand on its performance. The Calhouns play here Friday evening.
The only places they stop at in Oregon are Portland, Salem and Eugene. Albany is too small a village.

MAPLE SYRUP. The Willamette valley will be known in years to come as a maple sugar country, if all reports are true. In a recent issue mention was made of a Harrisburg man tapping maple trees with good results.
Now we are informed that a Eugene man has tapped a tree and received over a gallon of sap. No country can beat ours for variety of products. Tapping trees for sap has been tried at various times here with various places of luck, but now probably more care will attend it.

FROM REV. D. E. LOVERIDGE.

An Elongated Forecast of the Future of the Fruit Industry.

We take the following from the Great Northern Railway Bulletin, from the pen of Rev. D. E. Loveridge, of this city. This paper is a special fruit number and an issue of 50,000 was printed for circulation in the East:

"As our eye rests upon the dial of the past and marks the progress of advancing civilization, we note that the culture of garden and orchard has kept abreast with the broad line of advance in the march of improvements. Fruits and flowers are no longer on the sideboard of luxury and taste. They adorn and bless the deal of the cottages well as the mahogany of the palace. They have been moved from the vase of solitary parlor to the presence of constant smile and favor, or taken down from the upper shelf of luxury to the lower shelf of daily necessity.

"Rapid transit, easy passage, ships constantly weaving their webs all over the sea and oceans, railroads cutting up continents and islands into a network of geometrical figures, opening up new empires, subduing wilderness, destroying old towers of babel and reconverting the confusion of tanglements into one language again, are making one nation of all the tribes of the earth, and estimating one human race.

"Tropical fruits crowd our markets and bring their distant sunshine to our wintry shores, and our northern fruits descend to the hot tropics and carry their freshness and coolness with them.
The supply stimulates the demand. As rapid as the advance of the train in the last fifty years on all the lines of material enterprise and development, so rapid has been the increase and advance in the culture of garden and orchard and in the consumption of the fruits thereof. Fifty years ago neglected corners mainly indexed the world's estimation of their products.
A few small coasters freighted them from market to market. Now, vast lines of mighty ships and steamers hardly suffice to keep the markets supplied. States, and not corners, are demanded as room for man's first occupation; and of the future we can hardly dream dreams or see visions large enough for the reality of horticultural and pomological interests. A mighty empire awaits their domination.

"Another influence is working still more strongly to rapidly increase the acreage of garden and orchard. Our cities are crowding their population.
The demand for food is increasing.
It is found, and will be more and more found, that sedentary habits and indoor occupations do not require so much meat. Meats over-much tend to throw the system of such eaters into triple and needless billows. Billows of the system, of the butcher and of the doctor.
Fruits are the charitable friend who comes in just in the needful time of trouble and pays off this heavy triple billows with a few pence he has picked up in your own door yard, and leaves you bright and cheerful with your hearty wish that he may come again and do likewise. We all know the natural craving of our children for fruit. Their craving is a wise teacher, and serves without fee or reward. Let them have all they want, so it be ripe and fresh, and throw physics to the dogs, though dogs have too much good sense to take it.

"City markets, in their teeming abundance of fruits and vegetables, present in our day a very different scene from what they did fifty years ago. Fruit is no longer a luxury; it is a necessity. The poor buy it as well as the rich. Less meat and more fruit is more and more the dietetic tendency."

More Circuit Court Cases.

N. H. Martin has commenced a foreclosure suit against J. H. and Sarah V. McKinney for the sum of $1000, interest and costs.

W. E. Brown has instituted a suit of foreclosure against J. H. and Cora Dickson for the sum of $404.96, interest and costs. The mortgaged premises is located in T. S. R. E.

suit at law against M. D. Landis, Byron Dorsey, I. W. Hurd and J. O. Davenport, for the recovery of $109.32, in the circuit court.

ANOTHER FIRE AT SILVER LAKE.— Private letters received state that on the 4th inst. the house of Mr. Busiek at Silver Lake, with its contents, was entirely destroyed by fire. Mr. Busiek was not at home when the fire occurred.

A daughter who was injured in the fire at Silver Lake, had not yet recovered and another daughter was ill from exposure at that time. These were rescued by the family but all their belongings were lost, leaving them without shelter and entirely destitute.
Steps were at once taken to relieve their temporary needs. Of those injured in the big fire, Geo. Payne is still in a very critical condition. Mrs. La-Brie and others were improving slowly, and some had entirely recovered.

Daily Guard, February 14.

INSURANCE ADJUSTED.—The two men who had insurance on their property that was destroyed by the fire Sunday morning, H. D. Offutt and W.
Sanders, have had their losses adjusted satisfactorily. Mr. Offutt's insurance was not totally ruined by fire, but he got nearly the entire amount of his insurance, which was $700. W.
Sanders, who had insurance with the Home Mutual, got his full amount, $653. Mr. Sanders carried his insurance with the Home Mutual and Mr. Offutt with the North British and Mercantile company.

How is THIS?—It comes to our ears that a certain Sabbath school teacher in our city asked her pupils to repeat an appropriate verse of scripture when they dropped their offerings into the contribution box. One little boy dropped a nickel into the box with "This better to give than to receive." Another put in a penny saying "God loveth a cheerful giver." The third child held back and when asked for his contribution, he said "I feel and his money are soon parted."

DIED.—At Cottage Grove, Oregon, Feb. 13, 1895, J. Shields, after an illness of two months. He was one of the early settlers of this part of Oregon, and was respected by all. The funeral took place this afternoon.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION.

A Large Crowd of Prospective Ped-agogues in Attendance.

Daily Guard, February 13.

There is always a large number of applicants for teachers' certificates at the spring examination and this one is no exception, in fact the number is larger this spring than usual.

For county teachers' certificates there are all told 87 applicants—65 ladies and 22 gentlemen.

For state certificates there are 7 applicants at this time.

There are also 3 applicants for state diplomas.

Superintendent Stevenson is assisted in conducting the examination by Attorney J. M. Williams and Miss Mary E. McCormack, his regular assistants.

The number of applicants is larger at this time than at the spring examination of 1894.
