Cyclist Versus Pedestrian.

One of our subscribers has handed this in for publication:

There are two sides to every question, and while the pedestrian feels that the bicyclist is often careless of the rights of the people who walk, the wheelman is of the opinion that pedestrians are careless of their own safety. La Figaro proposes the following one-sided method of avoiding further difficulty:

Every pedestrian is to be supplied with a bell and signal horn, which he shall sound on crossing a street whenever he espies a cycle on the horizon.

At night the foot-passenger shall carry on his breast a lantern containing a lighted taper.

France shall be entirely leveled, in order to save cyclists the annoyance of hill climbing.

The tax on cycles shall be abolished and a tax on pedestrians shall be substituted.

Any foot-passenger who, by his awkwardness and want of attention, shall occasion the fall of a cyclist by stupidly allowing himself to be run over, shall be liable to fine of a hundred francs; and for a repetition of the offense shall be transported to a mountainous region.

How and What.

Don't read these hints unless you are in good humor, or willing to get into that condition.

A custard pie should be carried on the street in a horizontal position—not tipped up on edge, otherwise the rich creamy custard may fall out with a deafening gurgle upon the sidewalk and break a board.

Always blow the foam off the top of a glass of beer before drinking it, and quit before you have to be taken home in a cab and tell your wife you have been attending an interesting meeting of the subsidy committee.

Never tell your troubles to a policeman or a high school girl. They have plenty of their own.

"Caught on the fly," as the trout said when he pleasantly bade good bye to his family after having swallowed an angler's bait.

A LOCAL BOARD.—The Eugene insurance agents have appointed a committee consisting of F W Osburn, H N Cockerline, R McMurphey, F M Wilkins and M Svarverud, to formulate by-laws to govern a local organization. Such an organization is needed here and will probably have the support of all the local insurance agents.

Five From Lane County.

JUNCTION CITY, Apr 29.—The Young Men's Republican Club of Junction City has elected H L Rann, S L Moorhead, E Van Vrankin, N E Lee and Charles Dickenson as delegates to the meeting of the state club.

The season for fish stories has opened and the Roseburg Review does not propose to take a back seat. It comes to the front with this statement: D P Fisher caught five sturgeon in his nets a few nights ago, and has three of them tied up now to the river bank near town. A rope passed through holes in their gills is tied back of their heads, holding them very securely, and as the fish are stout, sturdy fellows, about six feet in length, Mr Fisher ties them to his boat frequently and allows them to draw him around over the river, this being very much easier than rowing.

Stages now run from Eugene to the McKenzie hot springs and Florence three times a week. The change is a welcome one to the traveling public and residents along the routes.

Fred Patterson, of Roseburg, has secured the contract for remodeling the Medford hotel. The amount of Mr. Patterson's bid was $6125, and he will go to work at once.

MORE WASTE EXPOSED.

Salem Post: To show what an economical legislature our last one was, and how faithfully the traitors looked after the interests of the taxpayers, we have only to mention the fact that the sum of $1,248.50 was paid for clerk hire for the different legislative clerks in the state printing department. Following are the clerks and the amount they received for the 40 days' fiasco: C. L. Dickerson, senate printing committee, $84; Ella M. Rucker, joint committee, $160; B. S. Worsley, house printing committee $117; R. W. Hummerman, senate printing committee, $30; Geo. C. Hibbert, joint investigating committee, $247.50; W. F. Osburn, same committee, $240; Nina Parrish, senate, $114; A. C. Auldon, joint, $160; Frankie Taylor, $96.

Did any one ever hear the like of this? We believe it stands without a parallel in the annals of legislative rascality. Tammany, in her worst days, would feel ashamed of such an act. It is enough to make old Boss Tweed turn over in his grave. If the people of Oregon will tolerate such a willful waste of their money, they deserve to be ground down in poverty until they cannot afford one meal a day. We are heartily sick of the whole business and yet we will go on exposing it until the entire rotten skeleton is in full view of the people. Then if they will return to power any of the old chumps who sanctioned all this villainy, we shall be satisfied. Is it not strange that there is not a paper in the state who will come to the front and defend the late corrupt legislature? There are none so poor as to do them reverence. One or two have ventured to say a word and then they have as suddenly crept back into their holes and plugged up the entrance.

OLD AND FAMOUS.

Among the people in active life who have passed the 80-year mark may be mentioned Mr. Gladstone, Pope Leo XIII, Bismark, Verdi, Professor Dana, Bessemer, Sir Henry Parks, Sir James Bacon, the English jurist; William Salmon, of the Royal College of Surgeons, now 105; General George S. Greene, the oldest living West Point graduate, now 93; Neal Dow, Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Furness, Frances William Newman, brother of Cardinal Newman; James Martineau, ex-Senator Payne, Senator Morrill, ex-Senator Thurman, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Bishop Clark, of Rhode Island; Curtius, the Greek scholar, and Lady Burdett-Coutts. Justice Field, ex Senator Daws, Leon Say, Park Goodwin and Russell Sage will be 80 in 1896. In 1897 King Christopher of Denmark, Professor Mommsen, Sir John Gilbert, and Senator John M. Palmer will reach the octogenarian stage. In 1898 ex-Senator Evarts, Bishop Coxe and Mrs. John Drew become 80. In 1899 Queen Victoria, Julia Ward Howe, Crispi, General Longstreet, John Ruskin, W. W. Story and Bishop Huntington will make up the list of young octogenarians.

Many comments on the recent election of a lady mayor and councilmen in the city of Florence have been noticed in our exchanges, but the one found in Salem Saturday Night is prehaps the most thoughtful of any. In referring to this matter Salem's literary weekly says in part: "The 'emancipated' woman must feel elated over the result of the recent municipal election in Florence, Lane county, Oregon, where women were elected to every office on the ticket, including that of marshal. In the field of politics no such sweeping victory has ever been achieved by the stronger minded of the gentler sex than in this little town of Oregon. It is not alone in politics that women are coming to the front. They are also deplacing men in every walk of industrial and commercial life, and that with a rapidity that is almost phenomenal. The old idea that women are intellectually inferior to men is vanising in the face of numerous and startling proofs to the contrary. And as a natural consequence, the American woman is beginning to 'feel her oats' and to show by her actions that her erstwhile lofty estimate of man's superiority has become materially modified; that she thinks she could on a pinch, get along very well without him; in which conclusion there may be some truth, but it cannot be expected to be received by the male bipeds with joyous acclamation."

The bicycle is probably destined to accomplish great changes. It has already accomplished much in awakening a good road sentiment, and has become a powerful rival of the horse. The present indications are that the bicycle will be the means of allowing ambitious women the opportunity of wearing breeches, at least those of the Turkish variety. Small means occasionally accomplish great ends.

The street committee is doing good work dressing up worn streets with screened gravel. Mud holes are prevented by repairing ruts in season.

Farmers have sold their young stock, and in consequence the valley is almost bare of desirable cattle.

SIXTEEN TO ONE.

The Dalles Chronicle, republican, says: "The silver question has captured the Illinois democracy, and in spite of the president, Senator Palmer, or any one else, the state convention will come out flat footed for free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and regardless of any international combinations. Some of the dailies indulge in sarcasm about the democrats going over to the populists, and seem to think they will not be strong enough to accomplish anything. With all due difference to the ponderosity of their opinions, we believe that not only will silver split the democratic party in Illinois, but it will split the republican party also.

"Be it for good or bad, the free silverites are going to carry the day in Illinois, and we believe in every state west of it. It is going to be a fight between the South and West on one side, and the East on the other; between the agricultural class and the speculative class. There can be but one result of such a battle. We may shout sound money and flout blood-red pictures of financial disaster before the eyes of the voters, but it will not work. There is a stampede on, and those who undertake to stop it will be simply trampled out of existence. That is the hand writing on the wall now, and we predict that in the fight next year not a state west of Pennsylvania will be against free coinage, and not one south of Mason and Dixon's line but that will be for it.

"We do not presume to argue the merits of the situation, but state what we believe the consequences will be. The blast of Watterson's bugle horn sounds loud, but it will not serve to gather the clans."

Dunn's Commercial report for last week is: "Neither the rising speculative market nor the steady gain in industries have ceased and it is wholesome that there are fewer signs of hesitation in productive industries than in speculative prices. Wage strikers grow more numerous and cause some trouble. Retail demand lags behind. Wholesale and jobbing purchases are behind the production in some branches but through many conflicting reports the fact shines out that industries are gaining, not with a rush and whirl, but more safely. The structural demand for building through the country was never larger. The frenzy in oil has started a large demand for pipe and sheets at slight advances.

This country firmly and emphatically notifies Great Britain that she will not be allowed to acquire a foot of Nicaraguan territory. The canal across that country will be constructed and controlled by the United States. The desire of Great Britain to acquire a foothold by which she will gain some interest in that vast undertaking, that will revolutionize the commerce of the world, has led to the diplomatic sparring of the past year. Great Britain has incurred the deadly enmity of Nicaragua, and will be compelled to retire from the controversy discomfited and checkmated in her designs.

Germany, France and Russia excel the stage robber or highwayman in assurance. They solemnly protest against Japan securing the fruits of her victory by acquisition of Chinese territory. Russia has relentlessly robbed China of immense possessions, and only awaits the opportunity to continue spoliations. Germany after a few months war with France exacted far greater tribute than Japan now claims. It is not probable however that Japanese diplomacy will be unable to cope with the land grabbing monarchies of Europe.

Albany Democrat: These are times when one has to rustle. One of the teachers attending the institute this week was W. S. Mayberry, of Tallman. Besides teaching school Mr. Mayberry has a big chicken ranch and at times has marketed ten to fifteen dozen eggs a day. That is business; but it doesn't leave much time for sleeping.

The readers of the San Francisco dailies should be congratulated upon the fact that the slush about the Durrant murder cases is relegated to back pages. This gives promise that the sensational trial of the case is about over.

These light rains are very beneficial to vegetation. Prospects are favorable for abundant crops.

Corvallis Times: An entire recovery followed the operation on the arm of Mrs. Gregory, daughter of C. H. Wells and the lady left for her home near Cottage Grove Thursday. She had been suffering for five years, and two months ago arrived here for treatment, expecting that the arm would have to be amputated. The inside of the hand, wrist and forearm was split open for a distance of nine inches, and a fungus growth was scraped off the bones. When she left Mrs. Gregory had free use of the fingers of the affected hand, and there was every evidence of a complete cure.

The Klamath Star reports that there is a shortage of female population in Klamath Falls. The census of the town has just been completed and shows the following results: Total population 452; whole number of legal voters 131; males 21 and upward, 162; males under 21 and over 10, 55; males under 10, 69; females 18 and upward, 97; females under 18 and over 10, 6; females under 10, 49. The young men outnumber the young women by 13 and the total number of males is greater than the number of females. The Star intimates that some of the Klamath bachelors are thinking of importing a carload of eastern milkmaids or factory girls to make up the shortage.

Organized at Lemati.

LEMATI, Or., April 29.—The James G. Blaine republican club of south Lane county was organized here tonight with a membership of 40 This number will be considerably augmented by the second Monday in May, at which time the club elects delegates to the Portland meeting. The following officers were elected: President, W H Cooper; vice president, N Martin; secretary, J A Benson; treasurer, D Bristow.

Nicaragua Hostile to England.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—The Nicaraguan minister was again an early visitor to the state department. He consulted with Gresham and shortly after left the building. The nature of the conference is not known, but it is presumed that Nicaragua has replied to the suggestion made yesterday looking to the withdrawal of British troops from her soil and paying the indemnity.

That revolution will follow in Nicaragua if the indemnity is paid before British vessels leave their harbor, is not doubted in well informed circles here. Hostility against England grows in intensity, and while quiet prevails in Corinto, wild excitement exists in other towns and cities of the republic. Business is practically suspended. While President Zelaya is generally popular, there is a strong party in the republic which is ambitious of again succeeding to the chief magistracy, and any surrender to the British at this time would be playing into the hands of the Grenada party.

Prices of Shoes May Go Up.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A special from Chicago says: Shoes may go up in price. The cost of leather is upward bound, and as a consequence footwear, especially the cheaper grades may rise also. Leather is one of the things in the long procession of commodities, the upward whirl of which has attracted the attention of the commercial world. Prices of certain grades of leather have gone up from 6 to 8 cents a pound, a rise in some instances amounting to over 60 per cent. Lower grades of shoes have advanced in some cases 15 per cent.

Spain Will Join.

PARIS, April 30.—It is reported here that Spain will join Russia, Germany and France in a protest against the terms of peace arrived at between China and Japan regarding the cession of territory and the extraordinary privileges accorded Japanese traders in China.

AS IN YOUTH

Ayer's Hair Vigor

CORDIALLY INDORSED.

RESTORES Natural Growth OF THE HAIR —WHEN— ALL OTHER Dressings FAIL.

"I can cordially indorse Ayer's Hair Vigor, as one of the best preparations for the hair. When I began using Ayer's Hair Vigor, all the front part of my head—about half of it—was bald. The use of only two bottles restored a natural growth, which still continues as in my youth. I tried several other dressings, but they all failed. Ayer's Hair Vigor is the best."—Mrs. J. C.
