S. B. MED. MFG. CO.,
Dufur, Oregon.
On arriving home last week, I found all well and anxiously waiting. Our little girl, eight and one-half years old, who had straggled away to 25 pounds, is now well, strong and vigorous, and well dressed up. S. B. Dufur Cure has done its work well. Both of the children like it. Your S. B. Dufur Cure has cured and kept away all bronchitis from me. So give it to every one, with greetings for all. Wishing you prosperity, we are

Senate Bill No. 226.

Amending the Australian ballot law. The two important changes made in the bill are as follows: The existing law contemplates the printing of the names of all candidates for any office in alphabetical order. Thus, in the matter of representatives in Lane county, with three parties in the field and three members to elect, there would be nine names, which, being placed in alphabetical order, would cause the vote of considerable number to pick out the three he wished to vote for. The new law directs the names to be printed in groups in such cases, each group to contain in alphabetical order the names of each party's nominees. The same is true of state senators, or presidential electors or any position for which more than one is to be chosen. To illustrate:
Representatives—Vote for three:
C. H. Baker, Republican.
M. J. Hillegas, Republican.
S. L. Moorhead, Republican.
J. D. Matlock, Democrat.
W. W. Oglesby, Democrat.
A. M. Osburn, Democrat.
D. Burton, Democrat.
G. O. Knowles, Peoples.
John Sutherland, Peoples.
The other change is: The present law provides that the voter shall cross out all candidates for whom he does not wish to vote. The new law directs that he shall "prepare his ballot by marking immediately to the left of the name of the candidate of his choice for each office to be filled," in a space left for that purpose.
To effect May 24th.

Business of the O. P.

Corvallis Times: The plan for bringing rock for the re-vegetation work from the Cascade mountains has been consummated, and a special train of ten cars is expected down over the O. P. tonight. The rock comes from about five miles this side of Detroit, and it is expected that ten carloads will be delivered daily, for fifteen days, about 150 carloads in all. The rock will be transported to scores at the O. P. incline, and thence towed to the work by the steamer Three Sisters. Mr. Robertson of the firm of Cameron & Robertson, Portland, who held the rock contract, was in town Friday, and with Capt. Hatch went down to Buena Vista and transferred his rock outfit and men to Albany, whence they were shipped to the front by Saturday morning's train. It is reported on good authority that under the present arrangement the delivery of the rock will cost Cameron & Robertson very nearly 21 cents per ton. Their contract price is 73 cents per ton.

A CIRCULATING LIBRARY.—Will be established in Eugene by the Fortnightly Club if sufficient encouragement is given. A canvass of the town will be made this week and it is hoped that a generous amount will be subscribed. It is proposed to supply the best current literature for the library, good stories, travel, biography, essays, poems, popular science, and children's books. In order to bring the books within the reach of all, the subscription to the library for one year will be one dollar for adults and fifty cents for children under fourteen, making the cost of two cents a week for adults and one cent for children. Five dollars annually will make the subscriber an honorary member of the Association, but as there will be many expenses besides the cost of the books, for rent, fuel, light, and librarian it is hoped that many will wish to become Life Members of the Association at twenty-five dollars.

BY ANCIENT METHODS.—Corvallis Times: Eleven Eugene teams loaded freight at the O. P. depot, Corvallis, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and left for home. Two of the teams were four horse and the balance were two horse. All together hauled away 44,500 pounds of freight, an average of over two tons to the wagon. One of the four horse teams hauled 6000 and the other 5000. Several of the two horse teams hauled two tons each. 22 tons of the freight was sugar from San Francisco. Except a few bad mud-beds near Corvallis, the teamsters say the roads are in excellent condition. The importance of this item is magnified by the fact that the route traversed by the teams parallels a rail road.

EUGENE SHOULD LOOK OUT.—Corvallis Times: Manager R. Kocher, Superintendent L. R. Fleish and other S. P. R. officials were in Corvallis Friday. They came in Corvallis in a special car and were on a tour of inspection over the road. During their stay they inspected the site where a bridge is to be built across Mary's river in case of an extension, and also made a short trip out on the right of way on the other side of Mary's river. This sent a flutter through some people's brains in the belief that an extension of the road to Junction is to be made, but it is hardly probable.

THE PARTY.—Mrs. Robt. M. Pratt, this afternoon, gave a tea party to a number of lady friends at the family residence on Eleventh street. It was a pleasant gathering.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Irwin will in a day or two send out to the different county superintendents and the board of examiners, blanks showing the list of books selected by the last vote and also what branches failed to receive a majority of the forty-one votes. Of the latter, according to law the county school superintendents and state board of examiners will be required to ballot again, on the two publications that received the highest number at the first vote. There are two branches for which no selections were made and the two to be decided between are: Composition and Rhetoric; Wadly's and Hill's New Elementary; English Literature, Smith's Studies and Cathart's Manual, Physical Geography, Gay's and Eclectic; Orthography, Reed's Words Lessons, Watson's Composition and Child Study; Spelling, Banks, different publications; Mason's Drawing, Eclectic and Thompson's Systems. One of the two authorities for each branch will receive a majority at the next balloting.

The Champion Mining Company.

New London, Wis., Tribune: The above caption is the name of the mining company organized under the laws of this state and composed of the members of the new London Company now prospecting in Oregon. The principal office of the newly organized company will be located in this city. The capital stock is $25,000 and is held by Mrs. M. L. S. E. Wright, Arthur W. Millard, Geo. N. Spurr, of this city, and Jefferson D. Day and James K. Niven of Ironwood. Jefferson D. Day is president; Ira Millard, vice president; S. E. Wright, treasurer; Arthur W. Millard, secretary and Geo. N. Spurr, superintendent of the Oregon gold mine. The stock of the Champion Gold Mining and Milling Co. will be held by those mentioned and none is offered for sale which clearly proves that after mature deliberation, these gentlemen feel that they have a bonanza and mean to keep it. The Tribune wishes the stockholders of the Champion mining company, and hopes that some day it can number them among Wisconsin's millionaires.

Daily Guard, March 15.

DID NOT MAKE A CENTURY.—Messrs. Matlock, Burger, Knapp and Wood, four members of the Cycle and Road Club, who started yesterday morning to ride a century, did not accomplish the 100-mile run. The route planned was to Corvallis, thence across to Albany and return by Co. burg. At Junction City Burger met with a slight accident to his wheel which delayed them some time. The roads, though fair most of the way, in some places were full of mud and water and the boys had to clean their wheels and tires around. Knapp made the run to point about one mile beyond Corvallis and return, thus making a run of 92 miles for him. The other boys went as far as Albany on their wheels and returned home on the overland net.

Daily Guard, March 15.

FRED FERRY ORDERS.—A petition for a free county ferry at the old site of the McKenzie ferry, on the McKenzie river, with 233 signatures attached, was presented to the county commissioners' court this morning, and that body at once voted to maintain a ferry at that point. It is estimated that the building of the boat, etc., and the hiring of a person to run it will cost the first year $500. The action of the court in this particular will be heartily endorsed by the taxpayers, we believe. The people per the proposed ferry say they will put the road in first class repair on the Cogswell hill and the approaches to the landings.

Daily Guard, March 15.

STRANDED AGAIN.—Hard luck is the lot of who finds himself stranded with a theatrical troupe that hasn't the ability and tact to maintain itself while playing in the limited and scattered number of show towns in the West. Such is the fate of the members of the Theodore Kremer company which is now stranded in this city. Broke and their baggage held in a "hard snare" of $75 as they are truly in a "hard snare" of stumps. The company is billed to play at Junction City, but if they fulfill their appointment will probably have to hoof it to that city.

A SAW MILL SCHEME.—Brownsville Times.

Mr. Giles Smith, of Co. burg, formerly of this place, has taken in the place several days. This week and his mission to our city is worthy of more than passing notice. He is endeavoring to organize a co-operative company to put in and operate a large saw mill, to be located on the Calapooia, some place between Brownsville and where the main line crosses said river. His plan is to get about 30 men—all laboring men—into the scheme and each man put in $100 to each, the earnings to be divided equally.

University Notes.

Daily Guard, March 15.
Quite a number of visitors were present at assembly last week.
The basketball tennis will play for the championship next term.
Tennis is raging again among the students.
Dr. Chapman has been quite busy this week getting the new catalogue ready for print.
The students in botany have begun to analyze plants and at the end of next term are expected to have quite a large herbarium.
The enthusiasm of long tramps has not waned. Quite a number of the students started out again Saturday morning.
The F. F. E. Society composed of the young ladies of the university met and organized last Wednesday. The following officers were elected for one year: President, Henrietta Owens; vice president, Kate Patterson; secretary, Edith Vesque; treasurer, Maud Wilkins. It is the purpose of this society to collect and preserve in the campus of the university, specimens of the ferns, vines, flowers, trees and shrubs of Oregon, and to keep a written botanical analyses of the different species. The young ladies of the class of '95 were appointed to begin the work which they will do by planting a tree of maiden hair ferns.

The Printer's Blame as Usual.

An exchange says an editor was writing up a local theatrical entertainment, and he wanted to be particularly accurate about it, so he mentioned the names of the several young ladies of the town and wife, they all filled their parts to perfection." Then he went home to quietly pray for forgiveness for the lies he had told. The printers went on with their diabolical conspiracy to drive all editors insane, and when the paper appeared and was delivered to the post office, he found they had put an "n" in the place of an "r" in the word "parts." The girls all have big brothers, and the editor is hiding in a big swamp that is full of venomous animals and poisonous serpents.

Road to Foxy Springs.

GATE CREEK, March 15.
EDITOR GUARD: I would like to say a few words in regard to the road from Campbell's bridge to Foxy Springs. As it is frequently reported that the road is nearly finished, and as the fact are it is the best seven miles of road on the McKenzie, and is receiving more attention than any other part of the road. The springs are finely located and good accommodations and the finest fishing and sporting country on the McKenzie.

Daily Guard, March 15.

AN APPENDICITIS.—The Salem Journal used the above word with the following result. Col Jim Eddy hailed the Journal man, yesterday in the corridors of the state house saying: "What do you mean by calling me an appendicitis, my commission, of which I am a member an appendicitis and 'vermiform appendix'?" The Journal man referred him to the dictionary. "But there are no such words in the dictionary," said the gallant colonel of the appendicitis. Then the humble scribbler proceeded to enlighten him: In the intestines of man there is apparently an extra intestine which is an useless appendage, which it is the custom in these days of improvement to excise, cut off, remove, obliterate from the system by a surgical operation, generally to the great relief of the patient. In the state platform and many of the county platforms people of the state declare that this intestine should be performed by the leg isature.

A RESERVE.—A corps of engineers has been ordered to Yaguina from Washington to make a survey of the bay and report upon the condition of the harbor there. They will go there at an early date and make their report and submit it to congress at the next session. An important factor in securing this survey is the recent purchase of the O. P. by Bonner & Hammond, and the prospective extension of the road east. The report published from Yaguina Bay a while ago shows the real purpose of the groins being built out into the bay has had the effect to make the public believe that the engineers in charge have been doing everything possible to improve the harbor, instead of trying to kill it with these groins as was at first reported.

NEW SUIT.—William Swentzell

has commenced a foreclosure suit against Richard B. Hayes and wife for $4,900 and interest. The amount of land under the mortgage is 512.56 acres. Isaac L. Simpson has been appointed by Judge Fullerton receiver, to take charge of, manage and control all the real property belonging to defendants as stated in plaintiff's complaint, until further order of the court. He gives $1000 bonds for the faithful performance of his duties.

ADVANCEMENT CLUB.—At

the meeting of the club this evening a little variety will be introduced in the way of music, some of the young folks having kindly agreed to furnish a vocal quartet and some other musical numbers. Papers will be read on "Diverse Laws and Customs," "Nature and Objects of Punishment," and probably one or "Witchcraft," and other subjects. Members will do well to put up on these subjects and thus be better prepared to make an interesting discussion. A full attendance is requested. All who are interested in the study of sociology are invited to be present.

MR. HAMBROCK COMING.—Albany

Herald: "Mr. A. B. Hammond, of the firm of Bonner & Hammond, it is said left New York on Saturday for Oregon and is expected here this week. The Portland papers insist that Mr. Hammond has sold his interest in the Oregon Pacific although Mr. Stone presently holds the same, and that Bonner & Hammond will go on with this important rail road work as well as on the Astoria road.

APPOINTMENT MADE.—The Commission of Pensions at Washington, has appointed Dr. C. E. Loomis, a member of the board of the examining surgeons for the bureau at Eugene. A good selection.

TUESDAY, MARCH 19.

Circuit court is in session at Roseburg.
It was quite windy for a while this morning.
John Whitney is going to raffle off his bicycle.
Lots of orchard work being attended to these days.
Eli Perkins is to lecture to the Salem people April 3d.
Telephone No. 3. If anything happens ring us up.
A couple of families were moving through Eugene today.
The commissioners court will probably be in session all week.
Since Nov. 1, 1894, the rainfall is 14 inches below the average.
Two emigrant teams, bound north, passed through town today.
Portland claims the state census will show that city has 100,000 population.
University versus city at the spelling contest. A picked twenty-five from each.
The next Democrat medal contest will be held at the Congregational church.
Fred Bellman has finished the cement walk in front of the new Conser building.
J. O. Rhinehart shipped 50,000 pounds of potatoes to Marysville, Cal., last night.
Netraskans are happy today. They have this windy weather 265 days in each year.
Jack Ditchburn, of Portland, appeared before the supreme court in a case yesterday.
Richard Reddick, of Pittsburg, Pa., is nearly 70 years of age, the oldest man on earth.
Reports of social events are always gladly received at the GUARD office at the earliest hour convenient.
The salute fired by Co. C last night in honor of their new captain aroused a number of people from their slumbers.
Spring begins tomorrow at 4 p. m., according to the makers of almanacs. It arrived here, however, several weeks since.
A letter from Kasper K. Kubli denies the report that he has been converted or intends going to China as a missionary.
In dull times create trade by advertising. If you can't afford a column try a half, quarter or card. Little ads in the GUARD.
The Corvallis and Philomath college clubs played a match game of base ball at the former place last Saturday. Philomath won by a score of 21 to 14.
It was quite dusty and disagreeable out today on account of the prevailing wind which kept the dust flying in the air.
Rev. G. A. Blair, of Portland, is confident that the $10,000 wanted to be raised to erect a Co. P. church at that place will soon be raised.
Albany Democrat: The Statesman is trying to find out what Salem's greatest need is. What is the matter of a few more state buildings.
A runaway near the court house today was prevented by two farmers to the disgust of ye reporter, who was chasing the steers after an item. It is always thus.
Frank Knapp of the Cycle and Road Club made a century Sunday, as he rode to Springfield, and no doubt he returned from Corvallis, thus making the lacking six miles.
Mr. W. T. Tyler and Miss Bertha Hawk, two popular young people of Harrisburg, were united in marriage in Albany on Sunday. They will have the best wishes of many friends.
Bob Johnson, postmaster at Corvallis, had his overcoat stolen the other day. While he was an editor he was too poor to own one. Probably some poor pencil pusher got away with his covering.
The Religions Telescope, published at Dayton, Ohio, of March 15, contains a lengthy and able write-up of a trip in the Willamette valley, from the pen of Bishop Mills, of this city, who is now in the East.
While out riding Sunday, near Pleasant Hill, J. H. Klemm's horse got frightened and ran away. The buggy was turned over and Mr. Klemm and wife luckily escaped without injury. The vehicle and harness were a perfect wreck.
The following article of incorporation was filed with the secretary of state at Salem yesterday: Gillespie Cemetery Association, of Lane county; property value, $500; incorporators, A. J. Harlow, J. A. Stevens and J. E. P. Withers.
Prineville Review: Isaac Swearingen, of Newsumo creek, who has been dangerously ill during the entire winter, has so far recovered as to be able to put in an appearance in Prineville this week. He wishes us to thank the citizens of his locality for their many acts of kindness to himself and family during his illness.
Pendleton Tribune: A gentleman from Walla Walla has expressed himself in regard to the strange procedure taken in the case of the stray baby found in Pendleton. The rightful owners refused to appear in court and would not allow their names to be used and were soberly represented by an attorney into whose charge the child was entrusted by the court. A woman wearing a mask had appeared in Walla Walla previous to the scene in court demanding her child.
Eugene people ought to trade wholly honestly. If your merchant or grocer has not goods you want, request to him order it for you from the bigger mart. In this way you will place them under obligations to purchase your produce in return. There should be a reciprocity of interest between the countrymen and townpeople. You can mutually benefit each other by such course. Be friendly, patronize the one and the other. Build up Eugene and Eugene will build up the country. Make one hand wash the other. Scratch our back and we'll scratch yours.
Salem Post: "X. N. Steeves, the attorney whose has been so prominent the past few months, is in Salem today. Mr. Steeves was recently convicted of manslaughter in the Portland courts, and was sentenced to 15 years in the penitentiary. His case is now before the supreme court."

Fire Alarm.

Last evening at 7:30, as the church bells rang out, a city siren clanging forth the inevitable to church services, the rapid ringing of the bell was heard to break forth upon the melody of sounds, and brought out the fire department and disperses of the congregations in a hurry. As was usually been the case of late, it was a false alarm. It was only the firing out in the residence of Mrs. Brand on the corner of Tenth and Olive streets, but it threw the whole city into a fever of excitement for the time being, broke up church congregations and otherwise disturbed the peaceful pursuits of our citizens, and cost the fire boys time, money and hard work. Every fire alarm that is sounded is also an expense to the city. The city has taken every reasonable means within its reach to equip and prepare itself to successfully combat with that property-destroying fiend fire. It has an excellent fire department, and, though the boys are unpaid for their services beyond a slight compensation in exemption from taxes, they are always ready to quickly respond to the call to save property and if need be life. Indeed, they deserve special praise for the comparatively short space of time in which they generally reach a fire. Taking the above facts into consideration, would it not be well to exercise the greatest care possible and be absolutely certain that there is a genuine fire which needs the assistance of the department to prevent damage being done before ringing the bell? Within the past week three fire alarms have been sounded, and in each case the department turned out but were not used nor were their services needed at all. Two of them were fires burning out on a roof fire, the blaze being put out with a few buckets of water. Of course, if a person discovering a fire believes it to be dangerous then no time should be lost in giving the alarm, but they should be certain that it is a genuine fire before doing so.

BIDS FOR GOVERNMENT WORK.

Figures Opened for Extending the Siuslaw Jetty.
Sunday's Portland Sun: Yesterday afternoon Captain F. W. Symons opened the bids for extending the jetty at the mouth of the Siuslaw river, Lane county, in response to advertisements for bids. The appropriations of the government to date have been used in the necessary preparatory work in building a runway about 500 feet long. The jetty will be extended from this runway about 1500 feet this season.
It will be 90 days before active operations will begin.
The Portland bidders were: Jacobson & Niekum, $125,815.17; Charles J. Church, $14,100; Park & Smith, $17,721.88; Perry Hinkle, $11,400; J. Hoyt, $11,915; and Dan Kern, $11,252.50.
The outside bidders were: Dickinson & Co., $15,450; Kyle & Hurd, of Florence, $13,375.75; C. W. Tower, of Marshfield, $9,257.75.
All the bids are being considered and the contract will not be let for several days yet.

HOUSE BURNED.

Joe. Bond's Residence Near Irving Destroyed by Fire Today.
Daily Guard, March 15.
Menge particulars have been received here this afternoon of the burning of Joseph Bond's residence, four miles northwest of Irving, this forenoon at 11 o'clock. Co. C ELECTORATE.—Pursuant to a call issued for special election to elect a captain to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of captain R. H. Parker, Co. C, O. N. G., met in their armory on Ninth street at 8 o'clock last night. Twenty-three votes were cast on the first ballot. Mr. C. M. Young received 22 and Lieutenant J. M. Williams 1. As soon as the election of Mr. Young was made known, the company under command of Lieutenant Williams marched to his residence on Olive street where they halted in front his house and fired three volleys. Captain Young responded by making a pleasant little speech in which he thanked the boys for the honor they had conferred upon him and stated that they would ever find him at his post ready to discharge his duties and to work faithfully for the best good of the company. Co. C then gave him three cheers, after which they returned to the armory. The boys are highly pleased with their new captain and no doubt they have made a good selection. Mr. Young is a Lane county boy. He is a trained soldier and a good drill master, having served eight years at Bishop Scott Academy in Portland. While there he served one year as private and served one year and one half as captain and was then appointed major of battalion, which position he filled for the term of four years. During the state re-organization held in this city in the summer of 1889, Captain Young was appointed major of battalion by Governor Pennoyer.

TOO CRUEL.—A company in Portland had been incorporated to buy and kill horses. The hides will be tanned and made into leather; the hams and best parts of the meat will be canned and shipped to France; the hoofs will be made into glue, the bones will be used for various things, and all that cannot be used for any other purpose will be converted into a fertilizer. This looks too cruel. The horse is too intelligent an animal and has been too faithful a servant to man to be butchered up in this manner.
