Of Des Moines, Iowa, writes under date of March 23, 1895:

S. B. MED. MFG. CO.,
Dufur, Oregon.

GENTLEMEN: On arriving home last week, I found all well and anxiously waiting. Our little girl, eight and one-half years old, who had wasted away to 25 pounds, is now well, strong and vigorous, and well fleshed up. S. B. Cough Cure has done its work well. Both of the children like it. Your S. B. Cough Cure has cured and kept away all hoarseness from me. So give it to every one, with greetings for all. Wishing you prosperity, we are,
Yours, MR. AND MRS. J. F. FORD.

If you wish to feel fresh and cheerful, and ready for the spring work, cleanse the system with the Headache and Liver Cure, by taking two or three doses a week.

[Signed,] BAKER, McCLUNG and HILLEGAS.

REV. DRIVER CHALLENGED.—The Oregonian says an open challenge has been issued by the First Secular church, Charles Hagner president and Clara Bailey secretary, to Rev. I. D. Driver to debate the question of Divine Inspiration of the Scriptures and the doctrine of atonement with Mr. C. B. Reynolds, of Seattle, Mr. Driver to defend the affirmative and Mr. Reynolds the negative. The committee appointed on behalf of the First Secular church say that they have a letter from Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, denying that he ever met Mr. Driver in debate; furthermore the committee declare the statement that Dr. Driver defamed Mr. Underwood to be without foundation, claiming that eyewitnesses state that Dr. Driver was worsted in the debate until he sought refuge in unparliamentary language.

ADVANCEMENT CLUB.—The interest in the meetings of the club still increases. Next week there is a considerable number before the club on the following subjects: Mrs. McClung will present a paper on "Fetich Worship." Mrs. Condon on "Ghosts." J. J. Walton on "Nature of Marriage Contract." Mrs. Dr. Chapman on "Heredity and its Relation to Crime." Mrs. Bailey on "Hermits, Shriners and Beliefs." Dr. Ingersoll on "Methods of Reforming Criminals." Prof. Condon on "Origin of Society." Invitations have been extended also to Hon. T. T. Geer and Hon. C. B. Moore, of Marion county, to deliver addresses before the club on the finance question. They are both well posted on the subject and it is hoped by all interested in the subject that they will accept.

A BAD ACCIDENT.—Sunday morning Mrs. Elizabeth Strong got on the overland at Myrtle creek for this city. The lady is about 70 years of age, and as it was early in the morning and quite dark, she walked across the platform and fell on the other side, dislocating her left shoulder and likewise striking her head. She was lifted on the train and brought to this city and Dr. Brown called and attended the injured woman's wounds. She has recovered very nicely and this afternoon was taken to John Bailey's place, where she had intended to visit while here. As the lady is so old it is very fortunate that she got off so luckily.

MARRIED.—We take the following concerning a young lady well known in Eugene, being a niece of the Messrs. Hoffman, from the Baker City Democrat of Feb. 24th. Her many friends here tender their congratulations: "Married, in this city, at the residence of the bride's father, on the night of the 20th inst., Miss Lela George to Thornton Williams. On account of the recent death of the bride's mother the wedding was very quiet, only members of the family present, which was also the reason of there being no notice of it before in these columns. Mr. and Mrs. Williams, as previously announced, will soon take their departure for Canyon City where they will reside in future."

SUES FOR DIVORCE.—Saturday, Feb. 23, H. B. Millard filed a complaint for divorce from his wife, Anna Millard. The parties were married at Cottage Grove, Aug. 15, 1894. The plaintiff alleges in the complaint cruel and inhuman treatment, personal indignities and abandonment. They have not been living together since December. Elyen & Young are attorneys for the plaintiff.

The New Senator.

Hon. George W. McBride, who was elected United States senator on the fifty-ninth ballot in the Oregon legislature Saturday at midnight, is too well known to the people of Oregon to need an extended introduction. He has been a member of the legislature, speaker of the house, and twice secretary of state. Mr. McBride is the youngest son of Dr. James McBride, who was born in Yamhill county in March 1854. The earlier years of his life were passed at Lafayette, in Yamhill county, and St. Helens, in Columbia county, where he now lives.

Later he spent one year in the Willamette university at Salem, and two years in Christian college, Mounmouth, under the tuition of President T. F. Campbell, quitting the latter institution a year before graduation on account of poor health, which a year of rest from severe study did not wholly restore. However, he entered the law office of Hon. J. C. Moreland, Portland, as a student, remaining three years, but ill health again prostrated him. For two years he was an invalid—an energetic and rebellious one, it is true, but a constant sufferer—and up to his recovery engaged in the law business, abandoning it for the while his purpose of practicing law, for which he was thoroughly disciplined and qualified.

Senator McBride has, with the exception of two years spent in San Francisco, always lived in Oregon, and he always expects to. Oregon is his home and he shows the Scotch in his blood in his love for it. Personally he is a "good fellow to meet." He is cordial, but not boisterous, dignified, but never still. He is always well dressed, and, though having a decided tendency toward student life, is fond of society and shines in it. Some may be interested, perhaps in the fact that he knows the points of a horse and is a dead shot. Senator McBride is not and never will be robust, but he has outlived his ill health and is a prodigious worker. He is of medium height, complexion neither decidedly dark nor fair, has blue-gray eyes, weighs about 140 pounds, and wears a full, cropped brown beard. He only lacks the appearance of perfect vigor to be strikingly handsome. He is unmarried.

Hold Their Offices.

There are a number of lucky men in Oregon who are smiling over the unexpected, while there is a considerable number who suffer bitter disappointment.

The balloting for senator took up all the time of the closing hours of the legislature and as a consequence no election was made of the different commissions, and the old members will retain their positions for two years.

The offices of railroad commissioners were most eagerly sought and it is said there were at least forty candidates who were anxious to sacrifice themselves for the benefit of the Southern Pacific railroad. Then there are the pilot and fish commissioners, for which there were a number of applicants.

Daily Guard, February 25.

RETIRED.—About two years ago L. Bilyeu of this city, defended a man on the charge of stealing a watch, and by his flowing speech and effective eloquence, cleared his client. That night his residence was entered and about $100 in money taken and a fine gold watch and chain. Yesterday the chain which was on the watch was returned to him. It was a Masonic chain and the attorney's name was engraved upon it. As might well be supposed his man on such a charge now. By every mail now he looks for the repentant sinner to return him his watch and $100 and compound interest. But alas, for the frailty of human nature, it is feared this will never be.

CONSIDERABLY IN DEBT.—The committee which has been investigating the records of Baker county have reached the conclusion that the county is $270,000 in debt, although they have not finished their investigations, and the exact amount may exceed that figure. During all these years while the debt was accumulating, the "books have been open so that the people could go and see for themselves," but the people didn't go, and it is now a good deal like locking the stable door after the horse is gone.

Daily Guard, February 25.

NOT ISSUED.—R. S. Owen was tried this afternoon before County Judge Fish, Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Williams and Medical Examiners A. W. Patterson and J. W. Harris for insanity. The facts seem to be that he is a man of quick temper and his anger is easily aroused, and the evidence being heard he was declared to be sane and was accordingly dismissed.

Daily Guard, February 25.

TUMOR REMOVED.—Henry Bulman, who lives on Washington street, has been troubled with a tumor for some time, and this morning Dr. Brown performed an operation on the gentleman, successfully removing the same. The patient is getting along nicely and will be all right in a short time.

MARRIED.—Feb. 23, 1895, by A. E. Wheeler, J. P., Mr. Daniel Cummings and Miss Susa Conant, all of Lane county, Oregon.

BORN.—Monday, Feb. 25, to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Carpenter, near Springfield, a girl baby.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 25.

A delightful day.

Eggs 10 cents per dozen.

A good frost this morning.

One week from yesterday circuit court convenes.

As the GUARD predicted, the commissions were not abolished.

The Stuslaw stage took out two passengers yesterday morning.

The less said about this legislature the better—for its reputation.

W. Sanders is having the interior of his store remodeled and repainted.

The Woodmen of the World have received rituals for new work in their order.

Nothing is heard yet about the coming city election. Who are the candidates?

The exempt firemen failed to hold a meeting last night not being able to get into the hall.

The Baby got over the riffs successfully and is now nursed at her wharf on the city water front.

"Gentle Annie, the spring time has heard it will snow later on.

The Grand Army encampment at Oregon City has been changed from May 8 and 9 to June 17 and 18.

There will be about 100 cases on the docket of the circuit court which convenes in this city next Monday.

Chas. Croner will take a four-horse load of freight to Harrisburg this morning and will bring a load back.

M. A. Stratton, a Portland banker, a brother of Horace and Julius Stratton, died suddenly in Portland Sunday from apoplexy.

Members of the W. C. T. U. please remember a regular meeting at Mount's hall, Wednesday, Feb. 27th at 3 p. m.

Yesterday's Salem Post says: "The Epistle leaves Harrisburg today for Eugene." She has not arrived here yet and probably never will.

Our business men should see that a good flouring mill is located here. Such an enterprise would be worth thousands of dollars to our city.

David M. Dunne, commissary general; H. W. Teller, inspector-general, appointed at Portland, at the latest military appointments by Governor Lord.

The bill allowing sheriffs mileage in addition to their salaries passed the legislature. Four or five counties were excepted, Lane being one of the number.

Dallas Observer: Mr. Berry Wester, who removed his family from Ballston to Eugene last fall, will soon return to that place and start up the tile factory, which has been idle for some time.

According to an Astoria paper Messrs. Bonner & Hammond, the gentlemen who have agreed to build a road from Astoria to Portland "have encountered unexpected difficulties in their efforts to raise money for the construction of the road."

Roseburg Maildealer: Rev. R. B. Dilworth on yesterday announced his resignation as pastor of the Presbyterian church. It is not known how long he will yet remain in Roseburg or who will succeed him as pastor of that church.

On next Monday will take place the annual school meeting in the various school districts in this county. As to what the schools will be doing the coming year will be decided by the kind of men put in for directors.

About the happiest men in Oregon are the railroad commissioners, the game protector and the food preserver. Two republicans, two democrats and one populist, and the taxpayers must pay these gentlemen for their job is the worst of it.

The Fossil Journal has this to say about a former Lane countyite: "Lucien Parker is around with his head in a sling, his jawbone having been fractured while playing football Tuesday evening. He was running with the ball when he slipped and fell on H. Stokes' knee as the latter was going toward him. Two looks as if he had had an argument with Corbett, but was not permanently injured.

Boys in Pendleton are playing poker for money in a room in the rear of a justice's office. This makes it convenient in case the justices should conclude to enforce the law against gambling. A short time ago a number of men were fined here for gambling, but the boys probably have not yet learned the game well enough to be interfered with.

The papers have been full of the new remedy for diphtheria. Wednesday night of last week a practical trial of it was given at Medford. Dr. E. B. Pickett received from Dr. Mings, of Portland, a bottle of it and the same afternoon administered it to a child of John Norton, residing about four miles south of Medford. Saturday the patient was discharged by the physician. It was the first case on which the medicine was tried in this state.

The controller of the currency has declared another dividend of 10 per cent in favor of the Linn County National bank. This makes a total of 75 per cent. The other 25 per cent will also come, with some over for the stockholders. It is an interesting fact, and one creditable to the receiver, that the balance of the bank, that is, the new proprietors are pleasant gentlemen, and propose to conduct a first class house.

MARRIED.—In Eugene, Feb. 25, 1895, A. E. Wheeler, J. P., officiating, Mr. A. A. Hollenbeck and Fannie B. Mounts, all of Lane county, Oregon.

Bread and Water.

She said: "I'm sure I love you

And could be your faithful wife,

If I lived on bread and water

The fellow knew he had a weep,

And so the two were wed,

He furnishes the water,

She bustles for the bread.

SALOON SOLD.—Messrs Mayhew and Butler have sold their interest in the saloon in the McClaren building to Wils Owen and John Henderson. The new proprietors are pleasant gentlemen, and propose to conduct a first class house.

MARRIED.—In Eugene, Feb. 25, 1895, A. E. Wheeler, J. P., officiating, Mr. A. A. Hollenbeck and Fannie B. Mounts, all of Lane county, Oregon.

Last Night's Reception.

Daily Guard, February 25.

A large crowd was in attendance on the reception given Miss Julia Veazie at Villard Hall last evening. At about 8 o'clock the senior class of which Miss Veazie is a member, with the U. O. banner in the lead, escorted the victorious orator to the platform, on which were seated members of the faculty, regents, Mayor Friendly, and other guests of honor. Roslyn McKinlay acted as chairman, making all announcements.

President Chapman, on being introduced by the chairman, spoke in behalf of the university. He spoke of the many trials and troubles experienced by the school in the past, but that it had not only won the honors at the oratorical contest between educational institutions, but is winner in the cause of higher education for all, and that its future is indeed flattering and it will in future years make a record for itself of which the citizens of the state will indeed be proud.

Our new regent, Mayor Friendly, followed next in behalf of the citizens of Eugene and the regents of the institution. The short speech he made teemed with the true sentiment and broad liberality he has always shown in behalf of higher education and it was an earnest and hearty congratulation that he extended Miss Veazie for successfully securing such honors and compliments for herself and the university.

Mr. Fred Mulkey, of the junior class, followed on behalf of the students. His speech was a characteristic one and indicated fully how proud the students were of their representative's victory. "The safety of the institution he spoke of the time when the legislative halls would be filled with alumni of the university. The hearty applause that followed this showed that a popular chord had been struck.

Professor Carson, who came next on the program, spoke mainly of the work accomplished in the study of English and in oratorical training. Her remarks were sound and to the point, and were well received.

Miss Veazie, in responding, was deeply moved by the unmistakable evidence of the heartiness and sincerity of the reception, and assured all that words failed her in expressing her deep appreciation of the good fellowship and kindly encouragement shown her.

A general social time was then indulged in and Miss Veazie was showered with congratulations. The university band and glee club furnished excellent music during the evening. There were two prizes of English, one given by the students and one by the faculty. The prizes were awarded to the winners of the oratorical contest.

A FUNNY ITEM.—The following from the Corvallis Times is readable and funny. "The examination papers of one of those who did not pass at the recent teachers' examination is so remarkable in some respects, as the following questions and answers will exemplify: Question—Tell the principal points in the history of Virginia between the years 1607 and 1689. Answer—The development of the English Colonists and Pilgrims good many of the Presidents born there, and help furnished a place for capital of the U. S. The Indians was a great trouble Norfolk and Richmond was founded. Slavery introduced. Question—What damages are brought about by the English colonial wars in the manners and customs of the colonists? Answer—Learned them to think more independently when the alarm was sounded they all had to get up. If they did not they were all punished. For Sunday they huge brass buckles on their coats and shoes and boots greased with leather pants. They were given to church with them tapped them over the head with clubs, fined them if they did not come could not chew tobacco only but in the deal before they could wear a silk hat. One applicant in answering the question, "What is the greatest invention of the last 70 years?" among them he replied was Shrope's stump puller. Shrope resides near Philomath and was the inventor of a stump puller.

DID NOT PASS.—People in debt, will for two years to come, be required to pay taxes on what they owe as well as on what they own. The house passed an assessment and taxation bill providing for taxing mortgages and deducting debts. The bill was 68 pages in length and was called up Friday evening in the senate. Several senators objected to reading so long a bill, and fifty minutes were spent in discussion of the matter, winding up in adjournment. There was plenty of time to have read and disposed of the bill, but it was patent to the observer that the senate did not want such a measure adopted. It did not want mortgages taxed or debts deducted and they will not be. The bill was wanted by an overwhelming majority of the people and was needed in the interest of fair and equal taxation, but it was defeated by some coteries of tax dodgers and usurers who know so well how to defeat the will of the masses not only in state but national legislation.

Daily Guard, February 25.

RECOVERING SLOWLY.—Harry Weider, who accidentally pushed his hand through a window while cleaning it is not recovering very fast. Gargare set in and this morning hemorrhage. Dr. Paine was called and to stop the hemorrhage had to open the wound and catch up and tie the artery, but it is getting along all right now, but it will be some time before the wound will heal.

In Dorner.—Salem Statesman: After the final adjournment of the legislature Saturday night the railroad commissioners, game warden, etc., appeared in a perfect state of happiness over the fact that they were "holders"—the legislature failing to elect new officials; but yesterday some doubt was expressed relative to their being retained as it was thought the governor had power to appoint in case of failure to elect. Each proves true, the scramble for these lucrative positions will be great.

Daily Guard, February 25.

MATING.—"Spring time cometh gentle Annie," and the birds are mating. County Clerk Jennings is doing a good business these days in the marriage license line. The following were issued today: A. A. Hollenbeck and Fannie B. Mounts; James Milne and Laura Haskins.
