

A WOMAN LOST.

She Spends the Night Wandering in the Woods.

Miss Mate Landon, a single lady, aged about 45 years, who resides with her father and brother on the Mohawk side of the divide between Coburg and Mohawk about six miles east of Coburg, started out about 5:30 o'clock last evening in search of some milk cows belonging to her father, and became lost and was not found until this morning, spending the night alone in the woods with only a dog, which had accompanied her as a companion.

The home of the Landons is in the hills between Coburg and Mohawk. The father and brother had been away during the day yesterday doing work, and she was late getting home, and Miss Landon supposed they would be very tired, she concluded to drive up the cows. Taking the house dog along with her she started up a mountain trail in search of the cows. Not finding them close at hand she continued the search, and wandering quite a ways from home finally became bewildered and lost, and wandered all night long, trying to find the way home, the faithful dog remaining with her until found, keeping all wild animals frightened away.

Late last evening she wandered out into an opening near Mr. A. Hopkins' place on the Coburg side of the divide, about two miles east of Coburg, where she was seen by a neighbor boy, who was on his way to Mr. Hopkins'. She called to the boy and then went back into the brush. It is evident that she was too badly dazed and bewildered to know what she was doing. The boy did not know who she was but went on to Mr. Hopkins and reported that she had been seen a woman and that she had acted strangely. But Mr. Hopkins did not know at that time of the woman being lost and as she was not seen again in that vicinity he did not think it worth while to institute search.

When the father and brother, who was accompanied by Geo. Frye who is at present stopping with them, returned home from their labors they found the lady absent. They did not know where she had gone, but as soon as it was evident that she was lost search was instituted. The neighbors turned out in force and a party of twenty-five spent the night looking for the lost woman, but without finding her. Early this morning another party started out and about half past eight o'clock they found the lady, who was unharmed, but had suffered from the awful experience of being lost for a night in the mountains.

Miss Landon is a sister of Mrs. Frye, who is well known in this city, having formerly lived here, but who now lives at East Sound, Washington, near the British line.

Purchased 1500 Steers.

Pendleton E. O.: J. C. Loneragan, representing a Southern Idaho cattle company, was in the city again last night, having completed a purchase of 1500 head of steers at Eugene. The price, he stated, at the time he bought was considerably lower than that for which cattle have been held in Eastern Oregon. Stock is raised in large numbers in the Willamette valley, and a good proportion of it will be shipped east from there this spring. The beef cattle around this section, Mr. Loneragan states, are pretty well shipped out. His stock will be moved in about a month to the Montana range, from where, he estimates, 400,000 cattle will be bought in the fall for the Eastern market. This will exceed any previous output for a single year, but depends entirely on the continued high price of beef.

FOSTER'S FORECASTS.

Weather Predictions for the Next Ten Days.

Prof. Foster's last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from 23rd to 26th and the next, he says, will reach the Pacific coast about the 27th. The western mountain country by close of 25th, the great central valley from 25th to May 1st and the Eastern states about May 2nd.

High winds but not much rain may be expected to accompany this disturbance. A warm wave will cross the western mountain country about the 27th, great central valley 27th and Eastern states May 1st. Cool wave will cross western mountain country about 30th, great central valley May 2nd and Eastern states May 4th.

PLEASANT GAME BIRDS.—Salem Statesman: The extent to which the Mongolian pheasant has multiplied and spread out over the Willamette valley in large numbers is not generally understood, but it is a fact that they are exceedingly numerous. An index of this was shown by a gentleman coming north on the local train Monday at the same time as Secretary of State Kineaid came back from Eugene. The gentleman takes a great interest in the pheasants and concluded he would make a test of their numerical strength so he commenced counting. He sat on the east side of the coach, looking out only from that side, and from Eugene to Albany at the greater distance than about sixty yards from the railroad track he counted 60 of these beautiful birds running around in the fields and pastures. If that strip of country is a fair criterion, it is easy to see that the bird has a solid footing in this valley.

A GENERAL GENTLEMAN.—"There has been a good deal said about Mr. Kineaid, the present secretary of state, from a standpoint of politics. But there is another side to his character that the public knows little about and for which it is not fair to advertise him. While he is a hard man for a beginner on a man with an unjust bill against the state to work, he has a heart that responds to a touch of sympathy. He has much of the milk of human kindness in his make up and while not effusive in his friendships and a little hard to get acquainted with at first, he is one of the most really genial of gentlemen in the state."

HOUSE BURNED.—A Heppner dispatch dated April 24th says: "A dwelling owned by J. W. Matlock was burned this morning at 4 o'clock. The origin of the fire is a mystery. Its value was $1,000, and it was insured for $800." Mr. Matlock formerly resided at Goshen, but is now a resident of Portland.

ROSEBURG EXCITED.

The Marshal and Dog Question is at Issue.

"The special committee of the city council appointed to investigate the charges made against City Marshal Carroll by James Marshall, Jr., examined quite a number of witnesses Tuesday in the recorder's office. It seems that the marshal was paid $2 each for killing 25 dogs upon which the owners refused to pay the license, and that Marshall, who was employed to do the killing, now comes in with a charge that only nine dogs were killed, and that the marshal set up a fraudulent claim as to the remainder. The defense made by Mr. Carroll is that the number of dogs taken up was as he reported, and that he supposed Marshall killed them with the exception of four which he killed himself; but it now transpires that Marshall traded off and sold several of the dogs. As an example one was traded to Delaney & Meyer, the brewers, for beer, and another to someone else for whisky. On this ground the marshal claims to be innocent of any attempt to defraud the city. Most of the witnesses examined gave unimportant hearsay testimony, and it is not at all certain that the committee will be unanimous in its report at the special council meeting tonight. Should the charges be sustained, and the marshal removed from office, he will probably carry the case into the courts. The report of the committee and subsequent action of the council is awaited with considerable interest."

Harry Booth Arrested.

Governor Lord yesterday honored the requisition of Governor McConnell, of Idaho, and issued a warrant of arrest for H. F. Booth, now in custody at Bandon, Coos county, on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses at Caldwell, Idaho. The papers were obtained by Sheriff Campbell of that city, who was in Salem yesterday and left last night for Bandon to bring Booth out to Roseburg and thence to Caldwell. They will pass through Eugene Sunday morning.

It seems that Harry was acting as an agent for Brown, Craig & Co., an insurance firm of San Francisco, last summer, traveling throughout the Northwest; that he gave up that work for a position later under the State Insurance Co.

On or about the 8th of October a young man, answering Harry's description, was to Caldwell and cashed a draft on Brown, Craig & Co. for $100, a young lawyer of that place endorsing it. The fellow represented himself as J. A. Coleman and so signed the paper. When it was sent to the firm at San Francisco, payment of it was refused and the work of tracing down the fellow was begun, the first suspicious resting on Booth.

The case is a peculiar one. The Frisco firm was well aware that Harry had taken a place with the State and could have secured his arrest many weeks ago. Why the affair has been so long delayed will remain a mystery until cleared up by the examination of Harry after his arrival at Caldwell.

E. C. Giltner, manager, and A. W. Gray, assistant secretary of the State Insurance Co., say that Harry is a first-class impostor and honest in all his business dealings so far as they know and they think he will clear himself of the charge without any trouble and greatly to the satisfaction of his friends and acquaintances hereabouts.

Complimentary to Mr. Suter.

The Portland Commercial Review in its last issue says: "Our correspondent in writing to us said: 'At last Eugene is to have a flouring mill. The terms of the lease for the water power were agreed upon last Friday and will be signed by Mr. Edris, the owner of the power, and Messrs. C. S. Williams and L. G. Suter. The last named gentlemen have bought the old mill site, agreeing to pay $1500 for it. They also get the power for a 50 h.p. mill for 25 years at $50 per annum. Williams and Suter bind themselves to put up the mill in time for the 1895 crop.' Mr. Suter is an old miller of this state. Some years back he established a flour mill at Lafayette, Yamhill county with which he built up a reputation for having first class flour that was unequalled in the trade. He sold his mill at Lafayette and tried his hand at farming, but after a few years trial he now sees him going back to first principles. The Eugeneites should feel elated over the acquisition of such a man for one of her active citizens in this time of financial depression."

NOT CAPTURED YET.—The total reward for the capture of Brady, the train robber, is $15,000. There are many reasons to believe that the man is now passing through the valley, trying to get to a port where he can ship for some foreign country. As the valley is full of tramps it is natural that a good many should be mistaken for Brady. This fact alone will help him through; for everybody will insist the wrong man has been secured every time.

PURE BLOODED CATTLE.—Independence West Side: Last Sunday Robert Clow of Junction City passed through town with twenty-two head of full blooded Durham cattle, which he was taking to a person in Newberg, who is to take them east of the mountains to handle on the shares. Much improvement in the breeding of stock of all kinds has been noticed during the past few years in this state. It pays.

NEW LAW FIRM.—Hon. S. W. Condon has recently become associated in the practice of law with Gen. Dickenson of San Francisco, who has figured so conspicuously in the Durant murder trial. We understand that Mr. Condon will retain his residence on the Oakland side of the bay.

TAX COLLECTIONS.—Taxes continue to be paid at the sheriff's office. The amount thus far collected amounts to $80,000, leaving yet unpaid on the roll $23,000. The number of receipts issued numbers 3,394. The railroad company is still among those delinquent.

IMPORTANT IF TRUE.—Newport News: The steamer Roberts arrived from Sitka Monday. She brings reports of the shoaling of the bar at that place. There are four schooners waiting to get out. The tug only found eight feet at high water when she crossed out Monday.

A GOOD IDEA.—Willamette street was sprinkled today from the M. E. church to the depot. The citizens ought to see that said service is kept up all summer.

A. J. Pickard visited Lebanon today. High Benschaw went to Salem this morning. F. J. Nolan, of Creswell, visited in Eugene today. Commissioner Callison was doing business in Eugene today. A train of railroad ties passed through here this morning. The U. S. supreme court will rehear the income tax case. Low Edridge, of the Home Bakery, is now improving rapidly. J. R. Campbell has been appointed a notary public by Governor Lord. A. C. Presley, a well known San Francisco drummer, is in Eugene. The freight had a double header again today from this station south. Some emigrant families traveling by team passed through town today. President Chapman returned from Albany on last night's overland train. E. Schultz, who has been visiting here for a few days went to Portland this forenoon. The McKenzie fishing party was not very successful yesterday. The river was to high. John Stewart shipped his large bay horse to Portland on the steamer Eugene. Dr. Driver is to deliver a course of lectures in Sherman county, beginning June 7. 12,000 bushels of wheat were sold in Pendleton this week for 35 cents per bushel net. The Oregonian devotes a couple of columns to the Berger-McKenney case again today. Judge Fisk returned from Sedaville this afternoon, where he has been visiting for the benefit of his health. The Geop Creek sulphur spring has been bonded for $6,000 and it is said a big hotel will be put there. Rev. P. R. Burnett went to Halsey this morning where he will remain for a few days engaging in religious work. Men are ready to buy the Niagara lumber mill, the Corvallis Times says, provided the sale of the O. P. is confirmed. We learn that G. W. Pickett has refused an offer of $500 for his two-year-old colt, "Lucky W." It pays to raise good stock. E. K. Henderson yesterday went on top of the bald butte just east of the Coburg bridge. His barometer showed its height to be 1350 feet. John W. Bristow, of Portland, a drummer, arrived here on this afternoon's train and will remain in the city over Sunday. S. S. Stevens of Nott valley had a stand of bees to swarm on the 22 day of April. Pretty early in the season for bees to be swarming.

Assessor Burton was a passenger to Cottage Grove on this afternoon's local, where he will spend a few days with his family. The Cumberland Presbyterian Presbytery is in session at Fairmount. The attendance of ministers and delegates is said to be excellent. The Corvallis Times says that Mrs. Allen Mullen, a servant girl of that city, has fallen heir to 300 acres of land near Oregon City and 1,000 acres of land in Texas. Mike Baltes, who pleaded guilty in Portland yesterday to two charges of burglarizing a store, was sentenced to two years imprisonment in the penitentiary. The lottery business has now been completely knocked out. The three express companies operating on this coast have notified their agents to carry no lottery matter of any kind. The Gearhart estate and Phillip Philie have purchased the Hotel Corvallis, at sheriff's sale. Other creditors will lose about $5000 as this was the only property to get anything out of. Joe Huddleston, of Mohawk, is in town today, and is answering many questions about the blowing up of the Ping Yang school house. He says it has been reconstructed so it is better than ever before. A man living in Benton county, who does not take a newspaper and so did not know beef was high, sold a cow for $12 when he should have received $18 or it. Comment is unnecessary. Roseburg Review: A number of Eugene's talented musicians are very anxious to make arrangements to give a concert in Roseburg soon. Among the ladies are Mrs. Hollenbeck, and Misses Mae Huff and Cecile Dorris. J. Curtis Lawson, the forger, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for twelve years at the last term of the Marion county circuit court, is lying at the point of death in the hospital at the penitentiary. Roseburg Plaindealer: The taxes come in very slow, only about $300 per day. At this rate it will require about a whole year. From this it appears many are holding off till the last day. If this be their purpose many will get left as there can only be as many receipts written as one person can write and the book will be closed and turned over promptly on the 15th of May. Corvallis Times of Wednesday: "The steamer Eugene left up the river for Eugene Tuesday noon. She carried a large cargo of freight from Portland, and from the O. C. & E. A curious part of her cargo was fifteen tons of flour and feed from the Benton Mills for Eugene merchants—due to the fact that Eugene is without a flouring mill." And it looks like we are not going to have a mill for another year at least.

Astoria News: C. H. Chapman, president of the university of Oregon, is sending out circulars with the information that the Bulletin, the college paper, is to be enlarged and sent abroad as a general educator throughout the state. It is intended to extend the list of subscribers as far as possible, and with this in view the paper will be generally distributed, and unless notification is given to stop it the regular subscription price, which is $1 per year, will be asked. The paper is issued monthly.

Delaware Excited.—Spencer Butte Lodge No. 5, I. O. O. F. has elected the following delegates to the grand lodge: J. W. Cherry, L. O. Beckwith and W. Green.

Mrs. T. W. Jenkins is quite sick. Mrs. A. G. Osburn is still quite sick. Representative Billiges was in Eugene today. R. M. Drinkard, of Halsey, is in town introducing a patent gas. A nice warm rain. It was just the thing at this time. Wm. Barger returned home from Harrisburg this afternoon. H. C. Wortman, of Portland, will arrive here on tonight's train for a visit. Carey P. Martin and Webster Kincaid are members of a bicycle club at Salem. W. E. Brown returned home the first of the week from Nebraska. The band played some excellent music on the streets last evening. The ice works will ship a car of ice to Roseburg tomorrow morning. Dr. Sharples went up to Creswell this afternoon to visit his orchard. B. D. Paine and Mr. Chamberlain left on their trip up the Middle Fork this morning. The health of Mr. G. P. Griffin, who are pleased to announce is now steadily improving. Mrs. R. S. Bean and little son have returned to their home at Salem after a pleasant visit California.

Eugene needs two policemen. One man at night can only watch the business center of the city. The Griffin Hardware Co. publishes a price list in today's paper. Be sure and don't miss it. Chas. Laner, who has been confined to his residence for a week, we are pleased to announce is now recovering.

The population of the city of The Dalles according to the census returns of the county assessor is 3,045. The Cumberland Presbyterians will commence a camp meeting at Sodaville June 20, 1895. The Addison saw mill burned last Tuesday was not insured. The loss is estimated at $2,000. A number of picnic parties have been planned for tomorrow, but the fog has probably postponed them. Dain Normal school item: "Miss Mabel Reid returned from Eugene, last Sunday, after a visit with friends and relatives there."

Conductors Hansbrough, Huston, & Jamison, of the S. P. R. R. will leave in a few days on an extended trip through the east. Lebanon Advance: Mrs. M. C. Ware, of Eugene, delivered an address to the M. E. church last Sunday evening on the subject of foreign missions. W. H. Abrams went to Salem this morning to learn something about the position he is to assume at the insane asylum next week.

Rev. I. D. Dover will deliver the first of a series of lectures at Brownsville next Tuesday evening. Subject: "The Existence of God and the Necessity of a Revelation from Him."

It is said to be no longer "fashionable" in the East to speak of "hard times." What's the matter with ailing the East in this matter and shouting this saying in the West. Nels Roney returned home from Portland this afternoon, where he has been attending the grand jury as a witness in the McKenney-Berger case. The "road smasher" was hauled out of the jail yard this afternoon and is being used to level down the freshly graded places on the street. Jacksonville Times: John Bowman and family and mother and F. Carl of Springfield, Lane county, have recently become residents of Phoenix.

Medford Monitor: Rev. E. A. McAlister preached at Talent Wednesday evening and had appointments at Ashland for yesterday and this evening. He will preach in Medford again Sunday. J. M. Kenney, who has been visiting his brother, Homer, in this city since Sunday, returned home to Albany this morning. Dr. E. D. McKinney and Mrs. Bettina, of this city, and Miss Lizzie Hanson, of Cottage Grove, witnesses in the McKenney-Berger case, returned to their homes today. The case of the state vs M. M. Marks is being tried in Justice Holland's court in Richardson precinct today. Deputy Prosecuting Attorney J. M. Williams went out to represent the state.

Harry Booth, the insurance agent, formerly of this city, was a passenger on the local this morning for Caldwell, Idaho, where he is being taken to answer to the charge of embezzlement. The first term of the public school and the 3rd term of the university played a hotly contested game of base ball on the Gray school campus yesterday afternoon, the result of which was 11 to 10 in favor of the public school. Lebanon Advance: Miss Maggie Whipple, of Portland, and Miss Nellie Whipple, of Eugene, came to Lebanon last Friday to pay a visit to their sister, Mrs. H. J. Boyd. Miss Maggie returned to Portland Tuesday, but Miss Nellie is still here.

Lebanon Advance: Miss Mattie Thompson, of Cottage Grove, is a guest of Mrs. Ord Walker and Mrs. Will Hart, of this city. Miss Thompson is a delegate from Cottage Grove to the session of the Rebekah convention, which meets at Salem May 13th. Albany Democrat: An Albany girl appeared yesterday on a man's bicycle in bloomers and presented a very comely spectacle. It is all right. A married lady is also said to be having a bloomers made for business.

Junction City Times: The Portland Commercial Review calls Eugene's business men a set of knaves, simply because they refused to put up bonus money for a duck from Portland. The Review's growl is uncalled for unless it expected to share in the swag.

In speaking of the appointment of W. H. Adams to a position at the issue of the Oregon Statesman says: "The new appointee will beat the asylum farm about a mile east of the main institution where new machinery and boilers are to be used in the laundry department, etc. The appointment does not affect Mr. E. Strong, engineer at the asylum proper. A scandal has followed Joaquin Miller back from Hawaii. The San Francisco Chronicle gives circulation to the story, with the word picture of a too trustful young female left behind in the summer land to brood over her shame. Joaquin Miller is an Oregonian by nativity, but he is evidently a Californian by sensuality.

Thursday's Portland Telegram: The office of United States District Attorney was captured this morning by a crowd of ladies in spring dresses and spring bonnets. They had come from Eugene to testify before the grand jury in the case against Miss Mary Berger. While the grand jury were in session upstairs they waited impatiently and expectantly to be called up. Those who had come in from Eugene were Mrs. Washburne, formerly postmistress of Eugene; Miss Yeager, postmistress of Fairmount; Mrs. Bettman, Mrs. Roney, and Lizzie Hanson. Besides these there were Dr. E. D. McKinney, who is the star witness, C. H. Sentell, H. Clay Humphrey, the banker, and Postmaster T. J. Craig. Some of them had come on the Southern Pacific this morning and others came last evening. As is known Miss Berger is the dressmaker who is charged with having written the recent letters in the grand jury, and involving other persons. She was examined some weeks ago and held to appear before the grand jury. After waiting some hours to be called to testify, the witnesses were disappointed, for the grand jury adjourned at 12 o'clock for the day. It has not yet reached the case and may not even tomorrow. The jurors were working leisurely and the witnesses will remain till their case is reached. In the meantime they receive $1.50 per day each for their service.

Cleaning Clothes. Both light and dark silk waists, when soiled, may be greatly improved in appearance by sponging them well with gasoline or naphtha. Take a clean piece of old bleached cloth, wet in the gasoline, and rub quickly all over the waist, rubbing the silk lightly. Wipe the silk over with a clean dry cloth and hang in the open air for the odor of the cleaning fluid to evaporate. If wrinkled press the silk on the wrong side with a moderately warm iron first laying a cloth over the surface. This kind of cleaning will remove all grease and mud grime, though not all kind of spots. Carpets and furniture coverings are greatly improved by cleaning them in the same way. Do not bring the gasoline or naphtha near a fire or light, and thoroughly air anything cleaned with it. When a carpet has been cleaned by it leave windows open for an entire day.

River News. Friday's Salem Journal: The Eugene reached the city of Eugene, on her last trip up the river, and will be back to Salem some time this afternoon, and will go to Portland tomorrow morning. The steamer Gray Eagle is tied up at Newberg, having completed her towing work for the present. The Eagle, which has been lying on the sand bar at Fairfield, the past two months, was towed off the bar this morning and taken to Portland. Her peculiar whistle will not be heard on the upper Willamette hereafter.

What Prospects Brighter. Liverpool, April 27.—Cargoes on passage 3 pence dearer; Liverpool spot and options 3 1/2.

New York, April 27.—Active and excited, 83 1/2.

Chicago, April 27.—Active and excited, 84 1/2. San Francisco, April 27.—Good demand; term dearer; 91 1/2.

Portland, April 27.—Fainter on better foreign advices.

MISS MARY BERGER. The Eugene Case is in the Grand Jury's Hands. PORTLAND, April 26.—The case of Miss Mary Berger, the Eugene dressmaker charged with sending indecent letters through the mails, was before the United States grand jury today. The case was finished but not reported to the court, so it will not be known for several days whether or not an indictment was returned against her.

ANOTHER RUMOR.—It is reported that another change of time on the S. P. will go in effect May 5, says the Junction City Times. It is stated that the local will only run as far south as Albany and others state that it will be discontinued altogether. Passenger travel is very light and we apprehend that there is a good deal of truth in the rumors, and changes of some kind will likely be made. Should the local only run to Albany the freight north of here will certainly carry passengers. Since writing the above we learn from authority that we dare not question, that the mail agents have received orders not to carry mail further south than Albany after May 5 on the local. Although seemingly from good authority we place no faith in these reported changes until put into effect.

BURNED.—John Addison's sawmill at Lorane burned to the ground Sunday about noon. About 60,000 feet of lumber was burned, some belonging to the mill and some to patrons. There was no insurance on either mill or lumber. Two sheds for storing lumber in were burned also, besides a wagon and some tools. This is quite a severe loss to the community. Mr. Addison will, if possible, rebuild, and is making every effort in that direction; it is to be hoped he will be successful. How the fire originated is still a mystery.

NO QUORUM, NO MILL.—No quorum was at the Board of Trade meeting last night. Mr. Suter informed the three or four gentlemen present that unless the citizens would take $2,000 worth of stock in the enterprise, that he would not think of going into the mill business here.

TRIFLE ESTER A CHURCH.—Some of them entered the Catholic church last night through a rear window. On account of the absence of Father Stravels to Monroe it was impossible for the members to tell whether any property had been carried away. The ornaments about the pulpit were mixed up and out of place.

M. E. SOCIAL.—The young people of the M. E. church held a social at the home of the Misses Learned near the Geary school house last evening. A most enjoyable time was had.

Old Pioneer Dead. San Francisco, April 25.—Henry H. Scott, one of the oldest pioneers of California, having come to this state in 1841, died this morning after a few days' illness.
