

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

"Castoria is well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me." H. A. Aschner, M. D., 1115 Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"The use of 'Castoria' is so universal and its merits so well known that it seems a work of supererogation to endorse it. Few are the intelligent families who do not keep 'Castoria' within easy reach."

New York City.

THE CASTORIA COMPANY, 77 MURRAY STREET, NEW YORK CITY.

It takes an issue to bring out a full vote in a city election. That issue was lacking yesterday which accounts for the light vote and comparatively little interest manifested by voters.

A rough estimate of the strawberry crop in Multnomah, Marion, Clackamas, Wasco, Umatilla and Union counties, Oregon, indicates a probable output of not less than 5,000,000 pounds in the counties named. It will require good management to market this crop without glutting accessible markets.

The retiring members of the city council have the satisfaction of knowing they leave city affairs in excellent shape. The finances are in good order, and city improvements, streets, and fire department were never better. No doubt the good work will be continued by their successors.

A United States consul in Germany reports that the use of horse flesh for food in that country is rapidly increasing and that it is the only kind of meat that the poor and middle classes can afford. The consul is of the opinion that Germany is a splendid market for the surplus horses of this country.

Whenever a public man is found who keeps his word he is looked upon as a curiosity, something worth gazing at. He is not the usual order of things. The mayor of New York is said to be getting closer to keeping his anti-election pledges than any mayor New York has had. The result is the stirring up of the rotten bones of corrupt politicians. Members of the old rings are opening their eyes in astonishment.

The new members of the Soldiers' Home board decided emphatically that they would not charge for mileage except as actually paid; that any member riding on passes should not receive mileage. At Portland Mr. Koehler is reported to have told Mr. Rust that when officials charge mileage it is unjust to ride on passes, and the policy of the road would be not to furnish any. The board decided to hold meetings only once in three months.

Owing to the fact that a demand has been found for Oregon and Washington potatoes this spring, there is danger of greatly overdoing the business of planting potatoes in the Pacific Northwest this year, says the Rural Northwest. If it had not been for the great drought which cut short the potato crop of Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska the Dakotas, and other states in the East last year, hundreds of carloads of potatoes would have rotted in Oregon and Washington which are now finding a market. In ordinary seasons the price of potatoes in St Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, etc., is much less than the freight on them from the Pacific coast to those cities. There is and has been for many years a California demand for first-class Oregon potatoes and if the markets there are not glutted remunerative prices are obtained.

Farm Mortgages.

Census Bulletin No. 98 gives full and comprehensive information regarding farm mortgages, and upsets many of the theories promulgated for political effect. Of 4,750,000 farms only 900,000 are mortgaged. And these mortgages are the main present thrift and energy, the money having been used in improvements or purchasing homes. Less than 3 percent represent borrowing for expenses or because of poverty.

This mortgages indebtedness lies almost wholly north of the Potomac and Ohio line. New York farms are mortgaged for $138,960,903. Those of Iowa carry a burden of a little more than $100,000,000; those of Illinois a trifle less. In Pennsylvania and Kansas the figures fall to about $73,000,000, in Ohio $70,000,000, in Michigan to $46,000,000, in Wisconsin to $55,000,000, in Missouri to $53,000,000, in Nebraska to $47,000,000, in California to $46,000,000, in Indiana about the same, in Minnesota to $37,000,000, in New Jersey to $25,000,000, South Dakota $15,000,000, and Vermont and Massachusetts $11,000,000 each.

RETURNED HOME.—J. E. Drucks, the Portland flouring mill man, left for his home in Portland on this morning's local train. He has given up the idea of starting a mill at this point. This only leaves Mr. Sutler and Claus Williams in the field, and it is probable that these gentlemen will erect a mill here.

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

President Cleveland and family have taken up their residence for the summer in their home adjoining Washington.

Indications are that the price of cattle will slowly advance for some time to come, and perhaps reach that of ten years ago when the decline began.

It is not necessary to inform the public that there will be no lack of applicants for the positions of marshal and nightwatch under the new city administration.

It is rumored that Gresham may resign the secretary of the state portfolio in a short time. His appointment was never popular with the mass of the party in power.

The weather and crop report for April is to the effect that the season is slightly in advance of former years. The field and fruit crops promise well all over the state.

Flooding mill men are plentiful in Eugene, but it is not yet known that anyone has taken advantage of this excellent location for a mill and concluded to begin operations.

Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, is now at work on the problem of seeing as well as talking through a wire. He firmly believes that we will soon be able to see the people we are talking to by telephone although hundreds of miles away.

The low price of wheat has caused the inevitable. The farmers are turning their attention to diversified farming, and are saving on small things that were formerly thought beneath their notice.

Some one asks the question why men marry. Cynical Dean Swift was of the opinion that the young man marries for a mistress; the middle aged man for a companion; the old man for a nurse. The Dean was a close observer of human nature.

Attorney General Idleman has rendered an opinion that no vacancies exist in the commission, which the legislature neglected to fill by election, and the old members will hold over. So the present railroad commission will continue to serve its railroad masters.

Another mass meeting this evening to place a ticket in the field for the Monday municipal contest. The voters must have a chance for choice. Then it makes things lively, and gives the local politicians something to do and talk about. More offices and elections are needed and less work.

The commissioner of Indian affairs takes a different view from the courts that have ruled that no prosecution would stand against a man for selling liquor to the Indians who, under the allotment act, have taken lands in severalty. The courts have held that this act of the Indian under the law admitted him to citizenship; therefore the red man can exercise his rights of citizenship by purchasing and imbibing as much "tangle foot" as his pale-face brethren. The commissioner is not in accord with this decision, for while the land is allotted to the Indian, he is not allowed to dispose of it for 25 years, and during this time he is under the protection of the government and under the supervision of the Indian department. The commissioner regrets that congress failed to pass any law to meet this question.

It is thought that Japan will get Formosa as a part of her indemnity from China. The island is about four hundred miles long and about fifty wide. It is only one hundred miles from the great cities of Amoy, Canton and Tuchan. It is mountainous and rugged, and has an untailed population, but it is of great importance in strategy, and China is as reluctant to give it up as Japan is anxious to obtain it. The Japanese will have a new work in war and civilization as soon as they take possession. Some of the mixed races on the island are still in a barbarous state, and China has never been able to reduce them to subjection.

Portland got a moral wave started, but after arresting a few of the lower class of courtesans, stopped the wave for time to consider how the city could dispose of two or three thousand of the unfortunate women. It is a problem old as humanity, and unless the natures and passions of men and women can be changed by some subtle influence, will engage the attention of workers in the moral vineyard during the centuries yet to come.

A new scheme for fleecing the gullible is being worked with great success in the states of the middle northwest. A gang of men goes through the country selling at one dollar each, apple trees of an imaginary variety, represented to be as hardy as hickory oak for the reason that the variety is propagated from seed exclusively and the trees are therefore neither grafted nor bud ded—those operations being the alleged tenderness of all previous varieties known. It is said that not only farmers, but also editors lawyers and doctors have been freely contributing their dollars in exchange for the trees.

A committee of the New Jersey legislature appointed to investigate expenditures for the state capital have discovered the existence of a systematic and organized robbery of the public treasury, the spoils of which were apparently shared by state officials from the top of the ladder to the bottom. Bills for all kinds of supplies were regularly raised and some bills were sent in for goods that were never supplied at all. In fact the disclosures are such that New Jersey can no longer be referred to as out of the Union. She is decidedly in it with the rest of the physicians.

It is now reported that it will take the United States supreme court five years to catch up with the docket. It may be that the machinery of the law has a fixed limit to its capacity, but to the practical western mind it seems that if the members of our most dignified tribunal would take a reef in their gowns, shorten their sleeves with rubber bands, and defy precedent by working a little harder and a little longer, they could overhaul the docket in half the estimated time. Justice still clings to the gait it had in stagecoach times.

It is one thing to be elected and another to qualify, as has just been found out by a person elected school clerk of the Portland district. He could not furnish the necessary bonds, and delicately informed the board that other business required his attention. It is not stated why the old clerk, who handled $3,000,000 during his incumbency, with all accounts exactly straight, was not elected by the board.

The Great Northern railroad proposes to annihilate 12 hours of time from that used at present on the journey from Portland to St. Paul, commencing May 1st. This will compel the other northern transcontinental lines to make better time.

Give that weather bureau a merited rest. Ayer's last year's almanac beats them to death.

A party will be given at Howard Vincent's on next Thursday night. You are duly invited to attend with your best girl.

Late rains have raised Lost creek so that the logs went down nicely, and consequently the welcome whistle is with us again.

Joel Addison has a brush slashing contract on the mill place. The work will make a material improvement.

Interested parties have built a fence around the high banks of Lost creek below the school house for the safety of the school children. "It's cheaper than a funeral," you know.

All Fool's Day was duly and appropriately observed in our burg. Most everyone succeeded in making a first-class fool of himself if no one else.

Our Sunday school will start next Sunday for the summer. L. A. Wheeler will be superintendent.

A petition to the commissioners court was circulated here to day for the establishment of a free ferry across the river between here and Mr. Hyland's. This is a meritorious undertaking and should be granted as soon as practicable.

REGULAR.

THE RUMOR DENIED.

Graham's Friends Say He Will Not Leave the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—A vigorous denial is made in administration circles of the story that Secretary Gresham is about to resign. The secretary himself will not be interviewed, notwithstanding the report by a despatch. It is a fact that the secretary has been ill health for a time, and a recent attack of neuralgia of the stomach left him much debilitated. He has been unable to secure a rest in Washington owing to the frequency with which delicate and embarrassing diplomatic questions have been forced upon him, and it is probable he will yield to the solicitations of his family and friends so far as to take a short leave of absence and go to his farm in Indiana, and, perhaps, stop for a time in Chicago.

The Japanese Demands.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 2.—A telegram from a Chinese source says that bad weather, sickness among the Japanese troops and the overflow of rivers have rendered the continuance of war extremely difficult. It is added that this has produced a favorable effect upon negotiations, but hopes for the speedy conclusion of peace is not awakened by the Japanese demand for the cession of a portion of Manchuria, a war indemnity of $700,000,000, and pending full payment of this indemnity that Peking shall be occupied by Japanese troops.

FOR THE INSURGENTS.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Oddly enough the insurrection in Cuba is beginning to take on, so far as the United States is concerned, somewhat of a sectional and political coloring. Within the past few days letters have been received at the Spanish legation from ex-confederate soldiers in the South, offering their services to assist Spain in suppressing the rebellion.

Read every line in S. H. Friendly's new advertisement, printed for the first time in today's paper.

Mrs. Julius A. Stratton, wife of a prominent attorney, died at 9:30 Tuesday evening, aged 40 years. Her maiden name was Martha L. Powell, and she lived a long time in Salem and Portland, having married in the former city. She was a cousin of Capt. W. S. Powell, of Portland, and a sister of Mrs. Jacob Ogle, of Woodburn. The funeral will take place in Portland.

Notice.

SPRINGFIELD, OR., April 4, 1895.
