Freight for Eugene.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

The steamer Homer arrived at Yamhill this afternoon at 11 o'clock with about 60 tons of freight for Eng. Co. A portion of this freight, consisting principally of sugar, will be stopped at Corvallis, and teams from Eugene will haul it.

Most of the remainder will be brought from Corvallis to Harrisburg by the steamer Eugene on her trip next Tuesday, and then hauled up on wagons. Halfton cars great blessings, but occasionally wagon roads answer a useful purpose.

A sad accident.—A very sad and what will probably prove to be a fatal accident, occurred about four miles southwest of Eugene on the farm of A. Koskerman. It seems that a brief fire had been kindled in the near vicinity of the house, and one of the children, a little girl, some four or five years old, while playing, in some manner came in contact with the fiery element, and the little innocent was almost instantaneously scalded. Before help arrived the child's clothes were almost entirely burned from her. Her arms and hands were buried in a most horrible manner, the flesh almost dropped from one of her hands. Her dress and limbs were also burned severely, as well as her chest and abdomen.

As usual some time was lost in locating the fire. A. the alarm system is certainly badly needed.

CASE FOR ALARM.—Portland Sun.

A protracted conflict between ex-Governor Pennoyer, Harvey W. Scott, editor of the Oregonian, and State Senator Cogswell, at the corner of Fifth and Morrison streets yesterday afternoon, gave rise to the rumor that a new political party was being hatched by these three politicians. Ex-Governor Pennoyer formerly was a democrat, but now is a populist; Harvey W. Scott, although a disinterested one is still a republican, and Senator Coggs is a democrat. The very fact that these men holding such widely different views on political matters coming together on a brotherly love basis, is sufficient cause for alarm, and if anything should result from them the public need not be surprised. The conception of a new party in three such great minds is not at all improbable, but the intention of the scheme is by many considered doubtful.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

REGULAR MEETING.—The Advancement Club held an interesting meeting last evening at Mount's hall. The club resolved not to purchase the educational journal now published at Drain. The Bixby papers read were Mrs. McCann's on "Fetish Worship" and Mr. Mitchell's on "Religious Persecution." Quite a discussion followed the reading of the papers. It was unanimously voted with considerable enthusiasm to invite Dr. C. H. Chapman to deliver a lecture before the club in the near future. The organization is proving a very successful one.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

BACK TO OREGON.—A few days since J. M. Addison, J. Shoemaker and H. C. Fuller visited this section of Oregon with the intention of locating, but were induced to go to North-western Texas, by a gentleman who was returning to his section. Now they have again returned here and say they propose permanently locating there, and they all express sorrow that they ever went to Texas. They say they are only too glad to experience some rain after their residence in the drought stricken portion of that state. They also say many people of that section are talking of coming to Oregon.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

STEAMBOATS.—Salem Statesman: The Eagle is stuck fast on the Fairfield bar and will possibly have a long and lonesome wait until the river rises soon. The Gray Eagle, of New Haven, a new boat, went to Oregon City yesterday, where she will be inspected today. She will be on the upper river after her inspection takes place to lay down her raft for her owners, Charles Spaulding & Co., saw mill men of Newberg and Oregon City.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

FOR USE AT HOME.—The gentlemen who were so efficient in collecting supplies for the Nebraska sufferers met Saturday afternoon and decided to use the donations for relief at home not called for in ten days. This action is a nice necessity by the fact that the railroads now exact freight rates, and the charges would amount to more than the donations are worth.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

ICE AGAIN.—The Eugene ice and cold storage works started up this morning for the summer's work. It will require a couple of days and nights run to get the salt brine cold enough to insure formation of ice. The regular delivery wagon has been placed in the shop for repairs and repainting. They have only about two tons of ice on hand.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

ARRESTED.—Friday evening a boy about 14 years of age was arrested here who claimed he had deserted from an English ship in San Francisco. He was turned out the next morning. The next day a dispute was received asking his arrest, but it was too late. However the lad was arrested at Drain by an officer and was taken to Portland on this morning's train.

SMALL GUN ACCIDENT.—Last evening a boy about 14 years of age was arrested here who claimed he had deserted from an English ship in San Francisco. He was turned out the next morning. The next day a dispute was received asking his arrest, but it was too late. However the lad was arrested at Drain by an officer and was taken to Portland on this morning's train.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

NOT A TRUE BILL.—The grand jury after hearing the evidence in the case brought against E. J. Frasier by M. Svarner for the publication of an article recently, exonerated Mr. Frasier and dismissed the case.

CEMENT WALK.—F. B. Bellman has the contract to put down a cement sidewalk in front of the new Conservatory, a block on Ladd & Bush for $1000, as the net proceeds of that edition.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

MACK SOMMERSVILLE and Ed West were out for ducks yesterday. They hunted the sloughs and ponds along the river east of Irving, but got only a few ducks and snipe. This has not been a good winter for aquatic fowls, besides, they are becoming scarce every year. The breech loading shotgun is a deadly enemy of our game birds.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

AS COUNSEL.—W. S. McFadden has been retained as counsel for Bonner & Hammond in the O. P. appeal case, says the Corvallis Times. No abstract of their claims has so far been served on him by the appellants.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

CONTRACTORS.—Many contractors are now visiting Florence to inspect the jetty work at that place. The government will let the work to the lowest bidder on the 20th. The amount to be expended is $20,000.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

GOOD FOR DENTISTS.—After careful consideration of the question, the Emperor of Germany and the Berlin War Office have now decided that artificial teeth are to be provided free of charge to the soldiers, on the ground that the troops are better able to render good service with sound grinders than with teeth which either ache or are inadequate to the performance of their work of mastication.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

DELEGATES ELECTED.—The subordinate granges of Lane county have elected the following delegates to the state grange, which is to be held at Oregon City, on the fourth Tuesday in May: J. Powell of Coast Fork grange and J. F. Kirk of Franklin; alternates Atkinson and John Orenholser. Excellent selections.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

RAFFLES.—Chas. Criner won the suit of clothes, and Jerry Horn the pantaloons, raffled off at the Monogram last night. The raffle at Deacon's for a suit of clothes resulted in a tie between R. R. Hayes, H. H. Stone and Ed Davis.

DAILY GUARD, March 12.

LUCKY BALDWIN has sold his California orange crop for $30,000. His fellow who made $50,000 off a horse back enough to live on.
