RESIDENCE BURNED. As the freight train, at noon today, passed the residence of J. D. Hampton, a short distance above Goshen, it was affire and burning, and to all appearances would be totally destroyed.

CO-OPERATIVE SAWMILL.—Corvallis Times: "Giles Smith, of Corvallis, and many years ago a resident of Corvallis, has been in the city for several days working up a sawmill scheme. He claims that a number of residents of Corvallis, Brownsville and vicinity, have formed a co-operative association to engage in the sawmill business, each member to be an active worker and a pro rata sharer in the profits.

LIVELY RUNAWAY.—One of Chas. Craver's transfer teams, driven by M. S. Hubbel, took a lively run down Willamette street this afternoon. The team had been left standing in front of Mrs. Rankin's millinery store on 7th street when they suddenly started to run. Reaching Willamette they turned down that street. Luckily but few people and teams were on the street at the time. The team kept the middle of the street and dodged in and out among the trees, almost hitting a horse and driver who were near Ninth street some person, thinking to do a good deed, attempted to head them off and try to stop them with the result that they were turned from their course and caught in a telegraph pole, breaking the rear axle of the wagon. The team broke loose from the wagon and were caught without doing further damage.

WHISTLING BODY.—Florence West: Mr. William Kyle will circulate a petition among the seafaring men to the light-house board, asking for a whistle along the mouth of the river during the months of July, August, September and October. A heavy fog generally prevails during these months, and the petitioners will no doubt be successful.

CAUGHT FROM A STRAW STACK.—Frank Hampton returned from Goshen yesterday evening. He states that a pile of straw had been set on fire and that the wind blew a spark which fell on the roof of the residence of J. D. Hampton and set it on fire about noon yesterday. The blaze was soon fanned into flames by the strong wind and the house burned very rapidly, but a small portion of the contents being saved. A large barn near the house was saved by hard fighting.

FROM CORVALLIS.—A dispatch to the Portland Sun, of April 9th, says: "A number of delegates from Eugene, Monmouth and other points, who attended the Epworth League convention at Dallas, were entertained here last night by the local league. A banquet was given in their honor at the Hotel Corvallis, and a reception and entertainment given at the M. E. church in the evening."

STRICT CONSTRUCTION.—The authorities of the East Oregon Normal school have sent in for a large slice of their appropriation, but Secretary of state Kincaid thinks they are not entitled to it that way. He thinks the only way sanctioned by the constitution for the payment of money is upon bills properly audited by him. The understanding of the institutions getting appropriations has been that they could draw it quarterly and spend it as they pleased, but Mr. Kincaid says it is intended for certain purposes and the vouchers therefor must be filed and audited in his office.
